POLO GROUNDS, Sept. 5.

Some more work for the undertaker; another job for the casket-maker.

In the local cemetery we are very, very busy digging a brand new grave, so there's no hope for the Giants.

That's the most important part of a college battle song.

Capt. Clarke and his Pittsburg Pirates had heard it somewhere in their roamings. It impressed them and all were vehement in the singing of it this afternoon just before the first section of to-day's two-part programme began.

The words wafted their way over to the eastern end of the grounds where stands the little red chapel in which the local fellows were dressing for the fray.

When Pittsburg wins the pennant—if it does—its players ought to be good enough to send just a strip of the "rag" to the men up here. It would only be a show of appreciation.

The New Yorkers' old mate, Eddie Doheny, whose flings were not considered good enough variety to permit of his wearing a New York uniform, and who on his release was grabbed by Pittsburg, was the artist to face the Davisites in the first game.

It was Eddie's first appearance in Gotham in a Pittsburg suit, and his great doings in that garb rightly drove fear in the local men.

Al Maul, the new Giant, was selected at the very last minute to endeavor to fool the Pirates.

Of course Pittsburg scored in the opening inning. Maul's offerings were easy, and the Pirates, by some accurate swings of their clubs, slammed out enough singles to count four times.

Alex Smith Knocked Out.

Alex Smith got a knockout in the second inning. He had to withdraw from the game and Jack Warner took his place. Alex got too close to Clarke's bat, and when the latter made a swing at the ball he caught the New Yorker on the eye.

Each team tallied a run in the third. The Pirates got theirs by a free base, a steal and a hit, while the New Yorkers did a bit of hitting to get their tally. Pittsburg batted some more in the fourth and got two more runs.

The visitors used their sticks in the fifth and seventh innings again and netted two runs. Doheny, who didn't prove such an enigma for the New Yorks, complained of soreness in his arm in the seventh, and Phillipi relieved him.

Phillipi slapped out a hummer when two men were on bases in the eighth, and the Pirates had three more runs. It was the same old story in the ninth by the Pittsburgers. They batted and they scored three runs. During the game they tallied just 22 hits off Maul and got 5 bases on balls.

The Davis crowd scored 10 hits, but they couldn't bunch them. Each side made one error.

SCORE BY INNINGS:

Pittsburg	4	0	1	2	1	0	1	3	3	—15
New York	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	—1

BALL GROUNDS, WASHINGTON PARK, BROOKLYN, Sept. 5.—The rival of the Pittsburgs to lose a few games on their present Eastern trip is having its effect on the local fans, and even the "dyed-in-the-wool" Brooklyn rooters were of the settled conviction that the "rag" was not for the Superbas. Yesterday's jolt by Biddy McPeen's Heinegabules was the one that killed the hopes of Papa Hanlon and his two-time winners.

Wait till the Pittsburgs go up against the Phillies and Brooklyns, is the present Gowanus slogan. There isn't much comfort in this. The way Fred Clarke and his crew are fortifying themselves by walloping Boston and New York will give them a safe lead. By the time they tackle their nearest rivals and even if they lost six straight to the Phillies and Champs, they can go home with first place still theirs.

Although it was "ladies' day" less than 1,500 spectators were present when play began.

There were two shifts in the line-up of both teams. Bill Dahlen reported sick and McCreery played short for Brooklyn. Outer Fielder Dobbs was called home to Chattanooga to the deathbed of his brother and Pitcher Suthoff took his place.

First Inning.

McCreery tossed over Fox's hard welt. Harley grounded to Daly. Beckley tipped off a single to right and Crawford dropped a beauty to centre. Magoon walked, filling the corners. McCreery let Steinfeld's grasser go through him. Beckley and Crawford scoring. Magoon took third on the error and was nailed at the plate on an attempted double steal. Two runs.

Keler's little liner over Steinfeldts head was good for two sacks. Beckley grabbed Sheckard's liner and passed the ball to Magoon, doubling Keeler up. Dolan's wicked grounder to Magoon netted one base. Kelley forced him at second. No runs.

Second Inning.

Suthoff shattered the air. Peitz beat out a slow grasser to Irwin. Stimmel fled to Keeler. Fox singled. Harley forced Fox at second, Daly making a great stop and scooping up the ball to McCreery. No runs.

Daly strolled; McCrery soared to Magoon; Irwin hit to Stimmel and a lightning double play followed. No runs.

Third Inning.

Daly beat down Beckey's hot liner and threw the runner out. Crawford fled to Dolan. Sheckard took Magoon's liner. No runs.

Farrell died, Magoon to Beckley. Harley muffed Kitson's fly. Keeler swatted a double past Beckley. Sheckard singled to right, scoring Kitson and Keeler. The decision at the plate was close, and the Reds kicked. During the mix-up Sheckard ran down to second and was nailed by Peitz. Sheckard tried to block Magoon, who turned and fired the ball at the Brooklyn player, hitting him on the back. Sheckard walked away. Dolan was out, Peitz to Beckley. Two runs.

Fourth Inning.

Steinfeldt flied to Dolan. Suthoff singled. Peitz singled. Stemmel's pop-up went to Kelley. Fox flied to Sheckard. No runs.

Wheeler fanned. Daly singled past Steinfeldt. McCreery singled to left. Irwin flied to Sudhoff. Farrell's long liner was hauled down by Harley. No runs.

Fifth Inning.

Harley laced a single to centre. Beckley's sacrifice, Kitson to Kelley, advanced him to second. Daly stopped Crawford's hot drive, but could not field it. Magoon walked, filling the bases. Daly grabbed Steinfeldt's liner and threw to McCreery, doubling up Crawford. No runs.

Kitson flied to Sudhoff. Magoon fielded Keeler out. Sheckard soared to Harley. No runs.

HARLEM RESULTS.

RACE TRACK, HARLEM, Sept. 5.—The races scheduled to be run here to-day resulted as follows:

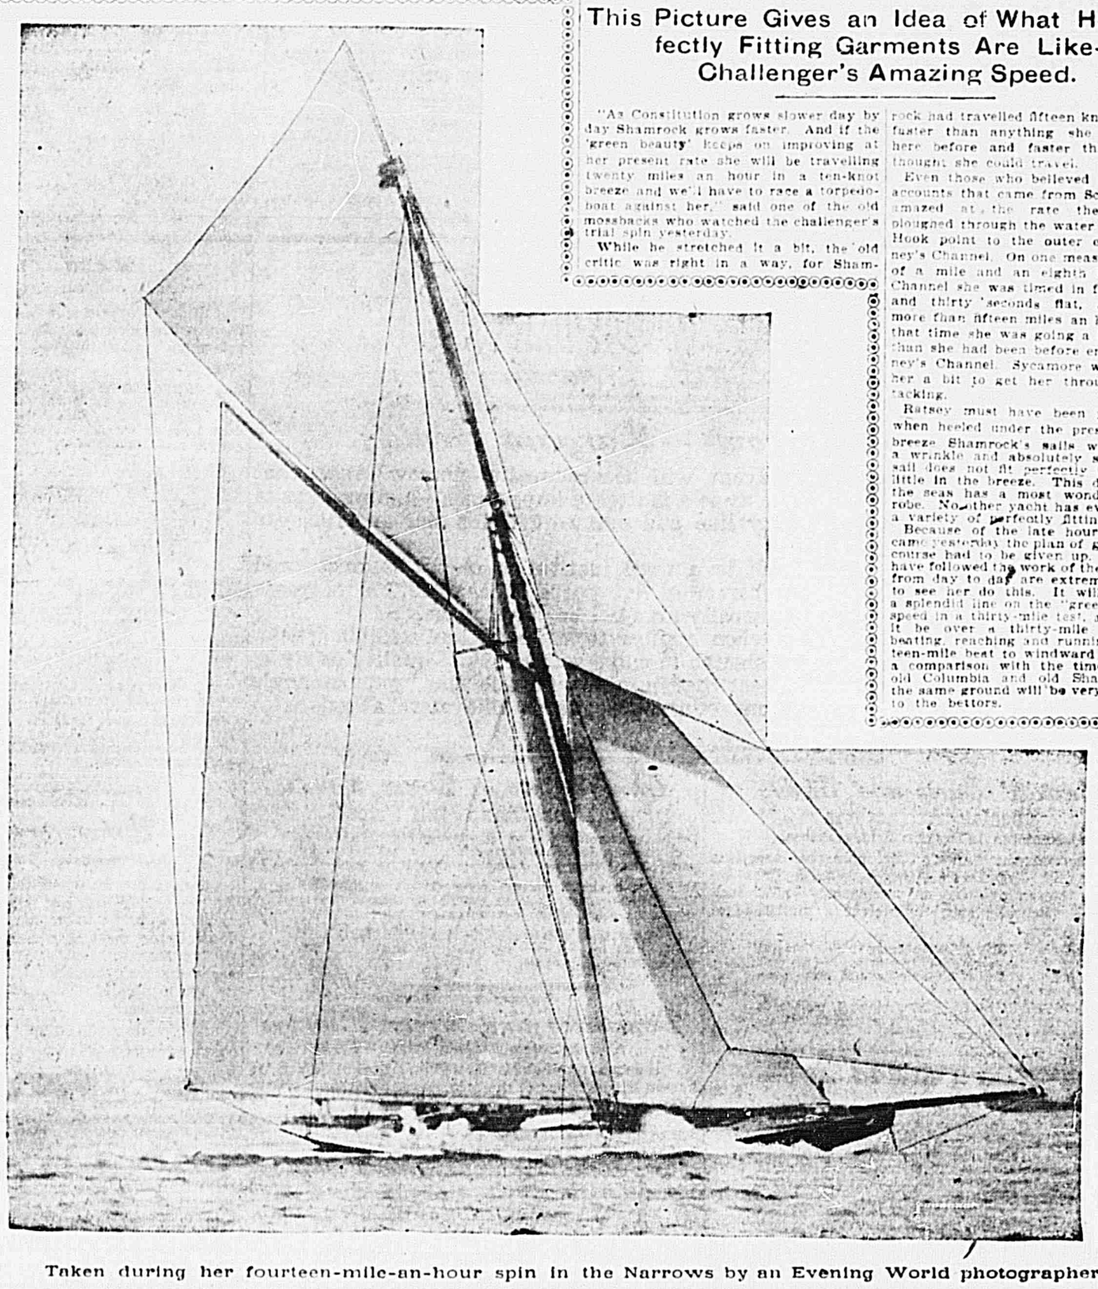
NOT A WRINKLE IN SHAMROCK'S 14,000 SQUARE FEET OF SAIL.

This Picture Gives an Idea of What Her Perfectly Fitting Garments Are Like—Challenger's Amazing Speed.



Taken during her fourteen-mile-an-hour spin in the Narrows by an Evening World photographer.

"As Constitution grows slower day by day Shamrock grows faster. And if the 'green beauty' keeps on improving at her present rate she will be travelling twenty miles an hour in a ten-knot breeze and we'll have to race a torpedo-boat against her," said one of the old mossbacks who watched the challenger's trial spin yesterday.

While he stretched it a bit, the old critic was right in a way, for Shamrock had travelled fifteen knots an hour, faster than anything she had shown here before and faster than anybody thought she could travel.

Even those who believed the glowing accounts that came from Scotland were amazed at the rate the Shamrock ploughed through the water from Sandy Hook point to the outer end of Gedney's Channel. On one measured stretch of a mile and an eighth in Gedney's Channel she was timed in four minutes and thirty seconds flat, a speed of more than fifteen miles an hour, and at that time she was going a little slower than she had been before entering Gedney's Channel. Sycamore was pinching her a bit to get her through without tacking.

Ratsey must have been pleased, for when heeled under the pressure of the breeze Shamrock's sails were without a wrinkle and absolutely still—when a sail does not fit perfectly it flutters a little in the breeze. This debutante of the seas has a most wonderful wardrobe. No other yacht has ever had such a variety of perfectly fitting garments.

Because of the late hour the breeze came yesterday the plan of going over a course had to be given up. Those who have followed the work of the challenger from day to day are extremely anxious to see her do this. It will give them a splendid line on the "green beauty's" speed in a thirty-mile test, and whether it be over a thirty-mile triangle at beating, reaching and running, or a fifteen-mile beat to windward and return, a comparison with the times made by old Columbia and old Shamrock over the same ground will be very interesting to the bettors.

HENO WON THE DASH STAKES.

Mackay's Colt Beat Out Leonora Loring at Sheepshead Bay.

(Special to The Evening World.)

SHEEPSHEAD BAY RACE TRACK, Sept. 5.—There was a splendid card of races at Sheepshead this afternoon, perfect racing weather, a lightning fast track and plenty of bookmakers in the ring laying good juicy prices.

The racegoers cup of happiness, therefore, should be full on such occasions as this when there is nothing lacking and conditions are as perfect as they were to-day.

The stake features were the Dash Stakes and Turf Handicap, both of which had splendid fields and promised unusually interesting contests. The attendance was almost as large as it was yesterday, when the Flatbush was the drawing attraction.

Next week the attendance will be larger for the reason that many race goers are still away awaiting for the bugle call which summons the young members of the families back to school.

FIRST RACE.

For silly two-year-olds; five furlongs.

Starters.	whts.	jocks.	St.	1/2	Fin.	Str.	Place.	Betting.
Flora Pomona	119	Woods	6	3½	1¹	10	5-2
Rose of May	114	Burns	3	2²	2n	6	6-5

Tippetoe	104	Bishop	9	9	9	150	20

Start good. Won driving. Time—1.00 4-5.

Hatasoo and Rose of May raced away together followed by Octoroon and Flora Pomona. There was no change to the stretch, when Flora Pomona closed rapidly and bearing down the leaders in the last sixteenth, drew away and won by a length from Rose of May, who beat Hatasoo a head.

SECOND RACE.

For maiden three-year-olds and up; one mile.

Starters.	whts.	jocks.	St.	1/2	Fin.	Str.	Place.	Betting.

Pathfinder	109	Shaw	8	8	13	3	3-2

Start good. Won handily. Time—1.41.

Pathfinder was the pacemaker in the early part, followed by Kalif and Somerset. The latter went to the front near the turn and made the pace to the stretch, where he was joined by Arak. They raced head and head to the last sixteenth, where Somerset was done. Golden Grain then came through and, taking the lead, won cleverly by a length. Arak was second, a head before Lamp o' Lee.

THIRD RACE.

The Dash, for two-year-olds, five furlongs.

Starters.	whts.	jocks.	St.	1/2	Fin.	Str.	Place.	Betting.
Heno	104	Burns	1	4¹	1¹	6	2
Leonora Loring	107

Beauchamp			6	7	7⁸	30	8
Andalusian	104	Woods	7	8	8	60	20
Renald	104	Sims	9	9	9	60	20

Start good. Won ridden out. Time—0.59 2-4.

Leonora Loring cut out the running, followed by Cornwall and Cameron, this order holding to the stretch. There Cornwall weakened and Burns sent Heno along to the leaders. In the last furlong Heno closed, and after a sharp drive drew away and won by a length. Leonora Loring was stopping at the end, but lasted long enough to beat Cameron a head.

FOURTH RACE.

The Turf Handicap, for three-year-olds and up; one mile and a quarter.

Starters.	whts.	jocks.	St.	1/2	Fin.	Str.	Place.	Betting.
Watercure	110	O'Connor	2	3	1¹	5-2	1-2
Decanter	106	Burns	1	1	2n	4-5	—
Kamara	105	Odom	3	2½	3	7-2	1-2

Start good. Won easily. Time—2.08 1-5.

Decanter was odds on choice for the Turf Handicap, but after leading for a mile he was compelled to give way to Watercure, who came away and won with a lot to spare, by a length. Decanter was compelled to do his best to beat Kamara a head.

FIFTH RACE.

For three-year-olds and up; handicap; seven furlongs.

Starters.	whts.	jocks.	St.	1/2	Fin.	Str.	Place.	Betting.
Duelist	97	Wonderly	2	4¹	1¹	1	2
Belle of Lex	102	Rice	3	1¹	2¹	2	8-5
Chuctanunda	115	Turner	1	3n	3n	9-10	1-2
Aland Scheck	110	Woods	4	6	4⁴	3	1
Lady Uncas	86	Timpas	5	5¹	5½	15	5
Hinsell	88	Daly	6	7	6	15	20

Start poor. Won driving. Time—1.26 3-5.

Chuctanunda and Duelist jumped away in front but were outrun by Belle of Lexington, who took the lead at the end of a furlong and set a hot pace a length before Chuctanunda. Duelist and Lady Uncas who raced heads apart. There was no change in this order until the stretch was reached. There Lady Uncas was the first to crack. Chuctanunda also tired and Duelist began to close on Belle of Lexington. He nailed her in the last jump, winning by a short head. Belle of Lexington was two lengths in front of Chuctanunda.

KINGSLEY ADMITS YACHT BET FAKE.

Walter J. Kingsley, the alleged commissioner for an English betting syndicate, confessed to an Evening World reporter to-day that the story of wagers between him and Pittsburg capitalists aggregating $400,000 was a skilfully devised "fake."

W. J. Mustin, one of the members of the Steel Trust, was the most prominent figure in the execution of the "fake," and it was solely on his statement made at the Waldorf-Astoria that the story was accepted.

Mr. Kingsley confesses that he merely acted the part of a press agent, for which service he was paid, and, so far from being loaded down with hundred-pound banknotes, his purse was rather light.

Mr. Kingsley returned to this city from Pittsburg yesterday after closing his business with the Pittsburg men, who had become alarmed at the notoriety and criticism that followed the announcement of the wager.

"The idea of this story occurred to me," said Mr. Kingsley to The Evening World reporter, "when I read an announcement that C. Arthur Pearson, of London, was ready to bet $25,000 on Shamrock.

"I was a passenger on the Deutschland with the Pittsburg millionaires, and when the ship was two days out the smoking-room talk was on the notoriety which Schwab and Morgan had received from the steel strike.

"I said to several of the Smoky City party:

"'Gentlemen, I can give those stories cards and spades. I can make the name of Pittsburg and you gentlemen known as far as the cables reach.'

"I then unfolded the plan, to which the steel men readily lent themselves in the spirit that the whole thing was a big hoax. They had no idea it would develop as it did.

"The Pittsburgers didn't like the criticism at all. It was my intention to 'place' an additional $150,000 'bet' when I arrived here yesterday, but it was deemed prudent not to do so.

"The whole matter was called off. I got my pay. I acted merely as a press agent. I was the poorest man in the crowd. Now, so far as I am concerned, the incident is closed."

OLD CHAMPION COLUMBIA AGAIN TO BE CUP DEFENDER.

Challenge of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club held on the flagship at 11.30 A. M., the Columbia was selected to represent the New York Yacht Club.

"J. V. S. ODDIE, Secretary."

Duncan Disappointed.

Mr. W. Butler Duncan, jr., manager of the Constitution, expressed disappointment that his boat was not selected as the cup defender. He said that everything possible had been done to get the best speed out of her. He had no fault to find with the officers or crew. He said that Capt. Rhodes had been both skilful and faithful, and the manager had nothing but praise for the Constitution's skipper.

As interested yachtsmen view the situation the Columbia has been tuned up to the point of perfection. Her crew are enthusiastic believers in her capabilities. Their drill and discipline are beyond praise and nobody who has watched them has any doubt that they will make a gallant defense of the cup.

After the Challenge Committee's meeting to-day it was learned that there would be no more racing of the ninety-footers at Newport. The time between now and the international cup race at Sandy Hook on Sept. 21 will be spent in putting the Columbia in the best possible condition to defend the cup.

Lipton Glad Question Is Settled.

Sir Thomas Lipton, when told that The Evening World had announced the selection of the Columbia as the American Cup defender, was leaning on the rail of the Erin talking over the waters of the Horseshoe to The Evening World reporter.

"Is that official?" said Sir Thomas.

"Yes; The Evening World has the information."

"Well, if it is in The Evening World it must be so," said Sir Thomas. The Irish sportsman's face was wreathed in smiles and he waved his hands as he shouted, "Well, I am glad it is settled."

Asked if he had anything to say, he replied:

"Well, what can I say except that I am bound and happy to sail against any boat the New York Yacht Club Committee chooses. I have got a fast boat, the fastest boat in all Europe.

"I hope we will have a fair race in a good breeze and may the best boat win.

"We are going to have a fine race this time, I think, and maybe Shamrock will be a surprise, I hope so."

Later on Sir Thomas received a private despatch telling that another newspaper had announced Columbia selected, confirming The Evening World's exclusive news.

PHENOMENAL GOLF IN PRACTICE PLAY.

Walter Egan, the Westerner, Goes Over Atlantic City Course in Record-Breaking Score of 78.

(Special to The Evening World.)

COUNTRY CLUB, NORTHFIELD, N. J., Sept. 5.—The golfers who are taking advantage of the preliminary practice over the Atlantic City Country Club links, prior to the amateur championship, which begins next Monday, were startled somewhat this morning by Walter Egan, Onwentsia Club, Chicago, going out in 38 and returning in 40, one stroke better than the competitive record for the course of 79, held by E. A. Darby.

It was a phenomenal display of skill and by a young man who is regarded as one of the most dangerous in the tournament. He comes with the fine reputation of having made a new nine-hole, a new eighteen-hole and a new thirty-six-hole record for the Midlothian Country Club at the recent Western Association championship meeting, when he did his two rounds of the course in 81 and 85, making 166 for the thirty-six holes.

His great card, which lowers all previous records, is as follows:

Walter Egan, Onwentsia Club:

Out	5	5	4	5	5	3	5	3	3—38
In	4	4	3	3	5	3	4	3	6—40—78

Egan han a chance for a 76, but missed two short puts on the last two holes, taking six strokes for each hole, after reaching the greens in three.

Walter J. Travis, the present amateur champion, played a round with John Reed, the club professional, but said he was studying the course and would not settle down to his best efforts until Saturday.

Findlay S. Douglas, Nassau Country Club, and champion of the Metropolitan Club, arrived at the links shortly after the middle of the day and will play this afternoon.

English Cricketers Coming.

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Sept. 5.—The American line steamer Haverford, which sailed from this port yesterday for New York on her maiden trip, has among her passengers a number of Capt. J. T. Bosanquet's English team of cricketers, who are to play matches in the United States.

CANADIANS OUTSHOOT YANKEES.

They Lead American Team by 7 Points in Tourney for World's Honors.

SEA GIRT, N. J., Sept. 5.—The carbine team match was the first contest on the programme of the shooting tournament to-day. It was open to teams of five men from any regiment, squadron or troop of cavalry of the regular army, national guard or any foreign government. Five shots were fired at 200 and 500 yards. The First Troop of New Jersey and the Pennsylvania Squadron tied for first place, with a score of 206 each, but the New Jersey team was declared the winner, having made the better score at the 500-yard range. The other scores were:

Squadron A, New York	184
Troop A, Maryland	180
Battery A, Field Artillery, New Jersey	167
Battery B, Field Artillery, New Jersey	163

The other contest was the Centennial Trophy Palma Match, for the championship of the world, open to riflemen of all countries, each team to consist of eight men, and fifteen shots to be fired at each of the three ranges, namely, 800, 900 and 1,000 yards.

The Canada and American teams were the only competitors.

$25,000 WAITS FOR TAKERS.

Broker Ed Wasserman, known as one of the heavy bettors on the Stock Exchange, has $25,000 to bet in a lump sum against $20,000 that Sir Thomas Lipton will not lift the cup

Fred H. Brookes, who represents a syndicate on Wall street that is looking for odds on the yacht race, has promised to take him up.

Mr. Wasserman has already made two bets of $500 to $400 on the American boat, the Shamrock end being taken by W. R. Houghtaling, of No. 7 Nassau street, and Fred Brooks.

These small wagers were made on the Sandy Hook boat last night and led up to Mr. Wasserman's announcement that he had $25,000 to lay at odds.

The money is waiting at the office of Wasserman Bros., at No. 40 Exchange place.

When it was definitely announced today that Columbia would race against Shamrock the betting on the Street dropped to even money, and $20,000 Columbia cash held by Mr. Brookes went begging. The syndicate representative announced that he would have $100,000 within a day or two to lay even.

Mr. Wasserman put his money up at odds before he knew Columbia had been decided upon, but declared to-day that he would keep it up on the same terms.

Broker I. N. Spiegelberg holds the stakes in the two small bets made by Wasserman.

SORES AND ULCERS

Sores and Ulcers never become chronic unless the blood is in poor condition—is sluggish, weak and unable to throw off the poisons that accumulate in it. The system must be relieved of the unhealthy matter through the sore, and great danger to life would follow should it heal before the blood has been made pure and healthy and all impurities eliminated from the system. S. S. S. begins the cure by first cleansing and invigorating the blood, building up the general health and removing from the system all morbid, effete matttter. A Constant Drain When this Upon the System. has been accomplished the discharge gradually ceases, and the sore or ulcer heals. It is the tendency of these old, indolent sores to grow worse and worse, and eventually to destroy the bones. Local applications, while soothing and to some extent alleviating pain, cannot reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. does, and no matter how apparently hopeless your condition, even though your constitution has broken down, it will bring relief when nothing else can. It supplies the rich, pure blood necessary to heal the sore and nourish the debilitated, diseased body.

Mr. J. B. Talbert, Lock Box 245, Winona Miss., says: "Six years ago my leg from the knee to the foot was one solid sore. Several physicians treated me and I made two trips to Hot Springs, but found no relief. I was induced to try S. S. S., and it made a complete cure. I have been a well man ever since."

SSS is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known—contains no poisonous minerals to ruin the digestion and add to, rather than relieve your sufferings. If your flesh does not heal readily when scratched, bruised or cut, your blood is in bad condition, and any ordinary sore is apt to become chronic. Send for our free book and write our physicians about your case. We make no charge for this service.
