TWO ANARCHISTS SHOT LEADING MOB.

'Longshoreman Boss Fires Into Italian Crowd Which Attacked Him at Grand Street Pier, Jersey City.

"NOW, UNCLE, COME DOWN HARD!"

The teeth of the Jersey City Anarchists were shown to-day.

Swearing that they would kill him like Sperandia did Pessina in Paterson, a mob of Italian 'longshoremen made an attack on Dominick Bace, their superintendent, on the Grand street pier, Jersey City, this morning. As a result John Trapp, forty-five years old, of 50 Colgate street, is wounded, and John Corillo, thirty-two years old, of 23 1-2 Greene street, is dying in the City Hospital.

Bace, hemmed in on all sides by the bloodthirsty men, fired his revolver into the crowd and shot the two men through the breast. He is under arrest.

ALWAYS READY TO KILL.

Bace is a well-known master 'longshoreman and lives at 1324 Sixty-second street, Brooklyn. He is above the ordinary intelligence of his compatriots along the docks, bears a good reputation and is said to be absolutely fearless.

Under him usually work several hundred Italian laborers, the roughest and most desperate of the Italian colony. The majority of them are professed Anarchists and openly avow their sentiments. Fights are frequent among them and there is ever a quick recourse to the stiletto.

At Police Headquarters in Jersey City Bace told to an Evening World reporter this story of the shooting and the troubles leading up to it:

LEADER INFLUENCED THEM.

"Since the assassination of King Humbert I have had trouble with my men. Many of them are avowed Anarchists. Corillo was the most outspoken of the lot. His incendiary talk made the others restless. They talked of the time when they would make the rich divide up their money.

"They got independent and sullenly threatened me when I ordered them to stop talking and attend to work.

"I confess I was outspoken too, and matched their glorification of Bresci by declaring him and his crew a pack of low-lived scoundrels who should be drawn and quartered.

CURSES FOR POLICE.

"Yesterday the police of Jersey City had an excursion. They landed at the Grand street pier, where my men were at work. The men paused as the police walked off the boat.

"Corillo was the centre of a group and he cursed the police and all authority, calling them slaves of capital. He became so violent, I took him from among his fellows and shook him like a rat.

"He grabbed a bale hook when I released him and sprang at me like a tiger. I dodged the blow, took the weapon from him and threw him off the pier.

"The incident inflamed his fellows. Later when I saw he was hanging about for me I took him to Police Headquarters and reported him. I did not have him locked up for the sake of his family. The captain sent a man down to guard me last night.

SET UPON BY MOB.

"Corillo was waiting for me when the policeman escorted me to breakfast this morning. While I was gone he got back on the pier. I bought a revolver before I returned.

"As I walked out on the bulkhead Corillo sprang forward with an oath. A mob of his fellows were behind him.

"'I'll kill you like Sperandio did Pesserina' he shouted and he reached for his gun.

THREE SHOTS WENT TRUE.

"I thought it was time to protect myself and fired before he had the pistol from his pocket. Two shots I sent straight at him and one at the crowd at his heels.

"He threw up both hands and fell back. Trapp howled when the bullet struck him. The others fell back.

"The police came up and cleared the pier. I surrendered myself. I am sorry for what has happened, but it was his life or mine."

Bace is technically under arrest awaiting the result of Corillo's wounds. The latter was shot in the breast and right side. He cannot live. Trapp's wound is not serious. The bullet passed through his right hand.

RUN DOWN IN THE STREET.

Torpy Seriously Injured by a Horse and Wagon, and the Driver Arrested.

Joseph Torpy, twenty-three years old, of 363 East Seventy-sixth street, was at work at Forty-ninth street and Tenth avenue this morning when he was knocked down and run over by a horse and wagon driven by Thomas F. Paterson, of 297 Eighth avenue.

He received lacerated wounds of the back and shoulders and was taken to Roosevelt Hospital.

Paterson was arrested.

MIDSUMMER THEATRICALS MEET POPULAR FAVOR.

"The Cadet Girl" is in her third week at the Herald Square Theatre and is growing in popularity. Judicious pruning and the interjection of new music has increased her fascination.

Williams and Walker, the Senegambian entertainers and exponents of the cakewalk, are leading funmakers at Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre. Grace Huntington's comedietta, "Checkmate," is clever.

Vivacious Katheryn Osterman, in her sketch, "The Editor," is the feature of the programme at Proctor's Pleasure Palace. Jennie Yeamans recites an amusing monologue.

A European acrobatic novelty, presented by the three Yoscarys, is the new feature of the week's programme at Hammerstein's Venetian Terrace Roof Garden. Only two of last week's acts are retained.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew in "When Two Hearts Are Won," Mrs. Alice Shaw and her twin daughters in whistling novelties, and Edwin Day in his sketch, "An Old Song," are notable numbers in the programme at Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre.

The Russell Brothers are presenting their perennial sketch, "The Irish Servant Girls," at Cherry Blossom Grove, New York Theatre. Nellie O'Neil, "The Rainbow Coon Ballet," Margaret Cornelie and comedian "Nat" Willis fill out an attractive programme.

Mlle. Alma's startling poses are the sensation of the Casino Roof Garden. "The Casino Boy" remains and there are other entertaining specialties.

"The Bifurcated Girl" is introduced at Pastor's by Minnie M. Allen and William H. Murphy. There are two entertaining comediettas and a long list of specialties on the bill.

DR. LIEBKNECHT DEAD.

Leader of the German Socialists and Editor of Their Organ, the Vorwaerts.

CHARLOTTENBERG, Aug. 7.—Dr. Liebknecht, the well-known member of the Reichstag and one of the leaders of Socialism in Germany, died last night.

He was born at Giessen in 1826 and was editor of the Vorwaerts, the Socialist organ.

"IL TROVATORE" SUNG AT MANHATTAN BEACH.

The Castle Square Opera Company began a short Summer season at Manhattan Beach last night, when "Il Trovatore" was sung, with Adelaide Norwood, Eleanor Broadfoot and Joseph F. Sheehan in the leading parts. There was a large audience, and the performance moved smoothly. All the old favorites were warmly welcomed. "Martha" is announced for to-night.

DOCTORS' MISTAKES.

Bronchitis and Asthma Often Mistaken for Consumption.

By DR. EDWARD KOCH.

In his lecture given last January in this city he states that many patients treating for consumption with the ordinary doctor are really only suffering from catarrhal bronchitis, a cold on the chest that goes down on the lungs and becomes chronic only from neglect, a hacking cough, a slight shortness of breath, spitting up mucus, associated with that languid, tired feeling. The Doctor asserts that such cases are often mistaken for consumption, but if they will only breathe healing, oily vapors directly into the tubes of the lungs and not fill the stomach full of medicines, which do more harm than good, most of them can be cured.

Nothing but a direct application of healing vaporized medicines, antiseptics and germicides to the very seat of the disease will effect the cure of this or any other lung disease, and they can be applied only by inhaling them in a vaporized state.

Send for my booklet, explaining the treatment and giving testimonials of cured patients in this city, so you can call on them and their neighbors to prove their genuineness. I will positively assert that Bronchial or Catarrhal Consumption can be cured by my healing, oily vapors that reach the seat of the disease by the use of the Koch Inhalation, laden as they are with the Koch germ-killing tuberculine.

Either myself or my associates at 48 West 22d st. will be pleased to examine the sputum and consult with any patient free who will call upon us. Remember the number, 48 West 22d st., New York, or 1334 Arch st., Philadelphia, head offices for the Koch Lung Cure.
