The two-cent fare law, enacted by a republican legislature in 1907, has been attacked by the railroads in the supreme court of Nebraska and allowed to stand.

War Orders Boost Business.

Commenting on the revival of business in the steel industry, the "basic" industry of the country, the New York World notes that "its mills were working at only about 40 per cent of capacity five months ago."

War orders made Bethlehem Steel jump to 162. The company now has orders for 8,000 field guns from the English war office, and has orders up to date for $100,000,000 worth of material and more coming.

War orders justified Hudson Maxim's statement that "every steel and power company in the country is building additional plants."

War orders have given the Pressed Steel Car company a $30,000,000 for the delivery of sharpnel shell to Russia.

The Carnegie Steel company has an order for 18,000 tons of steel bars from one company which is engaged in machining shells.

Steel bars, rails, pig iron, etc., sold by the steel companies to other manufacturing companies to be made up into munitions of war will not show up as exports.

If the United States continues to be the commissariat of the warring nations, even the peaceful ploughshare will be affected by war orders and its sale increased that new lands may be prepared for the sower.

It has been estimated that foodstuffs and other war supplies shipped to the allies since the opening of the war aggregate $1,000,000,000, and so far as guns and ammunition are concerned the real shipments have scarcely begun.

The efforts of the World, and proponents of the democracy in general, to make people believe that the depression in the United States which set in months before the war in Europe commenced, was due to the war, and, on the other hand, to convince them that the revival of industry in the last few months is due to anything but the war, is too ridiculous for serious consideration.

BARNUM & BAILEY Have Hundreds of New Features.

The Barnum and Bailey Greatest show on earth, which comes to Sioux City, Monday, June 23rd, claim to present this year "A Circus of All Nations," meaning one that is filled with all new features shown now for the first time and presented by 60 world-famous artists who represent every nation in the world.

There's material enough in this year's circus to make a dozen circuses of the old days. A "big top" 600 feet long, nearly 1,500 employees, three rings, four elevated platforms, acres of aerial apparatus, the big presentation, a 110-cage menagerie, 750 horses, forty elephants, a street parade three miles long.

Among the novelties offered this season are the "Six Riding Hannafords," "The Paladins," basanotic, pyramiding and head jumping on the tops of burning lamps, "Pallenberg's Wonder Bears," "Adgie" and her den of nine performing African lions, Barnum and Bailey stunts, horses, Madam Braden's Angel Horses.

Farm Notes.

Issued by the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

MORE SILO EXCURSIONS

Members of the farmers' association of Boxbutte and Dawes counties are planning on holding silo excursions of two days each during the month of July.

FOURTH MORE GRADUATES

The number of graduates from the College of Agriculture of the University of Nebraska this year is 25 per cent greater than that of last year. The total number of graduates is 45, representing 27 counties and including those in the extreme northern, southern, eastern, and western portions of the state.

CARE OF COTTON FABRICS

The color of cotton fabrics should be set before washing. To shrink cotton material before making into garments, set the color and dip into warm water. Then change to cold water and let it remain awhile.

CANNING BEANS AND PEAS

Lima beans, string beans, peas, and okra for canning should be prepared the same day they are picked. After cleaning, cutting, and grading, they should be blanched from two to five minutes. Blanching is done by placing the vegetable in a wire basket or cheesecloth and plunging into hot water or better still by steaming the vegetable.

HOW TO TRAIN TOMATO PLANTS

The training of tomato plants is one of the topics taken up in a circular just issued to junior gardeners by the College of Agriculture. The circular says that the plants may be staked in several ways: 1. By poles five or six feet long driven into the ground beside the plant.
