LILLIAN IS FREE.

Miss Russell's Marriage Annulled in Fifteen Minutes.

Given the Custody of Her Child and the Right to Marry Again.

Solomon Had a Wife Living When He Married the Singer.

Miss Lillian Russell, the well-known comic opera prima donna, was granted an annulment of her marriage to Edward Solomon by Judge McAdam, in the Superior Court, this morning.

The case was disposed of quietly and quickly. Even in Chicago or South Dakota, where the severing of matrimonial ties is a matter of minutes, it could not have progressed more rapidly, for in just fifteen minutes after the hearing of the case was begun Miss Russell was free, with the right to resume her maiden name. She was also granted the custody of her child.

It was just five minutes to 10 o'clock when Miss Russell entered the Court-House, accompanied by her attorney, A. H. Hummel, and Robert B. Storrs, the only other witness, besides herself, who was to appear in the case.

The trio went at once to the court-room and had hardly seated themselves when Judge McAdam entered and court was opened.

Miss Russell wore a maroon-colored dress trimmed with black satin, and a long black lamb's wool cloak with a cape and high standing collar. Her hat was black and white, trimmed with black jet and black ostrich feathers. Her blonde hair, which has always been considered one of her chief points of beauty, was done up in a Grecian knot, which was held in place by a large jewel-studded gold comb. At her throat was a large diamond and turquoise brooch.

As soon as court was opened Mr. Hummel arose and read Miss Russell's affidavit on which her application for annulment of marriage was based.

The affidavit set forth that Miss Russell was married to Solomon in May, 1886, in Hoboken, and lived with him at 21 Gramercy Park until May, 1896, when she discovered that he had a legal wife living in England at the time he married her.

She left him at once and had not since lived with him. She had one child by him.

Mr. Hummel stated that Solomon, who was supposed to be in London, had been served by publication with a notice of the suit.

The first witness examined was Robert B. Storrs, a military-looking individual, with gray hair and mustache.

He testified that in 1887 he was a correspondent for a Montreal newspaper in London, and that Edward Solomon had been arrested in that city on a charge of bigamy, made by Jane Isaacs, a concert-hall singer known on the stage as Lilly Gray.

Mr. Storrs testified that Solomon was discharged, as the Court held that it had violated the law, it had been in the United States, and was therefore out of the jurisdiction of that court.

Miss Russell was the next and only other witness.

Mr. Hummel examined her in the smiling and affable way he has with his fair clients. Her testimony was simply a reiteration of her affidavit.

She left the witness stand and seated herself beside her counsel, and while they held a whispered conversation Judge McAdam granted the decree annulling the marriage, giving her the right to resume the name of Russell and to marry again. Also the custody of the child as already stated.

Miss Russell smiled, Mr. Hummel smiled, Mr. Hummel's clerk smiled, witness Storrs smiled, all of the parties bowed to Judge McAdam and they left the court-room together.

Miss Lillian Russell's first husband was Harry Braham. She eloped to Europe with "Teddy" Solomon in 1885.

In May, 1886, Braham obtained a divorce from the actress, and five days afterwards she married Solomon in Hoboken.

At the time of his marriage Solomon had a legal wife living, as alleged in the evidence to-day.

After Miss Russell left him in 1886, Solomon returned to Europe and there married Kate Everleigh.

It is said that Miss Everleigh also intends bringing an action for annulment of marriage.

Rumors have recently been started that Miss Russell intended marrying again as soon as the legal ceremony.

Miss Russell denies these reports.

SHEA WILLING TO PAY.

But He Wants His Wife to Live with Him Again.

Supreme Court Justice Andrews to-day reserved decision in the habeas corpus case of Edward J. Shea, who was manager of the New York and Brooklyn Loan Company, but has been in Ludlow Street Jail since Oct. 28 for failing to pay his wife Margaret $4.

Shea says he is willing to live with his wife, and can provide for her if she will let him. He had been ordered to pay her $8 a month in an action for a separation, which she brought in the Superior Court.

Lawyer D. Edwards appeared for her and said that a habeas corpus was not the proper remedy, and that she committed by due process of law. He said that if the Judge did not look upon him on that point he would submit affidavits in opposition to the motion.

CAME ON PRIVATE BUSINESS.

E. C. Benedict Talks of the President's Flying Trip.

Very Cheerful and in Most Excellent Health.

One of the callers on President Cleveland yesterday afternoon at the Victoria Hotel was his intimate friend, E. C. Benedict, the banker.

An "Evening World" reporter saw Mr. Benedict this morning at his office in Broad street, and in reply to an inquiry as to the real object of Mr. Cleveland's mysterious and unexpected visit to this city, the banker said:

"Really, there seems to be a great deal of fuss being made over a very little matter. To tell the truth I do not know exactly for what purpose the President came here, except that it was a matter of an entirely private nature.

"I didn't even ask him about it. I do know this very positively, however, that his visit had nothing whatever to do with his health. He was never looking or feeling better in his life, judging from what I saw of him in an hour's chat yesterday afternoon and in a walk up-town with him.

"What pleased the Doctor was which called here this morning, for he seemed to be particularly well pleased about something and during the whole time that I was with him was in the very best of spirits.

"Is there any truth in the rumor that the President's private business affairs were injuriously affected by the late financial crisis?

"No, he laughed, and the statement that he came on here to untangle any financial complications in his private affairs is made out of whole cloth. The President is one of the most methodical men in his business affairs, and his business affairs are, and to my knowledge has never engaged in any speculations whatever.

"He is a man who pays every bill promptly and, if those to whom he owes money do not get paid on the first of the month, it is because they have not sent in their bills. The story is absolutely ridiculous.

Mr. Benedict added that he understood that the private business which President Cleveland came here to attend to was finished early in the morning, and that not wishing to return to Washington until evening, he had spent the day visiting some of his friends.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—President Cleveland, accompanied by Secretary Lamont, arrived in Washington at 8.45 o'clock this morning over the Pennsylvania Railroad. The President was at once driven to the White House, and breakfast followed in his home.

The President has not looked in better health since his inauguration than when he alighted from the train. His step was firm and elastic and his appearance unusually cheerful.

RUSSIANS SHOW THEIR PACES.

An Electric Wireman Divides Interest with the Horses.

Fourth Day of the Horse Show at the Garden.

The fourth day of the horse show opened this morning with a feature that was not catalogued. The few spectators who were in the Madison Square Garden between 9 and 10 o'clock gazing at the exercising horses became aware that there was a more interesting sight. A groom was the discoverer, and in a few moments everybody was looking towards the roof of the Garden. There, on one of the iron girders a man was slowly making his way towards the centre.

Along the lower portion of each girder there is a line of incandescent lamps. As the man crawled in and out the open work he was watched with intense interest.

He was an electric light lineman. His object in making the perilous climb was to repair a defective lamp 175 feet above the tan bark arena. At length he reached the proper point. Far up at that dizzy height, within fifteen feet of the roof, he sat down on the lower part of the girder, while with his left hand, and leaning far over and around the iron, he worked with the lamp.

For five minutes he remained in his perilous position, and when he at last came down, a shout of approval from the spectators was his reward.

The spectators then turned their attention to the arena, where the Russian horses were exercised for exercise.

The pair belonging to W. E. D. Stokes were driven before a Victoria. They were the black stallion Bergodotsky, and the black mare Begotvetsin. The points with Bergodotsky, as he stepped by, are rocky. He was sent around the ring for half an hour. His white coat looked sleek, and his owner, P. Duryea, expressed the opinion that there would be a blue ribbon on him before the day was over.

Henry Fairfax's chestnut mare, Alantha, a fine jumping daughter of Matchless of Longdesten, was given half a hour spin just to take the kinks out of her joints before she was judged in the first morning class.

Other horses exercised were Prescott, Lawrence's Primrose, Geo. D. Widener's Lucky, Queen and W. Seward Webb's Brown gelding Chilmont.

WANTS $10,000 FROM THE L ROAD

Hartman Says He Was Assaulted by an Employee and Arrested.

Andrew Hartman, a saloonkeeper at 8 South street, through his attorney, John Callahan, to-day began suit for $10,000 damages against the Manhattan Elevated railway before Judge Gieger, in the Court of Common Pleas.

Hartman alleges that on the night of Sunday, Aug. 28, 1892, he and two friends were on the platform of the Elevated road waiting at Broad and Fulton streets. One of his friends purchased three tickets, which were deposited in the box.

While he was standing on the platform waiting for a train he says he was assaulted by an employee of the road. Afterwards he says he was arrested on the charge of assault.

He asks $10,000 damages for the assault and $5,000 for false arrest, as he was discharged in the police court next morning.

On the witness stand Hartman admitted that his saloon was open on Sunday and that he had been drinking with friends, he said, however, he was entirely sober and denied assaulting the railroad man.

BOMBS ALL AROUND.

Dastardly Attempt to Blow Up a French General's House.

Dynamite in Sentry Boxes and in a Passageway.

Intended Victim the Commander of the Fifteenth Army Corps.

(By Associated Press.)

MARSEILLES, Nov. 16.—A dastardly attempt to blow up the residence of Gen. Mathelin, Commander of the Fifteenth Army Corps, was made at about midnight last night.

The house occupied by Gen. Mathelin is surrounded by a high wall into which sentry boxes are built.

In the small niches, or sentry boxes, a number of little cases of dynamite were placed, and in addition one case of dynamite was placed in a room adjoining the apartments occupied by the General and used by the orderlies of the commander.

The dynamite placed in the orderlies' room exploded at about midnight with a loud report, shattering the walls and hurling a mass of debris into the guard-room, without however, injuring the orderlies or hurting any of the soldiers in the guard-room.

Every pane of glass in the General's house and in adjoining houses was smashed by the force of the concussion, and the girls' school and various buildings opposite the General's residence were especially damaged.

A bomb was discovered later in one of the passages of the General's house, and it is believed that the conspirators were under the impression that the explosion of the five case of dynamite would be sufficient to explode the bomb found in the passage as well as the cases of dynamite placed in the sentry-boxes.

For several years no sentries have been stationed about the residence of the General owing to the state of quiet which has prevailed at Marseilles.

Some idea of the force of the explosion and of the remarkable escape of the orderlies and soldiers in the guard-room, to say nothing of the girls in the school opposite and of the Octroi officials may be formed from the fact that the effects of the explosion were felt a mile from the spot where it took place.

The Director of the Octroi, or municipal tax headquarters, was lying in bed when the dynamite exploded and was awakened by the noise and by a shower of glass and plaster which fell upon his face.

An Italian, who was sitting opposite the General's house late yesterday evening has been arrested upon suspicion of being connected with the conspiracy.

There are people here, however, who believe that the explosion was the work of the most hot-headed of the horse-car strike agitators, who are known to have been feeling very bitter against the military authorities for the support which they gave the Car Company during the recent strike, when the streets were patrolled by hussars and infantry and when each horse-car which the Company was enabled to run was escorted by from six to a dozen mounted hussars.

Sentries are now stationed around Gen. Mathelin's headquarters, and every precaution possible is being taken to guard public buildings, as the police are understood to be in possession of information which leads them to believe that further explosions may be attempted.

THE BARCELONA OUTRAGE.

One Man's Impatience Spoiled a Plot for Wholesale Slaughter.

(By Associated Press.)

BARCELONA, Nov. 16.—It is stated that Judge Dencnech has in his possession the names of all the persons who were connected with the bomb outrage at the Liceo Theatre, and that the culprits are already in custody.

It is said that the plot was arranged by several Anarchists, each of whom was to carry a bomb into the theatre.

One of the number was deputed to turn off the gaslights, and at this signal the bombs were to be thrown.

The man who was to put out the lights failed to find the meter, and one of his companions, growing impatient of waiting for darkness, threw his bomb down into the stalls.

FOUND A LIVE CORPSE.

New Jersey Poor Officials Had a Useless Chase After Kumiskey.

WESTWOOD, N. J., Nov. 16.—Poormaster Aaron Purse and Undertaker Alexander Smith are very wroth because after making a long journey to Hackensack to bury a Washington township pauper, who was reported to have died in the hospital there two days ago, they found him alive and well.

The patient was Michael Kumiskey, a Polish citizen, who went hickory-nutting in the woods near Westwood about two weeks ago and fractured his spine by falling out of a tree. Dr. Ackerman, of Oradell, had him sent to the Hackensack Hospital, where a poor patient from another township died day before yesterday.

Dr. Ackerman made a mistake in notifying the wrong Poormaster, and now the relations between him and the two Westwood gentlemen are decidedly strained. Both the Poormaster and the undertaker say there will be trouble unless somebody pays the expenses of their useless trip to Hackensack.

HIS WIFE WILL PUNISH HIM.

He Left Home Without Her Permission and Got Drunk.

Herman Schoenmeier, of 165b Avenue A, made a pitiful appeal for his release when he was arraigned before Justice Voorhis at the Essex Market Police Court to-day to answer a charge of intoxication. Policeman Passot of the Delancey street station testified that he found Schoenmeier asleep on a coal box.

"Oh, Judge, please let me go. I'll get punished enough for what I have done."

"Who will punish you?" asked Justice Voorhis.

"My wife," said the defendant as he blushed to the roots of his hair. "I left the house without her permission, and she will settle accounts with me when I get home."

"Well," said Justice Voorhis, "I discharge you and turn you over to your wife for punishment. The next time I send you to jail."

BREAK IN GENERAL ELECTRIC.

Rumors Help the Cammack Brokers' Raid on the Stock.

Balance of List Holds Up Well—Market Dull.

The stock market was duller than ever this morning, but those operating on the bull side more than held their own. They let the traders bearishly inclined sell all they wanted and then put up prices 1-4 to 1 7-8 per cent.

American Sugar rose 1 1-8 to 94 1-2; Canada Southern, 3-4 to 56; Canadian Pacific, 1 5-8 to 75 5-8; Burlington & Quincy, 7-8 to 81 1-4; Chicago Gas, 3-4 to 61 5-8; General Electric, 1-2 to 42; Manhattan, 1-8 to 127; United States Rubber, 7-8 to 28 7-8, and Western Union 5-8 to 87 1-8.

Brokers are lamenting the absence of orders and are anxiously waiting for some development that will infuse life into speculation. The belief obtains that when the business community is made acquainted with the proposed changes in the tariff merchants will quickly accommodate themselves to circumstances and trade will revive. It is mean time realizing earnings are destined to have an important bearing upon values.

The posted rate for long sterling was advanced to 4.85. Sight remained 4.87 1-2. The scarcity of commercial bills was the cause.

The Bank of England rate of discount was unchanged at 2 per cent. Bullion in the bank decreased during the past week 60,000.

The proportion of the reserve to liability, which that week was 44.06 per cent, is now 44.44 per cent. Bank of England stock was down three points this morning, making a decline of six points in the last five days. The drop was occasioned by reports of impending resignations of certain directors on account of losses sustained by the bank on advances made on securities.

The United States Sub-Treasury of this city shipped $100,000 in notes of small denominations to New Orleans yesterday.

The feature of the market to-day was a sudden break in General Electric from 43 to 38 3-4. The selling was started by the Cammack Brokers, and later the traders joined in the movement.

Rumors were current that the company was in a bad way financially, and that a considerable amount of long stock had come upon the market out of the hands of disgusted holders. The general list held pretty well, but was extremely dull.

There was an increased borrowing demand for stocks. Lackawanna commanded 1-16 premium. Northwest, New York Central, Louisville & Nashville, Atchison, C. B. & Q., Rock Island, Western Union, Northern Pacific preferred, Erie and Union Pacific lost fractional sums, and others at 1 to 1 1-4 per cent for carrying.

It was currently reported on the street that the Metropolitan Traction Company would issue a new issue of bonds to be secured on its Broadway property. The expenditures on the Broadway line were heavier than anticipated, and the Company is said to have incurred a considerable floating debt. Mr. Thomas F. Ryan is mentioned as affirm or deny the statement.

Foreign exchange continued strong. Posted rates were 4.85 1-2 and 4.88, and actual business was transacted at 4.85 1-2 a 4.85 3-4 for bankers' long sterling and 4.86 1-2 a 4.87 for sight drafts.

Steamship cremains, which arrived last night, brought $150,000 silver in transit to London and Paris and $450 to the Bank of British North America.

The Sub-Treasury had a debit balance at the Clearing-House to-day of $700,000, which was liquidated in gold.

Money ran at 1 a 1 1-2 per cent on call, 2 on Philadelphia, special days. The Reading Railroad Company will pay the coupons on the consolidated mortgage that due Dec. 1. The last payment on the amount of the coupons purchased in June has been made to the parties interested.

The Hecker-Jones-Jewell Milling Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1 per cent on the preferred stock, payable Dec. 1.

The regular monthly meeting of the New Northern Pacific Board of Directors was held to-day. Only routine business was transacted.

TWO YOUNG FOOTPADS.

They Snatched Miss Jacobs's Pocketbook and Ran.

Samuel Klodowsky, eleven years old, of 8 Essex street, and Harry Schlenert, twelve years old, of 32 Hester street, were held for examination in the Essex Market Court to-day.

As Sadie Jacobs, of 238 Broome street, was passing along Allen street yesterday afternoon Klodowsky knocked her purse, which contained $1, from her hand, and Schlenert picked it up.

Policeman Schindler, of the Eldridge street station, gave chase to the young footpads and captured them after a long run. The purse, with the money, was recovered.

DID GRADY ROB CHOYNSKI?

Police Looking for a Complainant to Press the Charge.

The police are looking for a complainant to press a charge against John Grady, one of the crews in the Horse Show in Madison Square Garden, who was arrested yesterday while he was donning his uniform. He is suspected of being implicated in the robbery of Footman Joe Choynski, who all gives that he was drugged and robbed in a drive at 108 East Fourteenth street on Sept. 19.

Choynski is at present on the road with an Uncle Tom's Cabin company. His story of being robbed was to the effect that he met some friends, who brought him to the resort, where he was given a drugged drink, which made him unconscious. When he came to himself on the following day he discovered that he had been robbed of $1,400 in money, a diamond stud and a diamond ring.

The detectives say that there is some doubt whether the man who was robbed was Choynski. The police declare that Grady is an old jail bird, but he pretends to be a member of the Young Men's Christian Association on the Bowery. Since the alleged robbery he has been shaving, and his mustache has been shaved off. The detectives say that Grady admits that he was drinking with a man named "Joe" in the resort, but he stoutly denied having a hand in the robbery. He said that he had his mustache taken off because it made him look too old.

Justice Voorhis remanded Grady until to-morrow.

GREATEST REDUCTION IN MERCHANDISE EVER KNOWN.

WE MUST HAVE MONEY!

The lack of employment of the working classes, the unseasonable weather and the stringency in the money market have curtailed our business this season. We bought heavily, anticipating a good Fall business. The result: We are now overstocked with maturing obligations which must be met. To do this we shall inaugurate a sweeping reduction of our entire stock at a uniform discount of 50 per cent. on everything.

Eighth st. store open Saturday evening until 9 o'clock.

A Silk Saddle

is not desirale for equestrian use, but is essential to supplement a wool lining in a Winter Top-Coat. The excellence of our offering in Correct Style Top-Coats is alike convincing to sceptics and the unprejudiced. Beavers, Kerseys, Meltons, Vicunas, Elysians and Montagnacs are the accepted fabrics, $20 to $40.

Those mark-down Top-Coats that we advertised recently are inclined to leave us abruptly. If you wish to economize this winter they will help you out. Former prices 15 to 45; now marked $10, $15, $20 and $25.

If you've a grudge against Old Boreas, Old Prob. and the elements, our latest conceptions in Ulsters will interest you, $15 to $40.

Locked the Burglar Up.

John Lynch, fifteen years old, of 206 First avenue, was held for burglary in the Essex Market Court to-day. Baker Frederick Steiger, of 15 Christie street, found Lynch in his cellar last night and locked him up. Policeman Kelly, of the Eldridge street station, was called in. He found Lynch making a bundle of some of Steiger's wearing apparel.

WANT TO BE INVESTIGATED.

Republican Leaders Take Action and a Row is Probable.

There may be a row, after all, at the meeting of the Republican County Committee to-night.

Those who proposed to attack the leaders for playing into the hands of Tammany had about decided to make their fight at the primaries next month, but last night the Executive Committee, comprising the district leaders and alleged culprits, got together and passed a resolution, to be presented to the County Committee, calling for the appointment of a committee of five to investigate the charges of treachery.

The Executive Committee also named Elihu Root, C. N. Bliss, Gen. Horace Porter, S. V. R. Cruger and Daniel G. Rollins as the proper investigators.
