Of Public Interest.

For thirty years there has been no improvement in the composition of porous plaster. The recent discovery of Capcine and its addition to an improved porous plaster has introduced to the consumers and the public, an article of progress. The objection to the ordinary article is its slow action. Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster overcomes this great objection by effecting in a few hours what the ordinary porous plaster accomplishes in days and weeks of continuous wear.

Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters are preferred to all others on the following grounds:

First—heir composition is of an improved nature and combined with the recently discovered vegetable principle—Capcine—which as a powerful and unerring specific, has never been equaled in the history of true medicine. They operate with astonishing vigor, bring almost immediate relief, and cure more speedily and with greater certainty than any known plaster, liniment or compound.

Second—They possess all the merit of the ordinary porous plaster with above addition, and will cure all the various difficulties for which they have been esteemed in as many hours as the ordinary article effects in days and weeks of continuous wear.

Third—They are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, skillfully combined, of the highest order o merit, purely vegtable, contain neither metal nor mineral poisons, indorsed by physicians, and are in no sense a patent medicine.

CAIRO,

ILLINOIS.

The Trustees of the Cairo City Property desire to call public attention to the merits of their property, comprising a considerable portion of the City of Cairo, in Alexander County, in the State of Illinois, and lands immediately adjacent thereto.

This city, as is well known, is situated at the confluence of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, at the head of uninterrupted navigation on the Mississippi, being below obstructions by ice in the winter and low water in summer, and thus has a clear and open river communication at all times over the Mississippi and its tributaries, with all the country south, to the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic Ocean. Cairo has also the same character of communication with all the country north over the streams flowing by it, when those streams are not unnavigable by reason of ice or low water.

Before the era of Railroads, Cairo had a commanding position as a centre of commerce and navigation. This importance of position she still possesses, but has now the additional advantage of being a great railroad centre, a number of the most important railroads in the Valley of the Mississippi converging to and having their terminii there. Among these, coming from the north are the great Illinois Central Railroad, which traverses the entire state of Illinois from its extreme northern and north-eastern to its southern limits, and by its connections extends into all the great northwestern grain producing States; the Cairo and Vincennes, extending from Cairo to the City of Vincennes, in the State of Indiana, where its connections afford direct railroad communications with all Eastern cities; and the Cairo & St. Louis Railroad, affording a direct railroad communication with the City of St. Louis and all the railroads centering there. The roads coming from the South are the New Orleans, Jackson and Great Northern and the Mobile and Ohio Railroads, which give direct railroad communication with the cities of Mobile and New Orleans, and other Southern Atlantic sea ports, and by connecting roads with all the country south of Cairo; and coming from the southwest is the Cairo, Arkansas and Texas Railroad, which affords similar communication with Southern Missouri, Arkansas and Texas, and the principal cities of those States. This last-named road will give, also, direct connection with the Texas and Pacific Road when it is completed, thus giving direct communication with the principal ports of the Pacific Ocean. These railroads, terminating at Cairo, are now all completed and in successful operation, those in Illinois coming into the city on a bank of each of the rivers, Ohio and Mississippi, and terminating at their confluence, thus encircling the city. The Holly springs, Brownsville and Ohio River Railroad, and the Cairo and Tennessee River Railroad, which will both terminate at Cairo, are in course of construction and will soon be completed, and other railroads both in Illinois and in States south of the Ohio river, which will also terminate at Cairo, are projected, and arrangements made to build them. The construction of these will greatly increase the railroad communications of Cairo.

Its central location in the great Valley of the Mississippi, and the great wealth of river and railroad communication, gives to Cairo unsurpassed advantages as a commercial point, as it affords to her easy and cheap access to all the grain producing districts of the North and West, and similar access to all the agricultural produce consumers of the South, thus presenting the best location in the West for an interchange of the respective northern and southern commodities and productions.

As a manufacturing location the position of Cairo is not less important. The crude materials of every description, which constitute the elements of manufactured articles, abound on every side, iron ore, coal, of superior quality, and timber of every character, more than others, being easily and cheaply accessible, and the rich agricultural region of the immediate neighborhood, as well as the more remote districts rendered tributary to it by river and rail, furnish supplies of the necessaries of life in such abundance as to render living exceptionally cheap. When the manufactured articles are produced, the facilities for cheap distribution by river and rail are not equaled.

Cairo has a moral, intelligent, liberal and enterprising population of about 12,000—has a superior system of public schools, which, with others conducted by private enterprise, afford unsurpassed educational advantages—is possessed of well-established churches of nearly every denomination—has public and private buildings of a superior character—has a climate, which for salubrity and healthful influences cannot be surpassed—has a well-regulated and efficient municipal organization, its streets lighted with gas, and other metropolitan advantages, which make it highly desirable and in reality not to be excelled as a place of permanent residence.

Lots and land in Cairo are now offered at very low prices, affording favorable opportunities to purchase, and the owners present the location to the public as offering unrivaled advantages for the successful establishment of commercial or manufacturing enterprises, and the best locality in the country for profitable investment of capital.

S. STAATS TAYLOR,
EDWIN PARSONS,
trustees, etc.

St. Jo. Medical INSTITUTE.

Established as a Refuge from Quackery.

THE only place where a sure cure can be relied upon. Little is required in the way of advertising, as the reputation of the institution is well known throughout the West. Call and be convinced that this is the largest and most complete institution of the kind in America for the successful treatment of all Chronic Sexual, Private and Venereal Diseases of both sexes, such as Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Rupture, Varicose Veins, Orchitis, Bubo, &c. All urinary and syphilitic or mercurial affections of the throat, skin or bones are treated with unparalleled success. Gonorrhœa cured in from three to five days. Syphilis cured in from five to ten days. Over 17,000 cases cured. Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhœa, Night Losses, Sexual Debility and Impotency, Loss of Sexual Power, as the result of self-abuse in youth, sexual excesses in maturer years, and all impediments to marriage, permanently cured without mercury or any other mineral poison. Patients at a distance treated by letter. Medicines sent everywhere. Young men who have become the victimes of solitary vice—that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senate with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to ecstacy the living lyre—may call with full confidence. What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the darling of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life by the consequences of deviating from the path of nature and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons must, before contemplating marriage, reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness, indeed without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair and filled with melancholly reflections that the happiness of another is blighted with our own. To all erring young men we would say, do not keep this secret to yourself and your God until it has sapped the vitals and left you a wreck of humanity, a curse to yourself and a burden to society. If you are entangled in the snare of self pollution, or any private disease, flee from its destruction, and apply at St. Joseph Medical Institute for treatment, and become once more a human being.

Cures guaranteed or money refunded.

All female difficulties and impediments to Marriage treated with safety and success.
