with a view of bringing the men back to work as soon as possible.

The agents stated that it was out of the question to pay more money than they were paying at present, and that they were hopeful that the men would return to work within a few days.

The representative of the Clyde line said that he had assurances that his men would return to work to-morrow.

The striking longshoremen are not organized, and for this reason Commissioner Feeney says he has not had an opportunity as yet to confer with them through officers or as a body. For this reason he would not hazard an opinion as to when they might return to work.

The cashbook troubles, Mr. Feeney said, do not come under the jurisdiction of the Arbitration Commissioners.

Commissioner Feeney will sit this afternoon as ninth arbitrator in the discussion of the grievances between the Electrical Contractors' Association and Wiremen's Union No. 3 at the Building Trades Club, 117 East Twenty-third street.

KANSAS STRIKERS DRILLING.

They Threaten to Attack a Mining Stockade To Morrow.

WEIR CITY, Kan., Aug. 23.—An exchange of shots between a negro miner and a crowd of strikers has wrought up excitement here to the danger point.

One negro was recognized as a scab, and a crowd made a rush for him. The negro drew his revolver and fired upon them as he fled for the mine.

A company of strikers was armed yesterday afternoon and drilled during the rest of the day. A meeting was held this evening at which Thomas Horsley, one of the leaders, urged the miners to arm themselves to the teeth and to begin vigorous warfare at once. It was planned to attack the stockade at the Kansas and Texas mine, No. 2, to-morrow and drive the working miners away.

RAILROAD REDUCING ITS FORCE.

Central of New Jersey Drops a Number of Men.

The traffic on the Central Railroad of New Jersey has decreased to such an extent that it has withdrawn one of its large tugs, of which it used two at night for the towing of floats across the river. One of the night drill engines in the yard, used for drilling freight cars, has also been taken off and its crew dropped. One night drill engine is now able to do all the work.

The movement of coal has nearly ceased, scarcely any arriving. In ordinary times from 90 to 100 cars of coal of twenty tons each were towed up the North and East Rivers on floats every night.

This reduction of force throws out a large number of men, most of whom reside in Jersey City.

Butchers Strike at Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 23.—Business at the packing-house of Swift & Co. was discontinued yesterday on account of the butchers' strike. About fifty Italians applied for work and aroused the indignation of the strikers, who drove them away. It is stated that the strikers will have to return to work at the 10 per cent. reduction or new men will be employed.

Non-Union Man Shoots a Striker.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 23. Yesterday the Jackhart Iron and Steel Company started their mills at Charters with non-union workmen, and this morning the old employees tried to present Charles Snyder, a non-union workman, and two men with him, from entering the works. Snyder then shot and seriously wounded Joseph Brownhill, a striker. Snyder is under arrest.

Labor News Condensed.

An effort is being made to hold a mass-meeting of all railroad employees in that section at Nashville, about Sept. 5, to form a federation of all the employees of the various systems in Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia and other Southern States.

There is likely to be trouble on the Louisville and Nashville on Sept. 1, when the reduction in wages goes into effect.

The union printers of St. Paul and Minneapolis yesterday reported to the Twin City Publishers' Association that they had voted unanimously not to accept the cut proposed last week.

Trainmen of the St. Paul Railroad say that the reduction of 10 per cent. in the wages of the men will be followed by a general strike, as the men are preparing to make a vigorous resistance.

BEARS BUSY WITH RUMORS.

One Attacks the Credit of a Wall Street Firm.

President Billings Says Chicago Gas May Pass Its Dividend.

Dullness again reigned supreme at the Stock Exchange this morning. In a minority of instances prices went off fractionally. Burlington alone yielded as much as a point.

The bears were timid about forcing the selling, and very soon after the opening there was a rally all around, only to be followed by another moderate reaction.

There were heavy sales of Northern Pacific 5s down to 24 1-2 and Chicago and Northern Pacific 5s to 36 3-4, the lowest figures yet touched.

The renewed depression was occasioned by the talk to the effect that an application will be made to the court to issue receivers' certificates. If this step is taken, however, it will be for the purpose of preventing the further sacrifice of the Company's securities held as collateral in loans.

The steamship Teutonic which arrived last night, brought ten boxes of gold consigned as follows: £1,020 to the Anglo-Swiss Condensed Milk Company, £5,000 to Malcolm Macleod, care of the American Express Company, at St. John, N. B., £20,000 to McFadden Bros., and £50,000 to J. & W. Seligman & Co.; total £76,020.

Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co. are advised of a shipment of £50,000 gold bars on the steamship Augusta Victoria, sailing from South ampton Friday next.

Foreign exchange continues weak, with posted rates down to 4 82 1-2 and 4 87 1-2. Commercial bills are in good supply, and the demand has fallen off. The prevailing belief is that the premium on gold will soon disappear. It is to be added that the money brokers were paying only 1-4 1 per cent. premium for currency this morning, this is the lowest yet.

There was very little that was new or interesting in the stock market in the late trading. The dealings were confined to the room traders, or, more properly speaking, to the "eighth chasers."

There were unfavorable rumors in circulation concerning the General Electric company and also vague stories afloat affecting the credit of a Wall street firm, but the bears apparently lacked faith in their own prognostications and hesitated about putting out fresh short lines. If anything prices were a little better.

New York Central commanded 1 10 for one General Electric, Burlington & Quincy and Louisville & Nashville 1 32, Rock Island 1 24, and Northern Pacific preferred 1 12. Northwest, St. Paul, Western Union and Lackawanna lost fractions.

Some of the heaviest sellers of Northern Pacific were Lee Higginson & Co., Fraser & Co., Livingston, R. K. White and Content & Nathan.

The transactions in the hours up to noon reached the large total of 865,000.

Among the securities announced to be sold at auction next week, the U. S. hold a large quantity, were 2,000 shares St. Paul & Northern Pacific, R. R. common stock, and $725,000 Northern Pacific R.R. consols 5 per cents. These were hypothecated for loans, but an arrangement was made whereby the securities were withdrawn. President Oakes of the Northern Pacific, said today:

"We shall make application at Milwaukee today for leave to issue receivers' certificates for the amount of several million dollars. This action is taken in order to secure funds for the purpose of recovering control of collateral now pledged in loans. We regard it as essential to the protection of the property."

President Billings of the Chicago Gas Company, at Chicago, today said: "As to the rumor that the Company will pass its next dividend, such action is possible. I am in favor of it and shall so advise the directors at their next meeting unless there is a change for the better in business. The Company has earned the dividend, but I think it better to hold the money as a protection against a possible currency famine. There is no truth in the claim that a receiver is to be applied for or that the bondholders are to be asked to join. All these rumors are malicious."

The foregoing excited comment in Wall street that was anything but flattering to Mr. Billings. In view of the checkered history of the Trust and the wholesale slaughtering of its securities by bombagged Mr. Billings would have shown much better taste if he had refrained from talking about a currency famine just at a time when the premiums on currency are diminishing.

Bank officials when spoken to today in regard to the currency situation were quite unanimous in their opinion that the tendency of affairs is in the direction of improvement. Some of the city institutions have within the past few days added materially to their deposit lines, and are accordingly more liberal towards their customers. The rate on currency varied from 1 1-4 to 2 per cent., but the former was about the best bid by the money brokers. The premium could disappear entirely if Congress repealed the Sherman Silver law. The market for gold was distinctly easier in the morning hours, specie being offered at 1 1-2 per cent. without takers. No transactions were reported in gold to arrive, and there was little demand.

The hearing before the House committee did not issue in actual new certificates today.

The Sub-Treasury had a debit balance at the Clearing House this morning of $62,624, which was liquidated with gold coin.

Money on call was 1@1 1-2 per cent.

HOFFMAN HOUSE BONDS SOLD.

Mr. Stokes and a Friend Bid Most of Them In.

Another chapter was added to the Brad Stokes controversy over Hoffman House affairs today. To satisfy the judgment of $301,000 Edward S. Stokes obtained against Lawson Rood, Referee Levi S. Fuller this morning sold 200 Hoffman House bonds, which Stokes held as security. The face value of the bonds is $2,000 each. The sale took place in the rotunda of the City Hall.

J. D. Leary, the owner of the big Leary café, and Stokes were the only bidders. A block of 25 bonds was bought by Mr. Leary at 41 cents on the dollar. The other 175 were purchased by Stokes at 40 and 40 and 40 and 41 cents on the dollar.

Ferris & Kimball's Schedule.

The schedules in the assignment of Floyd Ferris and William A. Kimball, composing the firm of Ferris & Kimball, stockbrokers at 6 Wall street, to William P. Dixon, filed in the Court of Common Pleas today: Liabilities, $170,357.09, nominal assets, $450,002; actual assets $67,503.11. The difference in the assets is due to the depreciation of stocks and securities.

Mayor Pingree's Financial Scheme.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 23.—At a meeting of the common council last night Mayor Pingree suggested that the city issue the whole or a portion of its authorized bonds in denominations of $20 and $25. The Mayor argues that these bonds would be purchased by the people who hold the money which has been withdrawn from circulation.

RAPID TRANSIT DISCUSSION.

The Commissioners' Meeting To-Day Promises to Be Important.

It Is Expected that Definite Plans Will Be Presented.

The meeting of the Rapid Transit Commission this afternoon promises to be an important one. As the members of the Board have promised to be present, and in view of the resolution adopted at their last meeting, it is expected that they will ignore the Manhattan Elevated Railway people and proceed at once to the consideration of new and independent routes of rapid transit.

The engineers of the Commission have been busy during the past two months preparing plans for such routes in accordance with the recommendation of Commissioner Starin, made at the meeting held last June, and it is known that several of the Commissioners have routes to propose.

Mr. Bushe was ready to lay his scheme before the Commission last week, but only withheld it on account of the absence of Commissioner Isham. Mr. Starin says that as the Commission has now been studying the problem of rapid transit for two years, it is thoroughly familiar with the subject, and therefore ought to be no delay in adopting definite plans.

The question of the meaning of the reply sent by the Manhattan Company to the Commission last week may then arise, and it is possible that representatives of that company may be present to explain their position in the matter.

Both Mr. Gould and Mr. Galloway have shown a disposition to crawl since it has appeared that the Commission, as well as other city authorities, including Mayor Gilroy and Comptroller Myers, have come out in straight lines in favor of independent lines. They claim that the resolution of the directors of the Company was not intended as a declaration that all negotiations with the Commission were off, but that at the present time, owing to the prevailing financial stringency, they were not in a position to consider any proposition for extensions of new or existing lines.

At least three of the Commissioners, including Mr. Steinway, Mr. Bushe and Mr. Starin, however, have by their recent utterances made it very plain that they consider the action of the Manhattan Company as final and have expressed the determination to have no further dealings with the Company whatever.

They say that the Commission and the Elevated Railroad corporation have parted company for good, and that it will be an utter waste of time to dicker with them any longer.

Several schemes for furnishing capital for the construction of independent routes are already on foot, and the Commission has received a number of proposals. It is understood within the last few days looking towards the organization of companies to operate which will be willing to undertake the enterprise and enter into competition with the present Elevated Railway Company.

WILL STAND AN ASSESSMENT.

Bank Directors Will Add the Par Value of Their Stock.

The directors of the Commercial Bank, in Bro klyn, which suspended business about twelve days ago, were in executive session at Lawyer Dykman's office this morning considering the question of resuming business with new capital. After the meeting President Seth L. Keeney gave out the following statement:

"The directors of the bank met this morning and continued their discussion of plans for resumption. They did not yet receive the report of the examiners of the Banking Department. They have learned that the examiners question the value of a considerable number of the bills discounted, and that the Superintendent of the Banking Department, in view of the financial situation, will be likely to impose, as a condition of resumption, that the bank have a very large sum of money in readiness to meet the expected withdrawal of deposits.

"The directors adjourned to meet to morrow morning, by which time they hope to have the completed report and to learn the requirements of the Banking Department, and to consult with shareholders concerning assessments to make good the impairment of capital. The directors propose to ask the shareholders to stand an assessment up to the par value of their stock if this would make resumption sure.

According to this statement the directors favor subscribing a new capital of $100,000.

SILVER SPEAKER CAUSES A ROW.

Mass-Meeting in Austin Given Over to Wrangling.

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 23. The mass meeting held last night to take action on the financial question was attended by disgraceful scenes, and at one or two points a pitched battle seemed inevitable. When Col. Paulk, a Hogg Democrat, made a speech favoring free and unlimited coinage of silver and denounced President Cleveland and the Clark Democrats attempted to down him they Hogg Democrats and Populists sprang to their feet and for a time it seemed as though a bloody row would ensue.

The balance of the evening was attended with wrangling.

MONEY TIED UP.

A Lien on $50,000 Belonging to Kings and Queens Counties.

It was made known in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, this morning, that $50,000 belonging to the Counties of Kings and Queens was tied up by order of the Court.

The two counties began to build a bridge over Newtown Creek, at Meeker avenue, about a year ago. Dean & Westbrook were awarded the contract. They were enjoined from selling any part of the work, and the injunction, however, it is said, to C. A. and H. Cregin. The County officials objected to Cregin completing the work, and he turned the work over to Dean & Westbrook.

Creditors tried to recover from Cregin, and failing, got a lien on the money held by the Supervisors.

BERTHA TOOK LEON'S CASH.

He Is a Theatrical Agent and She Wished to Be an Actress.

Bertha Jacobs, fourteen years old and quite pretty, has an idea that nature intended her as an adornment for the theatrical stage. As a sequel to matters in connection with her special ambition Miss Bertha was held in $1,000 bail for examination in the Essex Market Police Court this morning charged with the theft of $150 from Leon Mandelbert, a theatrical agent at 8 Allen street.

Bertha lives with her parents at 92 Moore street, Brooklyn, but has been in the habit of coming to New York ostensibly to see Mandelbert's wife. The agent himself was the principal attraction however.

It is said that Bertha loved Leon. On the evening of Aug. 17, it is charged, she called at the Mandelbert house, and while waiting in the parlor espied a satchel whose contents she proceeded to investigate. The satchel contained $150, which she is said to have taken out and kept.

Leon followed Bertha to her home in Brooklyn, and Officer Thomas Lawler arrested her. Bertha confessed her guilt, but would not say what she did with the money. She was taken in charge by the Children's Society and arraigned in court this morning.

COMMON SENSE IN SUMMER.

Why Some People Are Not Benefited by Their Summer Outings.

The hostess of a seaside hostelry says that city people do not show common sense when seeking rest, recreation and healthful change of air, and then go home sick and say "the air did not agree with us," remarks a Boston exchange.

She says they arrive perhaps on the evening train, come to dinner becomingly gowned in lavender mulls or dainty thin silks, and after dinner go without wraps for head or shoulders onto the breezy piazza and enjoy the moonlight and listen to distant music till 9 o'clock, and the next morning come to breakfast complaining of a slight headache, and express the fear that the air will prove too bracing!

And the poor hostess is sorry for not one of them for ten months has even of the sunniest day stepped outside of their door unbonneted, unclosked. But after breakfast they rush again bareheaded into the veranda, or, if inclined to exercise, take a jaunt and go off minus a hat for a stroll, the same after dinner, and then another evening on the veranda!

Wholly unaccustomed even to ordinary out-door life, this sudden change to living wholly in the outdoor atmosphere and unprotected results in developing all the tendencies lurking in their systems to either malaria, neuralgia or dyspepsia.

The worst sufferers are those ladies who rest and recreate during their outing on a couch all day till the sun is down and then coming out in piazza costume for the evening.

"Piazza costume" means for most of the Summerers dressing toilet!

The household city woman needs a piazza hat and a warm, fleecy shawl or wrap that can be folded so as to keep out the cold if she let her loose when the air is balmy and soft.

It is strange to see a person who would resent being called non compos, and yet who is of a neuralgic or rheumatic temperament, living out of doors at seaside or mountain for two months housing and disarming underwests and wearing limpiness mull gowns because the Summer months are here!

Imagine a woman of forty scoffing with rheumatic twinges upon her shoulder blade or disabled with "a crick in her back," and murmuring at the climate and bewailing her rheumatic tendencies, and the pink of her bared shoulders and bared arms gleaming through cheerest of mull or lace!

Suggest that her shoulders and arms need proper covering rather than her season an invalidism to still the pain and she will disgust women intensify the frown of pain that disfigures her face! She dreads the coming wrinkles, yet is fast making them indelible by her irritable moods, the result of needless physical suffering. Suppose one were to say all you need is a little of common sense!

The open-air pavilions, with their concerts, must be attended with thin gowns instead of serge ones and adjustable heavy shoulder capes, and the result is all attributable to the common sense could only become a fashionable fad and be taught as Delsartism is taught, what a change there might be from querulous, wrinkled, pain-lined faces to smooth skins, brilliant complexions and smiles instead of frowns.

"I've got a good husband, Judge, but this man takes him out and gets him drunk, and when I told him that he must stop it he slapped my face," said Mrs. Margaret Schassberger, who keeps a boarding-house at 29 Rivington street, when Henry Hahn, one of her boarders, was arraigned in Essex Market Court this morning. Justice Voorhis fined Hahn $5 and told him to get another boarding-house.

Charged with an Old Murder.

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 23.—Pinkerton Detective John Hope passed through Toronto en route to St. Louis, Mo., with an old man named Henry A. Gardner, who is charged with having twelve years ago murdered William Hindle.

Victim of an Open Car.

DIMPLES MADE FOR $5 EACH.

Doctor Who Says His Process Requires Five Minutes.

He Can Shorten Mouths and Straighten Noses, Too.

"Can you really make a dimple in twenty minutes?" a reporter for the San Francisco Examiner asked the "doctor" who has been notifying society ladies of his ability to make three dimples an hour at $5 a dimple. It was in a big brick building on Market street, and the doctor was a very polite man.

"Dimples? Oh, yes, ma'am, very easy, and painless, I assure you. Now, for making a dimple in a chin such as yours, where one is already started by nature, the operation is very simple, indeed. I just make a slight incision where the natural dimple is beginning to show, cover the place with some prepared plaster and then treat with electricity for two or three days, and when at the end of that time the plaster is removed a perfect, handsome dimple will be found.

"The treatment where a dimple in the cheek is desired is different only as regards the operation, but on account of almost constant movement of the muscles the healing is a little slower, and requires more frequent treatment with electricity, which costs $10 instead of $5. Yes, I make a good many dimples."

The "doctor" explained that nose-straightening went with dimple-making, just as hair cutting went with shaving, and the business also included mouth enlarging. He remarked that any one coming into the world blessed with a turned-up nose or a large mouth was not, in this age of progress, excusable for letting it remain in its deformed state. He could reduce the mouth from a large size to the merest rosebud, or straighten a turned-up nose until it looked severely classical.

In the office was a lady who was desirous of having her rather large mouth reduced. The operation was somewhat similar to that described in a recent popular novel, entitled "The Notary's Nose," with the exception that, unlike the unfortunate notary, whose nose was scalloped by a cat, and who had to remain with the artifical member stitched tightly to the arm of a waiter, carrier for half a month, the lady in this case merely had to keep her mouth closed for several days and subsist in the mean time on the rather thin diet of soup.

The patient in question was placed in a dental chair and the doctor, after removing his coat, treated the corners of the mouth with cocaine, and then, with a sharp instrument, he made a slight incision in the lower lip near the corner of the mouth.

Then he made a cut back towards the corner, raising a narrow strip of the lip, which was turned back and up and finally stitched firmly to the upper lip directly above. Then the other side of the mouth was treated in precisely the same manner, and the young lady with the sealed mouth was sent home to subsist on soup, and forbidden to laugh or for any other purpose open her mouth in the mean time, under pain of loosening the stitches, which would cause her mouth to return to its hated natural size.

"How do you treat a nose, doctor—a turned-up nose, for instance?" was asked.

"Oh, that is very simple," said the specialist. "I use a bridge for that—a little steel arrangement which fits snugly to the nose from tip to base, and which exerts a constant lifting-up tendency on the bridge as it constantly pushes the turned up tip down into a straight line with the base. This bridge has to be worn for several nights, and the member is treated here with electricity during the day.

DO THESE QUESTIONS APPLY TO YOU?

IF THEY DO, YOU HAD BETTER ANSWER THEM AT ONCE.

They Apply to a Great Many People in This Big City Who Really Don't Know What Is the Matter with Them.

Here are a lot of questions that were put to a reporter by Doctor J. Cresap McCoy, the well-known specialist and authority on diseases of the nose, throat and lungs. Doctor McCoy said, as he dictated the questions: "There are to a great many people in this big city who really do not know what is the matter with them. Whoever reads this will be able to determine if they have catarrh, for these are some of the most prominent symptoms of that dread disease, which means, if neglected, consumption and the grave." Here are the questions:

"Are you nervous?"
"Are you dejected?"
"Have you a cough?"
"Is your throat sore?"
"Is your eyesight poor?"
"Is your memory poor?"
"Is your appetite poor?"
"Do you hawk and spit?"
"Is your stomach weak?"
"Are your eyes watery?"
"Do you have headaches?"
"Have you lost ambition?"
"Do you take cold easily?"
"Do you have heartburn?"
"Are you dull and stupid?"
"Is your nose stopped up?"
"Is it always full of slime?"
"Is your breath offensive?"
"Are your bowels costive?"
"Is your hearing affected?"
"Do you have giddy spells?"
"Do you have shooting pains?"
"Does life seem a big burden?"
"Are you cranky and irritable?"
"Is your throat easily irritated?"
"Are you sleepless and restless?"
"Do you wake up tired and dull?"
"Do you have pains in your back?"
"Do you have smothering attacks?"
"Do you have unpleasant dreams?"
"Have you ever had night sweats?"
"Do you have ringing in your ears?"
"Do you feel sick at your stomach?"
"Is your tongue frequently coated?"
"Do you have ringing in your head?"
"Do you feel depressed after eating?"
"Have you got that all gone feeling?"
"Do you get confused in your ideas?"
"Do you have palpitation of the heart?"
"Is there a sense of fullness in the throat?"
"Is your mouth full of slime upon rising?"
"Do you have your mouth dry upon rising?"
"Do you belch up a sour taste in the mouth?"
"Do you see spots floating before your eyes?"
"Have you a cold feeling down over the body?"
"Have you a bloated feeling in the stomach?"

What is catarrh? Why, simply, it is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the head, throat and stomach. That's what makes all the mischief. We have thousands of people to come here and ask if they have catarrh, or what causes them to feel so wretched?
