Intercollegiate Athletes May Again Enter the L. A. W.

Almost Certain Canada Will Not Get the Big Fight.

It looks as if the Intercollegiate Athletic Association, which meets at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, would weaken in its attitude of independence towards the L. A. W. It will be recalled that some time ago the I. C. A. A., with that superb indifference which has frequently characterized the proceedings of college students, made up its mind that it would conduct its bicycle meets according to its own rules, and that it was not necessary to apply to the L. A. W. for sanctions. The L. A. W. promptly suspended all participants in unsanctioned college meets, which apparently did not cause the college wise men to be in the least perturbed.

Yesterday Chairman Raymond, of the L. A. W. Racing Board, received a letter from President Robert Buchanan Wade, of the I. C. A. A., asking him to send a representative to the intercollegiate meeting and inquiring what it was that the L. A. W. wanted the I. C. A. A. to do. This looks like a flag of truce. Mr. Raymond did not consider it necessary to send a representative to the meeting. Instead, he wrote Mr. Wade that all the I. C. A. A. had to do was to agree to abide by L. A. W. rules and apply for sanctions, the same as other people, although those may not have been Mr. Raymond's words.

A Buffalo despatch says that Parson Davies was in that city last night. While there he received a cablegram from Lord Lonsdale, which said the Englishmen had received Davies's letter and could go immediately to London to see what could be done in the way of bringing off the Corbett-Jackson fight in that country. Davies is certain that the fight will not come off in Canada. Yesterday he met at Toronto Mr. Kennedy, the man who owns Strawberry Island, and had a talk with him. Kennedy told him that he could raise as large a purse for use it as any one, but when the Parson suggested to him that there would have to be a $10,000 forfeit that there would be no interference he refused to talk business. The fact of the matter is, the laws of Canada are so strict that there is no more chance of the mill occurring that country than there is that it will fought in New York City.

The number of candidates for the Harvard Freshmen crew has been reduced to sixteen. The first crew is showing steady improvement, but the men in the second crew are called stickers. The divisions are made up as follows:

FIRST CREW		SECOND CREW.
Lord	Bow	Connor
Cornwall	2	White
Duffield	3	Kernan
Chapman	4	Hollister
Kennedy	5	Wadsworth
Sleeper	6	Irving
Phelps	7	Phelps
Sprague	Stroke	Ames

The Harvard University crew was out on the water yesterday. Capt. Davis didn't get out the barge, but sent the men in pair oars. The men who rowed were Bullard, Fennessy, Townsend, Emmons, Beallis, Cameron, Murchie, Purdon and Davis.

There seems to be doubt in the minds of officials of both the L. A. W. and A. A. U. as to Class B bicyclists riding in A. A. U. championship meets. According to the terms of alliance between the L. A. W. and A. A. U. the former has full jurisdiction in all the A. A. U.'s bicycle events, and Class B men could ride with Class A. It is probable that Chairman Raymond will confer with the A. A. U. people soon and some agreement be arrived at in the matter.

Prof. Eugene Richards, Yale's chief Faculty athletic adviser, does not agree with President Eliot, of Harvard, in the latter's views of college sports. He thinks President Eliot did not get enough practical advice before making known his stringent ideas, and consulted with men who are overhostile to football. Prof. Richards says: "To do away with intercollegiate contests removes a mighty influence for good in making manly, self-reliant, self-sacrificing men."

D. Henry Knowlton, who died recently, was one of the oldest members of the New York Athletic Club, being No. 8 on the membership list. He was the first amateur oarsman to row a scull on the Harlem River, and built himself a boat-house on the river before N. Y. A. C. had one.

EVER GO TO COLLEGE?

Here Is a Story of Life at Harvard in All Its Phases.

Great interest in college life has been aroused of late by the stories of hazing at Dartmouth, Cornell and Tufts. To many people there is a mystery about these institutions of learning and a general idea that the students are the sons of rich men and have no object in life but to have fun.

THE STUDENT AT WORK.

Harvard, the oldest university in the country, has been written about for "The Sunday World" as an example of student life. The way the students pass the day, the part they take in athletics, their club life, expenses of the year, how some students pay their own way, and all the features of interest to graduates and those who expect to go to college will be found in this tory.
