CROKER HAPPY ON HIS FARM.

Former Boss Is Enjoying Himself Abroad, According to News Brought by John Fox.

POLITICS DO NOT WORRY

Wrapped Up in Development of Estate—Wantage a Place of Democratic Comfort—No Message to Tammany Hall.

Richard Croker is leading the simple life of a farmer, according to John Fox, President of the Democratic Club, who returned to-day on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse.

"Larry" Delmour, who is one of Croker's closest personal and political friends, met Mr. Fox at the pier and they drove off together in a cab. Mr. Fox, who has been abroad almost four months, made two trips to Wantage, and on the occasion of his last visit remained several days with the former Tammany chief.

"Politics are not worrying Mr. Croker," declared Mr. Fox. "He is wrapped up in the development of his estate and is not taking any interest in politics. Because of his freedom from political care he is in better health than for many years.

"Wantage is not the expensive and magnificent estate it has been described by the newspapers. It is a place of democratic comfort and there is nothing extravagant about it. If Mr. Croker is not making money out of his estate he certainly is not losing much.

"Devery's name was not mentioned during the conversations I had with Mr. Croker. We did not talk politics, although, of course, Mr. Croker continues to take a keen interest in the welfare of New York City. I am not the bearer of any messages from Mr. Croker to Tammany Hall.

"Mr. Croker said nothing to me about returning. I do not know whether or not he will be over this fall."

MOTHER THREW BABE TO DEATH.

Two-Year-Old Girl Has Her Skull Fractured and Is Fatally Injured.

While temporarily insane Mrs. Sophia Junka, of No. 410 Spring street, West Hoboken, threw her two-year-old daughter from the window of her apartment on the third floor to the sidewalk. The child is dying at the North Hudson Hospital.

Mrs. Junka rose early this morning and without awakening her husband went to the little bed in another room where her child was sleeping. She picked it up in her arms and carrying it to a window threw it out.

No Hope of Recovery.

The child struck the sidewalk directly in front of a passing pedestrian. He picked it up and carried it to a drug store, where an ambulance from the North Hudson Hospital was called. The surgeon said the child had a fractured skull, a fracture of the right leg and hip and internal injuries. He said there was absolutely no hope for its recovery.

After throwing the child from the window Mrs. Junka went back to bed and to sleep. She was sleeping when Chief of Police McAuley went to arrest her. She professed to know nothing of what she had done and inquired continually where her child was.

The woman and her husband were placed under arrest. Mrs. Junka was arraigned before Recorder Eichman and held without bail to await the result of the child's injuries.

Woman Becomes Hysterical.

In court she began to realize what she had done and became hysterical. Her condition was such that she was removed to the prison hospital, where she is under treatment. Junka is held by the police as a witness, although he was asleep when his wife threw the child out of the window.

The Junkas have lived in West Hoboken only about two weeks, having gone there from Haverstraw. It is said that Mrs. Junka's father died in an insane asylum.

WON THE WIDOW.

But Only After Farnham Placed Ring on Mrs. Simons's Finger Three Times.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Sept. 2.—If Henry L. Farnham had not been a persistent man he would not be married. Mr. Farnham is a wagon maker and lives in Owego. Mrs. Daisy Simons, a widow, had a home in Foster, Pa. They met at a circus in the village of Union, and as Mrs. Simons was to spend the night with friends in Owego they walked home together.

By the time they arrived at Main street and North avenue, Farnham proposed to Mrs. Simons. He drew a ring from his finger and attempted to put it upon the lady's finger, but she pulled it off and threw it in the street. Farnham hunted for the ring, found it, and when they reached No. 2 Hose Station again placed it on Mrs. Simons's finger.

This time she threw it even further away, but Farnham was patient, and borrowing a lantern from the hose-house searched for the ring and found it.

For the third time he put it on Mrs. Simons's finger, and this time she did not take it off. Farnham returned the borrowed lantern and they continued their walk, engaged. They were married last week by the Rev. C. M. Bartholomew, of the Congregational Church.

WOMAN DROPS OUT OF SIGHT.

Mrs. Clark of Woodhaven Is Lost on Journey from New York to Boston By Boat.

The New York, Providence and Boston police are trying to unravel what looks like one of the most mysterious cases of the year. Mrs. J. B. Clark, of Ninety-first street, Union Course, Woodhaven, L. I., has been missing for more than a week, and yet until two days ago the police were not notified of her disappearance.

Mrs. Clark is about forty years of age, but looks considerably younger. She is of attractive appearance, has a light complexion, blue eyes with long dark eyelashes and dark hair. Her brother Joseph is now here trying to find her.

nO Aug. 20 she left her home on Long Island to visit her husband, who had been working at Flagstaff, Me. She bought a ticket on the Joy line to Providence.

She was seen to board the boat in New York and her name appears on the purser's book.

At Providence she was seen to disembark, and at the railroad station there is a record of her checking her trunks to Boston. The baggage arrived all right, but thus far no trace of her has been found. Her husband, after several days, wrote to her brother Joseph, asking why his wife had not arrived, and the search for her has been on ever since.

MISS ROETHGEN TELLS OF RETURNING $1,700 GEMS.

Pretty Brooklyn Girl Guarded Diamonds She Found and Hunted Hard for Owner.

It was Elza Roethgen, a pretty miss of nineteen years, daughter of Gustav Roethgen, a well-to-do accountant, of No. 469 Waverly avenue, Brooklyn, who found and returned to Mrs. Charles Russell, daughter of former Senator William J. La Roche, the silver chatelaine containing diamonds worth $1,700, which Mrs. Russell had lost in Prospect Park. The La Roche family believed the gems had been taken by a burglar, so it was only by hunting hard for her that Miss Roethgen found the owner of the gems.

MISS ELZA ROETHGEN.

For her honesty in thus seeking out Mrs. Russell Miss Roethgen has received double the maximum reward that she would consent at first to accept.

This is Miss Roethgen's story:

"I had been entertaining several young children from Rye, N. Y., and had taken them to Prospect Park. We had romped over the lawns until tired and then sighting a mound I started to ascend it, calling to the others that the one who first reached the summit would be a prize winner.

"As I was in the lead and in the grass I saw something bright. I found it was a chatelaine.

"I was afraid some one would try to steal it, for I could see that it was a rich article and no plaything.

"I opened the bag and saw the jewelry in the box and some silver change and then I knew that some woman had lost it. I was sorry for her, I can tell you.

"Afraid that some one would see it or that some one might try to steal it from me I put it in our lunch box and with the box under my dress I went home.

"There we opened the box and the bag and we found the rich jewels and about $1.50 in money. Papa went to the Park police station and reported the find that night. We heard nothing, so I advertised my find. It was the advertisement which brought the letter from Mr. Russell. He called with several friends and after he had given an accurate description of the bag and its contents I handed it to him.

"Then he said he wanted to give me a present of some kind and my father said all we expected was the cost of the advertisement and the papers which we bought to see if the loser had advertised. Mr. Russell was very kind and was so grateful that he insisted on giving me more than that. He asked me to name a sum. I would not name any sum at first, but finally told him I thought $50 would be ample. He said he would make it more, a hundred dollars."

Miss Roethgen has a sister who is a teacher in the Adelphi School. The family is quite well known. The father is an accountant in Manhattan.

Mr. Russell, his wife, his father-in-law and Mrs. La Roche insist that a burglar was in their home at No. 31 Place street, Brooklyn, although Miss Roethgen's find has explained the loss of the chatelaine. Mrs. Russell was in the park with a friend, Miss Heath, and went away, leaving the chatelaine in the park, where it was found. The next morning Mr. Russell reported to the police that the chatelaine was missing and that a burglar had been heard in the house.

The house is insured against burglary loss and the loss of the chatelaine was reported to the company issuing the policy. It was this company which made public the report of burglary. Although the jewels have been recovered and the loss explained the family still insists that a burglar was in the house, both Mrs. La Roche and her daughter, Mrs. Russell, saying that they heard him and did not awaken their husbands, fearing a repetition of the Latimer tragedy.

At the time the burglary was reported nothing was said to be taken but the chatelaine.

NO DATE FOR INSTALLING NEW ARCHBISHOP NAMED.

Nomination Must Be Formally Approved By Pope Before Dr. Farley Can Act.

While the Propaganda at Rome has decided to recommend that the Pope appoint the Right Rev. John M. Farley, D. D., successor to the late Archbishop Corrigan, official confirmation must first come from the Pope himself before Bishop Farley is finally named Archbishop of the New York diocese.

Then, in the event of the Papal indorsement, the decree will be signed and the document of appointment forwarded to the Apostolic Delegate at Washington, when the news will be officially dispensed and the new incumbent notified of his selection for the high churchly order conferred upon him.

Then will follow the ceremony of installation, the date of which remains wholly at the option of the appointee. There are no preparations now making for the ceremony of installation so far as Bishop Farley is concerned, although it is conceded that he will receive the Papal indorsement and is at present to all intents and purposes the successor of the late Archbishop.

That he will be confirmed and that the ceremonial of installation will be one of the most impressive of recent affairs of its kind in the Catholic Church is the anticipation of Catholics particularly, and Protestants generally, among whom the Bishop is very popular.

Before the Pope confirms the action of the Propaganda he will communicate with the Archbishops of America, it is explained, and learn from them the tenor of the Catholic mind, lay and clerical, with reference to the final selection of Bishop Farley. He will learn that Bishop Farley is both popular and able and the fitting candidate to succeed the late Archbishop Corrigan. Bishop Farley has endeared himself to many people both great and small. He has, as the administrator interregnum and as coadjutor to the late Archbishop, fully qualified himself to take the place made vacant by the death of Archbishop Corrigan.

Four years ago Bishop Farley, who was very much interested in the progress of the seminary at Dunwoodie, set out to lift a mortgage of $300,000 with which the seminary was burdened. He sought subscriptions to a common fund and devised ways and means for the raising of the money which at once attracted attention. In the course of a few months he had accumulated the necessary amount of money and exhibited by this success alone remarkable ability to command the affairs of a more important position in his Church.

The achievement was considered a banner one for the Bishop, who modestly enough allows all of the credit to go to his beloved assistants who aided him in that laudable enterprise.

To-day he said: "I have no confirmation of my selection for the office made vacant by the death of the Archbishop. It would be difficult to find one to take his place. The news lacks official confirmation. Congratulations at this time would certainly be premature."

TRY 4 POLICEMEN FOR SHAKING DICE

Patrolmen Whom Captain O'Reilly Says He Found Shooting Craps in a Saloon Must Answer.

The four policemen whom Capt. Miles O'Reilly, of the Oak street station, said he found shooting craps in Sommer's saloon, No. 2 James slip, at 4 o'clock in the morning of Aug. 14, appeared for trial before Commissioner Partridge to-day.

They are John Loosen, whom the Captain held, and who admits his presence in the saloon, Elmer W. Heath, James Quigley and Thomas J. Campbell.

Heath and Quigley have witnesses by whom they expect to establish an alibi. Campbell will try to prove that he had just been to assist an officer on a neighboring post and that when he returned the Captain accused him of being one of the policemen in the saloon.

Commissioner Partridge had just returned from his vacation and his object in coming to Headquarters to-day was to sit at the trial of the four men. From the number of witnesses called it was evident that the case was expected to last more than one day.

Patrolman Campbell denied he was in the saloon, but admitted he was off post that morning about 4 o'clock. He said he had answered a rap from Patrolman Shea, of the Madison street stationwho told him a woman had been insulted at 142 Cherry street, and he wanted help to search the premises. According to witnesses it was five minutes of 4 o'clock when he left his post and fifteen minutes after 4 when he returned.

Patrolman Dennis Shea, of the Madison street station, who rapped for assistance that morning, testified that he saw Campbell the morning of Aug. 20, in No. 142 Cherry street, but that he did not remember the time. Roundsman Ehrins, of the Oak street station, said he failed to find Patrolman Campbell on post for almost ten minutes, and was about to leave and make a report at the station-house to that effect, when he saw Campbell coming on his post. He asked him where he had been, and was told he had answered the rap of Patrolman Shea, of the Madison street station. This, the roundsman said was between 4.20 and 4.25, which seeems to verify the former statements of Campbell.

She Tells Her Story!

Brooklyn Lady Cured of Consumption.

A Remarkable Case.

"To say that I was alarmed at my condition does not half express my feelings when the terrible truth that I had consumption began to dawn upon me.

"I contracted the disease from a lady friend whom I nursed until her death. I caught a severe cold, which settled on my lungs. I began to lose flesh rapidly and for months coughed incessantly, had those terrible night sweats and awful chills and fevers, raised vast quantities of matter from my lungs and had frequent violent hemorrhages. One of my lungs was in a terrible state, for it was raw and bleeding constantly.

"Being Germans, we had heard much of the reputation of Dr. Koch and his wonderful inhalation treatment for lung diseases. Although my case was so bad that nothing could help me, after every other treatment failed I went to the Koch Lung Cure, at 48 West Twenty-second street, New York, because I knew of others whom they had cured.

"My improvement dates from my first visit to the Koch Doctors. The healing, oily vapors of the 'Tuberculine' medicines seemed to penetrate to the very seat of my disease, for I continued to improve and gain strength day by day. My hemorrhages stopped, the chills and fever and night sweats left me, my sleep became restful and peaceful and those awful pains in my lungs ceased altogether.

"Now I am strong and well as I ever was in my life, and feel so grateful and enthusiastic over what this wonderful treatment has done for me that I have told all my friends about it, and will be glad to prove the facts in my case to any one who will call on me at my home, 141½ Nelson street, Brooklyn.

MAY CHOOSE ISLA GRANDE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2.—Although Puntilla has been recommended by a board of army officers as the most advantageous site for a coaling station at Porto Rico, Isla Grande may be selected. The department has received information which leads to the belief that the latter is the more desirable because of its larger area and for the reason that by removing a shoal Isla Grande offers a site for a dry dock.

OMAHA MAN FOR BERLIN.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—It has been suggested here that John L. Webster, of Omaha, may be selected by the President to succeed Andrew D. White as Ambassador to Germany. His appointment has been strongly urged by Senator Millard. Mr. Webster is a native of Ohio and served in the Union army.

CEMENT WORKERS STRIKE.

Eight Hundred Men Go Out in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Eight hundred cement finishers and helpers went on a strike here to-day, thereby stopping work on a number of big buildings in the course of construction, among which are several additions to the quadrangle of the University of Chicago.

The cause of the trouble was the refusal of the workmen to sign an agreement to work exclusively for the Bosses' Association.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

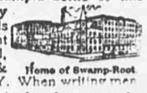
How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper.



Home of Swamp-Root.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.; on every bottle.

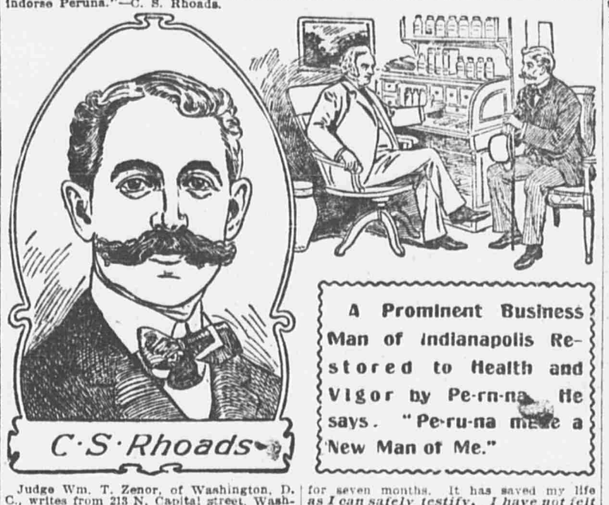
FOR SYSTEMIC CATARRH

Peculiar to Summer Pe-ru-na Gives Prompt and Permanent Relief.

C. S. Rhoads, Indianapolis, Ind., writes:

"For the past two years I have hardly known what it was to have a sweet, restful night's sleep. Cares and overwork seemed to weigh me down more than it should or would had I been able to get my proper rest. My doctor was unable to help me and ordered me South for a complete rest and change. As this was simply out of the question, and as I had heard several of the men under me speak of how much Peruna had helped them, I decided to try it, and am glad indeed that I did. Six bottles made a new man of me. I eat well, sleep well and get up feeling refreshed and rested.

"My official duties are not half so hard and I certainly have good reason to heartily indorse Peruna."—C. S. Rhoads.



A Prominent Business Man of Indianapolis Restored to Health and Vigor by Pe-ru-na. He says. "Pe-ru-na made a New Man of Me."

Judge Wm. T. Zenor, of Washington, D. C., writes from 213 N. Capital street, Washington, D. C.:

"I take pleasure in saying that I can cheerfully recommend the use of Peruna as a remedy for catarrhal trouble and a most excellent tonic for general conditions."—Wm. T. Zenor.

Mrs. Amanda Morrill, 130 Reid street, Elizabeth, N. J., writes:

"I have been sick over two years with nervous prostration and general debility, and heart trouble. Have had four doctors; all said I could not get well. I had not walked a step in nine months, suffering with a partial paralysis and palpitation of the heart every other day, and had become so reduced in flesh as to be a mere skeleton, weighing only 85 pounds.

"Up to this date I have taken Peruna for seven months. It has saved my life as I can safely testify. I have not felt so well in five years, having walked over one mile without ill result, and have also gained thirty pounds since commencing to take Peruna. In fact, I cannot praise it too highly."—Mrs. Amanda Morrill.

Peruna never fails to prevent systemic catarrh or nervous prostration if taken in time. Peruna is the most prompt and permanent cure for all cases of nervous prostration caused by systemic catarrh known to the medical profession.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
