PROPOSED CONSTITUTION AMENDMENTS.

AMENDMENT NO. 1.

Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, Three-fifths of the members elected to each House concurring therein, That it be and hereby is proposed to the electors of this State to vote on the second Tuesday of October next, upon the approval or rejection of the following amendment as a substitute for the twenty-fifth Section of the second Article of the Constitution and for the second Section of the same Article, and for the third Section of the eleventh Article, viz: All regular sessions of the General Assembly shall commence on the first Monday of January, annually. Senators shall be elected biennially, and Representatives annually, by the electors of their respective counties or districts on the second Tuesday of October. Their term of office shall commence on the first day of January next after their election, and that of Senators shall continue two years, and that of Representatives one year. The Senators elected in October next shall hold their office for two years, and the Representatives elected at the same time shall hold their office for one year. Provided, that, seventeen of the Senators elected on the second Tuesday of October, 1857, to be ascertained by lot, as the President of the Senate may direct, shall hold their office for only one year, and their successors shall be elected on the second Tuesday of October, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, and biennially thereafter. When any county shall have a fraction above the rates for Representative so large that being multiplied by ten, the result shall be equal to one or more ratios, additional Representatives shall be apportioned for such ratios among the several sessions of the decennial period in the following manner: If thereby only one ratio then a Representative shall be allotted to the tenth session of the decennial period.

If there are two ratios Representatives shall be allotted to the ninth and tenth sessions; if three to the eighth, ninth, and tenth sessions; if four to the seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth; if five to the sixth, seventh, eighth ninth and tenth; if six to the fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth; if seven to the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth; if eight to the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth; if nine to the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth sessions of the decennial period respectively.

In determining the number of Senators to which any senatorial district might be entitled in any decennial period, by reason of any fraction of a senatorial ratio, the fraction shall be multiplied by five, and if the result be equal to one ratio, an additional Senatorship shall be allotted to said district for the ninth and tenth sessions. If it be equal to two each ratios an additional Senator for the seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth sessions shall be allotted to such district. If three then to the fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth.

If four, to the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, and tenth sessions respectively. If this amendment be adopted by the electors, the counties now entitled to more than one member in either of both branches of the Legislature in the fourth and fifth sessions of the present decennial period as now provided, shall have a like number of members in each branch thereof for each session of the remainder of the present decennial period.

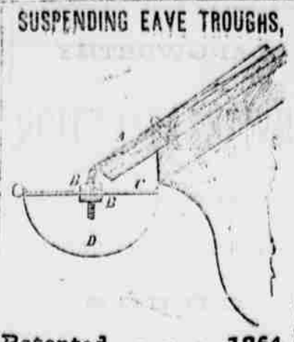
SUSPENDING EAVE TROUGHS,



Patented. - - - 1854.

THIS figure is a transverse section of an improved method of suspending Tin Eave-troughs, for which a patent was granted on the 7th of March, 1854.

The Eave-Trough D is made in the usual form, with the cross bar C soldered to it of sufficient strength to sustain the weight and keep the trough in shape. From this cross-bar there extends an iron rod A with a screw and nuts B B at its lower end. The screw and nuts in this rod allow of the trough being elevated or lowered on the said rod. A staple should be driven over the rod near the lower edge of the roof board.

By this arrangement the House and Cornice will not be disfigured, as by the common method of putting up Troughs; will be held more straight and firm; will not rust as other Troughs do, and can be straightened, or taken down by any one.

THE BOOK KEEPING DEPARTMENT

Embraces three distinct modes, viz: INITIATORY, REGULAR, and EXTENSIVE BUSINESS, and introduces a New method, recommended by every twenty of the most reliable practical accountants of Cleveland.

THE NEW METHOD OF TEACHING

Strikes at the very germinating points of the science, every thing that is material to a knowledge of the Letter, is simply to teach the proper line of demarkation between real and representative property, and the governing law of transfer, as regards transferring the various classes of accounts, and these of the same class in every variety of transactions, thus stripping this most useful and beautiful science of most of its time honored technicalities, and substituting a brief and intuitive rules, beaming less form and more nature, and hence enables the student to acquire correct notions of accounts as embodied in actual practice.

THE INITIATORY COURSE

Embraces a regular progressive series of manuscript cards, classified somewhat as to the variety of transactions. It aims to develop the first principles and philosophy of accounts, rather than mere routine and actual formula, by addressing the reason and judgment of the student, who studies with the view of apprehending and arriving at results, and so pushes on his investigations with much greater confidence, pleasure and independence.

THE REGULAR COURSE

Is intended to represent every species of business, from the smallest retail to the heaviest and most intricate of wholesale and commission, as well as banking, railroading, etc., demanded, at present, by our vast and constantly increasing commerce.

THE EXTENDED COURSE

Embraces lengthy practical sets from the various business firms, and is designed for such students as may wish to spend longer than the time required for the regular course (and that gratuitously) preparatory to entering some special house.

By taking in addition the Extended Course, the student will be faithfully and profitably employed for six months.

PENMANSHIP, practical and ornamental, in all its varieties, will be taught in the most thorough and efficient manner by one of the best teachers of the West. Besides the usual method of teaching business writing, the Cherbythmographic system will also be taught. This system, so popular, and recommended by our best educational men, is now taught
