BEHEADED ON THE GALLOWS

"Black Jack" Ketchum, Desperado, Appealed to McKinley for Others Before Awful Death.

CLAYTON, N. M., April 26.—Thomas E. Ketchum, alias "Black Jack," the train robber, was hanged at 1.21 P. M. to-day. The rope broke, but the fall jerked Ketchum's head off.

Before being led to the gallows Ketchum sent an earnest appeal to President McKinley asking pardon for three men now in the Santa Fe penitentiary.

They are in jail for a train robbery that Ketchum and his gang committed.

His letter read:

"Standing in the presence of death, where no human aid can reach me, I desire to communicate to you some facts which may, perhaps, be the means of liberating innocent men.

"There are now three men in Santa Fe Penitentiary serving sentences for the robbery of the United States mail at Stein's Pass, Ariz., in 1897, viz.: Leonard Albertson, Walter Huffman and Bill Waterman, and they are as innocent of the crime as an unborn babe.

"The names of the men who committed the crime are Dave Atkins, Ed Bullin, Will Carver, Sam Ketchum, Bronco Bill and myself.

"I have given to my attorney in Clayton means by which articles taken in said robbery, may be found where we hid them and also the names of witnesses who live in that vicinity, who will testify that myself and gang were in that neighborhood both immediately before and after the robbery.

"The fact that these men are innocent and are suffering impels me to make this confession.

"While you cannot help me and while I realize that all efforts to secure to me a commutation of my sentence have signally failed, I wish to do this much in the interest of these innocent men who, so far as I know, never committed a crime in their lives.

"I make this statement fully realizing that my end is fast approaching and that I must very soon meet my Maker."

Thomas Ketchum, alias "Black Jack," had been the most noted desperado of the Southwest for many years, and although he boasted, it is said, of having taken the lives of many fellow beings, his execution set for to-day was for an attempted train robbery near Folsom, N. M., Aug. 16, 1899, in which nobody was killed.

Hundreds of armed men, many of them cowboys from the surrounding country, arrived here to-day to be present at the hanging and trouble was feared.

Twenty deputies guarded the jail to prevent any attempt at rescue, and the hour of the execution was kept secret.

Owing to rumors of organized bands making preparations to rescue Ketchum extreme precautions were taken to hold the prisoner, who was removed from Folsom jail to Clayton this week by special train under a heavy guard of deputies.

After his arrival there a forged notice was sent to the Governor of the State purporting to be from President McKinley postponing the hanging.

"Black Jack" is said to have been the leader of a band of outlaws who committed many train robberies and other raids in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. This gang has been scattered since his arrest, seven or eight having been killed.

CHINA'S EMPRESS GIVES UP HER THRONE RIGHTS.

Arbitrary Power Assigned to a Commission Which Will Rule the Empire.

Anti-Foreign Element in the Board Likely to Nullify Good That Li Hung Chang and Others May Accomplish.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The following cablegram has been received at the State Department from Mr. Squier, the United States Chargé at Peking, dated to-day:

"The Empress Dowager has appointed a board of national administration to relieve her of her public functions. They embrace three members of the Cabinet now with the Emperor at Sian-Fu and Prince Ching, Viceroy Li and Prince Kung, who are now in Peking.

"This news is regarded as of importance, indicating, as it does the relinquishment by the Empress Dowager of the arbitrary powers she heretofore has exercised.

"It also is apparent that she has placed herself in a position to avoid strict responsibility as the foreigners for whatever may happen in the future. The board will have to bear a share of any complaint. The appointment of this board, it is felt, will make it much easier for the foreign Ministers to transact business with the Chinese Government.

"The three members of the board now at Sian-Fu include the notorious Jung-Lu, who was one of the most active in the outbreak against the foreigners last summer. One of the other members of this council is seventy years old and is said to be greatly debilitated. The third member has been at least lukewarm toward foreign interests. The choice of these three is looked upon as likely to complicate the good which Li Hung Chang and the others may accomplish.

EDICT PUZZLES THE CHINESE.

PEKING, April 26.—The Chinese are wondering if the Imperial Commission appointed by an edict issued April 21 to inquire fully into the question of reforms really means the relinquishment of absolute power by the Empress, or whether it is merely the formation of a private council.

Notices to Chinese were placarded during the night calling on patriotic Chinamen to rise, May 15, and expel all foreigners.

Yung Lu-Fung, Viceroy of Chi-li province, has memorialized the throne to return.

A Japanese gunboat left for Shanghai April 23, on imperial duty. Rumors have been circulated of a Board, consisting of Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang, the Chinese plenipotentiaries at Yangtsun, Kun Yang, Wang Wen-Shao and others, conferring with Viceroys Liu Kun-Yi and Chang Chih-Tung, and with Imperial Commissioners to inquire into the question of reform, to select those measures most important for the safety and welfare of the Empire, and to report results to the Emperor.

The latter, it was added, after returning to Peking and obtaining the approval of the Dowager Empress to the suggested reforms, would issue rescripts in accordance therewith.

FRENCH WANTED TO SEIZE EMPRESS.

PARIS, April 26.—The Gaulois affirms that Gen. Bailloud and Col. Marchand some time ago contemplated an attempt to seize the Chinese Empress and cofter. Gen. Bailloud approached Col. Marchand and asked him if he would undertake a certain enterprise which would probably hasten the end of hostilities.

The Colonel replied that he was willing, and Gen. Bailloud and Col. Marchand drew up a plan, the execution of which was venturous but feasible. The diplomats, however, opposed the scheme and it fell through.

BRITAIN WANTS INDEMNITY CUT.

LONDON, April 26.—A representative of the Associated Press learns that Great Britain is not relaxing her efforts to induce the Powers to decrease their pecuniary demands on China and substitute for a portion of their claims commercial agreements.

The latest advices from the British Minister at Peking, Sir Thomas Sadow, do not indicate any degree of success so far, owing, it is said, to opposition on the part of Germany, who continues to insist on the payment in full of the original indemnity claims. Mr. Rockhill, the American Special Commissioner, is working in Peking, and Sir Ernest Satow are acting in identical lines.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The foreign representatives here are receiving a number of important dispatches relating to the question of indemnity and they expect to be enlightened by a Chinese plan of settlement. The dispatches, coming through the Chinese Legation, are said to be of a character which officials say shows that China is prepared to offer a sum in excess of $300,000,000, and the impression is conveyed that this will be the amount agreed upon, the various claims being scaled down to this limit.

CHINESE ARMY READY FOR FIGHT.

PEKING, April 26.—The Chinese regulators who have gone beyond the Great Wall have reported that they are within striking distance of the Russian lines. Strong protests have been made to the Chinese Plenipotentiaries in regard to the necessity for the immediate withdrawal of the Russian forces in Manchuria, but the Russians have not yet responded to the call of the imperial edicts.

It is believed that if a fight does occur it will be done without orders from the Peking Government, and that the Russians will be held responsible for the consequences of their aggression.

The Chinese Government is in great danger, and if the Emperor is doubtful about returning so far as Ko-Fung-Tai, he will hardly venture to return until the Powers have arranged for the foreign occupation. But, he adds, an early date for the return should, if possible, be issued.

EMPRESS IS A CRAFTY WOMAN.

From a slave girl in one of the low families of China, Tsen-Tson first rose to be the absolute ruler of 400,000,000 people.

The story of her life reads like a page taken from a book of Oriental romance.

From the hour she entered the harem of the Emperor Hienfung she plotted for the accession to power that is a bloody chapter in the history of the world.

She has been openly charged by her own people with being a Lucretia Borgia. Two Emperors—Hienfung and Tung Chih—are said to have been poisoned by her command. She has ordered decapitated without trial scores of her countrymen who opposed her methods.

She is not a Tartar like the other rulers of China. She was born near Canton, of obscure Chinese stock. Day by day she stood while a child with her parents at the gates of the Temple of Buddha begging for a bowl of rice.

She was finally sold as a slave into the family of a noted general, where she became a great favorite. On the occasion of his promotion the General presented her to the Emperor.

Her beautiful face and form and her charming manners attracted the attention of the Emperor. She soon became the favorite of his harem. Step by step she gained power over him.

By intrigue, by deceit, by bribery and murder she weaved the plot that made her mistress of the mighty empire.

It is over forty years ago since this wonderful woman came into power. She has governed with a rule more despotic than that of the Czar of Russia. Her word has been absolute law.

By sheer force of character and will she has bent like reeds the wisest and strongest men of her nation. Li Hung Chang, the greatest statesman that the Orient has ever known, has been like putter's clay to her moulding.

Her reign has been picturesque, dramatic and bloody. She has ruined great families and assassinated great princes. She has held at defiance the allied powers of the civilized world.

The story of her accession to power seems almost incredible.

When the Emperor Hienfung died in August, 1861, at Jehol, he left a will in pursuance of which his son, Kuang Siu, then less than six years old, was proclaimed his successor, and a board of regency, comprising eight members of the imperial family, was appointed.

In the following November the young Emperor was brought to Peking, and seated in the same carriage with him were Tsi Tsui, the Empress Dowager, or principal widow of Hienfung, and also Tsen-Tson Hsi. On the day following their arrival in the palace, Prince Kung, a brother of the deceased Emperor, carried out a plot for the removal of the Regents, having previously secured the assent and cooperation both of the Empress Dowager and Tsen-Tson Hsi. This revolution having been effected, the Empress Dowager Tsi Tsui was proclaimed Regent.

In 1873 the Empress Tsi Tsui died suddenly in a suspicious manner. From that day Tsen-Tson Hsi took up the reins of government. She has since been the Empress Dowager—the absolute ruler of China.

HOSPITAL CASE FOR GRAND JURY.

unfortunate woman, appealed to Deputy Commissioner York, and the first thing today Mr. York called for reports of all concerned in the case. These were furnished at once. The statements of Policeman Frederick Schlottman, of the Fenderbush station, of Sergt. Todd and the matron. They were the same as given in The Evening World, and show that the police officials realized that the woman was ill and not drunk, that when called the second time Dr. Connell was reluctant to take the patient, and only did so when the sergeant strongly insisted.

Guarded at the Hospital.

So guarded are the officers at the hospital that even when a reporter for The Evening World told Dr. Robinson President Sheppard Gandy had sent him to see Mr. Ludlum, the general manager, he refused to take in the card of the visitor.

Finally Dr. Robinson walked into another room and returned in a few seconds with the information: "Mr. Ludlum has nothing to say."

"But," said the reporter, "I have come with instructions from Mr. Gandy, President of this corporation, to see Mr. Ludlum on a serious matter—a rich woman's death that possibly may have been hastened by the neglect of an ambulance surgeon. Mr. Gandy surely has some privileges here, has he not?"

"There is nothing more to say," replied Dr. Robinson.

When Mr. Gandy was seen at his office, George H. Prentiss & Co., No. 15 Wall street, a half hour later, he said:

"See Mr. Ludlum. Use my name."

Gandy Determined.

Mr. Gandy was told that his name in this particular case was of no value at the hospital.

"Well," he said, "I propose to sift this matter to the bottom. I don't like this erasure on the record where 'alcoholism' has been written.

"I have already started an investigation, and this afternoon I expect to learn more fully the facts in the case from beginning to end, and then the guilty persons will be punished. It's a queer case. We are anxious to get to the bottom of it."

BLEW SAFE TO SPLINTERS.

Cracksmen Got Away with Papers and Left Blood Marks.

Cracksmen broke into the butcher store of J. W. Henshon, in Paterson, at 3 o'clock this morning and blew open the safe, carrying off valuable papers and $30 in money.

The noise of the explosion was heard three blocks away. The safe door was hurled through the glass front, landing in the middle of the street. Three men were seen leaving the store after the explosion. The combination of the safe was blown so far that it cannot be found.

From fresh blood stains near the safe it is presumed that in the explosion the men were injured.

RUNAWAY HORSE IN A WINDOW.

Equine Burst Into Jewelry Store Next Hotel Savoy.

A horse and wagon plunged through the big plate-glass window of the jewelry store of Edwin W. Dayton, at No. 565 Fifth avenue, next the Savoy Hotel, at noon to-day.

Before his plunge through one of the biggest plate-glass windows in the city, the horse had left a trail of excitement through the heart of the Fifth avenue district.

Attached to a light delivery wagon, the property of James Cristatos, a florist, the horse was standing in front of the latter's place of business, at No. 101 West Fifty-eighth street, when a big automobile hansom bowled along Sixth avenue, whirring furiously.

The horse became frightened and dashed forward, narrowly escaping collision with the Sixth avenue surface cars. It ran east to Fifth avenue where another automobile was passing up from the south. The horse turned and dashed north past the mansions of the Vanderbilts to the Circle, which was crowded with fashionable promenaders.

Still another automobile whirled into Fifth avenue from Fifty-ninth street at this point. When the frenzied horse saw the third automobile bearing down on him he swerved to the east side of the street and clearing the curb plunged headlong through the big window.

The animal succeeded in dragging the wagon after him through the wrecked window and plunged about, wrecking the costly furnishings. Mounted and bicycle police ran from the Central Park entrance and subdued him. The entire window had to be broken out to extricate the horse and vehicle.

13-YEAR-OLD GIRL MISSING.

Had Kept House for Her Father—Bemoaned Her Poverty.

Kate Passaqua, thirteen years old, is missing from No. 133 West Third street. Her grief-stricken father has asked the police to seek her. She had kept house for him.

She often complained that she could not dress as well as other girls.

On the 13th of this month, when he returned from work, he found a note from her saying she was going to be nurse for the child of a woman in Fortieth street. Then she disappeared.

CAUGHT THUGS AT WORK.

Park Row Hold-Up Victim Watched with Detectives.

An excited man rushed into the Oak street police station at 3.30 o'clock this morning and told the Sergeant that he had been held up and robbed at Roosevelt street and Park Row.

He said he was Joseph Heavey, a laborer, of No. 156 Greenwich street. Four men, he said, had held him up and taken $11.60.

Policeman Lubbe and Detectives Allen and Dister within half an hour saw two youths following a man in the same locality.

They arrested the two and Heavey identified them as the two men who had rifled his pockets.

SAY THEIR RICH FATHER IS MAD.

Children of J. W. Curtis Ask for Insanity Commission.

Jeremiah W. Curtis, a wealthy retired business man, of No. 1 East Fifty-third street, is to be examined as to his sanity on application of his children.

The petition to Justice Andrews in the Supreme Court was signed by Mabel Evans, Laura C. Harris, Gerald S. Curtis, Frank G. Curtis and others.

Curtis is fifty-seven years old. No specific indication of insanity is given in the application for a commission to examine him.

Justice Andrews appointed John H. Price and Dr. Matthew Chalmers as the commission.

At the Curtis home his son, who has just returned from a trip to Europe, made this statement:

"My father suffered a stroke of paralysis three years ago. He has never recovered from it. For some time he was under the care of specialists and their failure to benefit him brought on acute mental troubles.

"He is in no condition to transact business. It is true that he retired from active business some time ago, but he has still many interests in connection with his estate which require much attention.

MAYOR AGAINST M'CARREN BILL.

Will Give Public Hearing on Plan to Extend Bridge Terminal.

Mayor Van Wyck announced to-day that he would hold a public hearing on the McCarren Bridge bill on Tuesday next, at 2.30 in the afternoon.

It is believed that the Mayor will disapprove the bill, which would kill it. This belief is based on the fact that the Mayor has disapproved every measure which lessened the responsibility of the Board of Estimate.

This bill provides that a majority of the Board of Estimate may seize property for the purpose of extending the Park Row terminal of the Brooklyn Bridge, while all other laws oblige a unanimous vote of that board.

It was drawn at the direction of Bridge Commissioner Shea, and the plans contemplate the condemnation of the property in the two triangles north of the bridge entrance, the one being bounded by William street and Park Row, and filled with saloons, restaurants and pawnbroking places, while the other is bounded by Tryon Row, Park Row, Centre and Chambers streets.

Vanderbilt to his son Cornelius, as a trust for the latter's children.

The appeal was from an order of the Appellate Division, first department, affirming an order of Surrogate Thomas of New York County, affirming the report of Robert Mazet, who appraised the estate at $6,421,092.

DYNAMITE TORE MAN TO BITS.

Soldier Carried Three-Pound Charge, Which Exploded.

John Ralph, a soldier, was instantly killed by an explosion of dynamite at Fort Schuyler, where he was stationed this afternoon.

Ralph was at work in the fort, upon which improvements are being made.

Dynamite is extensively used and an accidental explosion caused Ralph's death.

The soldier was twenty-three years old.

Ralph was a member of the Coast Artillery and had been in the service two years. It was reported that two others had been injured.

Ralph was helping a contractor who was engaged in blowing to pieces some old stone.

A soldier at the time had a three-pound dynamite cartridge in his hand and the explosion of some other cartridge in some way exploded this cartridge.

He was blown to pieces.

HORSEMAN PEACOCK HURT.

Mr. Peacock was taken to the hotel in an ambulance. Dr. Finch attended him. He will be about in a few days.

Mr. Peacock was trying to break in a new horse. The animal got the bit between his teeth, shied and bucked until the rider was shot from the saddle.

A mounted policeman caught the horse.
