Auckland Weekly News.

The Christmas number of the Auckland Weekly News has reached this city, and as a Christmas publication it stands in the first rank. It consists of 60 pages, with a handsome colored cover. The contents are of a varied and interesting character, and include extraordinary narratives, short Christmas tales, a page each for ladies and children, and many other features. A beautiful historical lithograph accompanies the number. It is the Invasion of Auckland by the Ngatipaoa.

Have your Christmas presents marked with your name in gold letters. GAZETTE building.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Hon. H. P. Baldwin returned from Kauai yesterday.

The steamer Mokolii on her last trip brought fifty bales of wool.

The Band will give a concert this evening at Emma Square.

The Alameda is due to-day from San Francisco with six days later news.

The new Cabinet is officially announced in the By Authority column in this issue.

Attend the mass meeting this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Beretania Street Armory.

It is understood that the Marshal appointed two hundred special policemen on Saturday evening.

To-day at noon at his salesroom Jas. F. Morgan will hold a landlord's sale of household effects.

Hon. L. A. Thurston has been appointed a corresponding member of the Royal Geographical Society of Lisbon.

The saloons were closed on Saturday evening at 9 o'clock, and as a result Nuuanu street was almost free from drunks.

In all probability the principal business houses will close this afternoon on account of the mass meeting at the armory.

It was announced in the House on Saturday morning that the Queen had signed both the lottery bill and the bill to license opium.

Willie Bush entertained the Pacific Wheelmen at Waikiki on Saturday afternoon. Surf riding and [illegible] were indulged in by the [illegible] cyclists.

A large Newfoundland dog has been lost from the schooner Transit. The finder will receive a reward of $5.00, by returning him to this office.

Reps. Nawahi and White were decorated by the Queen on Saturday morning, and they are now Knight Commanders of the Order of Kalakaua.

It takes four pounds of taro to make one pound of flour. Its relative strength is greater than any other mill product. Get a pound from your grocer and try it.

The Committee of Safety has called a meeting to take place this afternoon in the Armory on Beretania street. The critical situation of the country will be discussed.

On Wednesday, January 18th, at the office of E. H. Bailey at Wailuku, Maui, an auction sale of valuable lands will take place. The property is described elsewhere in this issue.

The Christmas number of the Californian Magazine is a handsome periodical. The articles written especially for it are of a high literary order. It can be had at the newsdealers.

A new arrival from the Colonies states that affairs are not bright in Australia. He declared that if they were put to the test most of the banks and business houses could not pay twenty-five cents on the dollar.

The masquerade carnival at the Armory on Saturday evening was an artistic success, but owing to the excitement which prevailed, the attendance was but small. The managers intend to repeat the affair on some evening in the near future.

The U. S. Boston arrived on Saturday morning from Hilo. From advices received on her it was learned that on Wednesday last a jury was secured to try the Costa murder case. The trial was expected to be finished on last Saturday evening.

His Excellency John L. Stevens United States Minister Plenipotentiary and the officers of the U. S. S. Boston attended were present at a picnic which took place last Wednesday at Cocoanut Island. The affair was arranged by some citizens of Hilo.

On Saturday evening a Japanese servant found a burglar in the house of George E. Boardman. The servant commenced to shout for help but before assistance came the thief had disappeared. Nothing of value was missing so it is thought that the intruder departed without any booty.

The Legislature was prorogued on Saturday at noon by the Queen. There was nothing exciting or interesting about the affair. The only noticeable circumstance connected with it was the absence of the white members, none of whom took enough interest in the matter to attend.

THE LEGISLATURE.

One Hundred and Seventy-First Day.

SATURDAY, Jan. 14.

The House met at 9 A. M. Twenty-one members present. Quorum at 9:16 A. M. The minutes were read and approved.

Attorney-General Peterson announced that Her Majesty had signed the Opium and Lottery bills.

Rep. Kamauoha moved the House express its thanks to the President and officers of the House, for their services during the session.

President Walker thanked the House for its kind expressions.

The House then (9:22) took a recess till a quarter to twelve.

At a quarter to twelve the House re-convened when the Queen read the following prorogation address:

NOBLES AND REPRESENTATIVES:

More then seven months have elapsed since I opened this Assembly. During that time many changes of Cabinets have taken place. The unprecedented length of the session has involved much labor, and I congratulate you on at last having completed your arduous duties.

The Legislation which has now been placed on the Statute Books will I trust conduce to the advancement of the material interests of the Kingdom, and it gives Me pleasure to note that attempts to tamper with the currency and interfere with the established usages of Commerce have been happily averted.

My Ministers will use their best efforts to carry out your intentions as expressed in the numerous Acts which have become law.

The appropriations which you have made are on a liberal scale, and it is the hope of Myself and My constitutional advisers that the revenues of the Government will be adequate for the proper carrying out of your intentions as so expressed.

It will be My earnest endeavor to promote such Treaty relations with our Great and Friendly Neighbor, the United States of America, as may restore to Our agricultural interests that measure of prosperity which we formerly enjoyed.

It is also a source of gratification for Me to notice that liberal encouragement has been extended to some of our infant industries, and it is My hope that the results will prove the wisdom of your action.

NOBLES AND REPRESENTATIVES:

I pray the Almighty may continue to pour out upon you [illegible] country blessings any. In such an emergency the course [illegible] and our Co[illegible] prosperity as heretofore.

I now declare this Legislature prorogued.

A KINDERGARTEN.

To Be Opened for Hawaiian Children at Queen Emma Hall.

A movement is on foot to establish a free kindergarten school in this city for Hawaiian children of six years of age and under. A committee to arrange for the same consists of Mesdames Haalelea, Hyde, Dillingham, Mrs. Samuel Parker and Miss Green. The valuable services of Miss Fanning are secured as teacher at Queen Emma Hall. Contributions for this will be gratefully received, to be deposited with the Treasurer, Mrs. Haalelea.

We feel that the importance of the kindergarten schools cannot be overestimated. We quote from an able article on the subject:

"Everywhere teachers are asking for Froebel's secret; over the whole country kindergartens are being incorporated into the public school systems; churches are seeing the practical efficiency of the kindergarten as a method of religious work; and men and women interested in the problem of the poor in our great cities are turning to the kindergarten as one of the keys to neglected homes. It is a gospel of service and intelligence to the whole neighborhood."

Cook Back in Town.

Joseph B. Cook has not only proved himself a defaulter, but he is demonstrating to Chief Crowley and Captain Lees, and the whole police department for that matter, that they must be very much awake if they expect to catch him napping, says the S. F. Chronicle. Until the arrival of the Australia, the police were confident that Cook was in Honolulu, and that an officer sent on the next steamer could bring him back without trouble. When the police were informed that he was back in the city, and the whole department was hastily instructed to hunt him down. So far they have not succeeded. Captain Lees admitted yesterday, however, that he had positive information that Cook returned to the city on the steamship Alameda, the very vessel which brought letters from the Hawaiian authorities informing Chief Crowley that Cook was in custody there, and that every effort would be made to turn him over to the United States authorities.

How Cook escaped will not be known until another steamer arrives. His act of doubling back on his own tracks was so bold and daring that the police were completely surprised—particularly as they supposed him to be in custody in Honolulu. Captain Lees believes that he is still hiding in the city.

WHARF AND WAVE.

DIAMOND HEAD, Jan. 15.—9 P.M.: Weather, thick; wind, light S.W.

The steamer Mokolii will leave to-morrow for Molokai.

The bark Alden Besse, Capt. Friss, arrived at Kahului last week with about 1000 tons of coal from Departure Bay.

The brigantine W. G. Irwin, Capt. J. E. McCulloch, arrived on Saturday morning after a passage of 16 days from San Francisco, with 620 tons of general merchandise, as follows: 200 ctls. barley, 81 ctls. wheat, 175 bbls. flour, 1400 sks. bran, 138 ctls. corn, 30 sks. middlings, 50 bls. hay, 22 ctls. oats, 338 cs. canned goods, 240 lbs. tea, 237 lbs. hops, 75 cs. salmon and 6000 cigars, valued at $19,573. She is discharging near the O. S. S. Co.'s wharf.

The schooner Robert Lewers will finish discharging lumber to-day.

The steamer Kilauea Hou will leave to-morrow for Olowalu and Hamakua.

The schooner Anna left Kahului last Wednesday with a cargo of sugar for San Francisco. The brigantine Consuelo arrived the same day from San Francisco.

The steamers Iwalani and James Makee leave this afternoon for Kauai.

The barkentine Planter will be docked this morning to unload lumber.

President Hippolyte, of Hayti, has cabled to the United States Government that all vessels are forbidden to enter Haytian ports between 6 P. M. and 6 A. M., the law of 1891 to that effect having been renewed. Suspicious vessels seen off the coast have given the President great anxiety.

WEST SUPERIOR, WIS., Dec. 23.—Captain McDougall has just returned from a meeting of the American Steel Barge directors in New York. He says that $4,000,000 has been appropriated for the building of whalebacks, and they will be turned out more rapidly than ever.
