UPPERCUTS AND SIDESTEPS.

A BUNCH OF RAPS AT THE BOXERS.

AS before stated, Jim Corbett does not like to be admired by the fair sex, but he likes to be hospitable. Since his stay at Bath Beach he has received a hundred requests from ladies of the place to be allowed to see him work. Accordingly, in his usual obliging style, he consented to set one day a week aside for their benefit. That day is Thursday, and this afternoon will see the first ladies' matinee at training quarters.

The quarters are not very big, but Jim says he'll crowd them all in. Long trunks and gymnasium shirts will be the costume of his helpers.

BILLY ROCHE—Nothing finer in the city than "The Knocker's" column.

* * *

Day after day reports are made by newspaper writers that Gus Ruhlin's championship aspirations might just as well be nipped where they are, for he would never make a popular champion.

How ridiculous! Is it because he does not go around telling how he can whip men in so many rounds and them all in the one ring that he cannot gain popularity?

* * *

SAM HARRIS—That "Knocker's" column is great reading.

* * *

No, "Constant Reader," Jack Daugherty has never been known to do any smoking. You know Jack was dead to the public for some time, owing to his being minus a champion. His recent acquirement of Joe Walcott has merely turned his brain a little, and that's the only reason why he has issued a challenge for the black whirlwind to fight Jeffries.

The idea is certainly ridiculous, even though Walcott did beat Joe Choynski.

* * *

EDDIE BURKE—"The Knocker's" column and Thorp's racing news are the first things I look for in The Evening World.

* * *

"Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown." Terry McGovern does not wear a studded wreath of gold, but nevertheless he wants to know if ever there was a monarch who had his troubles. The constant demand of lightweights to meet him is growing to be chronic now, and just when they will quit Terry is anxious to know. There are Joe Gans, George McFadden, Martin Flaherty and many others.

Terry has dramatic engagements to keep, and there's nothing to be gained by saying what you would do to him if he agreed to meet you.

* * *

JACK ADLER—For a man who is connected with the fighting game "The Knocker's" column is the best of reading.

* * *

Al Herford, the handsome manager of Joe Gans, has certainly fooled a great many of the wise fellows who thought he was broke. Herford has all along been complaining in the most pitiable manner that he needed money badly, and all his close acquaintances kept away from him for fear of the "touch."

Herford came from under cover last night after he was unsuccessful in matching Gans with McGovern by declaring that he would bet $5,000 that Gans would stop Terry in ten rounds. The sight of Herford's bunch of bills almost caused a few deaths at the meeting. Some hearts stopped beating.

* * *

TOM O'ROURKE—I read the "Knocker's" column every night. I think it is fine stuff.

* * *

If the Broadway or Seaside Sporting Club is anxious to secure a good attraction they should at once offer a purse for Tom O'Rourke and Jack Dougherty to fight for. Dougherty is repeatedly saying that he would like to meet O'Rourke in the ring with the mitts and teach him something about boxing. Dougherty has posted a forfeit of $5,000 in stage money with the Omaha Bee and is waiting for O'Rourke to cover it.

* * *

JOHNNY DUNN—That "Knocker's" column is a great one. It told the truth when it said I owned six houses. It meant dog houses.

* * *

Charley McKeever, the Philadelphia scrapper, has stolen a march on big, good-natured Sam Fitzpatrick. McKeever sailed for England yesterday, where he fights Dido Plumb. Fitzpatrick had that match clinched for his big, raw-boned fighter, Bill Hanrahan. But McKeever will get there first.

Why not take the first steamer for England, Fitz, and try to beat McKeever out of the fight? For you will make more money by letting Hanrahan fight Plumb than you will by letting him box Kid Carter.

* * *

MIKE PADDEN—The best column I have read for some time is the "Knocker's" column. It is very interesting.

* * *

"If I don't beat Kid McCoy when I fight him," said Jim Corbett a few nights ago, "I will take the first steamer or train out of New York and hide myself away in the mountains until the storm blows over. This fight means a great deal to me, and I must win it in order to keep myself before the public."

This statement from ex-Pompadour Jimmie will probably convince the hammer-throwers who say the fight is not on the level that it is. Keep up the good work, Jim, and you will be able to draw at least a $65,000 audience.

* * *

TERRY M'GOVERN—I am a great admirer of the "Knocker's" column and read it every day.

THE KNOCKER.

MRS. FITZSIMMONS WRITES OF BOB'S CHANCES IN TO-MORROW NIGHT'S FIGHT.

WRITTEN FOR THE EVENING WORLD BY MRS. ROBERT FITZSIMMONS.

"Bob Will Surely Win, but I Can't Say How He'll Do It."

Mrs. Fitzsimmons, who knows the fighting game merely through her husband's connection with it, and who saw the lanky fellow knock out Jim Corbett at Carson City a few years ago, is sure that her husband will again turn victor in this bout with Gus Ruhlin. Her own version of the contest written for The Evening World is as follows:

Why should I think anything other than that Bob will win the fight? Of course, I say he will win. Bob says he doesn't know just how long it will take him, so I can't express an opinion on that part of it. If he said he would win in a round I'd say so too, so there you are.

I know that Bob is in as fine condition as it is possible for him to get. The only drawback evident to me is that right arm of his, but you know that hasn't been straight for more than five years, and he's won fights during that time. He says it's all right and doesn't bother him a bit, so I guess it won't count much except to Mr. Ruhlin.

DON'T LIKE THE GAME.

Let me say first that because I am Mr. Fitzsimmons's wife I am not an adherent of pugilism any more than any other woman is. What I know of it is what Bob has told me. There are few members of the profession with whom I'm acquainted, but those whom I have met are in every way a credit to it.

Fighting, you know, is productive of money, and that's honestly all Bob is in the game for. When he gets back the championship, and I know he will soon, he'll get lots of it like he used to. Then he'll quit the ring.

But now as to the fight with Mr. Ruhlin on Friday: I never had the pleasure of meeting that gentleman, but because he is going to try and beat Bob I have no ill feeling toward him. He is said to be a gentleman in every sense of the word, and is not given to boasting. That's commendatory. He, like every one else, I suppose, has ambitions in his line. I don't blame him; I wouldn't give two cents for a man who was minus such a trait.

A WOMAN'S REASON.

They tell me he is much bigger than Bob. But that won't matter in the fight, for hasn't Bob been doing work with that big fellow Armstrong, and I've seen him hitting him as often as he pleased. That's one reason why I think Bob will win.

For the benefit of women who read this and who are not versed in the sport I will tell what little I know about what Bob possesses of the art. He is what is considered clever. That is, he can avoid blows aimed at him by movements of the feet or hands. Those who claim to be experts say that he is incomparable in that line. Then he can hit awfully hard—harder than anybody, they say. He doesn't hit straight out all the time, but varies.

Newspaper writers have given all the blows some name or other. I don't recall them now, but they are all dangerous, and honestly I'll feel very sorry if any of them land on Mr. Ruhlin very hard.

BOB INVENTS BLOWS.

Bob is of an inventive turn of mind, and is a hard student at his game. He always perfects something new for every fight. For this fight he has not made an exception. The alert newspaper men do not even know what these new blows will be, but they'll see them when he fights.

I, of course, know what they are, for Bob never withholds anything from me. I wouldn't think of telling about them because they say Mr. Ruhlin is very quick to learn.

My feelings are of course with Bob in every fight. I said he would win, but I think I can give something of an argument why I think so. I saw him win over Jim Corbett in Carson City. Everybody has acknowledged Corbett to be a most scientific fighter, but Bob beat him just the same. I had an idea that Bob could hit then, but I know it positively now, for his trainers have told me.

CORBETT'S INSTRUCTIONS.

Well, Corbett has been showing Mr. Ruhlin all he knows, hasn't he? Judging from the manner in which Bob won from Corbett, I don't see where his teachings help Mr. Ruhlin. He'll meet the same man who beat Corbett, only Bob will have a few more new things of the art to try on him.

I really hope that Bob won't hurt Mr. Ruhlin, but only hit him hard enough to win the fight. Mr. Ruhlin can afford to lose. Bob can't, for he has a wife and little ones to care for. He'll do that anyway, but ever so much better if he wins.

I have no particular desire to see the fight. Like every other woman, I don't think it a woman's sport, but I'm going to get as near to Madison Square Garden as I possibly can. I'll hear the shouts of greeting when Bob wins, and that's all I want.

But, really, I hope Mr. Ruhlin will not feel badly when he loses. Again I say I hope he doesn't get badly hurt. He's young, and when Bob retires he will have another chance to reach the championship goal he is striving for now.

MRS. ROBERT FITZSIMMONS.

MRS. FITZSIMMONS WRITING OF HER HUSBAND'S CHANCES OF BEATING GUS RUHLIN.

"Corbett's Instructions Won't Help Mr. Ruhlin to Beat My Husband."

M'PARTLAND FIGHTS M'FADDEN TO-NIGHT.

George McFadden and Kid McPartland will fight twenty-five rounds at the Broadway A. C. to-night. These men have fought before. They always fight well, so those who go to the club to-night will see a battle worth the money.

McFadden's friends think he will win in a few rounds, but McPartland's friends think of his good left and say that it will do the business for Mr. McFadden.

These men have been training hard for this battle and are in excellent condition. There will be much betting on the bout, with McFadden a favorite. Most of the betting will be on the number of rounds.

In addition to this bout there will be an excellent preliminary.

GEORGE M'FADDEN.

GROOMS AT THE TERRORS

Champions Bake on Mr. Tebeau's St. Louis Meadow.

(Special to The Evening World.)

BASEBALL PARK, ST. LOUIS, Aug. 9.—The Champions had to get down to business once more this afternoon in an atmosphere that was stifling. Ninety-six was about the average temperature in the shade and it felt like 200 out on the field in the blazing sun.

Only the rabid bleacherite looked contented, and he said: "Gee, that sun's hot!" when there was a lull in the excitement.

There was a procession of clouds about the outer edge of this vicinity, but though thunderstorms were predicted the clouds showed an inclination to give the Mound City the shake.

First Inning.

Jones received a life on Keeler's fumble of an easy bounder. Burkett pulled down eKeler's long soarer. Wallace got Jennings's hot one to Keister in time to force Jones. Kelley made a sack on a grounder past Wallace. Dahlen made three swipes at the atmosphere. No runs.

Four wide ones put McGraw on first. Burkett cracked a single. Heidrick treat out a neat bunt and all the bases were tenanted. Jennings took Donovan's pop fly. A double play on Keister's well to Cross prevented the locals from scoring. McGraw was nailed at the plate and Keister at first. No runs.

GIANTS IN HEINIES' LOT.

Buck Ewing Didn't See His Former Gang at Work.

(Special to The Evening World.)

BALL GROUNDS, CINCINNATI, Aug. 9.—People took a chance of being sunstruck to-day to see the first game of the final series here between the Giants and Reds.

The New York players are all complaining of the rowdy tactics employed by Tebeau's gang in St. Louis. Secretary Knowles says that he never heard ballplayers use such language as that used by the Cardinals against the umpire.

Buck Ewing, who has witnessed all the games on the local grounds since returning from New York, was not in the stand when play was called.

Umpire—Mr. Swartwood.

First Inning.

Van Haltren went out from third to first. Selbach flied to Crawford. Doyle took three swings and went to the bench. No runs.

Barrett singled to left and stole second. Crawford sacrificed. On Steinfeldt's grounder to Davis, of which the latter made a great stop, Barrett scored. Beckley flied to Selbach. One run.

Second Inning.

Smith popped a fly to Steinfeldt. Hickman gave McBride a chance, which he accepted. Davis singled to left, but was caught napping by Scott. No runs.

Mercer nocked down Corcoran's hit and Davis fielded him out at first. McBride flied to Van Haltren. Quinn singled. Peitz forced Quinn at second, from Doyle to Davis. No runs.

Third Inning.

Gleason out, Quinn to Beckley. Bowerman's slow grounder gave Scott a chance to make a fast play. Mercer died at first. No runs.

Selbach put Scott out of the way. Doyle took Barrett's sharp grounder and Crawford flied to Selbach. No runs.

Fourth Inning.

Van dre a pass. He stole second, but slid over the bag and was put out. Selbach perished at first. Doyle singled. Scott also caught Doyle napping. No runs.

Steinfeldt flied to Doyle. Beckley flied to Gleason and Corcoran sent Selbach a liner. No runs.

WORLD'S WAR AT CHESS.

Fourteenth Round of the International Tournament at Munich.

MUNICH, Aug. 9.—The players met this morning in the fourteenth round of the international chess tournament.

When the first adjournment took place the following was the state of affairs.

Halprin and Pillsbury had drawn; Showalter had worsted Jakob. The positions on all the other boards was even with the exception of the Wolf-Janowski combat, which stood greatly in favor of the latter.

Tom Sharkey, who has fought both Fitzsimmons and Ruhlin, will report the fight between these men next Friday night for The World. Watch for Sharkey's story.

CHOYNSKI BEATS TWO.

DAYTON, O., Aug. 9.—Joe Choynski met two men in the ring here last night and disposed of both in less than five rounds. The first was John Matthews, a colored fighter of Baltimore, who was made to quit in the third round.

The second man was Jim Smith, a local boxer, who proved much easier game and was finished in the second round.

New York Club Fleet Off for Last Leg of the Big Cruise.

NEW LONDON, Aug. 9.—With the wind northwest and the prospects of a fine racing breeze the New York Yacht Club left this harbor at 10.40 this morning for Newport.

The sloops crossed the line first, with Effort in the lead. The schooners followed five minutes later, led by Uncas, and the seventy-footers, with Mineola leading, crossed the line at 10.55, the others close behind.

At 11.15 all were well on their way.

Final Singles in Southampton Tennis Tourney to Be a Duel of Experts.

SOUTHAMPTON, Aug. 9.—Two sensational matches were played here this morning on the courts of the Meadow Club in the semi-final round of the Long Island Lawn Tennis championship tournament.

Richard Stevens, of the Hoboken Cricket Club, won a decisive victory over the former holder of the national championship title, Bob Wrenn, in three hotly contested sets.

W. A. Larned, the popular veteran, defeated George L. Wrenn, jr. The final match in the singles will be played between Larned and Stevens.

WINNERS AT SARATOGA.

Ethelbert Beaten by Kinley Mack in Beverwyck Stakes.

(Special to The Evening World.)

RACE TRACK, SARATOGA, Aug. 9.—The best card of the meeting was offered here this afternoon, and the New Yorkers who came to town this morning were delighted at the prospect.

The card had several races which it would be hard to beat for this class.

The Beverwyck Handicap, with Kinley Mack, Ethelbert, Rockton, Martimas, David Garrick and other fast ones carded, promised to be one of the best of the year.

The track was in good shape, but the weather was fearfully hot. It was the warmest day of the Summer for Saratogians.

The stewards to-day informed Mr. Caldwell that he must furnish a barrier and use it hereafter in races. This ends the flying start system.

FIRST RACE.

Selling; for three-year-olds; five and one-half furlongs.

Aclaire, 93, O'Brien	11	11	11	200	80
Tourney, 102, Odom	Left			30	10

Start poor. Won driving. Time—1.09 1-2.

Starter Caldwell kept them at the post twenty-five minutes and during that time they broke away seven times. They were finally sent away, straggled out like a flock of geese. It was a beautiful illustration of Mr. Caldwell's incompetency and the system of flying starts. Bicor went away in front and showed the way to the stretch, with Mordelmo, MacFlecknoe, Fonsolee and Fleuron next, heads apart. It was a beautiful race through the stretch, with the crowd in doubt up to the last few jumps. Fonsolee won by a head from Cupidity, who was half a length in front of MacFlecknoe.

SECOND RACE.

For two-year-olds; six furlongs.

Starters, whts., jocks.	St.	Hlf.	Fin.	Betting.	Str. Place.
Bellario, 107, McCue	6	5½	1ª	6	2
Far Rockaway, 107, Shaw	7	7	2ª	3	3
Gold Heels, 110, O'Connor	1	1½	3ª	9-2	8-5
McAddie, 107, Mitchell	2	2½	4ª	4	7-5
Luke Ward, 107, Turner	3	4½	5ª	2	4-5
Drogheda, 107, Odom	4	3ª	6½	40	15
Farm, Bennett, 114, Burns	8	6ª	7½	40	15
Tom Embry, 107, Boland	5	8	8ª	60	20
Andromeda, 104, Howell	9	9	9	100	40

Start good. Won driving. Time—1.14¾.

A splendid field of two-year-olds came to the post, with Luke Ward a strong favorite at 2 to 1. Next in favor was McAddie, who was strongly supported. Gold Heels was also well played. They went away quickly to a fair start, Gold Heels having something the best of it. O'Connor sent Gold Heels right along and led the way to the stretch, with McAddie, Drogheda and Bellario next. When they swung into the stretch there was a general closing up. At the sixteenth pole Gold Heels, Far Rockaway, Bellario and McAddie were heads apart. The finish was redhot. Bellario winning by a short head from Far Rockaway, who beat Gold Heels a head.

THIRD RACE.

Beverwyck Handicap; for three-year-olds and up; one mile.

Starters, whts., jocks.	St.	Hlf.	Fin.	Betting.	Str. Place.
Kinley Mack, 128, McCue	5	5ª	1ª	8	3
Ethelbert, 129, Turner	6	6	2½	11-5	4-5
Martimas, 107, Bullman	3	2ª	3ª	11-5	4-5
Mr. Jersey, 96, Shaw	4	1½	4ª	15	7-2
Charentus, 106, O'Connor	1	3ª	5ª	15	2
Rockton, 108, Burns	2	4ª	6	11-5	4-5

Start bad. Won driving. Time—1.41.

The Beverwyck Handicap brought out a fine field with Rockton, Ethelbert and Martimas as choices.

Kinley Mack, winner of the Brooklyn and Suburban, was an outsider at 5 to 1. He was at one time quoted at 15 to 1.

Mr. Caldwell, as usual, dropped the flag to a bad start, with Ethelbert so far behind that he was practically out of it. The spectators broke into a storm of hisses, hoots and groans. Rockton and Martimas rushed to the front with Charentus, and they raced to the backstretch on even terms. There Shaw ran by them with Mr. Jersey and set a hot pace to the stretch, where he was done. All this time Ethelbert was trailing. He began to move up with Kinley Mack on the turn.

The latter come through next to the rail, but Ethelbert had to go around when they straightened out. Ethelbert and Kinley Mack closed on the leaders, and it was a pretty struggle to the last sixteenth. Then Kinley Mack and Ethelbert drew clear, and in a hot drive Kinley Mack won by half a length from Ethelbert, who was half a length in front of Martimas.

FORTH RACE.

Selling; for two-year-olds; five furlongs.

Starters, whts., jocks.	St.	Hlf.	Fin.	Betting.	Str. Place.
Cherries, 107, Bullman	5	1ª	1½	5-2	1
God's of Night, 101, Shaw	3	2ª	2ª	6	2
Himself, 103, Odom	1	3ª	3ª	7-2	6-5
Kings Favorite, 104, McF'ns	6	4ª	4ª	20	8
Billionaire, 107, Turner	2	5ª	5ª	4	7-5
Miss Daniels, 91, Meade	3	9	6½	30	10
Boomerack, 110, Burns	4	6ª	7ª	7	3
The Brother, 104, Mb'll	9	7ª	8ª	10	4
Juniper, 101, A. Hewitt	7	8ª	9ª	100	40
Salve, 107, Boland	12	10	10	20	8
Moranta, 99, Michaels	10	11	11	100	40
Qn. Carnival, 107, Howell	11	12	12	20	10
Ginger War, 107, James	8	13	13	100	40

Start bad. Won driving. Time—1.02 1-2.

Thirteen two-year-olds started, with Cherries the choice. Himself was the good thing of the race, being backed from 6 to 1 to 7 to 2. Odom broke in front with his mount, but immediately dropped out of it. Goddess of Night and Cherries raced head and head to the stretch, where Cherries drew clear and won easily by a length and a half from Goddess of Night, who was three lengths in front of Himself.

FIFTH RACE.

Selling; for three-year-olds; one mile.

Starters, whts., jocks.	St.	Hlf.	Fin.	Betting.	Str. Place.
Remp, 104, Mitchell	7	5½	1ª	12	6
Osceola, 6, Brien	2	3ª	2ª	15	6
Myth, 111, Turner	5	6ª	3½	5	8-5
Koenig, 104, O'Connor	3	1ª	4½	13-5	4-5
