OUR THEATRES NEXT WEEK.

Hanley's Metropolitan Debut as a Star in "The Player."

Loie Fuller and Her Company at the Garden Theatre.

Lawrence Hanley makes his first appearance in this city as a star Monday night at the Star Theatre, where he will present "The Player," which has been arranged for him by Miss Blanche Marsden, daughter of the late Fred Marsden. The theatre has been in the hands of the painters, decorators and upholsterers for a long time and the new star will appear amid clean, spick-and-span surroundings. The company will include Miss Victory Bateman, Miss Edith Lemmert, Miss Harriet Aubrey, Miss Jennie Reiffarth, J. A. Nunn, J. L. Carhart, Edwin Brewster, Ross Whytall, H. Percy Drayton, Clarence H. Taylor, W. H. Browne and R. F. McClannin.

Miss Loie Fuller has secured the Garden Theatre and will do her serpentine dance there Wednesday night with her own vaudeville company of what her manager is pleased to call "American celebrities." The organization will include Mrs. Alice Shaw, the whistler; Miss Florence Levey, Miss May Bruce, Miss Isabelle Urquhart and her husband, Guy Standing, Miss Carrie Daniels, Miss Florence Thropp and Miss Olga Brandon, "the lady with the midnight eyes."

"The New South" will succeed "A Trip to Chinatown" at the Madison Square Theatre Monday night. This is the play that was presented last season at the Broadway. In the cast will be Joseph R. Grismer, Phoebe Davis, Scott Cooper, Holbrook Blinn, Eve Ackloom, Bebe Vining, Charles Mackay, Ella Hugh Wood, Frank Lander, Frank Murtha, George Fawcett, Ben Cotton, William Mack and Susie Johnson. "The New South" contains many interesting incidents.

"The Black Crook" will be once more revived at the Academy of Music Monday night. It will be presented by a company that has not yet been seen in this city—the organization that recently achieved so much success in Chicago. There will be new scenery, new ballets and new specialties. Among these last will be Dagmar and De Cone, who will appear in the third act. Rehearsals have been going on for some weeks very vigorously.

The regular Fall and Winter season of the People's Theatre begins tonight with a production of "The Phoenix," a play by Milton Nobles, in which the author plays the leading role. The People's Theatre, it is claimed, has been completely renovated, and the interior is said to look much brighter than before. "The Phoenix" was not presented in this city in February, 1895, and it is said it have introduced that very popular phrase known as "And the villain still pursued her."

Guibal and Greville, the clever mind readers, who distinguished themselves so signally at the Eden Musee and the Casino roof, will be seen Monday night at Koster & Bial's Concert Hall. They are still distinctly worth studying. Other features of the programme will be a new bijou edition of "Orpheus," the disappearing demons, yclept Horant brothers, M. Dufour and Mlle. Hartley, the boxing kangaroos, the sprightly Lottie Collard, and the one-act operetta "The Admiral."

Danko Gabor's Hungarian Band will give elaborate concerts at the Eden Musee during the week. The feature of the concerts will be the performance of overtures from the works of Wagner, Sir Arthur Sullivan, Liszt, Rubinstein, Rossini and Gounod. The management announces this as "musical week," and declare that the concerts will be great treats to the lovers of music. Several new wax groups have been added to the waxwork collection. The stage performance will go on as usual.

There will be a real Italian Count among the performers on the Casino roof garden next week. This distinguished person is known as Sig. Borelli, and he was imported by Miss Bessie Bonehill, with whose company he will appear next season. His entertainment consists of songs in various languages. He, moreover, plays the piano with his hands and feet. The Dixon brothers, Amos, the "flexible Adonis," Ethel Irving, the Gregory family trio, Captain Fest, Be Bessell and Eunice Vance will be the other attractions.

Here is the programme that you may go and enjoy at Tony Pastor's next week: Miss Bessie Bonehill, the well-known character artist; Miss Nellie L'Estrange, the English serio comic; Ward and Vokes, in a specialty entitled "After the Ball," Seeley and West; Will H. Fox in his sketch "Dodeshkie," the Johnson trio, Charley and Lotta Fremont, Bellac and Nevada, Riley in jig, reel, buck and wing dancing, and Mlle. Morello with her spaniels.

The variety programme at the Madison Square Roof Garden next week will include Kitty Wells in her Irish song and drill and songs; Edwina, the graceful dancer; Miss Elsie Adair, who will introduce some new steps and light effects; Kara, the clever juggler, Rossini and Martin, Italian pantomimists, Horace Randall, whose songs are as funny as ever, Lawlor, Katie Rooney, Frank Lawton, and that entertaining couple, Gesman and Given.

The Columbus Theatre throws open its doors for the season tonight, when George R. Sims's always popular melodrama "The Romany Rye," will be presented. The cast will include Frank Losee in the character of Jack Hearne, and Miss Marion Elmore as the heroine. The play is an excellent one of its kind, full of human interest. It was written before melodrama had deteriorated into a sort of peg, upon which to hang mechanical tricks, known as "scenic accessories."

H. R. Jacobs' Theatre will also enter the ranks of open play-houses to-night. The attraction will be a very sensational play called "The Diamond Breaker," which was seen in this city last season. The piece, it is said, has been rewritten since then, and many new features have been added, the best of the old ones being retained. The scenery will be new, and there will be an excellent cast, headed by Miss Elcie Wardell.

The list of attractions billed to appear at Proctor's Theatre next week includes Master Wilfred Young, the boy soprano; Delaroye and Fox in "The Clown and the Policeman," the Crane Brothers, Mlle. Ottillie, Gordon and Lick, May Towle, Finn and Mack, Columbia, a "sensational dancer," Hines and Colby, Katie Nelson, White and Campbell, William Courtwright, "The Boy from Jaysville," the Chappel Sisters, Daly and Lee, Jamie Gray, Mazka, the Hillstons, and Ely and Meyer.

The fad for going on the drags in the steeplechase scene of "The Prodigal Daughter" at the American Theatre has been revived. Butler Duncan, Ed King and Ollie Teall have had parties on the stage during the week. Business continues very big for the sporting drama. The American Roof Garden will have Conroy and Fox, Georgie Parker, Ross and Fenton, J. B. Radcliffe, the Frantzes, who are doing a new act; Lily Landon, Lady Mansel and others.

"Panjandrum" has already been played for nearly four months at the Broadway Theatre, but the end is not yet. Last Monday night the one hundredth performance was celebrated by the distribution of half pint bottles of champagne. Will the next souvenirs be half quarts? A week from Monday Mr. Hopper will add Miss Grace Golden to the cast. Miss Golden is an excellent artist, and will be remembered by her capital work in "The Fencing Master."

At the Lyceum Theatre E. H. Sothern will enter upon the second week of his annual engagement Monday night. He will continue to present Miss Marguerite Merington's delightful comedy, "Captain Lettarblair," until Aug. 28, when a new play by Paul M. Potter, entitled "Sheridan; or, The Maid of Bath," will be acted. Mr. Sothern has a very good company, and Mr. Frohman has surrounded him with the artistic accessories that always prevail at the Lyceum.

The Imperial Music Hall reopens Monday night with a splendid programme. The house looks very gorgeous, and managerial promises have been fulfilled. The programme will include Marie Collins, a sister of Lottie; Cissy Lind, Sara Duhamel, Kitty Clayton, the Avolas, xylophone artists; Les Freres Pacchi, Charles Compton, the English imitator, Mlle. Alice Delmore, Harry Le Clair, John W. Myers, Prince and Princess Kokin, the Patterson Brothers, John B. Wills, Madeleine Marshal and Sherman and Morrissey.

"King Solomon and the Destruction of Jerusalem" is reaping a rich harvest at Eldorado-on-the-Palisades these warm nights. The spectacle has been witnessed nightly by crowds, anxious to get away from the heated city, any resort that is cool. Sidney Kirby is taking in the World's Fair and studying the Midway Plaisance. He wired Eldorado's people the other day that he had secured several startling novelties, which would soon be utilized.

The repertoire at the Terrace Garden next week will be as follows: Monday, "Don Caesar," which was presented for the first time this season last night; Tuesday, "Prince Methusalem," with Miss Cecilie Hecht, the new prima donna, in the cast; Wednesday, "Giroflé-Giroflá;" Thursday, for the benefit of Comedian Rank, in "La Belle Helene," with Herr Rank as Menelaus; Friday and Saturday, "A Night in Venice." Business has been very good at this house.

It appears that Steve Brodie objects to the life-size statue of himself which Mr. Huber exhibits at the Fourteenth Street Museum. It is, however, announced that it remains during the coming week. The performing monkeys, Prof. Kerstake's pig circus and Orsona, the man with iron hair, will be features of the curio halls. The Imperial Novelty Company, including Prince Satsuma, Sam Hurt, Emile Waite, Carmenella and Lucille, the Persian brothers and Harry Keller will give hourly entertainments.

Dot Sonwell, the snake-charmer, returns to Doris's Museum next week. She goes there from a hospital, where she has been under treatment for injuries inflicted by a snake. Miss Sonwell seems to be unconscious of fear, for she will resume her old work, although she will not be allowed to handle any snakes with fangs. T. J. Thomas's company will present "Michael Strogoff," and in Theatre No. 2 "Koutz's Black Art" will be the attraction.

Miss O'Keefe Ill.

Miss Anna O'Keefe, who has been playing the part of Donna Inez in "Panjandrum" at the Broadway Theatre since the retirement of Miss Jeannette St. Henry from the cast, was taken ill after the first act last night, and Wolf Hopper came upon the stage and announced that she would be unable to continue. Her part was therefore finished by her understudy.

TO-NIGHT'S LABOR PARADE.

International Labor Exchange to Be Opened To-Night.

To-night's parade for the opening of the International Labor Exchange, at 257 East Tenth street, will start at 8 o'clock from Houston and Allen streets. Grand Marshal Henry Queling has laid out the following route: Through Second avenue to Fourth street, Bowery, Seventh street, Eighth street, First avenue, Fourteenth street, Fourth avenue, Fourteenth street, Avenue A, and then to Tenth street. The line will be headed by the bakers of Hartford, Philadelphia and other cities. Editor Jeff by the delegates to the Central Labor Union, coaches, carrying invited guests, among whom will be Samuel Gompers, Chris. Evans, Joseph Barondess, M. Dampf and H. Miller.

Following will be Brewers' Union No. 1, Bricklayers' Progressive Union No. 2, Typographical Union No. 274, Bakers' Unions Nos. 1, 3, 5, 22, 84 and 86, House Painters' Union, Cigar-makers' Union No. 144, Clothing-Cutters' Union No. 4, Brotherhood of Tailors, Cloak-makers Union, Furriers' Union, Waist-Makers' Trade Council and a number of singing societies, educational associations and turnverein. At the Exchange Henry Weismann will make the dedication speech.

THREE SHOT IN A QUARREL.

A Keg of Beer Led to a Kentucky Tragedy.

SHELBYVILLE, Ky., Aug. 12.—Yesterday six young men, John Ritter, Nick Logan, Bob Sparks, Ward Bates, Will McCarthy and John Huelett, got into a drunken quarrel after drinking a keg of beer, and McCarthy shot Sparks in the back and Ritter in the side.

Logan then shot McCarthy twice in the breast. McCarthy died soon after, and the other two men were also fatally wounded. Logan and Bates were arrested and committed to jail.

RAILROADS AND RAILROAD MEN.

News and Gossip of Interest in Transportation Circles.

Eastern Passenger Agent White, of the Atlantic Coast line, has returned from Chicago, filled with World's Fair impressions.

Third Vice-President Messler, of the Pennsylvania lines, who died in Pittsburg Thursday, was one of the best known financiers in Pennsylvania.

The New York Central is building several new compartment cars, which will be placed in service on the Lightning Express and "North Shore Limited."

There are no indications that there will be a jamble in World's Fair rates, even though some of the trunk lines may complain of the popular manipulation of tickets by Broadway brokers.

Local traffic circles are shocked over the suicide in Chicago Thursday evening of Charles G. Edds, recently Second Vice-President of the Rending. Mr. Edds was one of the best known traffic managers in the East, having spent many years on Broadway, and achieved considerable fame as Second Vice-President of the Norfolk and Western. The motive for taking his life is unknown.

It is said that the Erie intends to enter a vigorous complaint at the next meeting of the trunk line passenger agents against certain of its competitors for their evening recognition of manipulated World's Fair tickets over their lines.

Vice-President Voorhees, of the Reading, has been appointed Acting General Manager of the Lehigh Valley, which would indicate that that road is not entirely withdrawn from the Reading alliance.

W. W. Mayberry has been appointed General Freight and Passenger Agent of the Mexican Central and Pacific roads. Mr. Mayberry was formerly identified with the Mexican National.

The reduced rates accorded by the Central Traffic Association to members of the Grand Army to their encampment at Indianapolis have been rejected by General Passenger Agent Hayward, of the Illinois Central, as discriminating against his road.

Otto Miller has been appointed Superintendent of the Hutchinson and Southern road.

The World's Fair Aerial Display.

The special aerial display promised for tonight in Paine outdoor theatre at Manhattan Beach, after the "storming of Vicksburg," will be on a more liberal scale than any yet presented on a Saturday night. Moreover, it will be the last time this season this particular exhibition will be made. From this until the end of the Summer an entire change will be made every Saturday evening. Gen. Sho. H. will have the principal place among the set pieces in a portrait of fire.

ATHLETIC SPORT WANING.

Bicycling, Rowing, Yachting and Canoeing Are Booming.

Pat Cahill Makes His "Professional Debut" Next Friday.

While most of the other branches of sport are booming, athletics seem to be on the decline. Each year seems to find less enthusiasm manifested over track and field work. Those who are making a living out of athletics, of course deny that such a state of affairs exists. They point to the number of sets of athletic games held here and there in the neighborhood. They hold them up as signs of the times. They are. They show that organizations have no interest in athletic work, except the financial return they can get out of it.

There are several reasons for this state of affairs, the principal one being the fact that those into whose hands have been trusted the welfare of the sport have ridden it nearly to death to advance their own interests.

The bicycling, yachting, rowing, canoeing and other associations governing similar branches of sport are booming. They are keeping up an intense interest in their respective lines. It is not so with general athletics. There are four big events under way which will show the true state of affairs. They will also form a means of comparison. The Staten Island Athletic Club will present a programme on Labor Day covering a wide range of sport. This event is managed and conducted as nearly as can be on a basis of pure sport.

The New Jersey Athletic Club will indulge in a set of games on the same day. The World's Fair games in September at Chicago, and the Metropolitan Association games here in October ought to do much to revive the interest in the game, if properly managed.

* * *

For seven long years Pat Cahill held the amateur middle-weight championship of America. Like John L. Sullivan he seemed to possess the charm of invincibility and like the mighty Boston Allan his name was a household word throughout the section of the country. On next Friday night he will make, what he calls, his professional debut, at the Coney Island Athletic Club. His opponent will be the local favorite, Jim Sullivan.

The battle between Cahill and Sullivan is but the preliminary bout of the evening. The main event will be the contest between Steve O'Donnell, of Australia, and Jack Cattenach, of Providence, two of the best 'weights, for a purse of $2,500. The Cahill-Sullivan "go," however, possesses the greatest possible interest for local sportsmen, for the reason that the rival champions have, strange as it may appear, never met in the ropes, strong as Each has an enormous following, who believe their favorite can never meet with defeat at the hands of the other. Both are fast and furious fighters, and as the bout is for ten rounds the contest is sure to be a spirited as the most enthusiastic lover of the fistic art can wish for.

SPORTING GOSSIP OF ALL SORTS.

The fifth annual games of the St. George's Athletic Club at Weehawken this afternoon will be interesting if some of the "champs" entered put in an appearance.

Sports about town are wondering what kind of a fight Fitzsimmons and Greggains would put up in the event of a meeting. Rob is alleged to have said he would meet the winner of the Greggains-Creedon fight.

Sept. 25 is the day set for the Smith-Lawson fight at Coney Island, for a purse of $10,000.

Pat Powers is still enthusiastic over his National Cycling Association. He says Rome was not built in a day, nor can such a venture as a cash-prize league do much in a few days. He looks hopefully towards next season.

The members of the Scottish-American Athletic Club are already talking about putting a crop of novice boxers in the field during the coming Winter.

Hodges, the winner of the chess trophy at St. George, S. I., yesterday is a great favorite among the members of the Brooklyn Chess Club.

Secretary A. E. Hilldick, of the Metropolitan Association of Cycling Clubs, says the picnic to be given by that organization on Sept. 16, bids fair to be the most successful affair given by the Association this season.

Frederick Grady, of 19 Franklin street, in a letter to the writer of this column, says that Tom O'Rourke never bets a cent on his charge, Tuxon. Grady claims to have inside information on this subject. The only person who knows about this matter is Tom himself. He has been in the business long enough to know his own book. If he does not take advantage of a good thing when he sees it that is his fault.

The yachtsmen hereabouts are disappointed in the poor race for the Goelet cups.

New York and Brooklyn both won yesterday. The standing of the clubs are:

	Won.	Lost.	Per Cent.	Clubs.	Won.	Lost.	Per Cent.
Boston	61	24	.718	Cincinnati	47	42	.528
Philadelphia	54	24	.692	Louisville	46	47	.495
Pittsburg	55	35	.611	Baltimore	39	49	.443
Cleveland	51	34	.600	Chicago	36	51	.414
New York	44	34	.564	St. Louis	36	54	.400
Brooklyn	43	41	.488	Washington	31	57	.352

George Seder, captain of the National Athletic Club, Brooklyn, says that from present indications looking will hold its share of attention during the coming season.

The Atalanta Yacht Club has one of the most complete plants of any similar organization on these waters. Its clubhouse, foot of Fifty-sixth street, Brooklyn, is a lively spot the season through.

A despatch from Grand Rapids, Mich., this morning says: "Last night George La Blanche, of New Jersey, tried to knock out Tom O'Donnell in four rounds, as stipulated, and the fight was awarded to O'Donnell."

FRUIT THIEF ARRESTED.

Little Pietro Says He Has No Parents or Home.

An eight-year-old Italian boy, who says he believes his name is Pietro Santerli, was committed to the care of Agent Folk, of the Children's Society, by Justice Gostling in the Jefferson Market Court, Williamsburg, today.

For the past three months the youngster has been seen almost nightly prowling about lower Broadway, and would occasionally make raids upon the fruit stands of his countrymen, much to their rage.

Young Santerli took his arrest very coolly, and told Justice Gostling that he had no friends or relatives, his father and mother having run away and left him some time ago.

MASKED MEN ROB A SALOON.

Proprietor of a Chicago Barroom Probably Fatally Beaten.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Four masked robbers entered the saloon of John B. Anderson, at 189 North Clark street, at 11 o'clock last night, and after beating the owner into insensibility robbed the till of $75 and made their escape.

Anderson, who was alone in the saloon at the time, is in a dangerous condition and may die. No trace of the robbers has been secured.

Two Badly Hurt in a Collision.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 12.—A split switch caused a bad freight collision yesterday, and B. F. Pinkerton, a switchman, was probably fatally hurt, and George H. Hayward, of the train crew, was seriously injured.

FROM THE WORLD OF LABOR.

Two bose bakers this week agreed to adopt the label of the Journeymen Bakers' Independent Union of New York and vicinity.

Stone cutters and setters are striking on the jobs of Thomson, Hughes & Scanlon, who are charged with employing non-union men.

The unions affiliated with the United Hebrew Trades Union of Brooklyn have a mass-meeting in Brownsville to-morrow evening.

Cabinet-Makers' Union No. 8 has called a special meeting for next Wednesday, Aug. 16, to discuss the present financial and industrial crisis.

The membership of the Shirt-Makers' Union is increasing rapidly. There are now over 2,000 names upon the roll, all of members in good standing.

Through the efforts of Walking Delegate D. Cunningham, the Laborers' Union Protective Society has gained over 100 new members during the last four weeks.

Laborers are striking on the following jobs in Brooklyn: Flushing avenue and Ryerson street, Union and Pacific streets, Fulton, near Throop-ave. street, Rockaway place, near Fulton street.

To-morrow no meetings will be held by the General Labor Federation of New York and Brooklyn, as the delegates will take part in the excursion for the benefit of the labor press.

William Krueger has been elected shop delegate of the Architectural Iron Workers' Progressive Union at the shop of Dieffenbach & Westergren, and Jos. Stahl will act in the same capacity at Happel's shop.

Secretary William Koenning has notified the members of the Workmen's Cremation Society that, after failing to pay three consecutive assessments, they will be dropped from the roll. The Secretary's office is at 1030 First avenue.

James J. Daly, F. J. Morrissey, Sam McCracken, D. Marnlee and J. P. Boyle will represent the Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers' Union at the Convention of the National Tile Layers' Union in Pittsburg on Sept. 11.

Cigar-Makers' Union No. 10 has given full power to its delegate to the Convention of the Cigar-Makers' International Union to vote as his best judgment will dictate in the interest of his constituents.

One of the features of the Labor Day parade of the Brooklyn Central Labor Federation will be a division composed of unemployed workmen, to whom speeches will be made from platforms at the Brooklyn Labor Lyceum.

Members of the English-speaking Framers' Union who fail to take part in the Central Labor Union's Labor Day parade will be fined $1 each. The Union has a strike on hand at Grand and Pitts streets against a derelict member.

A strike was won by Progressive Carpenters' Union No. 2 yesterday morning at Arthur's job, at One Hundred and Forty-ninth street and Morris avenue, where wages had not been paid regularly. The amount was collected by Walking Delegate McCrackin.

These officers have been elected by Bakers' Union No. 1: H. Stahl, President; G. Fox, Vice-President; J. Hampe, Recording Secretary; H. Schmidt, Financial Secretary; H. Stahl, Business Manager. The meetings now take place every Saturday at 257 East Tenth street.

Yesterday evening the United Wood Carvers' Association took $25 worth of tickets for the Labor Day picnic of the Central Labor Union and resolved to take part in the parade. The agreement with Baumgarten & Co. made by Walking Delegate Bausch, was unanimously indorsed.

A protest against admission of new delegates from Walters' Alliance No. 19 was referred to the Committee of the Central Labor Federation yesterday evening. Walters' Union No. 1 charges that members of the Alliance are trying to oust members of Union No. 1 from their jobs.

The delegate of the Central Labor Federation to the International Labor Congress, Mr. Zurich, will return to New York by Sept. 1, and he is to render his report at a mass-meeting to be held at Beethoven Hall, Fifth street, on Saturday, Sept. 9.

Charles Kluendeberg is the new delegate of Waiters' Union No. 1 to the Central Labor Federation, and Paul Hetmann was elected Auditor. A resolution in favor of the free coinage of silver has been tabled by the Union. Last evening the Union parades with the bakers.

For Friday evening, Sept. 18, the General Executive Board of the Central Labor Federations of New York and vicinity has invited all labor unions and central bodies to attend a conference at the Labor Lyceum, 64 East Fourth street, to discuss the subject of the unemployed.

Jersey City Typographical Union, No. 94, has elected the following new officers: Martin Flaherty, President; James Pikeman, Vice-President; J. W. Seely, Secretary; T. Hodges, Treasurer; Ogden, Sergeant at Arms. Executive Committee, Trustees, A. Ball, W. Tassell, T. Scanlon, P. Hurley, C. Hanson. Executive Committee.

General Secretary W. J. Gilthorpe, of the Brotherhood of Boiler-Makers and Iron Ship Builders, has notified the members of that organization that wages having been cut down, the boiler-makers are on strike at Akron, O. There is nothing to do for boiler-makers in Springfield, O.; Bloomington, Ill., and all points located on the Lake Erie, Toledo and Santa Fe and Union Pacific Railroads. The strike in the City of Mexico is still on.

Last night the Picnic and Convention Committees of the Plumbers' Union settled up their accounts at Central Hall. The officers have their hands full trying to find employment for a large number of members who are out of work. Many plumbers are coming from Western cities, where work is at a standstill. The Union has refused to call out its sympathetic strike on a job on the Hundred and Thirty-sixth street and Lenox avenue, where the Tin and Sheet-Iron Workers' Union has a grievance. Building that the Central Labor Union, whose Building Trades section inducted the strike, has no jurisdiction over the plumbers and gasfitters.

Job Morris is the new Walking Delegate of the Journeymen Stone-Cutters' Association. The Picnic Committee is composed of Mr. Morris, R. Lee, W. Bell, J. Murphy, H. J. Anderson, J. Dougherty, W. Wallace, J. Cullen, J. Smithson, J. Hamilton. For the games at the picnic, which is to take place at Silver's Harlem River Park, the employers have donated $200 in money and prizes, and the employees have offered a day of work for them. John Briody, ex-President of the Association, has been arrested for alleged embezzling of funds, and he is out under $500 bail.

NEWS OF DRY-GOODS DISTRICT.

Fred Baker spends Sunday in the Catskill Mountains searching for plants and flowers of wonderful design to copy for next season's styles of the Madeira draperies.

Eugene Walsh, the brother of Police Justice Walsh, of Brooklyn, can still be found in Tuft, Walsh & Co.'s office, although the unusual number of trunks which Eugene takes with him on a trip exceeds that of any European prima donna.

Probably in the woollen trade known Fred Kirkby, of the firm of Kirkby, Lee & Co., went to Boston in quest of orders, and opened his sample in one of the largest clothing houses there. The senior member, who did all the business, was so pleased with the samples he fondled delightedly, occasionally pausing to expatiate on the particular beauty of some style that had caught his fancy.

Dame was mentally calculating the size of the order he was going to receive when his high prices were suddenly blasted by the statement, "I must say, Kirby, your line is the best I have seen this season, but your prices are a little too high."

Just then a fruit vendor entered the store and in response to a beckon from Fred, made his way towards the firm. Kirby fished out the finest specimen of fruit in the basket, gazed on it with admiration, and asked the price. When told he put it back with a dubious shake of the head and said, "Too much money, Dame."

"I must say that is the finest fruit I have seen this season, but the prices are a little too high."

Off for the Coast.

Fred Carlisle, of H. Wallack's Sons, is said to be a close ally Tammany Hall Democrat on political circles.

The Southern trade are this season buying in the exhibition styles they have not before shown in any quantity of Fall goods, which, from the looks of the orders from the South, and on all sides it is predicted that this season's trade will be "great" for all concerned, for enjoyed in years. The more we travel, and the more we learn of the depression of business which has existed throughout the West.

Jack Teel is credited with a new bon mot. A young man called on Teel at the corner of Worth and Church streets, listening to a description of the highly colored pleasures of the Midway Plaisance, when a fair flame in slight attire, with a big feather in her hat, appeared in a suit of brilliantly dressed fire garments, told off on her back in the shape of miniature building lots. A twinkle as green as a mermaid's eye, and a pointed toe peeping along in a bright yellow case completed the entire.

Every one was anxious to identify the apparition, but Jack, who is supposed to know every one, was at a loss to place the lady.

"Who's that, Jack?" asked one.

That's the sporting editor of The Journal of Commerce," replied Jack, and they moved towards a Church street cafe.

However bad the trade is on the previous days of the week, Saturday is never expected to improve it. Saturday has developed from a half holiday to a whole holiday in the district at this time of year.

This week's trade was an improvement over that of last week, and a further increase is expected for next week.

The linen men have had the full share of hard luck, and the stories told over the tables in McGeary's are sufficient to cause a depression.

Waite Will Call an Extra Session.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 12.—Gov. Waite's friends say he will call an extra session next month after his return from an Eastern stumping tour. A muddle in the law authorizing a million-dollar canal necessitates this. The Governor will also recommend changes in the attachment and trust deed laws.

EXPERTS AT THE CHESSBOARD

Hodges Distinguishes Himself at the Staten Island Games.

Fine Work of Helms, Frere and Karpinski, the Young Players.

Chess players in every part of the State, and especially those of the metropolis, have been interested during this week in the tournaments held at the Hotel St. George, St. George, S. I., under the auspices of the State Chess Association.

For years the annual Summer meetings of the Association have been very successful, and the meeting held this year was no exception. Noted chess players from all over the State have come to watch the play of the champions, while even the great international players, such as Steinitz, Lasker and Lipschutz, thought it worth their while to look at the play of the others.

As was announced in "The Evening World" yesterday, A. B. Hodges, the champion of the Manhattan and Staten Island chess clubs, secured the Staats-Zeitung's cup for the Staten Island club without losing a solitary game. There is no question that Hodges is also the strongest players of the metropolis. It was Hodges who checked Larker's victorious career at the Manhattan Chess Club by giving that renowned player his first defeat in this country.

Among many other victories Hodges has achieved the following:

1890—He won the annual handicap of the New York State Chess Association.

1891—Tied for first prize with Hanham in the annual championship tournament of the Manhattan Chess Club.

1892—He won the championship of the New York Chess Association, he beat Delmar in a set match by five to nothing, and won the Manhattan Chess Club Handicap by winning twenty-seven games, drawing two and losing none.

1893—He won the championship of the Manhattan Chess Club with the fine score of ten wins and two games lost.

Little has to be added about the play of the other competitors in the cup tournament, as the players are pretty well known to the chess world. Polhemus, of Albany, the winner of the brilliancy prize in the international tournament of 1889, is rather out of practice and made a very poor show indeed.

Major Hanham, a player of great strength, was also out of form, and therefore greatly disappointed his many admirers, while Halpern, of the City Chess Club, played too carelessly, a circumstance which fully explains his failures. Olly, on the other hand, deserves to be greatly complimented on his fine play in many of his games.

The feature of the handicap was the remarkable cleverness shown by these young players—Helms, Frere and Karpinski. The latter, a boy of fifteen years, performed a rare feat by winning his section without losing a game. Frere, one year his senior, played in the first class, and won three games, losing only one, while Helms accomplished the feat of winning five games straight. This is a wonderful record for so young a player.

CUSTOM TAILORS TO ORGANIZE.

Mass-Meeting to Be Held This Afternoon at Beethoven Hall.

The custom tailors of New York are to have a mass-meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock at Beethoven Hall, 210 and 212 East Fifth street, the object of which is to discuss the general condition of the trade, and to perfect an organization.

The meeting is to be held under the auspices of the United Garment-Workers' Trades Council of this city, and in the call which has been issued it is stated that every one ought to know under what degrading conditions he has to work, and that he will still further lower his craft as well as his manhood by not belonging to an organization.

The Journeymen Tailors Local and National Union offers free initiation fees to all custom tailors wishing to join the union. The meeting will be addressed by prominent speakers in different languages, among them being Samuel Gompers, John B. Lennon and H. White.

PASSED BOGUS CHECKS.

Storey Worked His Little Game on West Street Liquor Dealers.

Henry D. Storey, of 51 Beach street, formerly a produce merchant doing business at 190 Duane street, was held for trial by Justice Meade at the Tombs Police Court this morning for petty larceny.

Detectives Kehoe and McDermott arrested Storey last night as he arrived from Jersey City, on a charge preferred by Lindemann Hagen, liquor dealer at 206 West street, from whom he had received $17.75 in advance on what turned out to be a worthless check.

Storey, the detectives state, obtained from small hotel-keepers along West street advances on checks of small amounts, which were returned dishonored. One of the victims was Christopher Schultz, of 190 West street, who advanced $21 on one of his checks.

FRANK SMITH HONORED.

Bediamonded Watch Commemorates His Rescue of Two Young Women.

FAR ROCKAWAY, L. I., Aug. 12.—Frank Smith, whose heroism in rescuing the daughters of B. F. Einstein, the New York lawyer, of the firm of Townsend, Brett & Einstein, as recounted in yesterday's "Evening World," was given a substantial souvenir of his bravery by the young ladies last evening.

Smith was sitting on the piazza of his hotel when a carriage drove up. He was invited to enter, and was then driven to the residence of Mr. Einstein. There a bevy of pretty girls were gathered, and Miss Amelia Einstein made a graceful little speech and presented to Mr. Smith a gold-chased hunting-case watch, set with diamonds and bearing the inscription:

"Presented to Frank Smith for heroically saving two girls from drowning at Far Rockaway Aug. 10, 1893."

SMUGGLED OPIUM TO BE BURNED

Government Cannot Get Its Price on Seized Tins.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—Some time ago an attempt was made to smuggle nearly two hundred tins of Victoria opium ashore from one of the Sound steamers. The stuff was seized, condemned and offered for sale a week ago. No one would give $5 a tin for it, and the Government would not sell it for less.

The matter was reported to Washington, and yesterday instruction came to burn the tins and their contents.

MORGAN PRIDE WAS MURDERED.

His Body Found Under Circumstances Pointing to a Foul Crime

SAN ANGELO, Tex., Aug. 12.—The remains of Morgan Pride, the Big Lake sheep man, who mysteriously disappeared Monday night, were found by the searching party a mile below town yesterday.

The evidence brought out in the inquest goes to show that the dead man was foully murdered and then thrown in the river to conceal the crime.

FEMALE BANDIT KILLS A DEPUTY

Laura Maundas, Alias "Tom King," Adds Murder to Her Crimes.

OKLAHOMA CITY, O. T., Aug. 12.—Word has just been received that William Whitmaster, a United States deputy marshal, was shot and killed in the "Strip" by Laura Maundas, alias "Tom" King, the female horse-thief. The marshal was pursuing the daring woman, and met his death from ambush.

"Tom's" exploits have made her notorious. She is a well born and good looking Missouri girl, upon whom repeated punishment has had no effect. This last is her gravest crime.

Every outlaw in the West is her friend, and her capture will be almost impossible.

FELL THREE STORIES.

Two-Year-Old John Rinacker's Skull Was Fractured.

John Rinacker, two years old, residing at 235 Mott street, fell out of a third story window at 2 o'clock this morning, and sustained a compound fracture of the spine.

The child was attended by Dr. Hughes, of St. Vincent's Hospital. His parents refused to let him be taken away.
