The Duty of Dressing Well

Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes simplify that duty which every man owes to himself — the duty of dressing well.

More than artistic, they are masculine, possessing virility of style, vigor of outline, strength of character.

By emphasizing good points, they overcome defects and develop the possibilities of the figure in a wonderful manner.

So unobstrusive are they, so perfect their good taste, that you forget them—the sure sign of being correctly clothed.

From foundation to finish Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes exemplify the ideals of half a century of earnest effort.

From an absolutely all wool fabric they are built up step by step, through cut and design, through interior parts and tailoring, into that thoroughbred excellence which wins instant approval from discriminating dressers.

If you are perplexed with the trouble and expense of dressing well, you will find happy relief in garments bearing the STEIN-BLOCH label.

WOOD GOING TO MAINLAND

It is Said no Significance Attaches to the Trip.

Among the passengers of the Manchuria, sailing for the coast today, is General Leonard Wood, on his way to Washington. His stay upon the mainland is indeterminate, and despite the fact that President Roosevelt's well known friendship for him has led to various rumors connected with the trip home, it is claimed that the visit has no significance whatever. He is merely an officer of the army on leave.

The Manila Times of May 25 states that General Wood had been granted two month's leave of absence with permission to apply for a further extension of one month, and that no political significance attached to his trip as he had but recently received intelligence that his mother was in ill health. With the extermination of Datto Pala and his band of pirates on the island of Jolo the entire Moro Province is in a peaceful condition. General Wood lost about a score of pounds in weight in his strenuous marching through the Jolo jungles in pursuit of ladrones.

He speaks in glowing terms of the work done by his officers and men. He says the recent trouble was instigated by Datto Pala who ravaged a North Borneo town and killed about thirty-five people. The British government made a demand for his arrest and extradition, but the chief refused to surrender. Troops were sent to arrest him with the result that Pala was killed with not less than two hundred of his followers. He was a pirate pure and simple. The two torpedo boat destroyers Chauncey and Barry and the gunboat Paragua co-operated with General Wood in his work of pacification. The situation in Mindanao, according to General Wood, is now in a most encouraging condition. Datto Ali, the ablest leader, has been driven out and about 25,000 followers have deserted his cause.

General Wood is enthusiastic over the small farming opportunities offered by Mindanao to American settlers. He says he would like to see about 20,000 American settlers on the island.

FATHER JAMES ON THE BOND REVELATIONS

Honolulu, June 20, 1905.

Mr. E. C. Bond. Dear Sir: Allow me to offer you my feelings of gratitude for your contribution in the columns of the Advertiser (June 20) to the Hyde-Damien controversy. By stating the mistaken identity of the accused person you bring this really disgusting story to an end in the sense I have always claimed. You are a most valuable witness to show that Father Damien was really the wrong man in Dr. Hyde's accusations; that consequently all those who have listened to, believed, copied and promulgated the grievous charges, be they Sir Berry Smith from Samoa, or the Boston Transcript, or whosoever else may have taken stock in the said accusations, have done a great injury to Father Damien.

What Dr. Hyde's intentions were when he made those most unfortunate charges, God alone knows. But I venture to say that if he ever learned, as you say, that he unwittingly laid such grievous charges at the wrong man's door, it was his duty, his most sacred duty, to rectify his mistake, to rectify it openly, publicly—inviting all who had spread the falsehood to copy and spread also the rectification. But up to the present the falsehood is being spread and repeated over and over again, just as Mrs. R. L. Stevenson says in truth: "It is sure to be quoted with approval in the future by some mean bigot who would deny honor and justice to any Catholic."

Now, do you expect us to keep quietly silent, leaving the public mind feeding on poisonous falsehoods? It was not James C. Beissel who resurrected and started this new dust raising through the press the world over. He raised his voice in the interests of truth that prejudice should fall, that mistakes, if committed in the past, should be honestly confessed by the guilty parties and avoided in the future. He wishes that mutual respect and confidence should reign between the different denominations, notwithstanding the differences of religious opinions.

If, as you say, somebody else, Father Damien's predecessor in Kohala, created a scandal by alleged immorality, for all I know the charge has not been proved and no sentence pronounced. But, nevertheless, those in authority of the Catholic Mission at that time should get credit for removing him from his office and sending him away from the country. It shows how strenuous their efforts are to uphold and protect the moral character of their members. I do not mean to say that all the Catholic priests are impeccable, but I do say that they have a right to be respected as long as they respect themselves, and that in presence of the record they have acquired in these Islands in all the years past, those who wish to formulate charges against them should look out for what they are doing as much as I do look out for the moral conduct of our priests, just so much I feel it my duty to stand up for them and defend them when wrongly accused.

Now, as matters seem to be made plain by the present discussion, as above all Father Damien's moral character is cleared beyond the slightest shadow of doubt, through the latest valuable testimony of Mr. E. C. Bond, I am willing to end the controversy with the great satisfaction of having contributed to give to the public some valuable and needful information.

JAMES C. BEISSEL.

A LOT OF NEW THINGS

OLD HICKORY — Something new, odd, and dainty—decidedly artistic—in the way of porch and lawn furniture. Can be left out in all kinds of weather. It is a line of fashionable rustic furniture. It is made only of hickory, the strongest of American native woods, the bottoms and backs being plaited by hand and being of very strong inner hickory bark. For a den or lanai or even for your lawn there is nothing more odd than this.

NEW WEATHERED OAK SET—By the "Sonoma" we received a fine weathered oak dining-room set, consisting of a table, an odd buffet, a leaded glass china cabinet, two arm chairs, and eight regular dining chairs, these latter having green leather seats, which go well with the dark color of the oak.

We also received a very handsome golden quartered oak sideboard and a china cabinet —about as good as can be made in any furniture factory.

RUGS—New lot of all sizes of rugs, including fine Wilton's of all sizes.

WICKER CHAIRS And ROCKERS—A lot of cheap wicker work in the way of chairs and rockers is disposed of every year in Honolulu. Some of it lasts for a couple of months and some as long as a year, but the best on the market—that advertised in all the magazines—and the best of American make, made in American factories from the best Ceylon rattan, will last for years. We have a new lot of the American goods in chairs and rockers, of all patterns, shapes and sizes and at reasonable prices.

AND EVERYTHING ELSE NEEDED IN ANY CLASS OF HOUSE FURNISHING.
