WEDNESDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 5, 1860.

THE SPRINGS.

Persons unable or unwilling to go to the various resorts for pleasure (?) will feel obliged to us for instructing them how to remedy the distress (?) of staying at home. Here are several cheap modes of going to the Springs and Sea-Side.

WHITE SULPHUR.—Tie a roll of brimstone under your nose, and drink freely of thick warm water. Break some doubtful eggs in your pocket, and run till you are exhausted. Procure a second-hand diabetes, change your linen six times a day, and strut lofty under a tree.

OLD SWEET.—Get a large tub, and put some white pebbles in the bottom. Sit down in it and blow soap-bubbles. Dress your best, and don't know anybody.

RED SWEET.—Obtain some iron filings, paint 'em red, put 'em in a tin-pan or pitcher, and look at 'em in solitary silence. Eat much mutton, and go to bed early. Whisk your liver eight times a day.

SALT SULPHUR.—Call yourself a South Carolinian, and take things easy. Live well.—Stay in one place a long time. Tincture of brimstone occasionally.

MONTGOMERY WHITE.—Wear a loose sack coat, and look at mulattoes frequently.—Eat a great variety of raw meats and undone vegetables. Play at faro and draw poker.

YELLOW SULPHUR.—Get good living on the top of a hill, where you can't see anything whatever. Dominoes, draughts, and backgammon.

ALLEGHANY.—Sit down in a hard chair in a deep, hot hole, and drink citrate of magnesia and Epsom salts. Gamble some with dyspeptics.

COYNER'S.—Take the Lynchburg papers, and gaze with melancholy pertinacity at the side of a naked hill. Whist and religious tracts.

ROCKBRIDGE ALUM.—Select some cases of cancer of the face, with a few necks scrofulously raw, and dine with them daily on indifferent victuals. Then catch the drippings from the eaves of a very old house, in a tin cup with a long handle, thicken the drippings with powdered nutgalls, and drink three times a day.

ALL-HEALING SPRINGS.—Throw a green blanket in a shallow pond, and wallow on it. Cut off a strip of blanket and clap it to your ribs. Read old novels and talk to pious old ladies about death and chronic diseases of the digestive tube.

WARM SPRINGS.—Diet yourself on the unadulterated juice of the tea-kettle.

HOT SPRINGS.—Wear a full suit of mustard plasters, and walk about in the sunshine at noonday, swearing you have got the rheumatism.

BERKELEY SPRINGS.—Keep your skin clear, and know nothing but Baltimore. Ten pins.

PEAKS OF OTTER.—Climb a high pole on a cold day at sunrise. Shut your eyes and whistle.

WIER'S CAVE.—Go into the cellar at midnight, feel the edges of things, and skin your shins against the coal-scuttle. Sit down on a pile of anthracite, with a tallow candle, and wonder.

OLD POINT COMFORT.—Build a hog pen in a mud-puddle; fill it with cockle-burrs and thistles, and call it surf bathing. Drink bad brandy. Don't sleep. Lie down with your windows wide open, and no clothing on. Come home with a fishbone in your throat, an oyster shell in your heel, a cold in your head, a pain in your stomach, and ten thousand mosquito bites on your body.

CAPE MAY.—Penetrate an immense crowd of male and female rowdies, drop some salt water in both eyes. Shoot pistols.—Eat some ice cream and claret, and send up one sky-rocket every night. Have yourself insulted often by niggers. At mid-day smell of an oven with a dead dog in it. Fill your pockets with cut glass broken into minute fragments.

YANKEE WATERING PLACES GENERALLY.—Keep a stale codfish under each arm, live on onions and pumpkins, go in strong for the Union and free-soil and dance the round dances in big breeches.—Southern Literary Messenger.

AGREEABLE INFORMATION.—The Academie des Sciences of Paris, has just received a communication, which has literally caused the quills upon that fretful porcupine to stand on end with horror. A savant of Wurtsburg, M. Wirchow by name, announces the fearful discovery he has just made of the existence of a dreadful microscopic animal, the trichina spiralis, in the flesh of hogs, no matter how prepared, whether you call it pork, ham, bacon, sausage, or polony. When an individual happens to eat of this animal in abundance, he is observed to grow pale and emaciated, in a few days afterwards, his strength deserts him and he dies at the end of the sixth week. A post-mortem examination shows the muscles of the body to be filled with trichina spiralis, which proves that death must be occasioned by muscular consumption, owing to the attacks of this horrible little monster. Moses knew full well what he was about when he forbade the use of swine flesh to his countrymen.—London Star, Aug. 11.

The Germans are certainly the most devoted hero-worshippers of the world. They had an Art-Congress, Aug. 6, at Dusseldorf, and after many beautiful fire-works, a capital dinner, and many toasts, drunk with all the honors in good Rhine wine, the Court painter, Dietz, arose, and apropos of the great Schiller Festival, proposed that painting should now be honored as poetry had been. It was accordingly voted that on the 20th May, 1871, the four hundredth birthday of Albert Durer, should be sumptuously and worthily celebrated. A committee, of which Lessing and Schirmer are named members, was at once appointed, and a subscription, amounting to 110 thalers, taken up, towards founding a central fund to make preparations for the coming event. Certainly man's gift of "looking before and after," was never more distinctly exercised.

HAVE YOUR ROOFS PAINTED.—IT MAY SAVE THE EXPENSE OF A NEW ONE.—BUTCHER'S PATENT GUM ELASTIC PAINT, manufactured from pure India Rubber, ground in any colors. This paint is superior to any other. Its name alone is sufficient to recommend it, and after years of experiment, is found to resist the action of the atmosphere, and in any climate, last and wear better than any other in use. A sure preventive for Leaky Roofs. An excellent Protector for Metals. For sale by
