MAY PROBE DIVVER.

April Grand Jury Sworn In by Judge Cowing.

New Evidence Said to Have Been Found Against Him.

The Accused Police Justice Resumes His Duties in Morrisania.

The April Grand Jury was impanelled this afternoon in the Court of General Sessions, by Judge Cowing. It will deal with the question whether or not to indict Police Justice Divver, for an infamous crime. The charges publicly made against Divver, and not denied by him, that he offered prizes to the three district captains polling the largest vote for Maynard at the last election, in the Second District, constitute an infamous crime under Section 41, of the Penal Code.

PADDY DIVVER.

Justice Divver has seen fit to treat these charges with contempt, and as a challenge to his accusers to-day resumed his seat on the bench. A man charged with a crime sitting in judgment on other persons accused of violating laws! He was on the bench in the Morrisiana Police Court this morning.

A mass of new evidence has been obtained to prove that Justice Divver violated the law. The alleged offence is considered all the more serious in his case, he being a magistrate who is supposed to be familiar with the Penal Code.

The Tammany leader's defiant attitude has aroused his accusers to renewed efforts, and they hope to make out a case this time. Persons have been indicted on less evidence than has been presented to two previous grand juries, but in each instance the Grand Jury gave the other side the unusual privilege of hearing and to offer testimony to offset that of the prosecution.

Charles Sewall, insurance, of 62 East Seventy-eighth street, and 58 William street, was selected as foreman of the new Grand Jury. His associates are:

Spencer E. Austin, jr., 215 West One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street and 74 Pine street; William H. Bibby, 128 West Sixty-third street; James E. Bowen, shoes, 206 Bowery and 1610 Broadway; Edward J. Curry, liquors, 1207 Lexington avenue and 1610 1612 and 1708 Third avenue; Thomas J. Davis, merchant, 11 East Sixty-second street, 25 Leonard and 378 Broadway; David S. Dange, Gilsey House; William M. House, merchant, 152 West Ninety-third street and 255 Broadway; Charles Douglass, merchant, 101 West Nineteenth street; Charles G. Moller, merchant, 280 Madison avenue and 96 Wall street; James H. Beekman, broker, 23 East Seventy-fourth street; Joel B. Erhardt, Treasurer, 34 West Seventy-fifth street; 45 Broadway and 150 Nassau street; George F. Morgan, furniture 1586 and 1597 Broadway; James Benkard, on business, 127 East Twenty-fourth street; Robert B. Macpherson, manager, 36 West Thirty-fifth street and 104 Worth street; Leonard K. Smith, wines, 283 Canal street; Jacob Van Gelder, painter, 224 West One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street; George E. Harney, architect, 20 Fifth avenue and 71 Broadway; Meyer Jonasson, cloaks, 261 Madison avenue, 501 Broadway and 254 Grand street; Samuel McMillan, real estate, 834 Seventh avenue, 461 Eighth avenue, and 227 West Forty-second street; William H. Leffetts, merchant, 208 Lexington avenue and 74 South street; Max J. Liesauer, jeweller, 44 East Eighty-third street and 12 Maiden lane; Daniel S. Davis, dry goods, Grand Hotel and 79 Leonard street.

Judge Cowing, in his charge to the grand inquisitors, said there were but sixty-seven prisoners in the Tombs awaiting their action. This was an unusually small number for a city of 2,000,000 population, and especially during these times of financial trouble.

He told them that they were not selected for their political affiliations, but because they are impartial and honest business men. They are only to find indictments, he said, where there is legal evidence and not on hearsay and newspaper reports.

Judge Cowing laid particular stress upon public officers. He advised the Grand Jury to look into the misconduct of any officials. In charges of this character the Grand Jury may consider them without their being first admitted to a police magistrate. This was made no reference to any particular case.

Congressman Isador Straus and P. Fulton Cutting were on the panel, but they did not respond to their names.

DEVERY PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

But the Police Captain's Trial Is Postponed Until To-Morrow.

The trial of Police Capt. William S. Devery, on indictments charging him with wilful neglect of duty, which was set down for to-day in the Court of Over and Terminer, was put over until to-morrow morning.

The reason given for the postponement was that the defense was not ready to go on. Col. E. C. James, the defendant's counsel, having another imperative engagement, and that Devery was paying his own money in the Police Department, and Capt. Devery had duties to perform in that connection.

Justice O'Brien consented to the adjournment, and the case was set down as the first one for to-morrow morning. Previous to this Capt. Devery was called to the bar and pleaded not guilty to the four indictments against him.

He originally interposed a demurrer to the indictments, but this was overruled by Judge Cowing in General Sessions early in December last.

M'AVOY AFTER POOLROOMS.

The Police Inspector May Make Some Raids in a Day or Two.

It was rumored about Headquarters this morning that arrests would soon be made in a series of raids upon poolrooms which are doing a substantial business all over the city.

In his district, Inspector McAvoy especially is making strenuous efforts to secure evidence against the bookies, and a considerable amount has been obtained.

To get this evidence patrolmen in citizens' clothes have been detailed in precincts where they are not known.

Chief Agent Lemon, of the Parkhurst Society, and two of his assistants were before the Grand Jury this afternoon as witnesses against keepers of disorderly houses which were raided at the instigation of the Society for the Prevention of Crime.

Alexander Sherman, of 152 East Forty-second street, John Hoy, of Thirty-fourth street and Third avenue, and several others were recently gathered in by the police as proprietors of houses of ill-fame.

Supt. Byrnes and Capt. Allen Cross were seen lounging around the District Attorney's office. They declined to state the nature of their visit.

SEPARATED BY A CLOCK.

Husband Leaves Home and Wife Sues for Divorce.

NEWARK, N. J., April 2. A peculiar suit for divorce was begun in the Chancery Court before Vice-Chancellor Green this morning. The suit is on the ground of desertion, and is brought by Mrs. Laura Roll, of Springfield, N. J., against her husband, William M. Roll. They were married in 1887, and the next year he left and was gone three years. Then he came back, and arrangements were made to go to housekeeping.

One night Mr. Roll came home and said that he had changed his mind. Then he left and did not return.

According to Mrs. Roll's testimony this morning, an alarm clock was the cause of the trouble. Mr. Roll had to get up at 4 o'clock every morning, and was awakened by an alarm clock. The alarm would also awaken the baby, and Mrs. Roll objected to the clock, and made way with it. Then her husband left.

William Roll, the defendant in the suit, is the young man who was hung in effigy by the residents of Springfield last Summer, because of the way he treated his wife. The figure was found hanging from a telegraph pole in the centre of the town one Sunday morning, and on it was a card bearing Roll's name.

SOROSIS IN EASTER GARB.

Child Literature the Subject Discussed at a Meeting.

The unusually fine Spring day brought a large number of dainty women together this morning at the regular monthly meeting of Sorosis at Sherry's. Those who were unable to appear in their best clothes on Easter Sunday evidently tried to make up for that disappointment by going out this morning in the extreme of fashion.

The usual luncheon preceded the meeting. The attendance was large.

The question for discussion presented by Mrs. Carrie Snow Watt, Chairman of the Committee on Literature, was "Should There Be Anything in Child Literature Which Is Not or Could Not Be True." The affirmative was argued by Mrs. Alice Bartlett Stimson, and the negative by Mrs. Alice May Scudder. Miss Marguerite Merington, Mrs. Jennie C. Croly, Mrs. Mary Dixon Hall, Mrs. C. Lincln Forest and Mrs. Jennie De La M. Lozier also took part.

HER SECOND ATTEMPT.

Mrs. Levi Sues for $25,000 Damages from Her Father-in-Law.

Before Judge Van Wyck, in the Brooklyn City Court, to-day, Mrs. Kate Levi began a suit for the second time against her father-in-law, Moses Levi, to recover $25,000 damages for the alleged alienation of her husband's affections.

Mr. Levi, the defendant, is a wealthy hay and feed dealer in the East. In Dec. 1887 Levi's son was married to the plaintiff. On Jan. 25, 1892 she says her husband's father and family objected to the marriage because of the difference in the young couple's religious beliefs.

When the married from their wedding tour the plaintiff says her father-in-law deceived her husband away and he has not been seen since.

She believes the defendant sent his son West after threatening to persecute him unless he obeyed.

HE SAYS SHE HAS MONEY.

But Paymaster Kelly's Wife Applies for Alimony.

Mrs. Gertrude M. Kelly, wife of ex-Paymaster John A. Kelly, of the United States Navy, today asked Judge Gaynor, in the City Court, Brooklyn, for alimony and counsel fees in the suit for absolute divorce brought against her by her husband.

Kelly claims that he is wealthy. He is now connected with a bank in Washington, D. C. He says that his wife appears to have enough to defend her suit, without help from him. Decision reserved.

As soon as I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla my appetite increased, the rheumatic troubles ceased and I felt better than for years before. I have used it in the family and would not do without it. It cannot be recommended too highly for weak, tired women, nor for children when teething. Any one giving it a fair trial will be well satisfied." MRS. S. D. ASHLEY, North Richmond, Ohio.

SOLDIERS AS CENSORS

Darlington, S. C., Under Full Martial Rule To-Day.

No Messages by Rail or Wire Unless Approved by Authority.

Nine Escaped State Spies Hidden by Friends in Charleston.

(By Associated Press.)

DARLINGTON, S. C., April 2.—A military press censorship is in force in this town, which is the centre of public interest in the dispensary troubles that have more thoroughly aroused South Carolina than any occurrences since the exciting times of 1876.

According to the proclamation promulgated by Gov. Tillman, this and the adjoining county of Florence are in a state of insurrection. Notwithstanding this declaration of the Governor, however, all is quiet and peaceable here, and there has been no disturbance since the shooting of Friday afternoon.

The military representatives of the Governor are in full sway over the telegraph wire running from here. Soldiers are posted at and have taken charge of the railway and telegraph offices and will not permit the transmission or delivery of despatches or press messages to correspondents here until they have been first inspected and transmitted by the officers in command.

At 11 o'clock A. M. the situation is unchanged, and all is quiet and peaceful. The troops under command of Gens. Farley and Richbourg are quartered in the court-house and hotels, but later in the day will be located into one company about one mile from town.

Gens. Farley and Richbourg, when asked for information this morning, said they had nothing to say to the press. Eight more companies of troops will reach here to-day.

Gov. Tillman's son, Jim, who is a chip of the old block, is here in command of the Edgefield Hussars. This company is thought to be about the only one which would stand true to the Governor in case of trouble. All business houses here are closed, and the employees are on the streets watching developments.

The Governor, it is reported here, enlisted 100 spies and constables yesterday, and has them massed at Columbia, but it is thought he will not send any of them here, as their presence would be certain to influence the people who are down on the liquor-law agents. It is not known what has been done with the bodies of the two spies who were found dead in the woods near Timmonsville late yesterday afternoon. The courier who arrived at Florence after midnight said he had no information on that point.

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 2. Sunday was absolutely quiet and without event in Charleston. The nine dispensary spies who escaped from the swamp near Darlington arrived here last night at 11 o'clock. Very few people knew of their arrival. They were housed at their boarding house.

Information received here is to the effect that the military now at Darlington have naturalized with the citizens.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 2.—Col. F. M. Mixson has been commissioned and placed in command of the forces left in the city, and these which have arrived since. Last evening two more companies of cavalry on foot, armed with carbines, arrived, having taken the train at Fairfax. No further trouble is anticipated here. The Sandy Springs Rifles are still at the Hotel Jerome. They have been notified to obey the commands of Col. Mixson. All the other soldiers are quartered at the State prison. Gov. Tillman has returned to the Mansion. It was understood last night that the State officers were in need of more rifles, and that the guns of the two colored local companies were to be secured.

Gov. Tillman has ordered all dispensaries in counties where there is any excitement to close until further orders. He does not intend, he says, to open dispensaries and make citizens drunk and turn them into demons to shoot each other. The Governor said if whisky had been easily obtained the last few days, the troubles would have been very much more desperate.

As to the companies disregarding and refusing to obey his commands, Gov. Tillman says all the companies in his militia are called upon to shoot any member who refused to obey orders is subject to court martial, which may follow.

Gov. Tillman considers the disappearance of the State arms from the armories of the Zouaves and Lafayettes in Columbia, and the company in Orangeburg, as a serious affair. He says he is going to have the guns back, for he does not propose to have the State arms in the hands of those who are against the State troops. In the hope of having the guns returned he offered to and says he has two means of getting them. One is by writ of replevin, and seeing all members to jail, and the other is by declaring martial law and making a clean sweep for the guns.

LATER. The Neeleys Rifles, which have been guarding the State House and acting as escorts of dignitaries at the television offices, have bundled their traps and say they have enlisted and that their arms are at their disposal.

HUNTING A BANK SWINDLER.

The Accomplice of Bartholomew Has Not Yet Been Caught.

Deputy marshals are still on the trail of the accomplice of Charles E. Bartholomew, the publisher of 22 College Place, who was arrested Saturday on the charge of practising fraud on the American Exchange National Bank.

Bartholomew is in Ludlow street jail. Assistant District Attorney Moot would not say to-day whether he would be arraigned or whether the Grand Jury had been asked to indict him. He blamed the bank's attorneys for giving out the fact of Bartholomew's arrest, thus affording him an opportunity to escape. This accomplice is said to be a bookkeeper of the Bank of Wealth that Bartholomew was a customer, and to whose accounts the bookkeeper is said to have credited amounts that did not exist.

The amount disposed of is said to have been $8,000 of $40,000.

KNIFE VS. PITCHER.

Colored Man and Woman Fight and Are Booked for the Island.

William Bradford, twenty-two years old, and Sarah Grundy, thirty-four years old, both colored, of 61 Clarkson street, were sent to the Island by Justice McMahon, in Jefferson Market Court, today. Both were drunk yesterday, and got into a fight. Bradford received a number of cuts in the forehead, arms and neck, which he said had been inflicted with a knife. He struck Sarah with a big water-pitcher.

FORTY BOYS "ROUNDED UP."

Juvenile Ball Players and Crap Shooters Arraigned in Court.

Forty boys ranging from sixteen to twenty years were prisoners at the Yorkville Police Court to-day. Thirty-one were captured by Policeman William A. Jones, of the East Thirty-fifth street squad, with a section of men in civilian clothes, while the nine others were captured by Policeman John Becker, of the West Forty-seventh street squad. They were all charged with playing ball on the street and crap-shooting.

Residents of both precincts have complained to the captains of this annoyance. Yesterday between the hours of 4 and 6 P. M. Jones, with two roundsmen and seven patrolmen, was sent out to arrest ball-players and crap-shooters. Fourteen of them were chased on board of a canal-boat at the foot of East Thirty-sixth street, to where they finally submitted to arrest.

The court-room was crowded to the doors with the fathers and mothers of the prisoners, some of them crying and each telling one another how good their own boy was, and how the police ought to be ashamed of themselves for making the arrests.

As the boys stepped up to the bar, a half dozen at a time, in answer to their names, Justice Voulis read them a lecture. He fined about one-half of them a dollar each, and discharged the others with a reprimand. The fines were all paid.

TWO MEN BADLY SLASHED.

Italians Quarrel and the Usual Knife is Used.

Louis and Frederico Dondero, two Italian brothers, living at 10 Roosevelt street, were arraigned in the Tombs Police Court to-day and held for trial on a charge of attempting to kill Alexander Moncubelli, of 95 Sullivan street.

Shortly after midnight this morning Policeman Murphy, of the Elizabeth street station, saw two men staggering along William street near Roosevelt. Both were bleeding from several wounds. The throat of one of the two had a wound extending from the left eye down to the throat. The back of his head and neck were also badly cut.

He took them both to the Elizabeth street station. The latter man gave his name as Moncubelli. The other one said he was Fiorindo Lavago, of 10 Baxter street. He had a cut on the head and the back of his overcoat was slashed diagonally, the knife blade having penetrated to his shirt but had not reached the flesh.

An hour later policemen from the Oak street station arrested two Italians, who were fighting. They answered the description of the assailants of Moncubelli and Lavago, and were identified by them. They gave the names of Louis and Frederico Dondero.

PAID $10 FOR A POSITION.

When He Failed to Get It Janor Had Silbert Arrested.

In the Essex Market Court to-day Justice Koch held Julius Silbert, twenty-three years old, of 117 Suffolk street, for trial on a charge of swindling Harry Janor, nineteen years old, of 312 Henry street.

Janor has been out of work for some time and was looking for a position when he met Silbert, who offered to find him work on the Pennsylvania Railroad for $10.

On Thursday last Janor handed Silbert the money and Silbert made an appointment to meet Janor on the Third Park. The meeting place agreed upon, and Silbert entered the County Court-House Building, leaving his victim waiting on the outside.

Janor waited until he became tired and then went home. He then reported the swindle to Capt. Sibert, of the Union Market station, who ordered Silbert's arrest.

It was learned that Silbert had swindled other young men in a similar manner. On being searched a Salvation Army badge was found on the prisoner.

BOY STEALS TAX MONEY.

Son of the Cheektowaga Collector Under Arrest.

(By Associated Press.)

NIAGARA FALLS, April 2.—John Roll, seventeen years old, son of Joseph Roll, tax-collector for the town of Cheektowaga, Erie County, was arrested here last night, charged with stealing $50 of the taxes collected by his father. The elder Roll allowed his son to do the outside collecting. On March 2 they had a quarrel and young Roll left, taking what money he could get.

He went to New York, bought a gold watch, some flashy clothes and a bicycle. He was on his way home when arrested. He had $49 in his pockets.

Grand Jury Presentments.

NEWARK, N. J., April 2.—The Essex County Grand Jury to-day made presentments against the Essex County Road Board for irregularities in employing men; the Newark Board of Works relative to the purchase of land for a new reservoir at Ivy Hill, and six persons charged with violation of the election laws. The names of the indicted persons were not made public, but it is said that one of them is a judge. The Grand Jury was then discharged.

CLATTY IS A FRANK THIEF.

Leaves a Note Saying He Took the Jewelry and Pawned It.

Herman Clatty, a young man whose father, he says, is a distiller in South Carolina, was held for examination in Yorkville Court this morning, charged with stealing jewelry from his landlady, Mrs. Caroline Art, of 322 East Twenty-sixth street, where the young man has lived for eight weeks.

He has done no work, and was supplied with money by his father. On Saturday Mrs. Art noticed that a gold and silver watch and other jewelry, valued in all at about $50, had been stolen from her room.

In the bureau where the jewelry had been she found a note from Clatty, explaining he had taken the articles and pawned them, and promised to redeem them as soon as he heard from his father.

Mrs. Art then had Clatty arrested, and in court he admitted that he had taken the jewelry through necessity. He expected money from home the week and would then redeem the articles.

Mrs. Art says that she will not prosecute Clatty if she gets her jewelry back.

PICKPOCKETS ARRESTED.

Man and Boy Arrested for Theft in Central Park.

Policeman McDonough, of the East One Hundred and Fourth street station, while promenading in Central Park yesterday afternoon with his two children, noticed a man and boy, named respectively Jacob Berman, twenty-three years old, of 13 Forsyth street, and Samuel Feinberg, aged fifteen years, of 113 East Broadway, acting suspiciously about the prairie-dog pen. He followed them and was followed by the boy jostling purposely against women, while the man at the same time would "sound" their pockets to see if they had anything in them.

After awhile McDonough saw Berman pick the pocket of Kate Mullen, a domestic in the employ of Mr. Zinser, of 119 West Fifty-seventh street. He secured her pocketbook, which contained 55 cents and a postage stamp. McDonough followed the man and boy to the front of the arsenal, and there arrested them, with the assistance of Park Officer John J. O'Rourke.

The stolen pocketbook and $0.50 were found in Berman's pocket. Justice Voulis in the Yorkville Police Court to-day held Berman for trial and placed the boy into the care of the Gerry Society for further examination.

"FATHER" DALY'S NEPHEW.

Lost $40 in a Hotel and Is Fined for Being Disorderly.

Michael A. Daly, thirty years old, of Guttenburg, N. J., who claims to be a nephew of "Father Bill" Daly, the noted horseman, was fined $5 in the Essex Market Police Court to-day, for disorderly conduct, and Mary Jane Smith, thirty-four years old, of 45 Stanton street, was sent to the Island for three months.

Policeman Hogan, of the Eldridge street station, found the couple in front of Stelbin's Hotel, at 52 Bowery, about 3 o'clock this morning. Both were intoxicated. Daly said the woman had robbed him of $40. No money was found in her possession.

Daly said he took the woman to the hotel last night and was robbed.

PAID THE BILL IN COURT.

Wells Neglected to Settle for the Food He Ate.

John Wells was formerly a waiter in O'Neil's oyster-house at Twenty-second street and Sixth avenue. He went to the restaurant last evening as a patron, taking several friends with him.

They ate more than $5 worth of food and Wells asked for the check. His friends stepped outside, and Wells went into the kitchen, ostensibly to speak to some old acquaintances.

James Reynolds, the waiter who had attended to Wells's wants, saw Wells trying to leave by a side door and had him arrested.

Wells paid his bill in Jefferson Market Police Court this morning, but was fined $10 on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Emma Zelber May Not Be Exiled.

Emma Zelber, three years old, was taken before Justice Martin, in the Supreme Court Chambers, this morning, in order to a writ of habeas corpus issued by Judge Van Brunt, to Justice Martin, to show why she should not be released from custody. Counsel for the child argued that the Justice had no power to order her exiled, and Justice Martin reserved his decision.

Stole a Loaf of Bread.

Herman Carle, fifteen years old, stole a loaf of bread this morning from Reynolds Furniture Co., employed in the bakery at 30 Cliff street. After a brief chase one Benjamin Carle was asked by Detective Dorkson, of the Oak street station, if he was the thief. He said he was, and Carle was turned over to the Gerry Society.

BOMB IN A POLICE STATION.

Found in the Tramps' Room at New London, Conn.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW LONDON, Conn., April 2.—What is believed to be a dynamite bomb was found in the tramps' room in the police station yesterday morning. It had a fuse attached that had apparently been lit, and had either gone out or been extinguished before it reached the explosive. It is a tube made of thick brown paper, four and one-half inches long and an inch an a half thick, and a round piece of wood protrudes from both ends.

Each end is sealed with wax, and the fuse was saturated with wax and burned to within three-quarters of an inch of the tube. It was found on the floor by the station-house keeper after the tramps had been released.

BOTH SULTANS WERE KILLED

Terrific Battle Between Native Forces in Central Soudan.

(By Associated Press.)

TRIPOLI, April 2.—Advices received from the Soudan announce that a terrible battle has been fought in the kingdom of Bornu, Central Soudan.

Fabah, the former slave of Zobher Pasha, with an army numbering 30,000 men, invaded the Kingdom. He was opposed by the Sultan of Bornu at the head of a large army.

During the battle both sides sustained very heavy losses, and the Sultans of Bornu and Fabah were killed, fighting desperately at the head of their troops.

STOLE HIS FRIEND'S COINS.

Broker Dillingham Accuses Sailor Toby of Larceny.

Frederick W. Dillingham, of 578 Herkimer street, Brooklyn, a cotton broker in the New York Exchange, made a complaint of larceny to-day against Edward Toby. The latter is a sailor, and being stranded, came home from Liverpool as a stowaway in the steamship Mississippi. Dillingham, as a friend of the boy's family, took him home, gave him a suit of clothes and on Sunday wrote to his mother. Last night Toby disappeared and it is alleged that he took with him a collection of coins. The face value of these was only about $60, but the numismatical value was much greater.

THIS TENEMENT INFECTED.

Four Cases of Small-Pox Since Saturday in 11 Hamilton Street.

The large tenement-house at 11 Hamilton street is being watched by the sanitary inspectors of the Bureau of Contagious Diseases.

Since Saturday night four cases of small-pox have developed in that building. They are Rebecca Maher, eleven years old; Julia Maher, six years old; May Sullivan, eighteen years old, and Cornelius Sullivan, nine months old.

About two weeks ago other cases were discovered in the house.

The building is a five-story tenement, and is occupied by about twenty families. More cases are likely to develop. The house is being thoroughly fumigated, and the tenants will be vaccinated.

Two more cases were discovered this morning—John Mulligan, thirty-eight years old, of 101 East One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street, and Michael Kelly, twenty-one years old, of 9 Chatham Square.

Frederick Littert, forty years old, was taken to Riverside Hospital to-day from a lodging-house at 9 Chatham square, suffering from small-pox. He was sent to the Riverside Hospital.

LUMBERMEN STRIKE.

Sixty Men Out in the Sims Yard, Long Island City.

LONG ISLAND CITY, L. I., April 2.—This morning sixty men, employed in the Sims lumber yard, on Flushing street, this city, went on strike because the Company refused to restore the cut in pay, which was promised them April 1.

Feb. 1 the Company reduced the pay of the workmen from 15 to 12½ cents an hour, but promised, the men claim, to restore the old rates April 1. The Company admits that the rates were reduced, but denies that a promise was made to restore the old rates.

The Company claims that business was so bad during the Winter that, had it not been to help the men along through the hard times, the yard would have been closed. The places of the strikers have been filled. Two policemen were sent to the yard, but there was no cause for their presence, as the strikers were orderly.
