STOCKS UP AGAIN.

RECENT BULL CHARACTERISTICS OF THE MARKET RESUMED.

THE BEAR ATTACKS UNSUCCESSFUL.

One of Them, Made Late in the Day, Forces Declines, But There Are Good Rallies, on Covering by Shorts—Produce Markets.

NEW YORK, January 9.—After a short preliminary contest to-day with the reactionary forces the stock market resumed its recent bull characteristics. There was a prompt and striking response to any demonstration of strength, the bull leaders finding no difficulty in running prices up, by rapid stages, several points, in any stock in which they began bidding for shares.

The influence of these easy advances exercised so strong a sustaining influence on the rest of the market that the interests long on stocks had no difficulty in marketing enormous holdings without any very notable effect on prices. The bears who sold the market yesterday in the conviction that the culmination of the rise had been reached, and that the reported illness of the President might prove the deciding factor in precipitating a reaction, were forced to cover in some disorder. The sustained strength in the market cannot be entirely accounted for without making due allowance for the persistence of a very large short interest at all the present stages of the rise.

The borrowing demand for stocks is proof of the existence of the short interest. More or less difficulty is experienced in securing stocks for delivery on short accounts, and borrowers of some stocks are obliged to forego interest on their money. Notwithstanding the repeated backsets of the bears, they were still active to-day. They effected some declines at the opening, aided by the lower range of prices for Americans in London, and by the acute weakness of a few stocks, especially the National Tube stocks, on the announced project of the building of great competing works by the Carnegie interests. This caused a break of 4 points in National Tube, common, and 1½ in the preferred. The Rubber stocks fell 2¼ for the common and 3 for the preferred, and there was a drop of 3¼ in Lake Erie and Western. Excepting the Rubber stocks, there were good rallies in all of these, in sympathy with the general strength developed.

MISSOURI PACIFIC LEADS.

The opening dealings gave the impression that Union Pacific had been selected as the leader for the day, the demand absorbing no less than 25,000 shares on simultaneous sales. But Missouri Pacific quickly forged to the front, after a momentary backset, which carried it ¾ below last night. This was due to the heavy profit-taking attracted by yesterday's 5 points rise. The stock was easily the leader of the market, and was lifted in the afternoon 5½ points more above last night's level.

There were many rumors current of coming consolidations of the Southwestern railroad systems, without any authority cited, and which were met in some cases by semi-official disclaimers, but notwithstanding these disclaimers the so-called Gould Southwesterns all advanced from 2 to 2¾. Manhattan and Western Union also gained 3 and 3⅜, respectively. The various stocks which were successively brought forward in the advance would make a long list. The most conspicuous were Louisville and Nashville, with a rise of 3⅝; Delaware and Hudson, 4¼; Illinois Central, 4½; Great Northern, preferred, 5¾; the local traction stocks from 2½ to 3, outside of Third Avenue, which rose an extreme 9½; Sugar and People's Gas, about 2½ each; Union Pacific and New York Central as much, and a number of less prominent stocks with even wider gains.

LATE BEAR ATTACK.

The manipulative character of the advance, and the persistent profit-taking was so evident that the bears attacked the market again late in the day, and forced declines running up to from 2 to 3 points in several cases, but there were good rallies on covering by shorts. The Grangers were rather less disposed to rally than the general list, and the Coalers were affected by profit-taking throughout. The dealings were again on a very large scale, but did not approach Monday's record.

ACTIVE DEMAND FOR BONDS.

There was a very active demand for bonds of Southwestern railroads, and the whole list showed strength. The gains were not in all cases fully maintained. Total sales, par value, $4,575,000. United States refunding 2's advanced ½ on the last call.

To-day's total stock sales were 1,701,500 shares.
