ALL SEEK DEATH AT SAME TIME.

Zollinger Let No One Enter His Room for Years.

Within two hours this forenoon three men were taken charge of by the authorities for attempting suicide. One succeeded in ending his life. Two others will live.

The suicide was John Zollinger, fifty years old, a tailor, of No. 66 East Fifteenth street. He had a wife and an eighteen-year-old boy, whose whereabouts are unknown.

It is supposed that despondency over the separation led him to kill himself.

Zollinger was a recluse whose three-score years had not been passed by any one by himself for four years. He had a bank book for $100. Among his effects was an agreement in German, signed by him and his wife, whereby the woman, in consideration of $50, gave up all claim to him or his property. She is said to have gone back to Germany. One evidence of the man's eccentricity was a heterogeneous collection of old clothes, newspaper clippings, patent medicines and cheap jewelry, with which the rooms were littered.

Mrs. Miller, a neighbor, who supplied Zollinger with his meals, said that yesterday he begged her to pray for him when she went to church.

"I have prayed for years," he said, "but my petitions are never answered."

JOHN ZOLLINGER.

The Recluse Who Killed Himself.

Zollinger ate breakfast about 7:30 o'clock. Then he put all his work carefully in order, went to his bedroom and took two 32-caliber revolvers from a drawer. He fired one in each hand.

He fired with the weapon in his right hand and this first shot was enough, as the bullet crashed through his right temple and he died instantly.

At No. 404 East Fifteenth street, where Zollinger lived, according to Dr. Train, a man not long ago took enough carbolic acid to kill himself and at another time a woman jumped out of a window and ended her life.

William Zeyer, forty-two years old, of No. 643 East Thirteenth street, living with his wife and two small children, had been out of work. He spent yesterday in hunting employment, but failed. To-day he swallowed carbolic acid.

He was made a prisoner and taken to the hospital prison ward. His wife and children are sick from the shock of the man's attempt to end life.

Robert Dunbar, forty-five years old, of No. 617 Second avenue, was taken to Bellevue about the same time as Zeyer. Policeman Smith had to break in the door and the man was found in bed unconscious, with the gas turned on. Dr. Train, of Bellevue, succeeded in bringing Dunbar to consciousness. He thought Dunbar had attempted suicide and the police made him a prisoner.

BIGGEST TOBACCO CARGO.

Ward Liner Mexico Brings It in Under New Law.

The Ward liner Mexico, which docked to-day in Brooklyn, brought 1,800,000 lbs of tobacco, said to be the largest consignment ever brought on a single vessel from Havana.

The Mexico by remaining at the Cuban port a day beyond her regular sailing time brought her cargo within the provisions of the new revenue ruling.

The Mexico's manifest shows that the cargo consisted of 32 cases, 5 barrels, 100 bales of tobacco, 1,000 boxes and 500 cases of cigars.

CORNWALL ON SEA TRIP MEETS LADY CURZON.

Duke and Duchess Exchange Signals with Vicereine of India, in Gulf of Suez.

LADY CURZON.

ADEN, April 5.—The steamer Ophir, having completed her trip with the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York on board, arrived here from India, in the Gulf of Suez, with Lady Curzon, wife of the Viceroy of India, and the customary official salutes were exchanged. The Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York and Lady Curzon, who was also on board, exchanged greetings. The Duke and Duchess are in excellent health and thoroughly enjoying their trip.

The steamer Ophir, bearing the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, passed the Suez canal yesterday, and Lord Curzon, of Kedleston, on board the steamer Ophir, was saluted by the forts and the official yachts and the two steamers exchanged greetings. The Duke and Duchess are in excellent health and thoroughly enjoying their trip. Lady Curzon is on her way to England.

IN EASTER GLORY MY LADY WILL CHARM THE THRONG.

Sunday's Display Will be One of the Greatest New York Has Ever Seen.

If the day is clear and the sky is of that soft, depthless blue that makes the ideal day and the sun lies warmly on the city streets, New York will have one of the most prodigally brilliant Easter Sundays in its history.

Fifth avenue will be a great river of animate color and floral glory, a kaleidoscopic flow of soft tints, the myriad swish and flutter of drapery and the pretty faces of the women, making a panorama whose charm lingers long after Easter has passed. Pretty women all of them—for what woman, thrilling with the pride of the day and decked in its glories, is unlovely?

Fine Weather Promised.

The weather man promises an ideal day with just enough chill in the air to make walking outdoors like taking a tonic. Modistes and all the big stores have contributed their part to making the spectacle brilliant.

Never before have fine dresses been turned out in such great numbers.

Never before have hats, radiant with blooms or modest in their pretty chiffon trimming, been sold on such a large scale.

Millions for Raiment.

The amount of money spent in the stores and at the dressmakers' in New York for this season, it is estimated, amounts up into the millions. One wealthy woman has spent $3,000 on her Easter and spring dresses, and it is told that she is quite economical at that.

The department stores have been horns of plenty from which have flowed a steady stream of marvels of feminine wear, so that not only Fifth avenue, but the whole of the great city will suddenly bring into flower like an enchanted garden.

Time-Honored Custom.

Time was when the wealth and fashion of the city promenaded Fifth avenue a rare display that drew thousands of curious persons from near and far, such as fashion at the Horse Show attracts. A steady flow of gold to the coffers of the Association.

Folk put on their finery to see and be seen, but that custom has gradually fallen into disuse so that now few if any of the social leaders take part in the parade, which, however, is made up mostly of eminently respectable persons of assured position but not the real swagger set.

In Latest Fashion.

The tendency of the smart folk this season is to quiet tones, the intention being to render themselves as inconspicuous as possible. But this will in no wise affect the brilliancy of the Fifth Avenue show, which will be watched from the clubs and the mansions on this rich with as much interest as a curious stroller displays.

The smart dresses and the marvels of headwear will indeed be a living review of all that is the best and most tasteful, the latest modes. It is seldom that Fifth avenue, though deprived of the sterling gold of the great thing displays even the suggestion of bad taste. But the rich man's person is not in the charmed set, is surely no indication that she does not know how to dress most becomingly and to get the best effects from color combination.

You will realize this when you see the great Sunday parade.

BOY SHOT CHUM BEFORE CAMERA

Sacred Heart Student Didn't Know Rifle Was Loaded.

Joseph Meade, fifteen years old, is dying to-day in Fordham Hospital from a bullet wound in the head accidentally inflicted by his schoolmate, Eugene Holland, fifteen years old, of No. 326 East Fifty-fifth street.

The lads are pupils at the Sacred Heart Academy of the Christian Brothers at Closson's Point, in the Bronx. The academy has an officer of the United States Army attached to it in the capacity of military instructor. Most of the boys returned to their homes for the Easter holidays, but Holland and Meade, being orphans, were among a hundred pupils that remained at the academy.

Last night Brother Peter was taking a flash light picture of a group of fifteen boys in the playroom. Holland and Meade were among the number. Before the picture was snapped, Holland went to a closet off the playroom where the Brothers kept a 22-calibre rifle used for shooting small game in the summer time. He posed with the rifle while the picture was being taken, and while so doing accidentally pulled the trigger.

To his amazement the rifle discharged and Meade fell unconscious. The wounded boy was taken to the infirmary. Dr. Lubin, of Westchester, was summoned. He insisted on calling an ambulance from Fordham Hospital and notifying the police.

Brother Angus, the head of the institution, opposed the removal of the wounded boy. He took the stand that the shooting was accidental and that the interference of the police was not called for. Detective Dillon insisted on taking charge of young Holland, but he let the boy remain at the institution last night. To-day he took him to Morrisania Court, where Magistrate Flammer remanded him to the care of the Gerry Society until further information of Meade's condition was available.

"I had no idea the rifle was loaded," said Holland to-day. "Joe Meade was my chum. I liked him better than any boy at the academy. He laughed when I put the rifle to his head. I never thought to examine it when I took it from the shelf. I was so horrified when it discharged and I saw Joe bleeding on the floor that I could not answer when the brothers spoke to me. I hope Joe will not die."

Holland is a handsome lad with a frank expression. His nearest relative is a sister, Mrs. William N. Kirby, of No. 326 East Fifty-fifth street. The police seem to the story of the eye witnesses that the shooting was accidental.

Fordham Hospital physicians say it is marvellous that Meade continues to live. A bullet passed through his head and is lodged under the ear at the rear of his skull. The nearest relative is an aunt, Mrs. H. Lawlor, of No. 4 East One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street, with whom he made his home.

PRIESTS ILL FROM WORK.

Inclement Weather Prostrates Pastor and Assistants.

Through the faithful discharge of their duties during the recent period of inclement weather the Rev. Thomas J. Gerg, pastor of St. Augustine's Roman Catholic Church, One Hundred and Sixty-seventh street and Fulton avenue, and his assistant, the Rev. Thomas Tw[illegible], have contracted colds which have prostrated them to a serious extent. The Rev. Father Burke, of Westchester, is now at the hospital to respond to sick calls and perform other parochial duties. Father McGuire, who officiated at the 7 o'clock mass yesterday, was so hoarse that he was practically speaking in dumb show to the deed of sight in downpour of the Heds. Now he is the critical stage of an attack of pneumonia.

Father Tabor, duties were increased by the illness of his associates, but he brought on a cold that has developed into pneumonia, and he is now in the care of the physicians, who have issued a positive mandate against his participation in the services for Easter.

Dr. Train, of Bellevue, who attended the invalids, said: "Exposure to the inclemency of the weather is responsible for the illness of these three priests."

MARTINS MUST PAY THE TAXES.

Bill Sent to the Society Leaders for $15,340.

A bill for $15,340 was to-day prepared by the Tax Department to be sent to Bradley Martin. This is for the taxes on the property of himself, his wife and his mother-in-law for 1899, which they tried to escape by claiming residence in England. The Court of Appeals has decided that they must pay the bill.

The total assessments of the Bradley Martins for 1899 amounted to $600,000, of which one-half was placed against Bradley Martin, $100,000 against his wife, Cornelia S. Martin, and $25,000 against his mother-in-law, Elizabeth Sherman.

The records of the examination of the Bradley Martins before the Tax Department were made public to-day. Mr. Martin explained that he had purchased his Scottish estate of 16,000 acres in 1892 and had made it his home since, not having registered as a voter in New York since 1880.

"Like a great many Englishmen," said Mr. Martin, "the centre of my financial transactions is in this city. I have my bank accounts on the other side.

"A certain reason for taking up a permanent residence in England," Bradley Martin said, "but my only daughter had married the Earl of Craven, and sometime she and her husband would live in this country. His son, Bradley Martin, Jr., had taken a degree at Oxford five years before.

"The connections and friends of my children have largely influenced me in making my residence in the Kingdom of Great Britain," explained Mr. Martin.

NO FRIENDS. FAITH. MONEY.

Young Woman Held for Attempting to End Life.

Augusta Kahn, twenty-seven years old, who says she has neither relatives nor friends nor money, was arraigned in the Yorkville Court yesterday for attempting suicide.

The young woman was found in the East River yesterday by Policeman Gimble.

Magistrate Mott committed her to the Insane Pavilion of Bellevue. She had a bank book of the Greenwich Savings Bank in her possession which showed she had $60 to her credit.

KILLED BY LOCOMOTIVE.

Alama Said to Be Third Victim of Same Engine.

John Alama, employed in the St. Louis Chemical Works, at Laurel Hill, L. I., died in St. John's Hospital, Long Island City.

He was struck by an eastbound Boston train last night. The engineer of the train was Louis Cornell. In the inquiry into the accident there are many theories. The employees are in the habit of walking on the tracks. Alama is said to have been the third man struck by Cornell's train within a year.
