YOUNG BURGLAR, SHOT, WILL DIE

Was on Top of Storehouse with Companions to Remove the Goods Stolen a Few Nights Before.

HIS PALS STOOD BY AND WERE CAPTURED.

Knowing He Must Die, He Made Them Promise that in the Future They Would Be Honest.

At the Hudson Street Hospital Litzh Deloy, barely seventeen years old, lies lying from a bullet wound in the back, received while going after stolen goods with his companion, "Cockeyed Jim," "The Nigger," and "Mike the Fritz." Not one of the three is over nineteen years old, although all are known to the police as expert cracksmen.

They were on the roof of No. 54 Elizabeth street, which adjoins the rear of No. 54 Bowery, occuped by Jacobs, Kapan & Co. as a storehouse. It has been robbed twice within a week. A high iron fence separates the roofs of the two buildings. At the street it extends beyond the edge of the roof like a spiked fan.

Despite the fact that it hangs five stories above the street Deloy and his companions swung around the fence to the other side. They had just landed there when there was a shot, and Deloy trembled all over. Despite the fact that he was wounded he followed his companions back as they swung around the fence again, then Deloy fell in a heap. The others, instead of running, gathered about him.

The shot had been fired by Herman H. Ernest, an aged watchman.

The police found the trio together, standing over Deloy. The bullet had plowed up his back, smashing part of his spine. Dr. Saunders was summoned from the Hudson Street Hospital and restored him to consciousness. When he revived he called for "The Nigger."

"I'm to blame for this, Nig," he said. "If you get out of it all right, keep straight; promise me."

"The Nigger," with tears streamng down his cheeks, bowed his head and made a solemn promise.

Deloy was taken to the hospital and his companions to the station. They admitted that they were after goods which had been stolen and packed up on Tuesday.

Ernest, the watchman, was arrested, but will probably be released to-day.

ENGAGED THIRTY YEARS.

Neither Bride Nor Bridegroom Would Leave Mother.

CHICAGO, May 19.—H. S. Osborn, aged sixty-five, and Miss Mary E. Waller was married yesterday after an engagement extending over thirty years. Miss Weller is a daughter of James B. Waller, a noted Chicagoan. The long engagement was due to family duties. Miss Waller could not leave her mother's home and Mr. Osborn had a mother to care for. They are now building a $100,000 Presbyterian church near their home in Buena Park.

Mrs. James B. Waller, when she died a year or two ago, bequeathed $60,000 for this purpose and made her daughter, Miss Mary Waller, and Mr. Osborn joint executors to carry out the plan. To focus their energies upon the fulfilment of this duty Mr. Osborn and Miss Waller decided to wed.

MONDAY MORNING WONDERS.

ALL CARS TRANSFER TO Bloomingdales 3RD AVE. TO LEX. 59TH TO 60TH ST.

Whatever you buy at Bloomingdales' is good, no matter how little the price you pay.

This fact makes our specials worth something in real, solid, practical economies every time.

ALL CARS TRANSFER TO Bloomingdales 3RD AVE. TO LEX. 59TH TO 60TH ST.

This Bargain Friday Will Be a Commanding Occasion.

Golden moments of opportunity, when makers were sighing for the merchant alchemist to turn stocks left by a belated season into cash, have resulted prolifically in the greatest of economy chances at Bloomingdales'.

To-morrow, Bargain Friday, will find some of the most surprising of these—the biggest values in this season's best merchandise you've ever come across—await you.

And as this applies universally throughout practically every department in the store, take the following bargain paragraphs as representative of what you may expect at every turn at Bloomingdales' to-morrow—never as exhaustive, by any means.

Two Specials in Long and Short Kimonos of Dotted Crepe.

Cool and luxuriously comfortable, as well as pretty and becoming in appearance, are these chic little kimonos which we place on sale to-morrow at two ridiculously little prices.

99c—Regular Price $1.79. Long kimonos of excellent quality dotted crepe and cotton crepe challies, made with wide flowing sleeves and trimmed with wide Persian borders. Colors white, pink, blue, lavender, red and black. Sizes 34 to 46.

69c—Regular Price $1.00. Pretty, short kimonos, made of dotted crepe with Persian borders; in all desirable colors; all sizes. No C. O. D. or mail orders filled.
