New York Stock Market

New York, January 24.—The manner in which stocks were sold to-day created a bad impression of the speculative position, and gave rise to some questioning of the financial situation in its larger aspects.

The effect of the large and persistent offerings of the most important stocks of the speculative imagination was uncanny, and awakened reminiscences of the markets of March, 1907, which gained the title of "the silent panic."

The persistence with which stocks were sold to-day had the effect of clearly convincing opinion that undue importance had been given to advantitious causes for last week's break in prices, such as the Hocking Coal and Iron episode. Other causes are again sought for the efforts to convert stock holdings into cash and to lighten holdings of securities. The doubtful relation of corporations to the law was generally accepted as the principal underlying cause of the present weakness of stocks. The action of United States Steel was of special sentimental effect on the speculative tone in view of the persistence of the reports of favorable developments at to-morrow's quarterly meetings. Estimates of the good showing to be made of net earnings for the December quarter did not vary from last week, and expectation continued confident that stockholders were to receive an extra dividend disbursement in addition to the regular 1 per cent. quarterly dividend.

Such rallying power as the market showed was attributed to the demand from uncovered shorts, and it became fainter as prices got further away from the low levels. The tendency was downwards at the end.

Bonds were weak. Total sales, par value, $2,139,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Total sales for the day were 1,007,100 shares.

New York, January 24.—Money on call easier, 3@3 1-2; ruling rate, 3 1-2; closing bid, 3 1-4; offered at 3 1-2. Time loans easy; sixty and ninety days, 4 per cent.; six months, 4 1-4 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 4 1-2@5 per cent. Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.8370@$4.8375 for sixty day bills, and at $4.8625 for demand. Commercial bills, $4.83@$4.83 1-2. Bar silver, 52 3-8. Mexican dollars, 44.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York, January 24.—The cotton market was nervous and unsettled to-day with prices declining sharply under liquidation and bear pressure, following a bullish census report, which failed to stimulate much fresh buying for long account. The close was quiet and steady, but at a net decline of 22@41 points. The opening was at a decline of 9@17 points in sympathy with relatively weak cables. During the first few minutes the active months rallied 9 or 10 points from the lowest on the census figures, showing only 9,752,000 bales ginned to January 15, comparing with 12,666,201 to the same date last year, but there was evidently no aggressive bull support, and prices soon weakened under realizing by last week's buyers who had been waiting for the census to take profits and local bear pressure. Liverpool buying and a demand from spot houses caused slight rallies at time during the day, but the general tendency of prices was lower with sentiment unsettled as a result of renewed weakness in Wall Street and the absence of definite news regarding the interior spot situation in the South. The low point was reached late in the day when March contracts sold at 14.07 and May at 14.26, or 41 points below the closing figures of Saturday. Covering and trade demand caused a rally of only 4 or 5 points on the active months at the close. Notwithstanding the wide fluctuations trading at no time during the day was active, and probably the day's entire sales were less than one hour's trading during the excitement of last week. Wall Street houses were considerable sellers, and local professions seemed to be against the market, owing to absence of bull support and an idea that mills having secured enough cotton to take care of immediate needs on the recent decline, were now in a position to again withdraw from the market. Southern spot markets were generally unchanged. Spot houses bought considerable May on the decline to 14.20 after midday.

Receipts at the ports to-day were 19,455 bales against 16,471 last week and 48,176 last year. For the week 160,000 bales against 187,223 last week and 278,641 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans 5,062 bales against 2,318 last year, and at Houston 10,061 bales against 49,503 last year.

New Orleans, La., January 24.—Cotton—Spot cotton nominal and unchanged; middling, 15c. Sales on the spot 60 bales and 175 to arrive; 1,100 hedged. Futures opened steady at a decline of 9@14 points on unfavorable cables and heavy selling for short account. The census report on ginning to January 15 of 9,752,000 bales had no bullish effect on prices, although the figures were no higher than looked for, and were generally taken as confirming the government estimate of the total crop of 10,088,000 bales. During the morning shorts became very aggressive and the decline they forced caused considerable liquidation of long cotton, which only increased the weakness. At the lowest the old crop months were 40@44 points under Saturday's closing, and October was 20 under. Late in the day shorts took profits and this caused a partial recovery, the market closing steady at a net decline of 30@36 points. Futures closed steady: January, 14.20; February, 14.24; March, 14.35; May, 14.61; July, 14.65; September, 13.07; October, 12.34.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, Ill., January 24.—Large arrivals of grain to-day caused a falling off in prices, which was helped along by the increased protest against high cost of living. Wheat declined from 1⅝ to 1¾c. below Saturday's final figures; corn and oats falling off in a less degree. Provisions experienced a decided slump, the agitation against high food prices being directly noticed in a 90c. decline in January. Other products also fell off.

BAPTISTS ARE DISAPPOINTED.

Not Yet Successful in Efforts to Save Rawlings to That Denomination.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Charlottesville, Va., January 24.—It is stated to-night on reliable authority that the Baptists have been disappointed in their efforts to save Rawlings Institute to that denomination.

Since Rev. H. W. Battle, D. D., pastor of the High Street Church, expressed himself on Sunday as believing that the institution would be saved to the Baptists and that it would be made the greatest college for the education of women in the South, some complications have arisen, the nature of which cannot be learned, and the field is now open.

There is a chance even yet that the institute may go to the Baptists, but others, especially the Episcopalians, are waging a vigorous fight, and the outcome is uncertain.

The owners of the institute held a meeting here to-day, but nothing is given out as to the proceedings, except that no definite decision has been reached, and that the matter is still open for negotiation.

DIES FROM HYDROPHOBIA.

Durham Youth, Who Was Attacked by Mad Dog, Suffers Horrible Death.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Durham, N. C., January 24.—Burnice Mangum, a youth of nine years, son of J. W. Mangum, of this city, who was bitten on the thigh about three weeks ago by a mad dog, was taken to the Watts Hospital Saturday evening with a well-developed case of hydrophobia.

He died there this morning at 6:30 o'clock in a state of convulsions, a most horrible death. The dog's head had been sent to Raleigh and analyzed, and it was pronounced that the dog had hydrophobia. Young Mangum had had a madstone applied, and took other treatment, and it was thought at one time that he had warded off all danger, but the hydrophobia symptoms came on last Friday, and resulted this morning as stated.

Four Bears Given to Lynchburg.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Lynchburg, Va., January 24.—Thos. F. Ryan to-day shipped and donated to the city four young bears, which came from his Nelson county estate. The bears will be kept at Miller Park.
