DISFRANCHISE NEGRO

WARDAMAN HOPES TO BEGIN CRUSADE IN SENATE

Fiery Southern Governor Says Negroes Are Rapidly Drifting from Bad to Worse and that Something Must Be Done at Once.

Announcement of a carefully planned campaign to secure the repeal of the fifteenth amendment of the constitution of the United States, which gives the negro equality with the white man as a citizen, was made by Gov. James K. Vardaman, of Mississippi, who was in Chicago Thursday, attending the Railway Surgeons' convention.

Gov. Vardaman, who is seeking election to the United States senate, declared that if he won a membership in the upper house he would make his fight on the floor of that body, believing that he had the support of the entire south. He insisted that a crisis in the relation of the races in the southern states was at hand and the problem of white supremacy or black domination should be settled.

"I favor unqualifiedly and without reserve the abrogation of the fifteenth amendment of the constitution," said Gov. Vardaman. "It is my hope through the United States to demonstrate that there is only one practical way of settling this matter, and that is by plainly showing the negro his proper place in our system of government."

JAPANESE ARE INVADING INDIA.

They Are Fostering the Anti-British Movement.

The St. Petersburg Telegraph agency has received a dispatch from Tokyo saying that the anti-British movement in India is receiving much encouragement from Japan, where effort is being made to foster a feeling of kinship between the two dark races and to preach the lesson of the Russo-Japanese war. The Buddhists of the two countries are fraternizing and exchanging visits and steps are being taken to encourage the coming of Hindu students to Japan, where they will be surrounded by an atmosphere of disaffection.

The Hindoo students now in Tokio, the correspondent of the agency continues, have just published an address in which they appeal to India to heed the call of "Asia for the Asiatics" and to rise and cast off the British yoke. Taking advantage of this ferment, certain merchants of Japan have sent a mission to India to endeavor to supplant the boycotted British merchandise with Japanese goods. These efforts are meeting with a warm welcome.

Fox, counsel for the defendants, placed the responsibility for the conviction of his client upon public opinion.

In addition the soldier, who belongs to the Semenovskiy regiment, is upheld as an example to his comrades of faithful performance of duty.

The testimony of the prisoners confined in the detention prison and that of witnesses in behalf of the military authorities differed considerably. Not Known Whether It is a Case of Murder or Suicide.

While a rural mail carrier was making his trip Saturday morning he saw a man undressing beside a cornfield about fifteen miles from Schuyler, but thinking he was changing his clothes thought nothing of it till Monday morning, when passing the same place he noticed the clothes lying on the ground. In company with a friend the next day they stopped to investigate. Looking at the clothes they found blood on them. They then followed the clue into the cornfield, where they found the man's body. The mail carrier had seen Saturday morning naked, with a gas cut through his neck from ear to ear.

CONVICT IS HIS OWN LAWYER.

Novel Scene in the Nebraska Supreme Court.

The court room was crowded at Lincoln Wednesday morning when Philip McIntyre, a convict at the Nebraska state penitentiary, pleaded his own case before the supreme court. This is the first time in the annals of the state that a convict had acted as his own lawyer.

McIntyre is now serving a three-year sentence for cashing a forged check for $250 at the Chadron First National bank. The loss fell upon Capt. Allen G. Fisher, who had endorsed the check at McIntyre's request. It was through Capt. Fisher's later efforts that McIntyre was arrested.

His defense before the supreme court was eloquent, his claim being based on the plea that he is held there without due process of law, and that the manner in which he was delivered to the Nebraska authorities was in legal effect equivalent to kidnapping. He insists that because of this irregularity his whole imprisonment is illegal, and declares that he will carry the case to the supreme court of the United States if he does not win out in the Nebraska court.

During the morning business session an amendment to the constitution providing for a biennial instead of an annual convention was defeated. An admirable innovation was the presentation of club reports by districts in a resume by the district vice presidents. The Third and Fifth districts made the best showing for accomplishment, especially in library extension and civic work.

Superintendent Avery, of Pawnee county, has written a letter to State Superintendent McBrien in which he said the wages of school teachers in his county has been increased over last year from $12 to $13 a month. On school board, which last year paid $30 and $35, is this year paying $50, and a director said that the district had the best and cheapest school it had ever had.

Superintendent Avery has said that one teacher in the county is working for the same salary she received last year. This teacher, he said, had failed to attend a summer school and had not taken any educational course at home. He failed to speak of the teacher's ability, but left the impression she had been discriminated against because she had failed to contribute to the summer school, in which are employed numerous educators who otherwise would have to get other jobs.

The fire nemesis is still prying the Young Men's Christian association of Lincoln. Less than two years ago the Young Men's Christian association quarters at Thirteenth and F streets were destroyed by fire, the association losing several thousand dollars in property beyond its insurance. A canvass for subscriptions netted enough money to repair the quarters and also to build a new gymnasium, which is to be served by a new building, the entire plant to cost in the neighborhood of $80,000. Early Monday morning a cottage belonging to the association, many feet from the new gymnasium, was found to be ablaze and the flames had gained such headway that the firemen could only check their spread to the adjacent buildings, while the cottage was practically gutted. The loss is estimated at $2,500, only half of which is covered by insurance.

There will be a number of changes in the blank schedules furnished assessors in the future. Secretary Bennett made up the copy for the new schedules Monday and four copies, which were on the old schedules have been eliminated. These are things which properly belong under the heads of merchandise or household goods and which, while they occurred frequently on the old schedules, had nothing listed after them. A number of items have been added to take the places of those which were cut out. For instance, automobiles, which have heretofore been listed with bicycles, have been given a separate line. There is also a line for cream separators and one for saddles and harness.

The commercial interests of Lincoln are looking forward with decided interest to the fruition of the rumored plan of the Union Pacific railway looking to the construction of an air line from Omaha to the capital city by which the latter is to become a terminal station on the Harriman system. These rumors come from apparently authentic sources, the program providing for an extension of the Lincoln line on to the west, tapping the present main line either at Central City or Grand Island.

Advocates of the proposition to ask the legislature to construct a second building on the state house grounds for the particular purpose of housing the supreme court, the clerk and the state library have encountered so many protests, the latter based on objections to destroying the beauty and symmetry of the surroundings, that they have mapped out a new program. The new plan is to submit a proposition for a new wing to the capitol on the south side, the same to cost $200,000.

The wholesale and retail dealers of Lincoln have been warned that they are destined to encounter a gradual boosting of fire insurance rates. It is reported that an increase in insurance rates on several large stocks of goods in the city has been decided on, and that in one instance the increase has been demanded.

The Lincoln city council adopted the report of a committee declaring the Lincoln Gas company without a franchise, and instructed the city attorney to begin suit to ouster. The gas company is capitalized at $3,750,000. It is owned by what is known as the McMillan syndicate of New York. H. L. Dougherty, of Denver, is the president.

Deputy Secretary of State Fred Miller has prepared the copy for the sample ballots to be sent out to the various county clerks as a guide for the publication of the ballots to be used in the coming election. The ballots as usual has the names of the parties at the top with circles for voters to use in voting straight tickets. The parties appear in the following order: Republican, Democratic, People's Independent, Prohibition, Socialist. At the head of the ballot is the resolution on the constitutional amendment.

COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL

Commercial operations show more activity in response to the colder weather and urgent needs in manufacturing and construction. Difficulty in getting necessary material is more evident in some lines, but the most disturbing drawback is inadequate railroad facilities for the prompt forwarding of commodities. Consumption of raw and finished materials is on a basis which quickly absorbs available supplies, and it is not surprising that the trend of cost is upward, advances being established this week which are notable in pig iron, light rails, plates and the minor metals, particularly copper.

A further rise in cotton affects the market for textiles, the leading grains have declined and provisions and live stock have turned dearer; all apparently having a natural momentum, the indications reflecting very slight speculative influences.

The distribution of general merchandise maintains unprecedented volume. Freezing temperature immediately stimulated active buying of heavy-weight apparel, footwear, household and other necessaries.

The creation of new wealth foreshadowed by the government crop report this week, and the practical assurance of ample bread supplies, added to the confidence which pervades business circles, and it is now seen that there is more disposition to enter into commitments involving great outlays of money. New building plans exceeded in value those of a year ago, factory extensions will provide much work, and the construction of a new passenger station to cost $200,000 in the near future is an inducement to others to make an early start upon necessary extension of terminals. Iron and steel activities exhibit no diminution
