FUNERAL SERVICES FOR SENATOR BACON

placed upon the craped bier, directly in front of the Vice-President's desk.

Prominent Persons Attend

Seats upon the floor were reserved for the President of the United States, members of his cabinet, the chief justice and associate justices of the Supreme Court, members of the diplomatic corps, members of the House of Representatives, the admiral of the navy, the chief of staff of the army and the regents and secretary of the Smithsonian Institution. Members of the dead Senator's family and the officiating clergymen remained in the Vice-President's room until time for the services, when they were conducted to the seats reserved for them on the floor.

When Vice-President Marshall walked to his seat and called the Senate to order, the short and simple services began. Departing from the customary form, Mr. Marshall said: "Senators, the hour has arrived at which in accordance with the orders of the Senate, the final ceremonies over the body of Augustus Ostavious Bacon, late a Senator from Georgia, and an unusually distinguished member of this body, are to be observed. In conformity to custom and in token of our common faith, the chaplain of the Senate will offer a prayer to God, the Father; God, the Redeemer; and God, the Comforter."

Chaplain Offers Prayer

The Rev. Forrest J. Prettyman, chaplain of the Senate, offered prayer. "We bless Thee for the life and work of this great man.

"We praise Thee that the hand of death was not laid upon him until he had spoken his message to the world and had sent forth the influence of a devoted life into the soul of our nation," he said.

"Blest with a physical form which was animated by a presence, full of the repose of self-master, confident through a rich and varied scholarship, inflexible by reason of a consecrated will, dominant with a purpose of lofty aim, he faced and fulfilled the great demands of a faithful Senator."

The Episcopal burial service was pronounced by Bishop Alfred Harding of the Protesant Episcopal church and a benediction followed by the chaplain.

Members of the Capitol police force bore the body back to the marble room, where it remained until escorted to the railroad station for the journey for Atlanta, where it will lie in state at the Georgia Capitol until taken to Macon for burial.

Wilson Not Present

It was announced at the White House almost at the last moment that President Wilson would not attend the funeral services, because Dr. Grayson did not think it wise for the President to risk exposure at a time when he was recovering from a troublesome cold.

Mrs. Wilson and Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, however, went to occupy seats in the reserved gallery.

RAILROAD NEWS

PENNSY OFFICIALS CHANGE PASS ORDER

Dependent Members of Families of Railroaders Will Travel Free

Official announcement of the withdrawal of the order prohibiting trip passes or the use of annual passes by wives and members of the families of the employes of the Pennsylvania Railroad, in accordance with the decision of the Public Service Commissioners, was received in Harrisburg at noon to-day, and came from Vice-President W. W. Atterbury, through General Manager S. C. Long. The official order is as follows:

By general notice dated November 29, 1913, officers and employes weer advised that, under the terms of the public service company law of the State of Pennsylvania, the free transportation between points within that State of members of their families would not be permissible after January 1, 1914, and that the issue of passes covering such transportation after that date would consequently be discontinued.

The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by its administrative ruling No. 1, has ruled that the granting by railroad companies of free passes to their officers and employes to be used for the transportation of dependent members of their families would not be regarded by the commission as a violation of the provisions of the public service company law.

This ruling will be accepted as affording protection against exaction of penalties for the issuance of passes to dependent members of the families of officers and employes, and the general notice of November 29, last, is therefore annulled.

A supplemental order is expected from General Manager Long giving detailed instructions as to the issuance of passes, and in the meantime trip passes will be issued as in the past until otherwise ordered. It is the belief, however, that instructions will follow covering violations of the pass privileges.

Pennsy and N. C. Roads' Application For Continued Control of Ships Heard

By Associated Press

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—Hearings began to-day before Commissioner McChord on the application of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Northern Central Railway to the Interstate Commerce Commission for relief from the operation of that provision of the Panama Canal act which requires interstate railroads to divest themselves of ownership or control of steamship and other water lines before July 1, 1914. The law provides that if the commission should find that the operation of water lines by railroad companies does not "exclude, prevent or reduce competition" between the rail and water carriers it may permit the railroads to continue to operate the water carriers.

An order issued last autumn by the commission gave all railroads until March 1 to file applications for the retention of their water lines after July 1. Eight formal applications thus far have been filed and as many more are in readiness to be submitted. In each instance the applicant asserts that its rail lines do not compete with its water lines and that the interests of the commercial public are served by the operation through the railroads of the water lines.

Ships Forced to Seek Shelter During Heavy Storm on North Atlantic

By Associated Press

Queenstown, Ireland, Feb. 17.—Such violent storms have prevailed in the North Atlantic during the past week that many passenger steamers and cargo boats unable to battle against the strong winds and high waves encountered on their voyages to America have turned around and run for shelter to ports on this side of the Atlantic.

Three large steamers among those bound for the United States are returning to Europe in a severely battered condition. The French liner Niagara, which left Havre on February 7 for New York lost her starboard propeller soon after she got out and is now crawling slowly back. The big Dutch oil tanker Rotterdam when eight days out from Amsterdam on her way to New York lost her rudder and was forced to make for Queenstown in tow of a steam trawler.

Another steam trawler is towing the British steamer Ludwig Greedel bound to Baltimore. The ship lost her propeller off the Spanish coast on Thursday.

The new Scandinavian-American liner Frederik VIII, on her way from Copenhagen February 4 for New York has been greatly delayed by the gale. She sent a wireless message to-day saying she is proceeding to Fayal to replenish her coal bunkers.

Several big cargo boats have put into St. Michaels during the past few days to undergo repairs or to obtain fuel.

German Steamer Charged With Electricity When Waves Dash Over Deck

By Associated Press

Boston, Mass., Feb. 17.—How a huge sea which boarded the German steamer Wartenfels wrecked the chart house, smashed a powerful electric signal lamp, short-circuited the wires and for a time charged the ship with electricity was related to-day by Captain Schov when the steamer arrived from Calcutta. The sea broke over her while she was off the coast last Saturday.

Chief Officer Voigt was thrown from the bridge and a beam from the demolished chart house pinned the Malay quartermaster to the deck. The vessel was rolling heavily and a human chain was formed to pull away the beam. When the end man in the chain took hold of a steel stanchion he and all the others were knocked down by an electric shock.

CALL FOR DAUPHIN SUPERVISORS NOW

Meeting Will Be Held at the Capitol During the Latter Part of Next Month

PIZZIMENTI'S CASE IS UP

News of the Day Found About the Departments of the State Government

Dauphin county's township supervisors will be summoned to meet in the first convention of the kind ever held in this county on March 27 and it is probable that the meeting will be held in the courthouse. The call will be issued by the State Highway Department under the terms of the township road bureau act and it is probable that Chief James W. Hunter, of the bureau, will explain to the supervisors the manner in which the department means to aid with free plans and specifications for road building, bridges and repair work and how the advice of experts can be had for the asking.

While other counties have had organizations of supervisors for years Dauphin has never had even a meeting of such officials and much of the value of such an organization has been lost. However, some of the township officers have already availed themselves of the State aid in road improvement planning.

Board of Pardons.—The State Board of Pardons will to-morrow determine whether two men sentenced to die on February 26 shall be granted commutation to imprisonment for life. They are Joseph Erjaevicz, Westmoreland, and George Henderson, Cambria, both of whose cases have been held under advisement pending reports as to the sanity of the men. Malena Massa, Schuylkill, refused commutation, is asking a rehearing. There are fourteen new cases, including two from men who are seeking pardon from terms for second degree murder. One of the most remarkable of the cases listed is that of Bruno Pizzimenti, of Dauphin county, who was sentenced to eighteen years for second degree murder in 1907 and released on parole last year. He wants a complete pardon.

Will Make Study.—State engineers will make a thorough study of the conditions at the plant of the West Reading Water Company, against which the State Department of Health has proceeded, before the plans for improvements are approved. The biders were all Harrisburgers and their bids follow: Max Cohen & Son, paper, 57½ cents per 100 pounds; envelopes, 30 cents; Capital City Junk Company, paper, 55 cents; envelopes, 40 cents; Williams & Friedman, paper, 54 cents; envelopes, 37½ cents; A. Abramson, paper, 52½ cents; envelopes, 37½ cents; D. Cooper, paper, 54½ cents; envelopes, 37½ cents.

Had No Franchise.—The West Penn Lighting Company won a temporary victory before the Public Service Commission to-day over the Relief, Greenside and the East End Electric Light, Heat and Power Companies, who desired the approval of the commission of proposed franchises to furnish service respectively to the boroughs of Washington, Canonsburg and East Washington. A large delegation from the western part of the State attended the hearing. Shortly after it began it was developed that these petitioners were without franchises, and what they desired the commission to do was to give an advance approval on something which they had not yet obtained. This the commission refused to do and informed their representatives that they must first obtain the municipal right before the question can be passed upon. David R. McCahill represented the West Penn and A. M. Linn, of Washington, appeared as solicitor for the petitioners.

Notary Named.—J. J. Coughlin, of Shenandoah, was to-day appointed a notary public.

State Chairman Here.—State Chairman Crow was at the Capitol for a time to-day. He stated that his mission was not political, but on some business, and remarked that the time had not been set for a meeting of the State committee. The chairman said that a number of men had been spoken of for Governor, but that sentiment had not yet formed. He declined to discuss the senatorial situation and remarked that the Democrats had a lovely fight on hand.

Dixon Wins.—State Commissioner of Health Dixon has won out in the battle over the State registrar in Philadelphia and his reports are now being made by the State's attache.

Action Soon.—Attorney General Bell is expected here this afternoon and it is expected that action in the automobile license proceeding will be started soon. A requisition will be made as a groundwork.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING MAKES HAPPY HOMES

The Civic Club Learns From Milliard B. King's Lecture

"Vocational training will lessen the number of unhappy marriages; reduce intemperance and do away with much of the present day immorality."

This was the startling statement made to the members of the Steelton Civic Club by Milliard B. King, of the State Department of Education, at a meeting at the home of Mrs. F. D. Carney, North Harrisburg street, yesterday afternoon.

Mr. King delivered a lecture on "Pre-Vocational Training." During the course of the lecture he asserted that if cooking, sewing and other vocational subjects were taught our girls in the public schools, society as a whole would be bettered.

"We should teach our girls to cook the simple dishes we use in our homes every day," said Mr. King, "and forget about the fancy dishes you hear of in domestic science courses. The average girl is married within five years after she leaves school. If she works, she has no time to learn housekeeping out of school. Teach it to her while she is yet in school and she'll never forget it."

Particular interest centers in his subject at this time, as preparations are being made to have domestic science introduced into the curriculum of the Steelton schools. The Civic Club has been in favor of vocational training in th local schools for years. Last Fall Superintendent L. E. McGinnes announced that he had rearranged the course of studies in such a way that by next Fall some forms of vocational training could be introduced.

Final arrangements were made yesterday for the next number of the club's star course, to be given in the High School auditorium Friday evening. The Fisher-Shipp Company, a quartet of clever entertainers, will be the attraction.

Annual Production of Minstrel Show Thursday

The seventeenth annual production of the Original Home Talent Minstrels will be staged in the high school auditorium for the benefit of St. James' parish Thursday evening.

All the skits in the big show were written by a Steelton man, Thomas Lynch, who has had considerable experience in staging minstrel shows. They compare very favorably with those turned out by professional writers, it is said.

Under the direction of "Mike" Daylor and "Tom" Lynch the big cast has reached a high state of perfection and "a laugh a minute" is promised throughout the show. The first dress rehearsal will be held to-morrow evening in the T. A. B. Hall. The reserved seat sale has opened at Daron's jewelry store and already a capacity house is assured.

KUNKEL IS UPHELD IN TAXATION ISSUE

out comment, affirms Judge Kunkel in the case of the Commonwealth vs. the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company. The suit decided compels the railroad company to pay the State $28,577 in taxes. The railroad company has nearly $5,000,000 of its bonded indebtedness of $53,167,000 in the hands of savings institutions with no capital stock. Under the law such institutions are exempted from paying State tax on corporate bonds they own. The law also provides that if the bonds contain an agreement that the issuing corporation will pay the tax, the corporation must deduct the tax from the interest.

Means Thousands

The bonds in question contained such an agreement, but the Lehigh Valley refused to pay on $4,598,000 of bonds owned by savings institutions, claiming an exemption, and declaring the act unconstitutional. An appeal was taken to the Dauphin County Court and last April Judge Kunkel ruled against the railroad, deciding that the taxes must be paid. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court, which sustains the judgment.

It is estimated that more than a hundred other corporations are affected by the decision and the Auditor General has figured that approximately a million dollars may be collected in back taxes under the decision.

Estimating Taxes

Acting under authority of State taxation laws, the Auditor General's Department will on March 1 begin estimating the State taxes of corporations which have failed to file their reports of capital stock and loans. The estimates will be based upon information which is secured by the department's officers and carries with it a penalty of 10 per cent. All corporations are required to file by December 31 a statement of their business for the year ending November 30. When this is not done the department has the right to estimate the value of the stock for taxation purposes. Several hundred corporations are said to be delinquent.

The department has finished the settlements or estimates of all taxes for 1912 and some which extended further back, one settlement covering six years, and is proceeding to make collections.

A demurrer to the mandamus proceeding to test the anthracite coal tax suit is to be filed within a few days by the Attorney General's Department and the case will be argued in the Dauphin County Court. Meanwhile steps to compute this tax will be taken by the State's fiscal authorities.

Backbone of Cold Wave Is About to Be Broken

By Associated Press

Washington, Feb. 17.—The backbone of the cold snap which has held the east in a grip of discomfort and suffering for the last three days is about broken.

The agency of relief comes from the British northwest and in the parlance of weather sharps, is known as "a depression," pushing and rolling its bulk southeastward, it already has caused rising temperatures in the Missouri, Upper Mississippi and lower Ohio valleys and by to-morrow its warming influence will be chasing Jack Frost out to sea off the Atlantic coast.

Powder Company Employe Is Killed by Explosion

Blairsville, Pa., Feb. 17.—With a roar that was heard twenty-five miles away the mixing house of the West Penn Powder Company at Tunnelton was blown to pieces by an explosion to-day. Robert Caugherty was killed and another workman mortally injured. Two other men employed at the plant could not be found. A telephone message from near the plant soon after the explosion said the plant had taken fire and was burning.

The company usually makes two shipments of powder each week, and the quantity to have been removed to-day had not been sent out when the explosion occurred.

Item Welcomed By Many Men

This recipe can be filled at home, so that no one need know of another's troubles, as the ingredients can be obtained separately at any well stocked drug store. They are in regular use and many different prescriptions are constantly being filled with them.

This will prove a welcome bit of information for all those who are overworked, gloomy, despondent, nervous and have trembling limbs, heart palpitation, dizziness, cold extremities, insomnia, fear without cause, timidity in venturing, and general inability to act naturally and rationally as others do, because the treatment can be prepared secretly at home and taken without any one's knowledge.

Overworked office men and the many victims of society's late hours and dissipation will, it is said, find the restorative they are in need of.

If the reader decides to try it, get three ounces of ordinary syrup sarsaparilla compound and one ounce compound fluid balmwort; mix and let stand two hours; then get one ounce compound essence cardiol and one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom), mix all together, shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring.

A certain well-known medical expect asserts that thousands of men and many women are sufferers all because of dormant circulation of the blood and a consequential impairment of the nervous force which begets the most dreadful symptoms and untold misery.

Have You Dyspepsia?

Can't Eat—Can't Sleep—Always in Pain and Suffering

"Eat What You Want," Says This Physician.

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, in almost every instance, due to hyper-acidity. Too much acid first produces dyspepsia and indigestion; next the stomach walls become irritated and it is only a short time until it eats through the walls, causing ulcers in the abdomen, which in turn are followed by cancer and death; therefore stomach sufferers are required to avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well-fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you try a meal of any food or foods which you may like in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisurated magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. Drugs only upset the stomach. Bisurated magnesia has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug. As a physician I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisurated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisurated magnesia as directed above, and you will find you sleep well and the usual belching gas, sour stomach, bloating, indigestion and other conditions entirely removed." — Advertisement.

Health Restored by Eckman's Alterative

Glandular trouble, very frequently diagnosed by physicians as "Tuberculosis in the Glands," has been found to yield to Eckman's Alterative when other treatments did not bring relief. Eckman's Alterative is a medicine which during the past fifteen years, has brought about many recoveries even in a number of supposed hopeless cases. Read this:—

257 Laruston St., Phila., Pa.

"Gentlemen: In March, 1909, my doctor pronounced my case "Tuberculosis in the Glands," and a number of operations in a hospital failed to benefit me. In the meantime a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alterative. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well, which was in November, 1910. On November 11, 1910, I started to work, and since that time I have not lost one day's work through sickness I highly recommend Eckman's Alterative to anyone who is suffering from Gland trouble"

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR KILLED WITHOUT ELECTRICITY

BY A SPECIALIST

"I have the greatest trouble with correspondents who insist on using common, worthless depilatories or want the torturing barbarous electrical needle applied for killing their superfluous hair," says Mme. Chaminade in Milady's Boudoir. "More mental and physical suffering is caused by these abominable methods than you can imagine I have carefully investigated and tried a new and simple method that never fails to remove all signs of hair completely and painlessly and without injury to the skin or complexion. In a surprisingly large number of cases it has destroyed all trace of hair so that it has never returned. In fact I must caution my readers that it must not be applied to hair that they do not wish totally destroyed. It is called "Mrs. Osgood's Wonder," being named for a well known woman who arranged for it to be put on the market after it had succeeded in entirely eradicating all trace of her own very distressing growth of hair on chin, lip and arms, which everything else had failed to touch.

Mrs. Osgood's Wonder is quite inexpensive; you can obtain it from Kennedy's Medicine Store, or any up-to-date druggist or department store, on the guarantee of your money back, if it fails. Ask for it by name, "Mrs. Osgood's Wonder"; a signed guarantee comes with every package.—Advertisement.
