JOHN A. DRAKE IN AUTO SMASH

The Big Machine He Was In Crashed Into a Smaller One Owned by Mrs. Charles Fair's Brother, William B. Smith.

FAIRS WERE KILLED BY AN AUTO IN FRANCE.

Millionaire Chicago Racing Man and Companion Had Narrow Escapes—Chauffeur and Mr. Smith Exchanged Cards.

While driving a big new Dainiler machine this afternoon on Park avenue, near One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, the chauffeur crashed into another automobile, wrecking it completely and endangering the lives of the two men who sat in the rear seat of his own auto. The chauffeur, John J. MacMulkin, gave to the police the names of John A. Drake, the millionaire Chicago racehorse owner and friend of John W. Gates, and a maninterested in an automobile firm, as the men who were with him at the time of the accident.

The wrecked machine belongs to William B. Smith, of Newmarket, N. J., a brother of Mrs. Charles L. Fair, who, with her husband, was killed in an automobile accident in France. Mr. Smith has just left the automobile, which is of old pattern and of the runabout type, when the collision occurred. He was on the stairs of the Harlem Central Hotel, in front of which his auto was standing.

After the smashing of the lighter machine, both the man, who the chauffeur said was Mr. Drake, and his companion hastened for a car north bound. They were on their way to the races.

The cause of the accident was a slipping on the wet road, the tires skidding to the side and throwing the bigger machine into the smaller one. Mr. Smith and the chaueur arranged the matter between themselves, exchanging cards and appointing a time when differences could be settled. Mr. Drake was anxious to ge away from the scene of the accident as soon as possible.

Mr. Smith has become an automobile fancier of late, and was driving his machine through Harlem preparatory to a trip to Philadelphia.

When Bicycle Policeman Peter Henry arrived he found Mr. Smith and the chauffeur in perfect accord and, as no charges or complaints were made, he made no arrests.

The registry on the machine in which Mr. Drake was riding bore the name "Dainiler Manufacturing Company, 937-945 Steinway avenue, Long Island City." The Smith machine was a complete wreck, but the other was not seriously injured. The chauffeur said he was taking the machine out for a test to show how well it could perform for a prospective buyer.

BESSIE ANTHONY WINS GOLF HONORS

Player from Chicago Captures the Women's Championship from Miss Carpenter, of "Westward Ho."

TRENTON, Ill., Oct. 3.—The women's national golf championship belongs to Miss Bessie Anthony, of the Glenview Club, Chicago. She made a runaway match of her game with Miss J. Anne Carpenter, of Westward Ho, in the finals for the championship over the Wheaton course to-day, taking the lead at the fourth hole and steadily increasing it until the end came at the twelfth hole, Miss Anthony winning 7 up and 6 to play.

Considering the weather conditions, a thirty-mile gale sweeping over the course during the entire play, Miss Anthony's game was remarkable. Only twice was she in trouble, getting into the bunker guarding the first hole on a long brassy shot and driving out of bounds on the seventh. She saved the latter hole, however, by a clever approach shot into the green. With those exceptions her game was of true championship calibre.

Miss Carpenter, on the contrary, played in woefully bad form. Seven bunkered shots and two balls driven into the wide pond guarding the ninth and tenth holes, tell the story of her defeat. But for a dead stymie on the third hole, where Miss Anthony was certain of putting out, the game would have ended earlier than it did.

This is probably the last golf tournament Miss Anthony will ever figure in. She will be married November 3 to Mr. B. S. Horne, of Pittsburg, and stated to friends to-day that she did not expect to defend her titles of Western or National champion next year.

The Nursery Handicap had a splendid field of youngsters and the Municipal Handicap, one mile and three-quarters, appealed to those who love to see contests over a distance of ground. The balance of the card was good, and the sport promised to be keenly interesting. The weather was fine, and last nights' rain had no effect on the track. In fact it was so dusty that it had to be sprinkled before the race.

FIRE DROVE FAMILIES OUT.

Panic Caused by Small Blaze in Stuyvesant Apartment House.

About twenty families were thrown into a panic by an alarm of fire in the Stuyvesant apartment-house, No. 140 East Eighteenth street, at an early hour this morning. They fled through clouds of smoke to the street.

The fire started in the cellar in the dumb-waiter shaft, and was discovered by Miss Baker, of Staten Island, who was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Kinney, jr. Miss Baker was aroused by a choking sensation caused by the smoke which had poured into every apartment. She aroused the others in her apartment, and Mr. Kinney ran to the corridor and sent in the interior fire-alarm which rang in every apartment in the house.

The fire was soon extinguished, and the damage amounted to but a few hundred dollars.

SUICIDE FOLLOWS HASTY MARRIAGE

Young New Yorker, Who Had a Wife, Writes He Was Hurried to Second Ceremony Without Chance to Explain.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 3.—Under unusually sensational circumstances, Jack Stewart O'Neill, a New Yorker, but for some time business manager of the Orange (Tex.) Daily Tribune, committed suicide at the St. Charles Hotel here to-day. O'Neill, who was apparently twenty-five years old, arrived in the city last night.

He left a letter saying that he had a wife living in New York City to whom he had been devoted. Some time ago he came south, located in Orange and fell in love with a young girl of that city. Recently the young woman's father forced him to agree to a marriage.

Without giving him any opportunity to say that he already had a wife, O'Neill's statement says, the father insisted on an immediate ceremony, which was performed.

"After the marriage," the letter continues, "I bade my new wife farewell and started ton a journey to New York to tell the whole story to my original wife and assure her of my fidelity. I reached here, was unable to obtain enough money to carry me further, and decided to write a story of the whole affain and blow my brains out."

The statement completely exonerates the young woman and says he did her no wrong. A letter addressed to her and another to his father, J. J. O'Neill, a real-estate dealer, of Schenectady, N. Y., were also found.

Two Aeronauts Leave Binghamton To-Day Headed for This City.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 3.—with the object of establishing a namateur balloon record George Tomlinson and William Shackford, both of Syacuse, left Binghamton this morning in a balloon tom the Fai Gounds. It was their intention to reach New ork ity to-day, but as the ballon when last seen was sailing in a northerly direction, that plan will undoubtedly miscarry. They will descend at nightfall.

Mr. Shackford has never before made an ascension.

UNION COLLEGE FACES COLUMBIA.

Large Crowd Turns Out at the Polo Grounds to See the Local Pigskin Knights Perform.

POLO GROUNDS, Oct. 3. — The wearers of the white and blue turned out in bright regiments this afternoon to cheer on Columbia's gridiron defenders in their battle with the invading eleven from Union College. After the splendid work of Capt. Smith and his oval booters in the two opening games of the season, in which they defended their goal scathless against Wesleyan and the old-time stars of the alumni, the support of the undergraduate body is little short of frenzied.

Long before the toot of the referee's whistle and the first clash of the battling young giants, the grand-stand was sprinkled with dazzling bits of color made up of a small forest of white and blue flags and the shimmering gowns of the feminine enthusiasts.

Look for Surprise.

Though the spirit of confidence was all pervading, a stirring contest was hoped for. Little was known of the prowress of the Union kickers, though the memory was still fresh of the remarkable surprises that this little up-State college has sprung on the football arena.

When the visiting eleven lined up for the kick-off there were none who doubted that Columbia had a task before her worthy of her mettle, in view of the brawn, muscle and agility displayed by the array of broad-shouldered youths from the St. Lawrence Valley.

Union won the tos and kicked off to Columbia's ten-yard line and a few spirited splunges advanced the bal through the centrefield checkerboard squares until the Union team was forced back into their own territory.

Duel, Columbia's right half back, suddenly emerged from a scrimmage and raced forward for twenty-five yards. By sheer weight the blue propelled the ball to the visitors five-yard line, when Smith jumped through a hole for a touchdown. Jones failed to kick a goal. Score: Columbia, 5; Union, 0.

Union kicked o flagain, and Columbia swept back the oval to the centre of the field. Union got the pigskin on a fumble. The assaults on the Columbia line were tame as attacks of a sparrow on a lark. A kick and a fumble by the White and Blue right full-back, however, advanced them into their opponent's territory, then after they buffeted in vain, finally forfeiting the ball to Columbia.

The New Yorkers simply ploughed through their opponents' line in a farcial manner.

Columbia Scores Again.

The visitors held well until the last until Capt. Smith hurdled the line for a touchdown. Jones kicked the goal, scoring Columbia 11, Union nothing.

PARKS BEATEN BY BUCHANAN

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 3.—Sam Parks received a serious setback at the Convention of International Bridge and Structural Ironworkers this afternoon.

President Buchanan, his enemy, was re-elected, polling 43 votes. Donnelly, who was Parks's candidate, polled 40. Parks has so dominated the convention that it was supposed his man would win, but the administration forces had a few tricks in reserve and played them.

The result of the election was a paralyzer for Parks

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 3.—The Boston Americans and Pittsburg Nationals meet this afternoon in the third game of the world's championship series, and it seems as if the town had gone mad over the subject. The betting was 10 to 8 that Collins's band will take the majority of games.

The attendance this afternoon was a record-breaker fo Boston. A party of 200 members of the Stock Exchange were on hand. Speculators bought blocks of reserved seats and demanded $2 (double price) for them yesterday.

So grea twas the crowd at the gates before noon that they were thrown open. It seemed no time before there were 5,000 persons inside.

The day was an ideal one. Both clubs were keyed up to the highest notch, each anxious to march to Pittsburg with the prestige of two victories.

When the players trotted out for preliminary prictice it didn't seem as if there was a spare foot of ground outside of the diamond and there were still thousands outside clamoring for tickets.

So great was the multitude that there was a human fringe on the three lines of great fence around the field, and they stood twenty deep in fron.

First Inning.

After ten minutes spent in clubbing the diamond clear Beaumont started the music by an out, Collins to La Chance. Clarke died the same way. Leach, by Parent to La Chance, went out. No runs.

Dougherty's bounder was cleverly stopped by Wagner and hurled to first. Ritchey disposed of Collins at first. Sebring took Stahl's fly on the dead run. No runs.

Second Inning.

Wagner's only response to the cheers was an out at first, via Ferris. Collin's right arm handed Bransfield's swat to first in time. Ritchey nestled the first safety into the centre field for two bags. Sebring walked. Phelps pushed another two-bagger out, and Richey was over with a pair on the bases. Phillippi was nailed at first by Parent. One run.

Freeman was easy on Wagner's throw to first, Parent trod the same path. La Chance raised the hopes of the crowd by a double and Leach got Ferris's teasing roller in time. No runs.

TRYING TO SWING BROOKLYN BOSS BACK INTO LINE

Senator McCarren and Seven Other Brooklyn Democratic Leaders Will Urge McLaughlin to Throw His Support in Favor of the Entire Tammany Ticket.

R. FULTON CUTTING SENDS ANOTHER HOT ROAST TO GROUT.

Demands that Comptroller Retire and Run as the Tammany Nominee Alone—Declares He Never Said the Irish Catholic Vote Wasn't Worth a Snap of His Finger.

Hugh McLaughlin is not going to have it all his own way in opposing the Tammany nomination of Grout and Fornes in Brooklyn. Opposition to his stand has developed and will find open expression at the meeting of the Brooklyn Executive Committee to be held to-night to take action on the cutcome of the Carnegie Hall convention.

Senator Patrick McCarren will introduce and advocate a resolution calling upon the Brooklyn organization to support the Democratic ticket from top to bottom. In this he will be joined by District Leaders William Melody, Henry Haggerty, William McGuire, George H. Lindsay, Conrad Hasenflug, James Kane and William Brennan.

These leaders will contend that inasmuch as the Democracy of Edward M. Grout is acceptable to the Tammany organization, which holds the power in the Democracy of the city, it would be well to follow the lead of Tammany and indorse him. They will point out that if Tammany Hall should happen to win without the aid of the Brooklyn organization the enormous patronage of that borough would be handed to persons antagonistic to the Willoughby street machine. The Tammany powers have not yet despaired of having McLaughlin come around. He has been known to compromise before.

BROOKLYN BOROUGH TICKET.

The following borough ticket will be named at the Brooklyn Democratic conference to-night: President of the Borough, Martin Littleton; Sheriff, Henry Hesterburg; Register, Matthew E. Dooley; County Clerk, Edward Kaufman; District-Attorney, John F. Clarke.

There is no chance for Julian D. Fairchild and Herman A. Metz to be nominated for Comptroller and President of the Board of Aldermen by the Fusionists. President Cutting, of the Citizens' Union, said to-day that the names of these men could not be considered because they had been mentioned in the Carnegie Hall convention.

It was reported this afternoon that Meyer J. Stein, who recently resigned from the Greater New York Democracy, says he can show that the Citizens' Union is furnishing the funds for the campaign of William S. Devery. The nature of Mr. Stein's proof could not be obtained. He is said to have expressed a desire to withhold his information from the public until Monday.

CALL FOR NEW CONVENTION.

A new Republican City Convention has been called for next Wednesday to drop Grout and Fornes and nominate new candidates in their places. The Fusion conference to select the names of the nominees will be held on Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock. There is no doubt in the minds of the Fusionists that they can drop Grout and Fornes.

The letter of R. Fulton Cutting to Edward M. Grout, demanding that the latter resign from the Fusion ticket, was made public to-day, and it is a pretty warm document. Right at the start Mr. Cutting tells Mr. Grout that he has "proved unequal to the situation."

"It is true," says Mr. Cutting, "that Croker is no longer here and that Devery has gone, but Murphy and Tim Sullivan remain. No one knowe better than you do that the choice between Fusion and Tammany government is a choice between good and evil. No one knows better than you that the hard names you yourself called Tammany Hall are true to-day.

IF THEY KNEW GROUT IN TIME!

"Had you been true to the Fusion cause you could have answered my letter asking you to explain your attitude in a single sentence. Mr. Murphy is willing to pay the price of a Fusion Comptroller and President of the Board of Aldermen for his own Mayor. He could well afford to do so.

"The antagonism of the Citizens' Union to Tammany Hall has not diminished. We had no idea at the time of our nominating convention, on Sept. 23, that you would be offered the Tammany nomination. Had we known you then as we know you now we would not have nominated you. The notification committee that met you at the home of Mayor Low had no power to withdraw your nomination."

Mr. Cutting denied to-day that he ever used the expression "I don't care a snap of my finger for the Irish-Catholic vote," ascribed to him by Mr. Cronin of the Greater New York Democracy. When asked if the Fusion conferrees would nominate Julian D. Fairchild and Herman A. Metz for Comptroller and President of the Board of Aldermen he settled their chances by saying that no man could be nominated whose name was mentioned at the Tammany convention.

A letter to Mr. Fornes from Mr. Cutting notifies him that his explanation of his stand with relation to Tammany is not sufficiently explicit, and his acceptance of the nomination makes it impossible for the Citizens' Union to present him to the electorate as one of its candidates for office.

GROUT WILL KEEP UP FIGHT.

Mr. Grout has retained Henry Yonge to fight the plan of the Fusionists. Mr. Yonge says that if necessary he will enjoin the Republican leaders from holding a convention and will mandamus them to compel the filing of the certificates of nomination of Mr. Grout and Mr. Fornes. He is sure that he can establish the legality of the Republican Convention.

"Mr. Grout will resist to the end the efforts of a lot of political highbinders to drive him off the ticket," said Luke D. Stapleton, of Brooklyn,
