POINTERS ON THE RACES.

Common Sort of a Card at Old Brighton Beach.

Banquet Has to Stack Up Against That Tough Customer Herald.

"EVENING WORLD" SELECTIONS.

First Race--Shelly Tuttle, Walcott, St. Felix.
Second Race--Sir Knight, Dutch Skater, Little Matt.
Third Race--Jack the Jew, King Gold, Canadian.
Fourth Race--Banquet, Herald, Mary Stone.
Fifth Race--Tom Tough, Charade, Adelbert.
Sixth Race--St. John, Woodford, Flip Flap.

Six well-filled races will be run at Brighton to-day, and some very fair sport should be seen. The winners look hard to pick, and long shots may delight the hearts of the "pickers" and cast gloom over the talent. An opportunity will be given the crowd to size up the respective merits of Sir Walter and Banquet. Herald, who ran Sir Walter such a hard race a few days ago, is billed to meet Banquet at practically the same weights. The distance is three sixteenths shorter, however, and while the test will not be accurate some sort of a line can be drawn. Logan and Mary Stone are also likely to run well. The latter is in very fair shape and will take some beating.

The other races are not particularly interesting. Hoey, Shelly Tuttle, Nick, St. Felix, Walcott and other fast ones start in the opening dash. Sir Knight, though conceding considerable weight, seems to have a mortgage on the second event. Maiden two-year-olds may furnish a surprise. The fifth race is a mile dash containing a very evenly matched lot, and the steeplechase will furnish its usual spectacle.

The entries and selections are as follows:

First Race.—Purse $500, for three-year-olds and upward; selling; five furlongs.

Index.		Weight.
247	A. Lakeland's Hoey	119

244	R. Bradley's Panway	98
42	W. Steele's Mumps	94
—	W. C. Daly's Laughing Water	96

Shelly Tuttle has been doing so well that one cannot pick anything to beat him. Walcott may be the runner up, and St. Felix ought to beat the others.

Second Race.—Purse $700; a handicap for three-year-olds; one mile.

236	O. A. Jones's Clip Silly	105
36	W. J. Roche's Tweedledum	105
232	Ramapo Stable's Canadian	105

Jack the Jew has been running in hard luck and he appears to be a good one. He may win to-day. King Gold and Canadian look the best of the others.

Fourth Race.—Purse $1,000; a handicap for three-year-olds and upward; one mile and a sixteenth.

(19)	A. T. Dwyer's Banquet	123

252	C. F. Dwyer's Holter	100
249	A. J. Joyner's Equation	92
237	W. C. Daly's Lizzie	85

Banquet will probably be the preferred one of the Dwyer pair, and he should win. Herald and Mary Stone look the best of the others.

252	G. H. Steinman's Sir Catesby	114
221	C. W. Parker's Merry Duke	114
222	G. W. Newton's Harry Alonzo	114
240	J. W. Smyth's Woodchopper	114
251	M. Jordan & Co.'s Tom Tough	114
227	Erie Stable's St. Anthony	114
248	P. D. Ring's Best Brand	114
253	W. C. Daly's dolero	114
246	W. H. Jones's Charade	114
247	J. M. Jeffcott's Vespasian	112
251	Preakness Stable's Adelbert	111
251	J. Healey's Uncle Jim	108
228	W. Jennings's Bonavenure	107
224	H. Warnke's annie Bishop	107

Tom Tough, Charade and Adelbert look to be the best of this lot, and they ought to finish as named.

Sixth Race.—Purse $800, steeplechase; selling; full course.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

Again has the meridian of pugilistic latitude changed, and with the virtual shutdown of the game at Boston comes the announcement that New Orleans is bidding right and left for the stars of the arena. Of course the customary bid for the Corbett-Jackson fight is on dit, and the bait is $25,000, offered by the Olympic Club. Should Jackson not come to time the Club will hold out the same offer for Fitzsimmons and Corbett. Jimmy Carroll and Andy Bowen are scheduled to meet before the Auditorium Club on Aug. 8 for a purse of $2,000. On Aug. 22 Jack Dempsey and Billy McCarthy are billed for a go, with $2,000 purse attachment, before the same Club. The Olympic Club will bring Jack Everhard and Stanton Abbott together on Aug. 14 in a 25-round bout for $1,500.

The fact that the recent Legislature refused to pass a bill prohibiting glove contests in Louisiana opens up a long vista of prospective contests to the day dreams of New Orleans sports. Of course, just at present, the figures in the vision are in the front rank of pugilists, and Joe Choynski, Jack McAuliffe, Horace Leeds, Peter Maher and their ilk tinge the vision with a golden halo of shekels. But wait until the game really begins, and see the kind of fish that will rise to the gilded bait at the Crescent City. "Wooll-bee" and "have-bens" will flock to the South in a manner to make managers' heads swim and the market price of fistic nobodies will probably go up to such an altitude that club treasuries would be depleted in securing a mediocre match. And those same "pugilists" deplore the passing of the game.

M., and are scheduled as follows: one-hundred-yard dash, handicap; fat men's race, scratch; five-man team shooting; half-mile run, handicap; egg race; blindman's race; three-legged race; bowling match; quarter-mile run. A programme of athletic events is also provided for the women and children.

A. G. Spalding & Bros. have made a proposition to the managers of the Good Roads Tournament that is to be held in August at Asbury Park. They suggest that a coasting championship be held in connection with the tournament, that an entrance fee of $100 be charged each manufacturer, and the tournament be held, providing that six entries can be procured from six of the prominent manufacturers of America, each manufacturer to enter his own bicycle, limiting weigh, of bicycle and weight of rider.

Horace M. Leeds, the Philadelphia lightweight, assumes that Jack McAuliffe is afraid to defend his title against him at 125 pounds. McAuliffe insists that he cannot get to that weight, yet retains his claim upon the championship. Leeds will claim the title by forfeit if his deposit is not covered by Aug. 22, and will defend it against any lightweight in America.

Frank Erne wants a match before the Seaside Athletic Club at 120 to 124 pounds. So does Billy Murphy. Yet neither seems to know that the other is anxious.

An open race for catboats under 17 feet is scheduled for to-morrow by the Yorkville Yacht Club. The course is the regular East River course of the Club, starting off the Club-house, foot of Ninety-sixth street. The boats will be sent off at 11.30 A. M.

A match bicycle race between Bob McAdam and Simon Frank, better known as "Fogger," both of the Adams News Company, took place Thursday morning on the Brooklyn Boulevard, over a course of about five and three-quarter miles. It was won by McAdam by two lengths. Times: McAdam was starter and J. Samuels judge.

MURDERER SANTO'S MOTHER.

A Visit to the Home of Carnot's Assassin at Milan.

Murderer Santo's mother is insane. Her son's deed unbalanced her reason. A "World" correspondent took the news of the assassin's trial day to the family in Milan.

CESARIO SANTO

The mother was laboring under the hallucination that Santo killed the King of Italy. What took place at the little house in Milan will be described in the "Sunday World" to-morrow.

BASEBALL CHAT.

People who saw the game at Eastern Park yesterday are still wondering how on earth a team capable of putting up such play could have slid down the chute as Foutz's men have done of late. The fielding was great, not an error being chargeable, although Tredway is credited with one for letting go a liner that burned his fingers. Kennedy, the twirler whose staying power had resolved itself into next to nothing, according to report, did himself proud and was steadier in the ninth inning than when he started. But for a wild pitch, the game would have been a shut out for the Phillies.

Thompson and Buckley alone, of all the Quaker lot, seemed to be able to fathom the mystery of "Rosering Hill's" contortions, but Burns and Tredway nipped their aspirations in the bud.

Daly and Corcoran seem to have become rejuvenated at the sight of Long Island's waving trees and velvet grass, mingled with the familiar scent of Canarsies' meadows. Double plays and cyclonic pick-ups were easy snaps for them yesterday.

Earle, Foutz's new catcher, is chock-full of ambition, and catches well. Eastern Park cranks looked with favorable eyes upon his work behind the bat yesterday. But one little point marred his play. In his disappointment at failing to touch Hallman out he gave way to childish pettishness, tearing off his pad and throwing it into the dirt. Cool tempers are admirable adjuncts to catchers' personalities.

"Scissors" is still in the ring, and covers first cushion in his old style, despite petrified sinews. David is working as hard as ever, and is looking for four straight from Philadelphia.

Tommy Burns did good work in the field yesterday, even encroaching upon Shoch's territory to score a put-out. At the bat, however, it was a different story. He simply wouldn't hit anything smaller than a balloon.

Umpire Emslie's strange obstinacy nettled the bleachers yesterday. The ball in play was soiled so as to be unfit for use while Philadelphia was in the field. Taylor himself objected to handling it, and Boyle echoed his sentiments. Foutz declared the ball objectionable. With both teams agreeing, Rob stood five minutes gazing at the sphere, and delayed the game by insisting that it be used. It was finally thrown out.

A treat will be offered to Eastern Park patrons on Monday afternoon. Two games will be played with Philadelphia, only one admission being charged. One game is the regular scheduled game and the other a protested game from April 26. Play will be called at 2 and 4 o'clock respectively. To-day's game begins at 3.30, as is usual on Saturday.

Baseball players have good, charitable hearts, as a rule, and propositions for games for the benefit of "The Evening World's" Sick Babies' Fund are coming in with an alacrity that is decidedly commendable. Here are some more, and perhaps "there are others":

To the Sick Babies' Fund, "Evening World," New York City:

The Monitor A. C. is desirous of doing something to help the poor sick babies, and in order to do so we would make the following suggestion, which, if you will succeed in carrying out, would bring quite a little some of money for the sick tots.

We have a game of baseball scheduled to be played at Harlem with the Sunbeam Baseball Club on July 28, which comes on a Saturday, and as the New Yorks are playing in Philadelphia on that day, could "The Evening World" not secure permission to have the game played on the Polo Grounds and charge an admission for a grand stand seat, all the gate receipts to go to the Sick Babies' Fund of "The Evening World"?

As this date comes on Saturday, and there is to be no league game, I think a great number would journey up to see us play. We are both unfurnished teams and are evenly matched, both averaging seventeen years of age, and a good and interesting game can be expected.

Please answer by letter in "The Evening World," and let me know if the above can be carried out. Yours very truly,

THE MONITOR A. C. B. B. C.
G. J. Palmer, Manager, 590 Columbus avenue.

The Monitors' proposition will be seconded by "The Evening World," and efforts will be made to secure grounds for the game. If the Polo Grounds are not available, perhaps another diamond may be obtained.

To the Editor:

The Mott Haven Baseball Club, averaging eighteen years old, claims the championship of the city. The record so far is 28 games won and no defeats.

We would like to help the Sick Babies' Fund if "The Evening World" can arrange it.

We will play the winners of The Recorder, Jr., League for the championship of the city, game to be played at the Polo Grounds or any place "The Evening World" may choose. The proceeds to go to the benefit of "The Evening World" Sick Babies' Fund. We would be glad to entertain any other suggestion to accomplish the same object.

C. DUFFY, Secretary.

PERILS OF A TANK STAMER.

A Leaking Tank Generates Dangerous Gases.

The oil tank steamship Kasbek, Capt. Briggs, from Batoum for London, arrived at Dartmouth for coal, says the Westminster Gazette. The captain reported that while at Marcus Hook, Batoum, a leak was discovered in one of the tanks, and as it was unsafe to use lamps, the tanks being full of gas generated from the remnants of previous cargoes, Capt. Briggs tried the experiment of deflecting solar light some twenty-seven feet into the dark hold. This was successfully accomplished by means of a number of highly polished plates or mirrors, members of the crew being so stationed as to reflect the sun's rays from the mirrors into the hold.

A flood of light at least ten feet square was thrown across the leaking joint until it had been thoroughly repaired. The work, however, was attended with considerable danger to the men, who ran great risk of being suffocated by the deadly fumes of accumulated gas.

Ropes were tied around their bodies and every few minutes they were hauled to the deck for fresh air. Some of them actually became intoxicated with the fumes and were hauled up laughing and in some cases crying. Capt. Briggs, who went down to superintend the work, was drawn up in an unconscious condition and did not regain consciousness for several hours.

HER SWEET REVENGE.

Wanted a Seaside Photograph with a Young Man on the Side.

"Got a boat?" she briskly demanded of a Detroit photographer, as she walked in the other day, says the Detroit Free Press.

"Yes, m'."

"And a fish-pole?"

"Yes, m'."

"And a painted ocean for a back ground?"

"Yes, m'."

"Look like Cape May?"

"It does."

"Can you get a good-looking young man to sit on the boat with me?"

"I can."

"Then I want six photos."

"Yes, m. Do you go to the seashore this Summer?"

"Naw! Dad's busted in business, and we've got to take cheap board on a farm. I want the photos just the same, you know. Want one to send to a girl friend who is sick and can't get anywhere this Summer. She'll think I'm down there all right."

"Sort of an illusion, eh?"

"Sort of revenge, rather. We were down there last season, and she stole my Summer young man away. I want to make her believe I've got him back. Hurry up with the feller, and tell him he can sit with one arm around me and his mustache touching my ear!"

For entertaining gossip of the turf, the ball field and the ring read the 6 O'Clock Edition and the Sporting Extra of The Evening World.

FASCINATED BY GAMBLING.

Refined Women Often Made Helpless by Its Alluring Powers.

"It is often a matter of wonderment to me," said M. A. Swisher, of Washington, to a St. Louis newspaper correspondent, "why it is that gambling, even under its most alluring conditions, does not disgust persons of delicate feeling instead of attracting them.

"While visiting Monte Carlo a few years ago I happened to stroll into the Casino one afternoon and there saw seated at one of the tables a beautiful, well-dressed lady, apparently about thirty years old. She had a purse full of gold in front of her and a large bundle of bank notes in her hand. She was playing rapidly, always staking large sums, and in nearly every case she lost. She played boldly on, but her apparent composure was belied by her flushed cheeks and flashing eyes.

"After watching a short time I left. In the evening I returned again to the gaming room and beheld the lady seated at the same table. Her bank notes were all gone and she had put away her purse, as it was an easy task to hold her remaining gold in her hand. She sat looking fixedly at the table, from time to time moistening her lips with a scarcely less dry tongue. Her face wore a look of infinite sadness, which might have been best relieved by a burst of tears.

"She kept on playing steadily until all but her last coin was gone. She held it between her thumb and finger and gazed at it intently, as though debating with herself about risking it. She had evidently devised it for some matter of fact purpose, perhaps to pay her hotel bill. She did not hesitate long, however, for the temptation was more than she could withstand, and with a hysterical little laugh she threw it on the table, only to see it raked in by the croupier and placed among the rest she had lost.
