CIGARETTES MADE HER MAD

Room of Gas Victim Was Littered With Them.

Mabel Dale, thirty-two years old and handsome, was a stranger to all the occupants of the house 265 West Thirty-seventh street, where she rented a room a week ago, but it is agreed there that she went mad from smoking cigarettes.

This morning at 8 o'clock the woman was found unconscious from gas that was escaping from a jet in her room, and was hurried away to Roosevelt Hospital. There she lies, with an even chance for life. When the police searched her room they found cigarettes everywhere. The floor was littered with them and on the table and mantle were half-smoked remnants. There was nothing in her effects to tell who she was or where she came from.

"We heard her every night walking about her room," said Mrs. Newberger, the landlady. "She would walk and walk, and we knew she was 'smoking' because of the tobacco fumes. She certainly went crazy from the cigarettes, for she never seemed to be without them."

Others in the house told the same story.

The police say Mabel Dale attempted suicide.
