MYSTERY OF 16 to 1.

"BRYAN DROPS FREE SILVER."
—J. K. M'Guire.

"WHY, NO! HE DOESN'T."
—Richard Croker.

Local Leaders Seem to Differ on Democratic Candidate's Beliefs.

"Mr. Bryan realizes that 16 to 1 is not an issue of the campaign, and if he is elected and a Democratic House should be named, no effort will be made to establish a 16-to-1 ratio for silver, as there are too many Democrats opposed to it. Mr. Bryan realizes that."

These remarks were made by Chairman James K. McGuire, of the Executive Committee of the Democratic State Committee at the Democratic State Headquarters in the Hoffman House this morning.

"While I have no doubt that Mr. Bryan still believes in the ratio of 16 to 1 as an economic appliance, he realizes that it is not an issue. Sixteen to one as an issue was dropped a week after the Kansas City Convention. All the candidates for Congress in the East on the Democratic ticket are hard-money men and not free-silver men. The paramount issues of the campaign are imperialism and the trusts."

Mr. McGuire said he did not believe Mr. McKinley will come to the Bronx with 75,000 majority, as claimed. "He thinks it will be less than that and that the State is surely Democratic. He also feels New Jersey is safe, as Democrats have been working hard there.

Richard Croker was at the headquarters established by himself and Senator Murphy early this morning. He heard of what Chairman McGuire had said of the issue of 16 to 1 being dropped in this campaign and that Mr. Bryan realized that it cannot be carried even if a Democratic House should be elected with him, as there are too many Democrats opposed to the ratio demanded for free silver.

"The 16 to 1 issue has not been eliminated at all from the campaign by the Democrats," said Mr. Croker. "Mr. Bryan has not dropped it. He has simply followed the Democratic platform adopted at Kansas City, which places imperialism and trusts ahead of the silver issue for the campaign. He is giving more time to those issues than he is to 16 to 1."

Mr. Croker said, in speaking of Senator Platt's claim of an electoral vote of 285 for McKinley:

"They claim everything in sight. I suppose there's no use in having an election now since Senator Platt has announced his official figures. Well, let them do the figuring now. We'll do the figuring after election."

don't call me a demagogue. I call to mind that Lincoln used to use that term, and he was thought to be a great man, even by Republicans, and he said that the Lord must love the common people because he made so many of them.

"I suppose you Democrats all know where the term "common people" originated, but for the benefit of the Republicans here, who are so busy in their prosperity that they haven't time to read the Bible, whence it came.

"You are the seat of a large mower and reaper manufacturing concern, and I am told that at its head is a man named Metcalf, and Metcalf has told his 1,000 men that if Bryan is elected he will close down the shops."

The crowd cheered till it was exhausted, and there were cries of "That's right; rout him." When they were still Bryan said: "No, my friends, I am not in the roasting business." Pointing to the statue of Seward Bryan said:

"There stands the statue of the greatest man this city ever had, until it had Metcalf." This was received with cheers and jeers and laughter.

"Like cowards, when the Republicans have no arguments to present they threaten that if they men don't vote as they vote they will close up their shops, throw their men out of work and ruin the town."

REPUBLICANS MERELY BOAST.

SPEECH NO. 4.

AURORA, Oct. 19.—Another stop was made at Aurora, where Mrs. Cleveland attended school at Wells College when she was a girl.

Mr. Bryan rushed through a general summary of the issues. He said: "Read the platform of the two parties. Read the speeches of the advocates of each.

"The Republicans do not argue; they boast of conditions they are not responsible for and avoid the discussion of those conditions they have brought about.

"You can't get them to talk about the trusts, yet four times as many trusts have been organized during the past three years as existed before that time.

"They have brought us into the position of Europe on the military and colonial questions, and they are not ready to defend it.

"I believe with Lincoln, who said in 1858 that the true source of all power in government was in the plain people. I believe that the man who works to produce wealth is entitled to a fair share of it in its distribution.

"The system of monopolies fostered and grown under Republican Administration makes an equal distribution of the product of labor impossible, for the private monopoly can control not only the wages of the men, but the price to the consumer, while the laborer and the producer get the lowest living wages.

SPEECH NO. 5.

ITHACA, Oct. 19.—Ithaca lies in a deep valley, and the train entered by the Lake Shore on the Auburn line. The platform where Mr. Bryan spoke was in Dewitt Park, a mile from the station.

After the meeting the party took the train at the University Hill depot, a mile and a half on the other side of the town, and to reach it the train had to be shoved off twenty miles to the west and then back around the south side of the town twenty-one miles to the upper level.

Mayor W. C. Elmendorf presided at the meeting, and 10,000 people shivered about the stand while Judge Baker and Bryan spoke.

Talked to Students.

Five hundred students had stationed themselves in front, within ten feet of the platform, and loudly cheered his pointed attack on trusts and trust magnates who seek to control the votes of their employees.

Mr. Bryan said: "I believe the time has come when the corporation should be compelled to keep its hands out of politics and tend to its own business for which it was organized. I am not willing that the independence of the citizens should be destroyed, and if it is right for this company to coerce its employees it must be on the theory that a man who stands at the head of a corporation has a right to the votes of its employees, and if he has then let us have a law enabling a trust magnate to vote as many times as he has employees, so that none of the employees will get away from him.

"But if the vote belongs to the citizen, then let us have a law that will make it a penitentiary offense for a man to try to rob another man of his citizenship because he works for him.

"Mr. Hanna said the other day that you ought not to swap horses while crossing a stream. What sacrilege for Hanna to quote any word that Abraham Lincoln ever uttered!

"I believe trust magnates who seek to influence the votes of their employees should go to jail."

During his speech the college boys yelled, "Who will be our next President? B-r-y-a-n! Bryan! Bryan! Bryan!" Winding up with the college yell.

The platform was against the wall of the Ithaca High School and presently a bevy of school girls hung a picture of McKinley and Roosevelt out of a window on the stand.

Other girls tore it to ribbons and the din of conflict could be heard from that upper window for several minutes.

Convinced an Athlete.

Cornell's football players were among those who turned out to hear Bryan. R. Alexander, right tackle, had a front position, and he was among those to ask a question of the speaker.

"Why did you urge the ratification of the treaty with Spain?" put in the big fellow.

Mr. Bryan thanked the athlete and gave five minutes to his question. Alexander was satisfied with the answer, and this afternoon he practise at the field he lauded to his fellow players the frankness of the Democratic candidate.

During his Ithaca speech Bryan said:

"Now, I'll wait for the fellow who wants to ask about the Ice Trust."

"I'll ask it," came a voice.

"All right, I'll answer that all the directors of that Ice Trust are Republicans. Why don't you Republican Attorney-General proceed against them?"

"How about Croker?" was asked by the crowd.

"Mr. Croker has no Ice Trust stock, but your Republican Governor or Legislature could suppress that trust in a jiffy.

"Mr. Croker is all right."

A man yelled "Hurrah for McKinley." There was a shout of "Put him out." But Bryan said: "No, no, my friend, let him alone. Bless the poor man, he is just the man I want to talk to."

LONDON STOCKS FIRM.

The London market for American railway shares rallied after a weak opening to-day and soon registered gains of 1-8 to 1-4 per cent. above New York's closing figures of yesterday. International securities were firm.

BROOKLYN MAN DIED IN A NEW YORK WOMAN'S FLAT.

Police Suspect That J. Bloomfield, Who Visited Sara Goldman, May Have Been Victim of Knockout Drops.

SARA GOLDMAN.

J. BLOOMFIELD.

J. Bloomfield, merchant tailor, 237 Fulton street, Brooklyn, died under mysterious circumstances in the flat of Sara Goldman, at 226 East Twenty-sixth street, at 1 o'clock this morning.

Only an autopsy to-day can determine the exact cause of death, and the police have arrested the Goldman woman.

She rushed up to Policeman James J. Dolan about 1 o'clock and begged him to hurry with her to her apartment in the basement of the East Twenty-sixth street house. Dolan went there and on the floor found the body of a man about fifty years old.

An ambulance from Bellevue Hospital was called, but Dr. Sullivan pronounced the man dead.

Miss Goldman said she did not know the man's name. She had become acquainted with him only a few weeks ago and he had visited her several times. She had met him on the street last night and he had accompanied her home. He had been drinking some but was not intoxicated.

After he reached her apartment he sat down in a chair and became very ill. He finally rolled over on the floor unconscious.

In addition to the tailor's card, $5.45 and a gold watch and chain were found on him.

Bloomfield lived with his wife and father over the store, and had been in business in the neighborhood for about twenty years.

Miss Goldman was arraigned before the Coroner in the afternoon and committed to the Tombs pending the autopsy.

MOTHER CLASPS HER CHILD IN COURT.

Confronted with the Little One She Abandoned She Sobs Hysterically.

The young woman calling herself Mrs. Margaret Quinn, who left her ten-day-old baby in the Pelham Manor woods on Wednesday night, was arraigned before Magistrate Cornell in the Jefferson Market Court this morning.

Though charged with the most brutal and inhuman crime a woman can be guilty of—the desertion of her offspring—she seemed totally indifferent to her position and surroundings.

There was an attempt at gaudiness in the shabby brown straw hat she wore and an attempt at fashion in the faded boa of brown fur about her neck. Her waist was of light blue material and her dress black.

Detective Keogh told how she had given birth to the child in the Emergency Hospital on Oct. 7, how she had left it, crying and shivering of cold in the bleak Pelham Manor woods on Wednesday night, and how she had been traced through the mark, "Believe Hospital 21," on the infant's scanty clothing.

She said she has a husband, John Quinn, who was employed in a hotel in Tarrytown, but the police have not been able to find him. She had a few dollars in her possession when arrested, so it didn't seem as if she abandoned the child because of absolute destitution. She told the officers that she simply didn't have the means to take further care of the baby. So on Wednesday, she said, she took the trolley car to Pelham Manor and left the baby in a secluded spot in the woods.

Justice Cornell adjourned the examination until this afternoon so that the child might be brought into court.

The baby was taken to Supt. Blair's office this morning from Mount Vernon by Mrs. Alva F. Wood, of 16 South Fulton avenue, and Miss Margaret Kane, of 11 South Tenth avenue, Mount Vernon. New clothing was bought for the child.

Shortly before 3 o'clock the woman was arraigned before Magistrate Cornell. The infant, apparently stout and healthy, had been brought into court by the two Mount Vernon women.

At sight of it Mrs. Quinn sprang forward and clasped it to her breast with an hysterical cry and wept. The scene created quite a commotion in court.

At the request of Chief Clerk W. F. Walsh, of Supt. Blair's office, the hearing was postponed until Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The infant was committed to the children's ward in Bellevue Hospital.

STARVING, HE STOLE BREAD.

It Was Only a Loaf, but Policeman Arrested Him.

He was charged with stealing an eight-cent loaf of rye bread.

The man looked gaunt and hungry. His eyes were sunken in his head, his hair was unkempt and his clothes were old and worn.

"I saw him eating it—right on the spot where he stole it," said Policeman Maher, of the Bronx Park station. "That's why I arrested him."

Magistrate Mayo, of the Morrisania Police Court, looked at the prisoner.

"Why did you steal?" he asked.

"A poor man has no chance in this country," said the man. "It is all run for the rich."

Then the prisoner, whose name is Timothy Devine, said he had been working for a contractor at Dobbs Ferry, and that he earned $1.25 a day, but that he lived in a contractor's boarding-house, and that at the end of the month he always found he had eaten all his wages. He got tired of this he said, and came to New York yesterday. He slept in a barn all night, he said, and this morning was hungry. He admitted taking the bread.

The complainant was Louis Goble, of 3067 Webster avenue. He was determined at first to prosecute the man, saying he ought to be made an example of.

Magistrate Mayo asked him if his conscience would really permit his sending the man to jail for the theft, and then he consented to withdraw the complaint.

CHALLENGE THE WHISKEY TRUST.

Objection Raised to Election of Directors at To-Day's Meeting.

At the meeting of the Distilling Company of America, at Jersey City to-day, a new board of directors was elected. James M. Howell and Robert S. McCarter, of Newark, who appeared as proxies for George Emerson, challenged the votes of Messrs. Belmont, Cadwallader and Keech.

The following were elected:

For the term expiring the third Wednesday in October, 1903, S. M. Rice, Hasea Bradley, R. A. C. Smith, for the term ending the third Wednesday in October, 1902, Howard J. M. Cardozo, Thomas Dolan, John M. Atherton and E. F. C. Young; for the term ending the third Wednesday in October, 1901, Samuel Woolner, George V. Turner, Walter S. Wilson and E. Mora Davidson.

The election of the directors, it was generally stated, would stand in the mean time. Shares to the amount of $100,000 were represented.

Six Election Cases Heard.

James Lynch, William King, John Kelly, Martin Murphy, James Ferguson and Michael McMahon were taken from the Tombs before Justice Lawrence in the Supreme Court to-day on writs of habeas corpus secured by their counsel, Abraham Levy and James Nugent, to procure their release from prison pending trial at Special Sessions on charges of having violated the Election law. Justice Lawrence took briefs and reserved his decision.

STOCKS DULL, BUT HIGHER.

Closing Very Active with Net Gains in Most Lines.

Trading showed a further decrease in activity to-day and a lack of the large individual deals which have been a feature for several days past.

The general drift of prices was upward, but the movement was only small and fractional.

The downward movement was checked about noon by a large demand for Norfolk & Western, the Atchisons and Brooklyn Transit. The latter rose 1 1-2 above yesterday's close. Other stocks advanced sympathetically. In some instances to the top figures. Bonds were generally firm.

There was large profit taking during the last hour, but the sustaining force of the strength in special stocks enabled the market to absorb the selling.

Many stocks rose again to near the best, but yielded to the pressure for realizing. Some of the steel stocks and other industrials were carried below last night.

The closing was very active and irregular, but with substantial net gains remaining for the majority of stocks.

The total sales of stocks to-day were 629,425 shares and of bonds $2,621,000, par value.

DRUGGED AND ROBBED DOCTOR.

Young Jones Fell In with Seventh Avenue Thugs.

Dr. Wylie Street Jones, a young West Virginian, taking a post-graduate course in this city and living at 229 West Forty-third street, was drugged and robbed yesterday morning at Seventh avenue and Twenty-sixth street. He was relieved of $5 and his gold watch.

Two men are under arrest. They are Jeremiah Dunham, of 36 Seventh avenue, and Bernard Healey, of 201 West Twenty-fourth street. It was said in the Jefferson Market court-room that Healey is of good family and that his folks are possessed of $150,000.

Dr. Jones said he could positively identify Dunham, but was not able to say the other man was one of those who had assaulted and drugged him. His face was swollen still from apparent blows. The prisoners were held in $1,000 bail each for examination.

ACCUSES THE DOCK BOARD.

Jackson Says Officials Delay Cases to Favor His Rival.

James Jackson, President of the Manhattan Ice Company, appeared before the Dock Board at the regular meeting held this afternoon and submitted the report of the consulting engineer of the company, R. D. Chase.

On Sept. 17 Mr. Jackson made application to lease ice bridges on docks on the East and North Rivers. Engineer Chase found that the Thirty-fifth street dock was not desirable as it is now being used for dumping purposes.

Mr. Jackson was indignant to-day at the action of the Board in putting the matter back again.

Said Mr. Jackson: "I can think of no reason why the Board should defer action on this matter unless the officials of the American Ice Company have used their influence. There are members of this Board, I believe, who are stockholders in the American Ice Company. If the Commissioners don't come to time by next week we will institute mandamus proceedings."

The Secretary of the Board states that the docks desired by the Manhattan Ice Company are now being used for open wharfage.

"Those fellows want the whole of the North and East Rivers," he said, "but they won't get it."

WHEAT WAS FIRMER.

The wheat market opened firmer to-day. Cables were stronger and Argentine crop reports less favorable. Foreign houses traded on both sides.

New York's closing prices were: December wheat, 79 1-8; October wheat, 77 1-8 nominal; May wheat, 82 1-2; March wheat, 82 3-8 nominal; December corn, 42 1-8 bid; October corn, 45 1-2 bid.

Chicago's closing prices were: November wheat, 75 5-8 to 75 3-4. Oct. wheat, 73 1-4; Nov., 73 5-8; Dec., 74 3-8. Oct. corn, 39 1-4; Nov., 37 1-2; Dec., 35 3-8.

THE COTTON PRICES.

The cotton market opened steady to-day, with August 4 points lower. The opening prices were: October, 9.39 to 9.40; November, 9.25 to 9.26; December, 9.25 to 9.26; January, 9.25 to 9.24; February, 9.22 bid; March, April and May, 9.22 to 9.23; June, 9.21 bid; July, 9.11 to 9.15; August, 9.02 to 9.03.

The closing prices were: Oct., 9.32 to 9.34; Nov., 9.24 to 9.25; Dec., 9.21 to 9.22; Jan., 9.21; Feb., 9.20 to 9.22; March to May, 9.20 to 9.21; June, 9.19 to 9.21; July, 9.15 to 9.17; Aug., 9.03 to 9.07.

THE AMERICAN HABIT.

One in Every Three Affected.

Of the 75,000,000 people in America it is estimated that 25,000,000, or one in every three, are partially disabled from a broken-down nervous system. America is the greatest consumer of coffee in the world. Can you draw the correct inference from these two facts?

Many a person will exclaim, "Nonsense!" It is easy for any thoughtless person to jump at a conclusion that a philosopher would study carefully over before reaching. Think of the members of your own family; how many of them are perfectly and completely well in every respect? How many of your friends are perfectly healthy? Inquire of them and you will be surprised to learn that the average of one in every three who are sick in the main stands true. Health depends primarily upon a perfectly poised nervous organization, and the greatest known enemy to the nervous system is coffee. Its active principle is caffeine, which is a pronounced nerve destroyer. The action is, first, to attack the stomach, then the pneumogastric nerve which lies behind the stomach and which is directly connected with the brain.

The disordered condition passes thence from the brain to all parts of the body, and in some it will show in trepidation (well-known nervous condition); in others this is hidden, but the work goes on from day to day, until some day the accumulation of forces climaxes in some organic disease. It may be the kidneys become affected and Bright's disease sets up, it may be weak eyes, may be catarrh, stomach trouble, palpitation and heart failure (which is becoming more and more noticeable among Americans).

Somewhere, you may depend upon it, this work will show forth in the form of disease. It may become so fixed and chronic that it cannot be thrown off. It is hard to induce a man or a woman to give up coffee when they have become addicted to its use, but if such people can be given Postum Food Coffee they will quickly change for the better, for the food drink, when properly made, has even a more beautiful color than the ordinary coffee, and has the delicious, toothsome flavor of old government Java of the milder and higher priced grades.

The work of reorganization begins at once, for the tearing-down element of coffee has been eliminated and in its place the strong rebuilding effects of the elements contained in the food coffee go directly to work to rebuild the broken-down, delicate gray matter in the nerve centres and brain. This is just plain, old-fashioned common sense that any thoughtful person can make use of—in fact, hundreds of thousands of brain workers in America have already discovered the fact and are using Postum Food Coffee to their very great benefit and relief.
