"RULING-OFF" DAY.

El Telegrafo, at 4 to 1, Beat the Favorite and Curry Is Barred.

Galloped Home Away from Intimidad as He Pleased.

Pickaway, a Good Thing, Wheeloski and Walcott Win at Alexander.

(Special to The Evening World.)

RACE TRACK, ALEXANDER ISLAND, Jan. 14.—For the first time in almost a week visitors had the pleasure of viewing a race from start to finish.

The impression is gaining ground here that racing will be postponed on the 23d inst., when the injunction proceedings will be heard, but President Jones is the authority for the statement that there will be no cessation in the racing.

El Telegrafo and his owner, T. Curry, were ruled off for what the management regard as in and out running. The horse was beaten badly on Saturday, while today he was heavily backed in out-of-town rooms as well as here. The jockey was not concerned in the edict.

GORMAN SLAPS HILL.

country had seldom before seen. It overlooked the greatest essential of legislation—to raise sufficient revenue to carry on the Government.

"Thus," said Mr. Gorman, "was the responsibility placed upon the shoulders of the Senate. But did we meet that responsibility? Did we shape that bill until it raised the revenues essential to the existence of the Government? Did we yield to popular clamor? Did we proceed to keep platform pledges instead of performing the first duty of legislating for the country?"

The Senator said that he for one would never have voted for the Tariff bill if he had not believed it had been shaped so as to raise ample revenue for the expenses of the Government.

The Senate had added sixty millions to the revenue under that law, and yet it was now demonstrated that the revenues under the law were insufficient to carry on the ordinary expenses of the Government. Mr. Gorman said in reply to a question from Mr. Vest, that he claimed that the revenues for the present year would not meet the expenditures. He spoke of Secretary Carlisle as "the foremost man of finance in the Democratic party," and said that amid all this turmoil he had $2,500 for a tax sufficient to meet the demands on the Treasury.

"He stood there while slander was rampant and the vipers of the press were spitting at him and he stands there now. You cannot eliminate one revenue provision of that tariff act without substituting another, and that cannot be done. There is no excuse," he continued, turning to Senator Vest, "for any Senator who proposes such a reduction now unless he is prepared to furnish equivalent revenue from another source.

"The Wilson bill, or the Gorman bill, or the Brice bill, or the Smith bill, or by whatever name you desire to call it, was a compromise bill. No other bill could have passed. It was a Democratic act—the best act that has been on the statute books for forty years. The Senator from New York, Mr. Hill, was not a party to it. There is something about Democrats from the section whence he comes that prevents them from ever compromising." (Laughter.)

"The Senator fought the bill manfully," said Mr. Gorman, continuing. "I admire manliness. But, in addition to opposing the income tax, which, as I have shown is necessary to the Treasury, the Senator from New York joined with all the extreme tariff reformers to cut down duties on imports. He wanted his way or no bill. Judging by his vote, if he had his way, $500,000,000 of bonds would have been necessary before 1897 to meet the current expenses of the Government. I will never follow a leader," said he, emphatically, "who will in time of peace increase the National debt to pay the current expenses of the Government."

BUSINESS BEFORE SENATE.

Deficiency Bill May Be Disposed of in Two Days.

(Special to The Evening World.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Senator Jones, of Arkansas, will present his financial proposition to the Finance Committee of the Senate to-morrow. It is built upon the plan of giving every faction except the Populists everything they want.

The stories that Secretary Carlisle and President Cleveland have given the Jones plan tacit approval are false. President Cleveland practically despairs of the situation, recognizes its hopelessness and grimly waits the pressure of public sentiment to force a solution.

The Senate hopes to dispose of the Urgent Deficiency bill by Wednesday. Ability to do this will depend upon the disposition of the opponents of the income tax collecting appropriation clause to filibuster against it. It is believed that they will not carry their opposition to an extreme.

When the Deficiency bill is disposed of, the Nicaragua Canal bill will have the right of way. Senator Morgan hopes to get a vote on it by Saturday afternoon, but this is doubtful. On a clear test vote it will pass. Complications may, however, compel the postponement of a vote.

THINKS RICKS GUILTY.

Sub-Committee Chairman on Charges Against the Judge.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Nearly every member of the House Judiciary Committee attended the special meeting to consider the charges against Judge Ricks, of Cleveland. Mr. Bailey, of Texas, Chairman of the Sub-Committee which made the investigation in Cleveland, submitted his views. His judgment was against Judge Ricks, and to the effect that the Judge had been guilty of grave misconduct, if not malfeasance and dishonesty, in receiving fees after he had been elevated to the Bench, which he claims to have earned before as clerk of the court.

Ex-Congressman Hemphill, of South Carolina, appeared as counsel to press the charges against Judge Ricks preferred by Samuel T. Ritchie, of Akron, O., but was not given a hearing.

At the next meeting Representatives Lane, of Illinois, and Broderick, of Kansas, the other members of the Sub-Committee, will present their conclusions.

DEBS'S FINAL APPEAL.

Supreme Court Will Hear Arguments on Wednesday.

The Court decided to hear arguments for the writ of error on Wednesday. Mr. W. Bittrey, Assistant Attorney-General, appeared for the Government.

"Oleo" Bill Before the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—In the House to-day Mr. Hatch (Dem., Mo.) called up the Senate bill to make oleomargarine and all other imitation dairy products subject to the laws of the State or Territory into which they are transported, and Mr. Bynum (Dem., Ind.) resumed his hostile attitude towards it, indicating a disposition to filibuster if necessary to defeat it. Mr. Bailey (Dem., Texas) suggested that Mr. Hatch accept a substitute to repeal the oleomargarine act, but this was not acceptable to Mr. Bynum's motion for a recess for one hour at 6 o'clock p. m. prevailed. Mr. Bynum made the point of no quorum.

Sugar Planters Want Relief.

No Report on Clark Case Yet.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

Coney Island presented an instance of the wonderful possibilities of the alleged climate of this vicinity yesterday. In the morning the bright sunshine brought hundreds of people down near the beach and most of them stopped in to get a glimpse of Jack Dempsey in his training quarters at Jimmy Carroll's. To those who expected to see a physical wreck there was a surprise in waiting, for, while considerably over weight, Dempsey is in the middlest sort of health and is strong and agile, apparently, as ever. The rumors of his mental balance having been disturbed were set at rest in a few minutes of conversation.

Dempsey has filled out well since last seen in these parts, and must now strip close to 160 pounds. One thing is certain, there will be no such odds against Dempsey as prevailed at New Orleans when he was to meet Ryan down there. Jack is all confidence himself, with a perfectly natural desire to show his friends that he is still in the ring.

Young Griffo also had a small army following him. The Australian is getting himself into condition for his bout with Dixon. In fact, the only time he has seriously trained in this country. He is already in better shape than the night he met McAuliffe. Griffo realizes the job he has ahead of him, and will have no lack of condition to complain of should he be defeated next Saturday night.

Entries for the National Skating Association championships will close to-night. Thus far the races comprise include Johnson, Moeller, Joe and Jim Donoghue, Rudd and Walter Clark. The races will be contested on Saturday at Orange Lake, near Newburg.

Chicago brokers have sent a request for Pfeffer's reinstatement to the National Baseball League directors. The threat is made that should the player not be restored they will stay away from the games, should he be received back into the fold they will six buy season tickets. Here's an excellent opportunity for the League magnates to show whether or not they acted from principle in suspending the player who has not yet made any but an indefinite explanation of the alleged misconduct.

To show that New York rooters are not hibernating to any extent, and that the interest in next season's Giants is as strong as formerly, the plans and actuals began, every day brings in quota of suggestions for ideal aggregations of pennant winning players. Here is one to add to those already printed:

This is my idea for a crack team: Pitchers, Rusie, Meekin, Mercer; catchers, Farrell and Wilson; infield, Doyle, Murphy, Davis, Tucker; outfield, Burke, Van Haltren and Tom Brown.

SHORTY.

Send your plan for a team.

A special from Minneapolis, Minn., says John S. Johnson broke the world's mile skating record in his race with Oeland, the Norwegian, Saturday afternoon, making the mile in 2.10 flat. Johnson's new record for the mile previous to this was 2.11 2-5.

The Spalding team now includes Tiffin, Ranger and Catanne, the last named St. Louis Brer having been signed on Saturday. Catanne shows a new phase of 127 winnings, he never has defeated Johnson more times than the latter beat him in the race of last year. He is young and is expected to develop into a class B champion.

Paddy Daly is on earth, as the following message shows:

To the Editor:

Having just arrived from England I wish to state that I will meet any man in America at 126 pounds.

PADDY DALY.

The Police Gazette yesterday called the following to London: John L. Sullivan, Jake Kilrain, Chris Ross or Lifebrand $200 expenses to come to America and engage in a six-day spectacular pleasure race at Madison Square Garden in May.

A cable from Paris to the Police Gazette says that Bob Marshall, the champion Graeco-Roman wrestler of England, intends to challenge the wrestle Evan Lewis, "the Strangler," for the championship of the world. Marshall stands 6 feet in height and weighs 210 pounds.

Sammy Kelly, of Staten Island, and Jimmy Kavanagh, of Boston, will meet to-night in a ten-round bout, at 112 pounds, in the Suffolk Athletic Club, Boston.

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

The farmers have just awakened to the fact that the new Constitution is going to hurt them in at least one way. The clause which prohibits gambling and bookmaking naturally closes the race track. If there is to be no bookmaking at the tracks there will be few race goers, and consequently the gross receipts are going to be very small. At any rate, the new Constitution nullifies the lives Pool law, and in this law there was a clause which provides for the State's getting 5 per cent of the gross receipts of racing associations. This tax was to be divided among agricultural associations, and distributed by them as premiums. The amount thus distributed last year was $22,782 64, and it was apportioned to the various counties as follows:

Albany County Society, $549; Cayuga, $401; Columbia, $356; Essex, $649; Jefferson, $490; Herkimer, $390; Madison, $490; Monroe, $520; Oneida, $492; Onondaga, $450; Washington, $529. In addition the American Institute got $2,547, and the State Society, $1,837.

All this is gone if the new constitution, and the societies are trying "What is going to recompense us for this loss?" This will be a serious question for the legislators, and the representatives of the country districts are not going to turn a deaf ear to their constituents.

They will probably favor leaning towards the race tracks, if their constituents are to benefit by any arrangement that can be made in this situation, the racing men see a ray of hope, and they, as well as the farmers, are asking the question, "What will the Legislature do about it?"

It is reported that William J. Thomson, the "Duke of Gloucester," has secured a large tract of land in Delaware, near the Pennsylvania line, on which he intends to build a race track. Favorable legislation is said to be assured.

* * *

Gov. Matthews, of Indiana, in his inaugural message, denounces the Kentucky Fair Association as an immense gambling concern, with a racing attachment to give it an appearance of respectability. He condemns it as being demoralizing, encouraging crime, propagating crime, and thus bringing the State into disrepute. He urges the enactment of a law to suppress it.

A FIREMAN'S STRUGGLE.

Paine's Celery Compound Was Finally the Assistance He Needed.

Dyspepsia is certainly a worse thing to contend with than a house afire.

But it may be overcome.

It may be cured by the use of Paine's celery compound. This greatest of remedies arouses the alimentary system to a better appetite, it firmly nurses the organs that govern the conversion of food into blood to stronger action, and soon restores the depleted, exhausted system to its former, hearty, active condition.

Alfred D'Espies, one of the gallant firemen of Elizabeth, N. J., whose picture is shown above, writes:

"I have been a very sick man, with inflammation of the stomach. I could not eat anything, as everything that I ate would come up, and the only thing that agreed with my stomach was brandy and milk. I consulted a homœopathic doctor here and he said I had inflammation of the stomach. I am now on my third bottle of Paine's celery compound, and I feel immense. I can eat and drink and sleep good. I have recommended it to several of my friends, with good results."

Why not, like Mr. D'Espies, be well?

Severe cases of neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headaches and nervous dyspepsia are due to the inability of the large nerve centres to manufacture the energy necessary to supply all parts of the body. Relief can only come when this deficiency is made up. This is what Paine's celery compound does. It fills the blood with material for the growth of nervous tissue. It makes the weak strong. It should be tried by every one who is sick. Many well-known people in New York have regained their health by its use, when everything else had failed.

WILL SEND 'VARSITY MEN.

London A. C. May Suggest a Change of Dates to the N. Y. A. C.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Mr. S. K. Holman, Honorary Secretary of the London Athletic Club, sail to-day that Godfrey Shaw for the hurdle race, and E. C. Bredin, for the quarter and half-mile runs, were the only members of the club who had definitely decided to go to the United States. The others must be more or less governed by the time finally fixed upon for the meeting to come off.

But Mr. Holman added that he felt confident that they would be able to get a good team together and that it would be mostly composed of University men and, of course, all of them would be members of the London Athletic Club.

On many accounts, the month of May, it now appears, would suit the majority of the probable members of the English team better than the month of September.

Referring to the programme, Mr. Holman said:

"The programme which would suit us best would be the usual nine University events, three-mile run, mile run, quarter-mile run, 100-yard dash, 120-yard hurdle race, high jump, broad jump, and with a half-mile run substituted for either the hammer throw or putting the shot. But I suppose that the New Yorkers will want the latter and in that case we should like to add the half-mile to the nine events. We only suggested the substitute in order to make the number of events the same."

MAY ORDER A CUP-DEFENDER.

N. Y. Yacht Club Will Discuss the Matter at a Meeting To-Night.

The New York Yacht Club will hold a special meeting to-night, to receive the report of the Cup Committee and to transact other important business. The report of the Cup Committee will consist of a rehash of the numerous cablegrams and letters that have passed between the Cup Committee and the Royal Yacht Squadron.

The "important business," it is said, will be a discussion as to the advisability of the Club shouldering the responsibility of building a cup defender. It is very probable that the Club will take some definite action in the matter, as no private syndicates have as yet been formed, and there is not any too much time between now and Sept. 8.

The action of the Cup Committee, in making concessions to Lord Dunraven in time and other matters, will no doubt be fully indorsed by the Club.

The bill will be reported to the House and Senate at an early day, and will undoubtedly pass without opposition.

A LIFE WORTH ONLY $50.

Judge Pryor Sets Aside the Jury's Verdict in the Kitz Case.

In passing upon a motion in a damage case to-day Judge Pryor set aside the verdict of a jury with a remark to the effect that the twelve good men and true evidently were of the opinion that the life of an eight-year-old boy was of no more value than that of a poodle dog.

The case was that of Morris Kitz, who sued Harry Michaels for $5,000 for injuries to his son, whom Michaels ran over with an ice wagon and who subsequently died.

The case was given to the jury last Friday night, who, after deliberating for several hours, returned a verdict with $50 damages for Kitz. When the verdict was announced in court to-day, counsel for Kitz immediately moved to set it aside. Judge Pryor said:

"Had the verdict been for the defendant I should not have disturbed it; but having found for the plaintiff and assessed the damages at $50—the price of a good poodle dog, I think the verdict should be set aside. I don't think there is a father on the jury who would not consider his own son's life worth more than $50.

A STATE PRINTING BUREAU.

Rockwell's Bill Considered a Blow at the Ring.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 14.—Assemblyman Rockwell, of Kings, will to-night introduce a bill providing for the establishment of a Bureau of State Printing and creating the office of Superintendent of State Printing. All the printing of the State shall be done under the supervision of this Superintendent at the expiration of existing contracts.

The bureau is to be located in Albany, and the building for it is to be completed by October.

A blow is aimed at the existing printing ring by a provision that the Superintendent shall not be interested in newspaper or periodical or business connected with printing. An appropriation of $100,000 is made for the establishment of the plant, and the Superintendent is to get $6,000 a year.
