SIX BIG THEATRES ARE TO OPEN WITHIN A FORTNIGHT CURRENT ATTRACTIONS.

MARGARET DALE IN "BROTHER OFFICERS" AT THE EMPIRE THEATRE

JOSEPHINE UNDERWOOD OF AMERICAN THEATRE STOCK CO

MISS FLO PERRY IN THE "BELLE OF NEW YORK" AT THE Grand Opera House.

MARGARET ANGLIN IN "BROTHER OFFICERS" AT THE EMPIRE THEATRE

LOUISE WILLIS HEPNER AT PROCTER'S 5TH AVE THEATRE

The coming fortnight in New York theatricals will be as especially busy one for so early in the season. It will see the opening of the Grand Opera House and Dewey Theatre to-night and the opening next week of the Empire, American, Fourteenth Street and Metropolis Theatres.

The following week will see the reopening of the Criterion, with Mr. Hackett in "The Pride of Jennico," the Lyceum, with Annie Russell in "The Royal Family," the Garrick, with Louis Mann, Wednesday, with Otis Skinner in "Prince Otto," Daly's, with "The Rose of Persia," the Broadway, with "Ben-Hur," and Weber & Fields's, with new burlesques. As the Academy of Music, the Star and the Herald Square are already opened, it proves that the season is well advanced.

At the Grand Opera-House to-night the "Belle of New York" will have its first presentation on the west side. The cast is excellent, including Miss Beulah Dodge, who will play Edna May's part of the Salvation Army girl; Moe Salbor, Kimball Lane, Louise Willard, La Belle Foley, Mr. J. Connelly, Joseph Kane, George Tallman, Arthur Deagon, James Darling and E. S. Tarr.

At the Empire that very successful play, "Brother Officers," will be revived Monday, with Miss Anglin, Miss Dale and the Messrs. Faversham, Standing, Wheelock, Stevens and others in the cast. It will run for two weeks.

At the Metropolis Theatre Monday night will be given "The Angel of the Alley," in which is introduced a scene representing the electrocution chamber at Sing Sing, in which is shown a man being strapped to the electric chair. Probably he is rescued by the Governor in the nick of time; at any rate it ought to be thrilling enough for most persons.

At the Dewey to-night still be seen the Victoria Burlesquers with the usual assortment of statuesque women and comedians. This theatre is very popular on the east side, and its openings are events in that section.

Pain's "Carnival of Fire" at Manhattan Beach to-night will present the most ambitiously beautiful scene ever attempted in the field of pyrotechnics. Amid fiery forests of every variety of color and form will be gold, silver and liquid cataracts, scintillating stars, huge revolving wheels of many colored fire, thousands of feet of aerial chains formed by magnesium shells, showers of laughter, crying and whistling stars, with a background in which stand such beautiful creations as "Flora's Domain," the facade of the water and electric temple of Paris and the exquisitely beautiful porcelain pagoda of Peking.

The popularity of the "summer girl" is at present equaled only by the high esteem in which "The Cadet Girl" is held. This fascinating military miss is providing excellent midsummer entertainment at the Herald Square Theatre, where the sixth week of a most prosperous run will be inaugurated on Monday. The attendance throughout the past week at this house has tested its capacity at each performance. It will continue until the opening of the regular season, when "Arizona" will be the offering.

"The Ameer" will close the season at the Manhattan Beach Casino a week from to-night. Frank Daniels and his singers have done an excellent business the past week and have made many new friends. "The Ameer" is a bright and tuneful comic opera, splendidly staged, sung and acted.

"The Rebel," Andrew Mack's latest Irish melodrama, has proved one of the most successful plays of his career. Its business at the Academy of Music has been nothing short of phenomenal. Already the songs he sings are being whistled all over town. But "The Rebel" possesses much dramatic interest, is handsomely staged and splendidly acted. It will continue to crowd the Academy as long as it remains there.

The scenic effects in the melodrama, "Slaves of the Orient," to be seen at the Star next week, are new and novel, and in each instance careful reproduction is made of the great gardens of the Sultan's palace, the interior of his harem, a street in Constantinople and the ruins of Outh Castle.

At the New York Theatre's Cherry Blossom Grove next week will be seen an especially strong bill. This roof has been playing to large business all the season and will probably continue to do so until it closes. Among the performers will be Henri French, Effie Fay, Montgomery and Stone and others.

Hammerstein's Venetian Terrace Garden offers an especially attractive bill for next week, comprising some of the best-known vaudeville performers in the world.

"The Casino Boy" and the female minstrels, together with an olio, will continue to be the attractions on the Casino Roof for an indefinite period.

Among the performers at Tony Pastor's next week will be Joe Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, the Parmer Trio, Gladys Churchill and a dozen others.

At Keith's will appear such well-known artists as Franz Ebert, his wife, Elsie Lee, J. K. Emmet and Lottie Gilson, Grapewin and Chance and others.

The four Proctor theatres will offer exceptional midsummer attractions.

Digby Bell will be the top-liner at the Twenty-third street house. Others will be Arnold Daly and Co., Imogene Comer and La Belle Lydia.

At the Fifth Avenue Theatre will be Henry Lee in impersonations of great men. Louise Willis Hepner will also appear in a sketch.

John C. Rice and Sally Cohen will head the bill at the newly acquired One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street house, Edna Aug and Mrs. Alice Shaw will also appear.

The Pleasure Palace will have as its attractions Lizzie B. Raymond, fresh from London; Stinson and Morton and many others.

Daniel Sully will open the season of the Fourteenth Street Theatre next Thursday night in "The Parish Priest," a comedy-drama written by Daniel L. Hart. The scenes are laid in Wyoming Valley, Pa. In the cast will be Theodore Babcock, Harry Gwynette, Joseph Tracey, Gerald Griffin, Walter Horton, Agnes Rose Lane, Flora Fairchild (a sister of Julia Arthur), and Mildred Lawrence.

The debut of the American Theatre Stock Company will be made next Saturday night, when "The Great Ruby" will be presented. The list of this new stock company includes Mary Hampton, a well-known leading artist, formerly of Charles Frohman's forces; Ralph Stuart, a popular young leading man, Isabelle Evesson, Georgia Wells, Annie Buckley and Charlotte Lambert, well known to local theatre-goers; Helaine Hadley, E. L. Snader, Thomas J. Keogh, May Diehl, Dorothy Stuart, Josephine Underwood, Charlotte Ashton, Herman Sheldon, Frank Linden, Dolores Lettini, Laura Rose, Frank E. Camp, Victor De Sulke, John Gorman and others.

The attractions at the Brighton Beach Music Hall next week will be exceptionally good with Bert Coote, Haines and Pettingill and others.

A number of well-known vaudeville performers will entertain the patrons of the steamer Grand Republic at its floating roof garden next week. This unique garden steadily grows in popular esteem.

Koster & Bial's Music Hall and Hurtig & Seamon's Hall will both be opened next Saturday night.

Wu Ching Mah, a Chinese midget, 30 inches in height, the first of his nationality to be exhibited in this country, will be the leading feature in Huber's Museum this week. He is a remarkable little person, a native of Manchuria, the "Boxer country." Among the score of other features will be Lane and Suzinetta, cannon ball jugglers; White Cloud's Indians; Volna, contortionist; Alex Bell, the human pincushion; the Le Roys, claw hammer and wire haired couple, and others. In the theatre there will be a double vaudeville company and Sunday concerts as usual.

At the Lion Palace Roof next week will be seen Cook and Sonora, Anderson and Engstrom and a dozen others.

Musical Notes.

The subscription sale of seats and boxes for the season of grand opera in English, to be given by the Metropolitan English Grand Opera Company, under the direction of Mr. Maurice Grau and Mr. Henry W. Savage, at the Metropolitan Opera-House commencing Monday, Oct. 1, will open at the box office at 9 o'clock on the morning of Monday, Sept. 17.

The members of the Kaltenborn Orchestra are planning a benefit concert for Mrs. Louise B. Kaltenborn, the manager of the orchestra. The musicians realize that the success of the concerts the past two seasons is largely due to the efforts of the clever wife of their conductor, and the proposed testimonial is to be a token of their regard and appreciation of her hard work. Friday evening of the second week in September will probably be selected for the concert.

The concerts at the Terrace Garden will be continued. To-morrow night a novelty will be added in the way of a summer night's festival and garden party of the Riedel-Arion Singing Society of one hundred voices, the choral numbers to be conducted by Herr Henry Koenig and assisted by Mr. William Xanten, tenor. Mr. Henneberg will play a flute solo fantasie.

HER MANIA TO MURDER.

Mrs. Scrombrag, Crazed by Drink, Tried Suicide, Too.

Crazed by drink, Mrs. Mary Scrombrag, forty years old, wife of John Scrombrag, of 18 Alexander avenue, is under restraint to-day after trying to kill her husband and commit suicide last night.

She went into the bathroom at her home, and, fastening the window and door, broke the gas bracket, allowing the gas to escape.

Her husband and three boarders forced the door and pulled the woman into another room. She quickly revived, and then, securing a large carving knife, made several large gashes in the uniform of Policeman Creamer, of the Alexander avenue station, who had been summoned to arrest her.

Policeman Mullinnix was then called, and it took the combined strength of the two men to hold the woman until the arrival of Dr. Levy, of Harlem Hospital, who found her not much injured. She was locked up.

The woman before the arrival of the police tried to kill her husband and the three boarders.

WIFE TURNED DETECTIVE.

Mrs. Fannie Gitzler Found Her Husband and Another Woman in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.—Mrs. Fannie Gitzler and Samuel Weisler, New Yorkers, were arraigned before a magistrate to-day on complaint of Mrs. Samuel Weisler. Mr. Weisler is twenty-seven years old, Mrs. Fannie, who is a brunette, gave her age as twenty-four.

The woman was held in bail for trial and Weisler was required to enter bail on charges of non-support and desertion.

The two were found living at No. 334 South Fifth street, this city. Mrs. Weisler had, after a little detective work, located them there.

THEATRICAL MAN HURT.

John J. King, of the Garrick Theatre, Injured While at Work in Bridgeport.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 25.—John I. King, electrician at the Garrick Theatre, New York, was badly hurt by a falling iron bar Thursday night at the close of the performance of "All on Account of Eliza."

King was unconscious for some time and upon recovery seemed to be deprived of his speech. He is much improved to-day.

John I. King is considered one of the most experienced theatrical electricians in New York. He has a wife who lives at Sayville, L. I.

BRYAN SPIED PICKPOCKETS

Thieves Were at Work Among Candidate's Auditors.

ONE OF THEM CAPTURED.

But Escaped from Sheriff by Leaping from Rapidly Moving Train.

(Special to The Evening World.)

BEATRICE, Neb., Aug. 25.—To the sharp eyes of William Jennings Bryan citizens of Barneston owe their immunity from a band of pickpockets yesterday. One of the light-fingered gentry had to jump from a rapidly moving train to escape arrest.

Barneston was the first stop of Mr. Bryan's train after it entered the State. A large crowd was waiting.

Just as Mr. Bryan began to speak he saw thieves at work and called out:

"Look out for those pickpockets!"

They started to worm their away out of the crowd, but one of them was caught. He ran into the arms of a sheriff and was taken prisoner. The others disappeared in the crowd.

The prisoner waited quietly until the train started, then made a dash for the door. He jumped off, although the train was rapidly moving and escaped across a plowed field.

The pickpockets are said to be members of a band of Topeka, Kan., crooks who had planned to campaign with the silver leader.

Mr. Bryan made about a dozen speeches during the day. Imperialism was his principal topic.

CHICAGO GAS SCHEME.

Municipal Company Is Not Taken Altogether Seriously.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—The Municipal Gas Company has been incorporated in Springfield with a capital of $100,000. The incorporators are the employees of the law firm of Peck, Miller & Starr.

John S. Miller, the attorney for the corporation, refuses to give any information about it. The offices of Peck, Miller & Starr are in the same building with those of Winston & Meagher, attorneys for the People's Gas Company. Peck, Miller & Starr and Winston & Meagher are friendly to intimacy. Mr. Winston and Mr. Meagher are the intimates of the leading officials in the People's Company.

The new incorporation is believed to be part of a scheme to break the People's Company and is not considered seriously here.

GIRL SAVED BY WRIT.

Emma Rupp Locked In by Mother in New Haven Home, She Says, to Force Her to Wed.

NEW HAVEN, Aug. 25.—Emma Rupp, fifteen years old, for three weeks, it is alleged, has been locked by her mother in the garret of their Seymour street home because she refused to marry James O'Brien, a farmer, forty-three years old.

When Emma refused to consent to become O'Brien's wife her mother, it is alleged, believing the girl's independent spirit was due to her salary of $7 a week in a dressmaker's shop, compelled her to give up the place. Emma ran away to New Haven, but her mother followed and brought her home.

To-morrow was set for the wedding. Emma found means to notify her friends who to-day obtained from Judge Studley a habeas corpus writ. Mrs. Schlitter, the mother, was ordered to bring Emma into court and explain. The wedding was declared postponed at least until after the hearing Monday.

QUAKERS ARE HERE TO-DAY

Final Game of the Series Will Be Played This Afternoon.

After losing two games in succession to the Giants the Quakers pulled themselves together yesterday and managed to defeat the Giants after a most exciting battle by a score of 3 to 1. The Phillies' victory was largely due to Johnny Dunn, the ex-Brooklyn twirler, who was recently signed by the Slowtown crowd.

Dunn proved a great puzzle for the Giants with his slow delivery, they being able to secure only four scattered hits. "Pink" Hawley, who pitched for the Giants, twirled an excellent game for seven innings, but in the eighth the Phillies pounded him so hard that they managed to get two runs, which placed them in the lead. They added another run in the ninth inning.

The final game between the teams will be played this afternoon. "Chick" Fraser or "Red" Donohue will do the pitching for the visitors, while Mercer will do likewise for the Giants.

SPARED BY LIGHTNING.

Bolt Wrecked Bedroom in Cape May, but Occupants Escaped Unhurt.

CAPE MAY, Aug. 25.—Mr. and Mrs. J. Pemberton Newbold, of Philadelphia, narrowly escaped death from lightning at 3 o'clock yesterday morning.

A bolt entered their bedroom, breaking every pane of glass in the window, knocking the plaster from the wall and twisting the foot of the iron bedstead on which they were sleeping. They were not even stunned, but were slightly scratched by flying glass and mortar.

RACE RIOT IN OHIO.

Negro Boy Driven Out of Town by a Mob Because of His Color.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 25.—A negro boy named Walter Bryant, who drifted into the rockbound Democratic suburb of Reading a few days ago, was given the most violent scare of his life last night when a crowd of about forty seized him and, after convincing him that he would be lynched if he ever returned to town, chased him out on the double quick. Reading citizens do not allow negroes in their town.

It was about 8 o'clock when he saw the mob at his door and heard cries of "Hang him!" "String him up!"

Several men rushed in, seized him, slipped his head into a noose and he was dragged outside. He escaped and jumped into an apple barrel. He was caught again and tied to a tree. He cried, prayed and hysterically begged to be spared.

The crowd finally escorted him to the town limits and gave him a warning not to show his face in Reading again. He ran down the road like a deer.

PARK AT CONEY ISLAND.

Board of Estimate Will Appropriate $200,000 at Next Meeting.

The construction of a park at Coney Island is assured. The plan of The World, indorsed by Comptroller Coler, will be taken up at the next session of the Board of Estimate. Coler made this known yesterday. He said $200,000 would be the amount appropriated to improve the property along the sea front.

The announcement was made after the Comptroller had an understanding with Mayor Van Wyck that there would be no opposition to the park. It has been known for some time that the Mayor was impressed with the unanimous sentiment for the park shown in continuous interviews in The World.

Judge Kirkpatrick Returns.

Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick, of the United States District Court of New Jersey, returned from Europe yesterday afternoon on the Kaiser Frederick. He did not expect to come home until the latter part of September, but owing to illness in the family of Mrs. Kirkpatrick he was obliged to curtail his tour.
