GAG RULE FOR THE ALDERMEN

Committee Headed by Mr. James Proposes to Limit Debate.

LOW REFUSES TO TELL.

Declines to Give Information About Attempts at Bribery—Committees Are Named.

As soon as the Board of Aldermen met this afternoon, Alderman James brought in the report of the Committee on Rules. This committee recommended a set of "gag rules," designed to cut off discussion.

Alderman Bridges moved to lay over the report for a week. President Fornes refused to recognize Bridges. Alderman McCall moved to print the rules in the City Record and lay over for a week.

"I protest that the section providing for the appointment of committees should be acted upon at once," said President of the Borough Cantor. "The Sinking Fund Commission cannot meet until the Chairman of the Finance Committee is named. Public business will be seriously delayed if this is not done."

After a lively discussion Alderman McInnes moved to lay Aldeman McCall's motion on the table.

Protests were made and the resolution was withdrawn. Finally a motion was made to allow the appointment of committees and print the balance of the rules. This was adopted, but an amendment was then offered by Alderman James to adopt the rules.

This aroused Alderman Bridges, who spoke at length against the motion.

"We'll make it as hot as possible if you do any wrong to us," said Bridges.

It was finally decided to have the proposed rules printed in the City Record before they are further considered.

Mayor Low returned without approval all the ordinances adopted by the preceding Board of Aldermen and Council toward the end of the session and not acted upon by Mayor Van Wyck.

Snub from the Mayor.

A letter from Mayor Low declining to furnish evidence of an attempt to bribe the Fusion Aldermen was read. Mayor Low said:

My statement to the press, to which reference is made, fails to sustain the preamble in a vital particular. I characterized what I had heard, not as a fact but as a rumor, and the nature of the rumor was given in the statement itself.

I cannot see that any public interest will be furthered by an inquiry into the basis of a rumor that involved the good name of no member of the Board. Neither does it seem to me that the good name of the Board itself has been injured by my calling attention to a rumor as general in its terms.

Under these circumstances I submit that there is nothing further to be communicated.

Alderman Timothy Sullivan said:

"I hardly see that there is anything to do except to let the Mayor withdraw as gracefully as possible from the position he has taken."

Sullivan was cut off by a storm of interruptions and points of order from Fusion members.

"Then I move," shouted Sullivan, "that the Mayor's letter be laid under the table."

This, perhaps intentional, slip provoked much laughter. Then the incident was closed.

Aldermanic Committees.

Following are the new committees of the Board of Aldermen:

Bond Issue Postponed.

When a motion was made to approve the bond issue of $185,000 asked by Commissioner Woodbury for the Department of Street Cleaning and sanctioned by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, objection was made by Alderman McCall.

This objection made it necessary to lay the matter over for one meeting.

Speaking of Gentlemen.

It is easy to be a gentleman. It is a matter of the heart rather than of the intellect. But to be such a gentleman as the hero of "A Gentleman of France" is something few can hope for. Read Stanley J. Weyman's story and judge for yourself. It begins in to-morrow's Evening World.

The New York Central's announcement was made after a meeting of the Board of Directors at the Grand Central Station. This meeting was said to have been stormy.

Some of the directors objected to taking the public into their confidence, because it was felt that the cost of the changes would thereby be increased. President Newman is said to have urged that the plans be concealed. But Senator Depew argued in favor of taking the public into the company's confidence.

The announcement came in the form of a typewritten statement from President Newman.

Stock Increase Voted.

Mr. Newman then retired to the directors' room and reappeared a short time later with the announcement that the directors had voted to ask the stockholders to increase the capital stock from $115,000,000 to $150,000,000. There will be a meeting of the stockholders at Albany, April 9, to vote on this proposition.

According to one of the directors, who did not wish to have his name used, half of the new stock will be apportioned among the present stockholders who desire it at the rate of $25 a share. The other half will be held by the directors for such disposition as they see fit. It may not be sold to the public for less than $125 a share, but for as much more as the market will permit.

This same director said that of the $35,000,000 probably $25,000,000 would be used for the acquiring of property and the construction of the underground loop, and the other $10,000,000 for experiments and the purchase of rolling stock.

All thirteen directors of the company were present. The resolution advising the increase in the stock did not mention the purpose of the increase, but left the disposition of the money to the determination of the directors.

Coroner's Jury Inspects the Tunnel.

The Coroner's jury impanelled to investigate the tunnel disaster went to the Grand Central Station shortly after 11 o'clock to examine the scene of the wreck and the conditions obtaining in the tunnel.

At Sixty-third street, where the green precautionary signal is, one of the jury remarked:

"The green lights are very bad."

Another one said: "Why, the light on the engineer's side is worse than on the fireman's side."

"Light! This is an awful place," said another of them.

All this time trains were rushing back and forth through the tunnel and the air was full of steam.

At times no lights could be seen for thirty seconds when two trains happened to pass at the same time. Some of the jury had narrow escapes from being hit by the trains, so confused did they become at the darkness and noise.

At the scene of the wreck Battalion Chief Pruyn of the Fire Department, and Capt. Lowry, of the East Fifty-first street police station, described the wreck. There was still to be seen the blood of some of the victims on the tunnel wall, and the jurymen were evidently affected by the grueesome sight.

The investigation was finished shortly after 1 o'clock and the inquest was adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Ordinance to End Dangers in Tunnel.

In the Board of Aldermen this afternoon the following ordinance, directing the railroads to change the motive power in Park avenue tunnel, was introduced by Alderman Ware:

Section 1—Within sixty days after this ordinance shall take effect the New York and Harlem Railroad Company, the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company, the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company and any corporation or person having the right to use or using the whole or any part of the railway (meaning thereby the rails, roadbed, viaduct, tunnel and general railroad structure) in that part of Park (sometimes called Fourth) avenue in the Borough of Manhattan, in the city of New York, which is between Forty-second street and the Harlem River, shall each begin preparations to change the said railway so that the propelling power to be used thereon shall no longer be steam, but shall be electricity.

Sec. 2—When two years shall have elapsed after this ordinance shall take effect, no person or corporation may propel, by using steam power, any carriage or car or locomotive or vehicle of any kind along the said railway, or any part thereof, or use any motive power other than electricity for propelling any carriage or car or locomotive or vehicle of any kind along the said railway or any part thereof, or by any motive power conduct, propel or bring any steam engine or locomotive along said railway or any part thereof.

Sec. 3—Any person or corporation directly or indirectly violating any of the provisions o fthis ordinance shall for each and every violation thereof pay a fine of $100. Compliance with this ordinance may also be enforced by any and all the usual remedies allowed by law.

Sec. 4—This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

S. C. CROFT REAPPOINTED AS SURVEYOR OF CUSTOMS.

President Roosevelt Names the Well-Known Republican as His Own Successor in Office.

It was announced in a Washington despatch this afternoon that President Roosevelt had reappointed Silas C. Croft Surveyor of Customs for the Port of New York.

Mr. Croft is an organization Republican, and within the past ten years has come to be recognized as one of the shrewdest practical politicians in his party in New York City. He was one of the original McKinley men in New York and was one of the first to get his reward when he was appointed Surveyor of Customs in 189[illegible].

Mr. Croft was born in 1848 in Putnam County, N. Y. He came to this city when a boy and located in Harlem, which was then a remote community. In the early '70s he started a carpet store in Third avenue, which was then the main thoroughfare of the northern end of the city. The business prospered and Mr. Croft entered politics.

A MEMORIAL TO M'KINLEY.

BOTH HOUSES OF CONGRESS WILL MEET ON FEB. 27.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—In the House to-day a resolution was adopted providing that the two branches of Congress shall assemble in the hall of Representatives on Thursday, Feb. 27, at a memorial meeting in honor of the late President McKinley.

It was also resolved that the President of the United States be requested to transmit a copy of the resolutions to the widow, Mrs. Ida S. McKinley, and to assure her of the profound sympathy of the houses of Congress for her personal affliction and of their sincere condolence for the late national bereavement.

LOW CUTS SHORT SOME SOFT JOBS.

GRADE COMMISSIONERS HAVE TO FINISH BY MAY 1.

Mayor Low has told the Change of Grade Damage Commission of the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards that it must complete its labors by May 1 or be put out of business. The Mayor has the power to remove from office all the commissioners.

In delivering this ultimatum Mayor Low used very soft words.

"I told the gentlemen of the Commision that I felt that they would be able to finish their work by May 1, and that if they did this it would not be necessary for me to abolish the Commission. They agreed with me that they would be able to get through by that time."

This Commission was organized by virtue of a statute passed in 1893, and has been getting an appropriation every year since. The appropriation for 1901 was $17,520.

The commissioners who go out of office May 1 have drawn $3,000 a year apiece since 1893. They are W. E. Stillings, Charles E. Jackson and Oscar S. Bailey. Lamont McLaughlin, clerk, drew $2,500, as did Charles P. Young, stenographer. The commissioners had a $900 messenger, John Devine. Offices were rented in the American Surety Building.

Altogether, the Commission has considered 390 claims, amounting to $4,000,000. In the last four years claims to the amount of $5,621 have been allowed.

Mayor Low acted upon a report prepared for Corporation Counsel Rives by Robert C. Beatty. Mr. Beatty thought the Commission could get through by July 1. But Mayor Low summoned the Commissioners before him this morning and cut down the time to May 1.

No one of the to-be-deposed Commissioners would express his opinion of the Mayor's summary action.

Brooklyn's Latest Firebug.

Brooklyn's Fire Marshal is straining every nerve to find the firebug who started fires at Nos. 59, 91 and 109 Greenpoint avenue on Monday night. All were in crowded tenements, all were started in the cellar with oil-soaked excelsior, and all were started within an hour. The police arrested Ashton Kent, a young vagrant, who was loitering in the neighborhood, but nothing has yet been found against him.

"JOKE" MADE HIM MANIAC FOR LIFE.

Fear that a Trifling Rash Was the Small-Pox Drove Frank Oliger to Icy Swamps.

Practical jokers of Homestead, N. J., convinced Frank Oliger, a young man of that place, that he had small-pox when a trifling rash appeared on his face a week ago. Of a sensitive nature, he brooded over the gibes, and finally fled to the swamps of North Bergen.

He was found this morning insane and almost naked hiding in a small tree in a desolate stretch of land near Rutherford. Should he recover his health it is probable that he will remain a lunatic the rest of his life.

Oliger lived in Orange, N. J., with his family until the beginning of winter, when they moved to Homestead. At that time there was an outbreak of small-pox in the Oranges, but none of the Oligers had been exposed.

About a week ago there appeared a slight breaking out on young Oliger's face. No attention was paid to it at home. His mother administered household remedies which had the effect of making the facial disfiguration more pronounced.

The jokers of the town, knowing that Oliger had come from Orange, took advantage of the fact to satisfy their strange sense of humor. They waylaid him on every hand with dissertations upon small-pox, harped upon the similarity between evidences of the disease and the rash on the face of their victim and regaled him with horrible stories of the pest house at Snake Hill.

HAY ASSURES WETMORE KING WILL RECEIVE SON.

Senator Feared Edward Would Remember the Snub His Wife Inflicted.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Senator Wetmore this afternoon called on Secretary of State Hay in a greatly disturbed frame of mind. He was evidently much worried over the stories that his son might possibly be excluded by King Edward from the coronation pageant.

Senator Wetmore talked to Mr. Hay about five minutes. When he came out he appeared considerably relieved.

What Mr. Hay told him has not been disclosed, but it is said the Secretary assured the Senator that the King will make no objection to young Wetmore as a member of the special embassy.

Senator Wetmore called on President Roosevelt earlier in the day and discussed the case. The Senator declined to say what either the President or Secretary told him.

Inadvertently, President Roosevelt has named as a secretary of the Special Ambassador to King Edward's coronation William E. Ketcltas Wetmore, in face of a royal command that no one named Wetmore was ever to be received at the English court. The difficulty arises from a snub administered by the young man's mother to the Prince at Homburg.

Mr. Wetmore is the eldest son of United States Senator George Peabody Wetmore, of Rhode Island. His mother is beautiful Edith Ketcltas, an heiress and one of the acknowledged belles of New York three decades ago.

In the fall of 1888 she chanced to be at Homburg with her husband coincident with the annual visit of the Prince of Wales. She had lost none of her girlish beauty and was referred to all over the continent as "that superb American."

When the Prince's gaze fell on Mrs. Wetmore he made it known to his courtiers that he was anxious to meet her. Typwhit Wilson was the Prince's messenger. He was properly introduced and conveyed to Mrs. Wetmore His Royal Highness's desire to meet her. Her answer is not on record, but when it was brought the Prince turned to Mrs. James Brown Potter, who was then at Homburg, a member of the Four Hundred and friendly with Mrs. Wetmore.

"I'll fix it," she said, and wrote this note, which she despatched to Mrs. Wetmore by her maid:

My Dear Mrs. Wetmore:

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales would be glad to have the pleasure of your company at luncheon at Ritter's today. If you will come for me at quarter to one, we will go around together. Yours cordially, CORA URQUHART POTTER.

Mrs. Wetmore's reply was:

My Dear Mrs. Potter:

I cannot accept the invitation of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales to luncheon, as conveyed through you. Yours truly, SOUTH KENSINGTON.

The next time Mrs. Wetmore and Mrs. Potter met Mrs. Wetmore told her friend very plainly that she was not in the habit of meeting gentlemen out of her own house except in company with Mr. Wetmore.

The Prince was furiously angry, and

THE KING'S EDICT AGAINST WETMORES

"Don't forget this name—Wetmore. Wetmore, Wetmore! And tell Teesdale Cummings and Knollys about it. Tell them all, and also the Court Chamberlain, that a Wetmore shall never be received at Court. Never, never!"

—Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, at Homburg, as quoted in The World of Oct. 14, 1888.

it was then he issued his edict banishing all Wetmores, particularly the American brand, from his sight and presence.

Young Mr. Wetmore is a well-known member of society. He was one of twenty-four young men invited to Mrs. Astor's ball a week ago. He is a member of the Knickerbocker, Strollers, University and Racquet Clubs, of this city, and the Metropolitan Club, of Washington. While here he lives at the Knickerbocker Club. His father is many times a millionaire, his fortune having been amassed in the China trade.

Considerable of young Wetmore's time is spent in this city, in which he acts as manager of a Hong Kong banking corporation at No. 56 Wall street.

Son Denies the Story.

When seen to-day Mr. Wetmore denied that his mother had snubbed the Prince of Wales. He said that the story was absolutely false.

When asked if he was going to accept the appointment as envoy secretary he said it was nobody's business.

He declined to say anything more.

CONTEST OF THE KOCH WILL.

Legal Battle Resumed in the Supreme Court.

The contest of the will of Henry C. F. Koch, the Harlem dry-goods merchant, who died in September, 1900, was resumed to-day in the Supreme Court before Judge Blanchard. There was a long fight over it in the Surrogate's Court last winter and the will was upheld.

By the terms of the instrument the estate is left to the widow and two sons. The contestant is a son by a former marriage, who after a quarrel with his father changed his name to Heath.

REID A FAVORITE.

London Globe Says the Selection Is a Happy One.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The appointment of Whitelaw Reid as Special Ambassador to represent the United States at the coronation of King Edward has been received with much satisfaction in official and unofficial circles here. The Globe says:

"The selection is a very happy one, as Mr. Reid has always been persona grata in this country and has done all he could, and that has been a great deal, to promote good relations between his country and our own.

"The name of Mr. Cleveland was originally suggested, but we are glad President Roosevelt did not adopt the suggestion. We cannot quite forget the Venezuela message to Congress."

"THE ONE THAT CURES."

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP It will relieve it instantly and cure it in a night. No danger from choking after you have given baby one or two doses.

Every mother should keep a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in the house to be prepared for sudden attacks of croup. Thousands of letters are received from grateful mothers, who say their babies' lives have been saved by Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Be careful and see that you get the genuine; do not let an unreliable dealer sell you some cheap preparation that he says is "just as good as Dr. Bull's." He is thinking of his profits only, not of your health or the health of your baby. See that the "Bull's Head" is on the package, then you know it is the genuine. Dr Bull's Cough Syrup is prescribed by all doctors and used in leading hospitals exclusively. Large bottles at all druggists, 25c.

Norman B. Eyre was Struck by the New York Express.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—Norman B. Eyre, a son of President Eyre, of the Newtown National Bank, was struck by the New York express on the Philadelphia and Reading Railway late last night and instantly killed.

Young Eyre was hurrying to catch a train at the Spring Garden street station, on the Reading road, and stepped from the footwalk onto the tracks just as the express came along.

Are Quick to See

Good Doctors Are Quick to See and Appreciate Real Merit in New Medicines.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a discovery of great value to the medical profession and the public. They are an unfailing specific in all cases of dyspepsia and disordered digestion.

Almost everybody's digestion is disordered more or less, and the commonest thing they do for it is to take some one of the many so-called blood purifiers, which in many cases are merely strong cathartics. Such things are not needed. If the organs are in a clogged condition, they need only a little help and they will right themselves. Cathartics irritate the sensitive linings of the stomach and bowels and often do more harm than good.

Purging is not what is needed. The thing to do is to put the food in condition to be readily digested and assimilated. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this perfectly. They partly digest what is eaten and give the stomach just the help it needs. They stimulate the secretion and excretion of the digestive fluids and relieve the congested condition of the glands and membranes. They put the whole digestive system in condition to do its work. When that is done you need take no more tablets, unless you eat what does not agree with you. Then take one or two tablets—give them needed help and you will have no trouble.

It is a common-sense medicine and a common-sense treatment, and it will cure every time. Not only cure the disease, but cure the causes, and do it in a perfectly sensible and scientific way.

We have testimonials enough to fill a book, but we don't publish many of them. However,

Mrs. E. H. Faith, of Byrd's Creek, Wis., says: "I have taken all the Tablets I got of you and they have done their work well in my case, for I feel like a different person altogether. I don't doubt if I had not got them I should have been at rest by this time."

H. H. Willard, Onslow, Ia., says: "Mr. White, of Canton, was telling me of your Dyspepsia Tablets curing him of Dyspepsia, from which he had suffered for eight years. I am a sufferer myself, I wish you to send me a box by return mail."

Phil Brooks, Detroit, Mich., says: "Your dyspepsia cure has worked wonders in my case. I suffered for years from dyspepsia, but am now entirely cured and enjoy life as I never have before. I gladly recommend them."

It will cost 50c to find out just how much Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will help you. Try them—that's the best way to decide.

All druggists sell them. A little book on stomach diseases is mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.
