MISS M'LEAN AN ACTRESS IN A ROAD COMPANY.

Miss C. McLean.

Granddaughter of a Cabinet Member, Niece of the Late James Kilbreth

Miss Carolyne McLean, a niece of the late James Kilbreth, former Police Justice and afterward Collector of the Port of New York, has become an actress in a road company playing one-night stands. Miss McLean's father was Col. Nathaniel McLean, of the regular army. Her grandfather, John McLean, served in the Cabinets of four Presidents and was a Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

She has asked no favors of managers on the score of her family, but has begun determinedly at the foot of the histrionic ladder. In Cincinnati, the city of her home, she is a member of the smartest society.

RAN AWAY TO SEA.

Young Shalleross's Mother Thought He Had Been Kidnapped.

(Special to The World.)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 19.—Amos Shalleross, the thirteen-year-old heir to a large fortune, who disappeared from his home in Wissinoming early in October, and who was believed by his mother to have been kidnapped by tramps, is probably on his way to Africa.

Robert Herron, another boy who disappeared at about the same time, returned home last night, and he told Mrs. Shalleross that he had shipped on a coasting schooner to Norfolk, Va., where he met Amos, who had likewise gone to that port as a cabin boy.

Amos, he said, was contented and robust, and had shipped on the schooner Cassie H., which sailed last Sunday for Africa.

MOLINEUX'S FRIENDS HOPE.

Newly Developed Facts Make Them Confident of Another Trial.

The family and friends of Roland Burnham Molineux have become within the last two weeks more confident than ever that a new trial will be granted to Molineux and that he will be set at liberty. New facts have developed recently which afford the reason for this expectation.

An evening newspaper yesterday published the statement: "After five months of pretense and denial, officers of the District-Attorney's staff to-day admitted that even after three months' work on them, the assistance of Recorder Goff has been accepted as the only means of securing a proper digest of the tangled record" in the Molineux case.

"That statement," said Assistant District-Attorney James W. Osborne, who prosecuted Molineux, "is an error. This office has not called for the 'assistance' of the Recorder further than to do that which is always done—present the case on appeal to him for his approval."

Assistant District-Attorney Charles E. Le Barbier prepares cases on appeal for the prosecutor's side.

"Molineux," he said, "was convicted on Feb. 10. On Feb. 16 his counsel served notice of appeal on this office. On March 14 they served on us the first pages of their proposed case on appeal. In all, the proposed case on appeal made 8,425 typewritten pages. On July 25 I served the People's proposed amendments to the case on appeal. There were hundreds of these. On July 26 the entire case was submitted to Recorder Goff. I understand the Recorder has almost finished his work in settling the case on appeal and it will soon go up."
