GEN. COXEY'S "DEFI."

"No Presidential or Congressional Frown Shall Stop Us."

Hopes to Secure Cheap Transportation from the Trunk Lines.

Incidentally He Sells a Few Horses and Makes a Speech To-Night.

When Gen. Coxey rose at 6 o'clock this morning the first thing he did was to read a newspaper to learn how his "troops" were getting along.

One of the references to his scattered forces came from Washington in the shape of an announcement that President Cleveland was about to launch a proclamation that if the Commonwealers took any undue liberties with the property or the peace of the commonwealth at Washington during their impending visit, he would make the climate too torrid for their further sojourn there.

This nettled Gen. Coxey.

"What right," he exclaimed, "has Grover to assume that we are going to behave in any but the most orderly way! His proclamation is entirely uncalled for.

"The idea of a man who connives at the issuing of $50,000,000 of interest-bearing bonds talk of abiding by the law!

"Why, the man that can so violate the law has no right to question the intentions of other people."

By this time Coxey was dressed and sallied forth to vent his anger in open air.

At 9 o'clock he returned to the Sturtevant House and ordered breakfast. It was with a good, capacious appetite that he alternately discussed his chops and the movements of his army.

"We are all men of intelligence," he said. "There are no tramps living who could have marched from Massillon, O., to Frederick, Md., suffering such untold privations without committing any depredation.

"Our cohorts are made up of the brains as well as the brawn of the community. We are producers, and producers have more time to think of deep social problems than merchants, whose minds are too preoccupied with a thousand other cares."

"What do you think of the mobbing of the Massachusetts contingent yesterday by the Boston people?"

"Sheer enthusiasm," was the answer.

"Why, the people were carried away with the grandeur of the ideas enunciated by the speakers. Their admiration had to give vent in action.

"Each bosom swelled with anticipated pleasure at the new era that is dawning, and, of course, where so many bosoms swell there must be a little jostling. That's all," and the General settled down to his chops again.

"What about Gen. Kelly's prediction that there would be bloodshed?"

"We do not look for fight," was Gen. Coxey's answer, "but if we happen to find ourselves in the midst of it, why, then, we'll bear it like men. If any blood is spilled it will be under compulsion and in defense of our lives and liberties.

"When we get to Washington we do not propose to be repulsed by a Presidential or Congressional frown. We shall set down there and wait until the people awake and discover that our demands are just."

After breakfast Gen. Coxey called on Commissioner L. P. Farmer, of the trunk line railroads, and obtained the latter's promise that he would endeavor to gain the consent of the Presidents of the various roads in that system at their meeting next Wednesday to carry Commonwealers to Washington at greatly reduced rates of fare.

From Mr. Farmer's office Coxey hurried around to Madison Square Garden, where he has eight horses for sale.

While waiting for his lot to be sold he went about among acquaintances pointing out the excellencies of his horses.

A Mr. Rogers asked Coxey for his autograph on behalf of a lady.

"Is her name Miss Dana?" asked Coxey.

"Yes, sir," was the answer.

"Oh, I shall write her a letter, then," said Coxey. "She has written me for my signature."

To-night Gen. Coxey will be given a reception by the People's Mutual Industrial Legion, 50 East Tenth street. He says that beyond making a speech at this reception he will do nothing while here to gain recruits for his army.

Gen. Coxey was indignant about the statement that he contemplated going on a lecture tour for a dime museum.

Asked what his favorite literature was, he said:

"Works relating to political economy. I have no time for any other reading. There are no authors whom I have made my favorites. I read as many as I can, and take from them what I consider best."

CAVALRY NOT AFTER COXEY.

Troops Leave Fort Myer Only for Regular Field Practice.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Two troops of United States cavalry, under command of Capt. Fountain, left Fort Myer, the cavalry post adjacent to Washington, at 6 o'clock this morning, for Winchester, Va., for field practice. They will be out one night and will be followed to-morrow by two more troops from Fort Myer.

The departure of the troops set afloat sensational reports that their mission was to intercept Coxey's army. The latter force is near Hagerstown, Md., while the objective point of the cavalry is in another direction. The men are completely equipped for active field service, the purpose being to fit them for any emergency that might arise.

The men will camp out to-night. On the march and at Winchester they will be put through field evolutions. These overland trips to Winchester, Gettysburg and other historic battle fields near Washington are made every Summer.

WON'T HEAR COXEY'S MEN.

So the Senate Decides by a Vote of 17 to 26.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The Senate has refused by a vote of 17 to 26 to appoint a special committee to hear Coxey's representatives.

A warning was issued to Coxey to-day by the District of Columbia Commissioners regarding the coming assembly of his followers in the District and their behavior here.

Progress in Excise Reform.

Thomas A. Fulton, Secretary of the Excise Reform Association of New York State, addressed the weekly conference of the Baptist ministers held in the Twenty-third Street Baptist Church this morning. Mr. Fulton said that the direct control and regulation of the sale of intoxicants had not been obtained, but that the work was steadily progressing.

"JACK" M'AULIFFE WINS.

Stoddard's Suit Against Him and His Backers Dismissed.

The suit of James Stoddard against Jack McAuliffe, the light-weight champion, and Jim Mahoney, the bookmaker, McAuliffe's backer, was dismissed by Judge Beach in the Supreme Court to-day.

Stoddard alleges that he deposited $1,500 under the belief that he was making an investment and not backing a prize-fight. McAuliffe won the fight and Stoddard wanted his money returned.

MUTINY IN KELLY'S ARMY.

showed that 1,365 men marched into Neola yesterday, and that without the fifty men who were discharged to-day, 1,315 men, exclusive of officers, reached Avoca. Many men who have attempted to enlist have been refused, owing to the belief that they were tramps; but Kelly says that he will take 5,000 out of Chicago when he leaves there for Washington.

COXEY'S CORPS MOVES ON.

Three Cheers for Hagerstown's Mayor--Groans for Gen. Douglas.

(By Associated Press.)

HAGERSTOWN, Md., April 23.—The Commonweal Army has been three days in Hagerstown, and even after the time for starting had been set they were an hour late in getting off. Boonsboro, eight miles away, was to be the first stopping place, and the last town before the passage of the Blue Ridge at Turner's Gap.

The men were in first rate shape, but the food supply was very low. There had been $50 taken in at the gate the day before. A foraging expedition of the marshals through the town before the start did not net much more.

The canvas wall with which the camp had been surrounded proved such a good investment that it was bought for $35 and was carried along with the army.

In the march out of town Marshal Browne ordered a halt before the courthouse, and called for three cheers for "Mayor Keely, the chief of Police, and the people of Hagerstown, and especially the ladies." The cheers were given and then a groan for Gen. Douglas, one of the citizens who had suggested that the Commonwealers ought to be put to work on the road breaking stone.

WAITE APPLAUDS COXEYITES.

Colorado's Governor Makes a Characteristic Speech.

(By Associated Press.)

DENVER, April 23.—Gov. Waite delivered a political address before 4,000 people at the Coliseum last night. He talked on political questions in his usual vein, and thought that financial salvation was only to be found in each State coining its silver dollar of 371 1-4 grains of fine silver regardless of any act of Congress.

Speaking of the Commonweal Army now on its way to Washington, he declared the men honest and upright unemployed laboring men, exercising a privilege belonging to any citizen. Their cause, he said, is just and they should be aided instead of hindered.

"Were I called upon to order out the militia against them I probably would do so," said Gov. Waite, "but it would be only the Commissary Department. Were the men going to Washington to demand the issuance of Government bonds, Congress would take a recess to receive them and the railroad companies would send them to Washington in palace instead of cattle cars and take them home again free of charge."

CHICAGO'S IRON BRIGADE.

It Will Depart to Join Coxey on Thursday.

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, April 23.—At the head of "The Iron Brigade," and flanked on either side by the Stars and Stripes and milk white flag of peace, Gen. Jerry Sullivan, ex-President of the Iron Moulders' Union, will ride forth through the streets of Chicago next Thursday morning on the march to Washington. The army will only go by foot as far as the depot. The rest of the journey will be made in cars.

All this demonstration and much more was decided at a large and enthusiastic meeting which the iron moulders held yesterday. There are about five hundred moulders out of work in this city at present, and they will constitute "The Iron Brigade."

William League's cooper shop, which had been secured for the use of Kelly's army when it arrived in Chicago, has been engaged under different terms, and the men who are anxious to join Coxey will begin to assemble there at once. The men will be drilled and put under discipline.

WON'T REPLACE STRIKERS.

Seattle Commonwealers Adopt Resolutions to That Effect.

(By Associated Press.)

SEATTLE, Wash., April 23.—The Industrial army is now 940 strong, and expects to make a start for Washington on Wednesday. Citizens are agitating the question of raising money enough to charter a through train for the army and to send them on without a single stop. In consequence of a report that the members of the army have been asked to go to work on the Great Northern road, resolutions were adopted by the army to-day that in case of a strike on any railroad the army will uphold the American Railway Union, and that any one who reports for work on such road will be dishonorably discharged.

Gen. Shepherd will divulge his plans for marching to Washington at a public meeting to-night. A ball held Saturday night for the benefit of the army netted $240.

THE BOSTON "INDUSTRIALS."

They Awake Refreshed at Dedham and Resume Their March.

(By Associated Press.)

DEDHAM, Mass., April 23.—The Industrial delegation from Boston awoke in its quarters on the ground floor of Memorial Building, in the town square, about 6 o'clock this morning, and at once prepared to resume its march to Washington.

To prove that they were not tramps, all hands washed and then ate a modest breakfast at a nearby restaurant. At 7.15 the order to march was given, and the column of less than fifty men started for Norwood, eight miles away, on the road to Mansfield, where the stop for dinner was to be made. No excitement marked the start, and no deserters discouraged the leaders. A half dozen cyclists joined the ranks as the army left town, some of whom say they are to be recruits.

SYMPATHY FOR INDUSTRIALS.

Colorado People Want Grayson's Troop Transported.

(By Associated Press.)

GREELEY, Col., April 23.—The Grayson army passed a quiet night at Evans, all seeming to be in good spirits and confident of success in the end. The people in this vicinity seem to sympathize with the army, and are loud in their remarks that the County Commissioners should pay their way out of the county, instead of hiring deputies to watch them, and seem to think that the Union Pacific and the Denver and Gulf roads ought to do something in the way of transportation.

Gen. Grayson visited Greeley to see what he could do, and it is expected that the army will leave here some time to-day.

A Healthy Appearing Beggar.

Policeman Shea to-day arrested George Brown, of 142 East Twenty-third street, for begging on Fifth avenue. Brown is a well-dressed man who wears glasses and has a general healthy appearance. He refused to say why he had begged. He was taken to Jefferson Market Court and sent to the island.

Strikers Threaten to Prevent Patton Miners from Working.

Gov. Jones Consults Civil and Military Authorities.

(By Associated Press.)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 23.—A conflict between the striking miners and the military now appears imminent at the Patton mines. The miners have not struck there, and all the strikers in that vicinity swear that the Patton men shall not go to work to-day. The strikers were assembling at Patton last night, so it is said, to execute their threat this morning if the men attempt to go to work. All the deputy sheriffs in Walker County have gone to the scene and the miners who have not struck have been armed.

A large supply of ammunition and guns has been sent there to enable them to protect themselves. Gov. Jones reached here at midnight last night in response to a summons. He is now in conference with mine operators, civil and military authorities. All the military are at their armories ready to respond to a call when ordered out.

MAY TIE UP ANOTHER ROAD.

Railroad Men Demand Adoption of the Old Schedule.

(By Associated Press.)

MATTOON, Ill., April 23.—A meeting of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and Brotherhood of Brakemen was held here yesterday. The men interested are employed on the Big Four and the Peoria, Decatur and Evansville railroads. It was the sense of the meeting that the wage schedule of last Summer should be restored.

If the demand is not complied with the St. Louis Division of the Big Four and the Peoria, Decatur and Evansville will probably be tied up. The railroad officers have not yet expressed themselves, and their ultimatum will be considered at a later meeting.

RIOT IN PHILADELPHIA.

Striking Street Cleaners Attack Men Who Continue at Work.

(By Associated Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—The street-cleaners' strike assumed a serious aspect this morning, when a body of 100 strikers and fifty women made an attack on twenty-five Italians, who refused to strike, and who were at work at Eighth and Carpenter streets. Clubs, stones and brooms were freely used for a few minutes, when a body of policemen appeared on the scene and stopped the rioting, at least temporarily.

Several men had their heads cut and were severely bruised about the body, but none was fatally injured.

ARBITRATION PROPOSED.

If Strikers Consent, Great Northern Strike May Be Settled.

(By Associated Press.)

MINNEAPOLIS, April 23.—There are good prospects that the Great Northern strike may be settled by arbitration. Gov. Nelson has made a proposition that the road and the strikers each appoint three members of a board of arbitration, and that these six name a seventh.

The findings of the Board are to be accepted without question by both sides. President Hill has accepted the proposition for the railroad, and the strikers are considering it.

WORKMEN TO BE GUARDED.

Detroit Will Resume Work on That Trench To-Day.

(By Associated Press.)

DETROIT, April 23.—Sixty armed deputies, under the command of Under Sheriff Archer, and one hundred policemen are stationed on either side of the city limits line on Jefferson avenue, where the water-works trench is to be recommenced to-day.

Thirty of the deputies and fifty of the policemen are armed with Winchester rifles, and the others carry revolvers and clubs. It was reported last night that the 200 men employed by the Water Board will be sworn as deputies.

Street Cleaners Strike.

(By Associated Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—Three thousand Italian street-cleaners struck at midnight last night for an increase of wages. They demand 15 instead of 10 cents an hour. The strikers are members of the Italian Assembly of the Knights of Labor, Branch No. 329, and are receiving considerable co-operation from sweepers outside the organization. It has been intimated that even violence would be used to prevent the non-union men from taking their places. About one hundred of the strikers paraded the streets last night and were armed with lead pipe and similar weapons.

Sawmill Men May Strike.

(By Associated Press.)

BAY CITY, Mich., April 23.—There are rumors that a general strike will be inaugurated among the saw mill laborers to-day, and that employees of all factories will be called out. The police force will be in readiness to promptly act in case of emergency. The Longshoremen's Union will make formal objections to mill and vessel owners to-day against the practise of permitting mill hands to load lumber.

Pullman Men May Strike.

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, April 23.—It is said here that the 4,000 employees of the Pullman Palace Car Company at Pullman will strike on May 1. The trouble has been brewing ever since the reduction in wages last year. No authoritative statement has been obtained, however.

LAMPLIGHTER IS GOOD

Walbaum's Crack Goes Like a Two-Year-Old in His Work.

Johannes Shows a Fast Three-Quarters on a "Dead" Track.

Copyright Joins the Handicap Brigade at Gravesend.

GRAVESEND, L. I., April 23.—The track here this morning was a long time drying out. In the early morning the track was dead.

Almost the first arrival on the track was James McCormick with Fred Walbaum's string. Numerous stories have emanated from the Walbaum stable regarding Lamplighter. Mr. Walbaum was quoted as saying that the great son of Spendthrift would not start in the Brooklyn, and only a few days ago a horseman came over from Clifton and reported that Lamplighter was not working and was still in rough coat.

From time to time stories of splints, firing, blistering, &c., were heard until the public at large were inclined to believe that Lamplighter was a hopelessly broken down horse.

Jimmy McCormick is clever and fond of springing surprises on his friends. It was one of these surprises that he gave the handful of spectators early this morning when he trotted Lamplighter out on the track. The horse never looked in better shape, and was as full of life as a two-year-old. He fought for his head in the preliminary gallop of two miles, and it was given him in the stretch.

He broke at the eighth pole and went at a clipping pace. He covered a half in 52 1-4, and the five furlongs in 1.08. Then he was eased up, and after cantering a mile at a slow pace was sent back to the stable.

Considering the state of the track the work was excellent, and all doubts as to Lamplighter's starting ought to be set at rest.

The Dwyer-Croker string worked again this morning. Raceland went a mile at a two-minute clip. Prince George covered a mile and a furlong in 2.09; Armitage a mile in 1.53 1-2, worked out, and Dobbins the same distance in 1.54, going easily.

Banquet and Don Alonzo worked together in good clip. They were sent a mile and a furlong in 2.06 1-2, the last mile being caught in 1.50 3-4. Stonecell went seven furlongs in 1.35 1-2.

Philip Dwyer's Leonawell covered a mile and a furlong in 2.07. Long Beach and Patrician worked a mile in 1.53, and Madrid a mile in 1.54. Red Banner, of Mr. Croker's string, had a strong gallop.

Jimmy McLaughlin sent Comanche the full distance in 2.27. This colt is in grand shape, and ran well in hand throughout. Tormentor, Wah Jim and Wernberg worked a mile at a two-minute clip.

Billy Hueston had the Ruppert string out in two sets. Ajax and Young Arion worked at three-quarter speed, and the others did strong gallops. No work was given the two-year-olds beyond a canter of a mile, followed by a sharp gallop at the same distance.

J. B. Dyer's Appomattox worked a mile in 1.51, going splendidly. The fastest work of the morning was done by Emmy Dunn's Johannes, who was sent six furlongs in 1.20. Johannes is in first-class shape, and should reward Dumas for the care he has bestowed upon him.

Frank McCabe gave Ascot six furlongs in 1.22, and his two-year-old brother three furlongs in 40 seconds.

Mike Dale's horses, including his Brooklyn Handicap candidate, Copyright, arrived at Gravesend this morning.

WHY IS ALL THIS NEGLECT?

Dead Dog's Carcass Lies for Three Days in Tryon Row.

The carcass of a dead dog has been lying for three days in front of the Staats Zeitung Building on Tryon Row. The thousands who pass the spot to and from the Bridge and the City Hall Elevated Railroad station have had to look upon the disgusting sight, because some one is neglecting his duty.

It is the duty of the Health Department to remove dead animals, and street sweepers and policemen are instructed to make a report at once whenever they find a carcass in the street, and the Health Department is supposed to be notified in turn, without delay.

Apparently no street-sweeper or policeman has been near Tryon Row in three days, or they would have been bound to make the discovery. Their sense of smell would, if not their sight. If the Health Department was notified, then the fault lies there.

One thing is certain, some one has been remiss in doing his duty.

WAS IT THE SAME MAN?

Question of Identity in the Gilmartin Insurance Suit.

A queer case of identity arose in the suit of Patrick F. Gilmartin against the National Mutual Insurance Company, which came up before Judge McCarthy in the City Court to-day.

Gilmartin sues to recover $1,000 on the life of his brother, Anthony Gilmartin, a policy for that amount having been issued by the Company.

The Company refuses to pay the claim on the ground that Gilmartin in applying for a policy in the latter part of 1892 made false representations. He said he had never been in a hospital with certain diseases, and the records of the St. Peter's Hospital, of Brooklyn, show that a man by the same name and description had been in the institution from April 23 to June 6, suffering from bronchitis, and from July 2 to August 15, with pleurisy.

Gilmartin denies this and says that he can prove that his brother was at home in Kingsbridge at the times mentioned.

CLAN-NA-GAEL MAN DEAD.

Blood Poisoning Kills Michael Boland, One of the Triangle.

(By Associated Press.)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 23.—Michael Boland, one of the celebrated Triangle of the Clan-na-Gael, died at his home in this city to-day. He had been sick for three weeks, but his death was not looked for until his illness took a fatal turn two days ago.

He had been confined to the house with a malarial disorder and a wound in the hip which he had received in the civil war, began to suppurate and blood-poisoning resulted.

SIX THOUSAND A YEAR.

Referee Willis Says Mrs. Vivian Should Have It for Her Son.

Referee William H. Willis to-day filed a report in the Supreme Court, finding that Mrs. Susan L. Vivian, formerly Mrs. Marshall O. Roberts, should have $6,000 a year from the estate of her first husband for the support of her fifteen-year-old son, Marshall O. Roberts.

The will of the late Mr. Roberts provided that $6,000 a year might be used for the support of his son after he reached fifteen years of age, if it seemed proper. Upon obtaining the age of twenty-one young Roberts is to have $12,000 a year.
