ENGLISH DISPLEASED WITH NEW COVENANT

Papers Say It Is Less Satisfactory Than First Draft—Object to Unanimity of Decisions

ATTACK MADE ON WILSON

Post Opponent of League Says President Will Be Classed With Metternich and Castlereagh

LONDON, April 14.—The summary of the amended covenant of the league of nations evokes no enthusiasm in the London morning newspapers and it is declared by some commentators to be less satisfactory than the first draft. The Chronicle for instance points out certain points which it thinks makes the new draft distinctly and perhaps deliberately inferior to the old.

The newspaper condemns the policy of requiring unanimity for the decisions of both the council and assembly and also condemns the reservation which the covenant may be amended and permission given any nation to withdraw on two years notice. As regards the covenant as authorized by the Monroe doctrine amendment which believes should facilitate the adhesion of the United States to the covenant. The Daily News, which is a warm champion of the principle of the league objects to the constitution of the new council, which it says, will manifestly be controlled by prominent representatives of the five great powers when they are in agreement, and it fails to see how the four representatives of other powers chosen for the assembly can have much independence. The newspaper does not express any great confidence in the efficacy of the league in any case. The labor newspaper, the Daily Herald, says the summary does not indicate much improvement on the original draft. It declares that from a democratic viewpoint "the league is still an alliance of states and not a union of peoples."

The Post, which is an opponent of the league and a severe critic of President Wilson, refers ironically to the new "garden of Eden," in which "the Monroe doctrine will take the place of tree of knowledge of good and evil" * * * referring to the fruits of the western hemisphere being overridden as signatories of the league."

Attributing to President Wilson personally the features of the draft to which it most objects the newspaper says the "posterity will place him with Metternich and Castlereagh as one who worked for the confusion of other nations and the greatness of his own." It concludes by declaring it monstrous that such a covenant should be signed without first fairly being considered by the public and parliament.

RAILROADS ASK VALUE OF MIS-SENT CAR OF NAPHTHA

A tank car of naphtha inadvertantly delivered to an oil company other than the one to which the car was billed, led to a suit to recover $1,241.55 filed in district court Monday by Walker D. Hines, director general of the United Sates Railways and the Missouri Pacific railroad, against the Oklahoma Petroleum & Gasoline Co., with offices at Watova, Nowata county.

The plaintiffs claim that on May 11, 1918, they received for shipment from the Home Refining company of Yale, one car of naphtha, consigned to the Riverside Western Oil company at Watova. By some mistake the car was delivered to the defendant company. Now the plaintiffs claim the latter company refuses to pay for the car of naphtha delivered to them which the plaintiff states was used by the defendants.

James H. Sinclair

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Two new partisan leagues in Congress have arrived in Washington.

The first is James H. Sinclair of Kathmere, N. D., who for years in Congress (1911-1913) was speaker of the third house (lower house).

D., and was in that position when he was elected to membership in the house of representatives in the new legislature.

The attack report today follows a long list of Americans who have been wounded or killed by bandits in the Tampico district. Seven of the number were killed.
