He has seen over a year's service on the battle front in France, and feels greatly relieved to get back to home and friends.

Troy E. Bressler of Norfolk, visited several days the past week at the home of Mrs. L. Hilborn. Mr. Bressler recently returned from overseas. Mrs. Lorena Hilborn and mother, Mrs. Pickley, left Sunday morning for a visit at Creighton, Neb. Miss Lewman, a guest of Mrs. Hilborn, accompanied them.

Last Tuesday evening the W. M. B.'s met at a "Jumble" party in the basement of the Rev. Draise home. A very pleasant time was enjoyed by all. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served. The departing guests declared the Social Committee had done their duty well. The writer wonders if the alarm was given at two-thirty—it should have been.

County Judge McKinley has held that the owner of an automobile is not guilty of transporting liquors, while driving the car, when a second party in the car happens to have a bottle in his pocket. James Yellowbank, an Indian, recovered his big Buick six, Monday, when the evidence showed that Mrs. Yellowbank had the "fire water" in her sock. She pleaded guilty to illegal possession, and was fined the minimum fine of $100 and costs.

Evelyn Minnie Lusebrink died at the St. Vincent's hospital last Saturday, April 12, of spinal meningitis. She was born June 2, 1918. She was left motherless when she was six weeks old. Since that time she has been cared for by Mrs. Garret Mason, her aunt, at Homer. The child was laid to rest by the side of her mother at the Grove cemetery. She leaves to mourn her loss, eight brothers, three sisters and her father. Rev. C. R. Lowe conducted the services.

The Homer Star complained last week of the county Superintendent furnishing a copy of the semi-annual school apportionment to the Herald and not to the other county papers. The Star editor should investigate a little before making such accusations. A member of the school board, to which a copy of the apportionment was furnished, took it upon himself to publish it as a news item, the same as we do with other matters of interest to our readers. So read the Herald if you want the news when it is news.

Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Maxwell received word the past week from the War Department that their son, Capt. Chas. T. Maxwell had been slightly wounded in June, 1918. The family had received word at the time from their son, and had almost forgotten about it, by the time the department got around to notify them.

When H. R. Greer opened up the hardware and lumber office last Wednesday morning he discovered that some sneak thief had entered the building during the night by way of a back window and carried off a dozen or more pocket knives and razors, and a few pennies that had been left in the money drawer. From the small opening in which the entrance was made it was surmised that the work was done by kids, and as usual no arrests were made.

Word was received by the A. T. Haase family the past week of the death of Miss Emma L. Eckhart, at her home in Oakland, Calif., April 1, 1919. She was 59 years of age, and had been in frail health for several years. She was a daughter of the late J. P. Eckhart, a pioneer resident of Dakota City, where she spent her girlhood days. Funeral services were held April 3rd, Dr. G. L. Hillerman, pastor of the First Lutheran church of Oakland, officiating.

The time of year is at hand when the people of Dakota City should begin to show their pride in our little city by cleaning up around their premises, especially back yards and alleys, where the accumulation of the winter season's filth has left its mark in unsightly rubbish heaps, manure piles, etc. Don't wait for a clean-up day, but get busy and see how much your home surroundings will be improved by a little extra work on your part. If you don't do it soon the village marshal will be compelled to issue an order later on to have it done.

M. E. Church Notes

Rev. S. A. Draise, Pastor. It was a glad day last Sunday—a day of encouragement to everybody. The Sunday school had the largest attendance for the year. The secretary reported 101 present. New scholars are coming in every Sunday, and say, you big folks, just whisper to the superintendent or primary superintendent that you would like to help and see how happy you will make them. We need more teachers, and other workers.

The classes are getting too large for the best results. Who will say, "Here am I?" The decisions for Christian life numbered twenty-five in the service last Sunday. That is fine for a start, who will be the next? Special Good Friday services will be held next Friday evening. Easter exercises will be at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Everybody welcome.

The Centenary committee report that the subscriptions have passed the $5,000 mark and are yet to go higher. This represents real giving to relieve the distress of the helplessness in the world. The Centenary committee is working in perfect harmony with the victory loan campaign, and every Methodist will be ready with his share of the bonds. The director of the Centenary is C. S. Ward, who has had charge of the bond campaigns for the government, and of course there could be nothing but harmony—and now "altogether on the Victory Bonds"—and then "all together on the Centenary." It is the call to the Methodists. If anyone else wants in don't be bashful, just ask for a minute man and he will tell you what to do.

ESTRAY NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that I have taken up on my premises, on or about March 21, 1919, one large Hereford bull, branded on right hip. Owner can have same by proving property and paying all charges. L. P. BEACOM, Dakota City, Nebr.

Lutheran Church Notes

By Rev. C. R. Lowe. If you are sick or in trouble, call the pastor. He should be a helpful and sympathetic counselor.

It has been well nigh impossible for the pastor to have a catechetical class at Salem this past winter for various reasons, but it is not our purpose to get out from under work. Catechization is one of the pleasantest things we do if the young folks are interested in it. And in order that there shall be an opportunity for those who would be interested in this work, the pastor wants to propose the following plan as the best method that is open to us. At the close of the school year which will be pretty soon, now, those who want the work, will take a few days for it, meet at the church, and spend all our time at it and be ready for confirmation shortly. Three or four days will be sufficient. This is a method I have never tried, and I would like to try it out. I do not know why it ought not to work. It is simply a matter of taking the time. Probably it is as good to take the time once as again. Had we had this during the winter, we would have had to give it special time. We do nothing without that consideration. There are those who ought to give attention to this this season. We hope the parents will favor the plan enough to make it convenient for their young folks to come. It is not our intention to make a grind of the work. It can be done without that. We intend to enjoy it, to have a good time doing this work. I think it can be done so. A good deal of the hardness of our work is the angle from which we look at it. I think we can make the work interesting enough to continue it for three or four days. At any rate here is an opportunity. Let us take it. Our pastor will gladly do the work. The pastor will absent this week Thursday and Friday at Omaha, where he goes to assist Dr. Yerian, the president of Synod in some holy week services. He will preach and assist with the holy communion on Thursday night and preach again on Friday night. This will be a pleasant task. And what is more he will find out something about the benevolent operations which are to be put on foot under the United Lutheran Church of America. These plans are to be begun at the close of the present synodical year.

The drive for the National Lutheran Commission and the restoration of churches in the war destroyed districts amounted to one hundred and twenty-one dollars in the Dakota City and Salem pastorate. We cannot here give personal and public credit for the individual sums, for the list was not given to us by the men who made the canvas. This drive has come so early in the Easter time that it was thought inadvisable to make the usual effort for a one hundred dollar freewill offering on Easter. We take it the drive has been made and the congregation has gone over the top again.

Worship is one of the necessities of your Christian life. Do not neglect this. As farmers we plow and cultivate, and we ought to do the same thing in our religious life. The prophet declares to Israel, "Break up your fallow ground." Again we are to "implant the word," and again to "train up" the way we ought to go, and what is all that but plowing and cultivating in our religious matters.

The pastor at Salem claims it is not a bit farther from South Sioux City via the tracks and afoot after having attended the musical festival of the dedication of Trinity Lutheran Church of Sioux City, last Friday night, than it was for a bunch of men who came home the same way some time ago from a bum wrestling match in Sioux City. That was part of the price of attendance, and we were glad to pay it, and where we have the advantage of the other afore said bunch, we are still glad we paid it. The music under the direction of Professor Wick was fine indeed. We do not pretend to be a critic of music, but we can tell whether we are much pleased or not. We certainly were. Prof. Wick wrote one of the cantatas which was presented especially for this occasion. Trinity Church may well be proud of their Director, his own music was excellent. There were 49 voices in the choir. Members of the three other Lutheran churches assisted in the Trinity Choir.

We have been attending the Sioux City concert course for two years now, and have heard some of the very best music of the world and have enjoyed it of course, this was different entirely, being voices, we enjoyed it just as much as some of the instrumental music. The Lutheran churches of the city have an aggregation of singers that is surely creditable to the city. A number of our Salem people were anxious to attend the program, but were disappointed at not being able to get over because of the bad roads. They missed a treat. But do you know what our feeling was as we walked home from the car all alone under the moonlit fecy midnight sky. It was that we could have a lot of mighty good music at Salem if our young folks and those of the others whom the pastor knows can help, would get behind the work. There will be preaching and communion service at the Lutheran church next Sunday night. A class of nine will be confirmed at the Homer Lutheran church Easter.

Prepare for Another Day. Prepare today for the morrow. It is the only way to advance rapidly and with success. He best succeeds who, in advance to demand, knows his abilities and shortcomings, who is able best to estimate his capacity for production, mental or physical. Prepare incessantly for promotion, and promotion must come. Neglect to prepare for the future, and there will be no future. It is such neglect that has spelled stagnation for millions in the past, that will spell stagnation for millions in the future.—Milwaukee Journal.

DAKOTA COUNTY HOG FEEDING RECORD

(From Farm Bureau News.)

Over a year ago when the Food Administration promised hog raisers that they would do their utmost to maintain the price so that 13 pounds of pork would sell for as much as a bushel of corn, there was a great deal of question in the minds of some people as to whether pork could be profitably produced at that ratio; and whether the government would be able to maintain the price.

With the idea of securing some definite data on this subject we cooperated with Mr. Wm. G. Rohde, a farmer living near Nacora. Mr. Rohde had a very fair herd of grade hogs, with very usual sheds and other equipment. The hogs taken for this work were 259 pigs, at weaning time, weighing an average of 30 lbs., and 3 boars weighing about 200 lbs. each. Sickness entered the herd and took as its toll 32 of the pigs, but while still quite young.

The feeds are all figured at market price at the time they were fed, excepting a small amount of corn which was fed at the price paid a grower, which in this case was slightly more than the market price at the time it was fed. The corn listed at $1.10 per bushel was of the 1917 crop and of quite a low grade. The ground feed was half corn and half oats. The corn was figured at $1.40 per bushel and the oats 65c per bushel, with an allowance of 5c per bushel for grinding.

The following is a summary of the work which ran from June 7th, to February 26th, 1919:

|   |          |
|---|----------|
| Interest on $824.15 equip- at 5 per cent | $ 41.20 |

| Salt                                      | 10.15    |
| Ground feed (corn and oats)               | 1118.07  |
| 1041 bushels                              | 781.00   |
| Corn, 710 bushels, 1917 crop at $1.10    | 781.00   |
| Corn, 1050 bushels, at $1.30 per bushel  | 1365.00  |
| Corn, 570 bushels, at $1.40              | 798.00   |
| Corn, 175 bushels, snapped, at $1.25     | 218.75   |
| Corn, 928 bushels "hogged off," at $1.25 | 1160.00  |
| Oats, 1090 bushels, at 65c                | 708.50   |
| Tankage, 1 1/4 tons at $100 per ton      | 175.00   |
| Shorts, 1 1/4 tons at $60                | 75.00    |
| Pasture, 6 and one-sixth acres, at $6.00 | 37.00    |
| Labor, 2 hrs. per day for 264             |          |

SALES.

|   |           |
|---|-----------|
| Dec. 31, fat hogs, 65, ave., 282 lbs.   | $3160.45 |
| Jan. 20, sold boar, 300 lbs.            | 57.50     |
| Jan. 22, sold boar, 250 lbs.            | 40.00     |

| One boar on farm, wt. 225.              | 40.00     |

Total sales .....$9562.03
Subtracting the total cost from the total receipts leaves a balance of $1592.71.

At the beginning of the feeding operation the 259 pigs were valued at $5.00 each, and the boars at $35 each, making $1400.00. Taking this from the above balance leaves a clear profit over all expenses, after allowing market price for the primary object of the test, that of finding the ratio between the selling price of hogs, and the value of a bushel of corn, it was found that the average value of the corn fed was a fraction less than $1.28 per bushel. The average price received for a pound of pork was a trifle over 17 cents, per pound. Thirteen times the selling price of a pound of pork would be $2.21, so that, at least in this case, the price was maintained. When the original value of the pigs was added to the total cost, it was found that the cost of producing one pound of pork under these figures was 16.03 cents per pound.
