BROOKS SAYS TANLAC HAS OVERCOME HIS TROUBLES—FEELS LIKE A NEW MAN.

“My wife obtained such satisfactory results from Tanlac that I tried it myself and have gained ten pounds and feel like a new man,” said J. W. Brooks, traffic superintendent for the Western Union Telegraph Co., at Dallas, Texas, and living at 1752 Hickory street, that city.
 “When I began taking Tanlac,” he continued, “I was suffering from a stubborn case of stomach trouble, the result of an attack of acute indigestion I had several years ago. I had an awful pain across my back, and was so nervous and worried about my kidneys that I could hardly sleep at all. I suffered from rheumatism in my legs, my feet would swell and I was tired and languid all the time. I was badly rundown, lost weight, strength and energy and none of the medicines I took did me any good.
 “After using Tanlac for a short time I began to pick up and kept improving till now my rheumatism is all gone, the pains have disappeared from my back and my kidneys don't worry me like they did. I have a fine appetite and can eat anything I want without suffering at all from indigestion, my sleep is sound and restful and I get up in the morning feeling fine.”

Tanlac is sold in Dakota City by Neiswanger Pharmacy, in South Sioux City by Shanes Pharmacy, and in Homer by Wagner Pharmacy.

Stock Feeders to Gather

May 27 will be annual stock feeders' day at the University Farm, Lincoln. Cattle and sheep feeding experiments will be brought to a close on that day. Steers have been fed to determine the value of adding oil meal to a ration of corn and alfalfa with and without ensilage. The value of adding ensilage to corn and alfalfa has also been tested, and an attempt has been made to substitute hominy meal for half the corn in a corn, alfalfa, oil meal and ensilage ration. Sheep have been fed to determine whether hominy meal and gluten feed can be substituted for part of the corn in fattening lambs.

John Wasmund has arrived in New York from overseas service.

George Hanse of Emerson, was a Sunday visitor here with the home folks.

Mrs. Clyde Crego left last Friday to join her husband on their claim near Gillette, Wyo.

Mrs. George Wilkins and daughter, of Lincoln, spent a few days here the past week with friends.

Daniel Floyd Good, of Smithland, Ia., and Helen Jane Kindred, of Blair, Neb., were married at the M. E. parsonage Saturday by Rev. Draise.

Otto F. Smith and Sadie Hopkins, both of Elk Point, S. D., were united in marriage Tuesday at the Methodist parsonage by the pastor, Rev. S. A. Draise.

The local chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, which met in Lincoln this week, was represented by the worthy matron, Mrs. Ada Manning, of South Sioux City.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Edgar have rented a home at Worthington, Minn., where Mr. Edgar is employed by the Palmer Fruit Co., of Sioux City, in that territory, and will take up their residence there.

Sidney T. Frum was in Omaha last week and met his wife and daughter, who were returning from a winter's sojourn in California. He accompanied them to Shelby, Iowa, Mrs. Frum's former home, for a short visit before returning to their home in this place.

Patrick Brennan of Sioux City, paid a fine of $100 in Judge McKinley's court Saturday for transporting liquor. Aaron Casey and Mike Marshall each were assessed $10 and costs for intoxication. T. J. Waltizer, Mrs. Bessie Waltizer and Mrs. Minnie Case, who accompanied the booze party, were released.

A suit in the Iowa supreme court in which Mrs. Kate B. Pierce sued the Bekin Van Line of Sioux City under the workmen's compensation act for the accidental death of her husband, was won by Mrs. Pierce. Pierce, who was driving a big van for the company, was found dead a few miles west of this place, having been run over by the wagon while returning from a trip to Homer.

A session of the Masonic lodge was held Saturday afternoon and evening, when the Master Masons degree was conferred on two candidates, followed by a business session and election of officers for the coming year. J. J. Eimers was chosen master, Walter E. Miller senior warden, Elmer H. Bierman junior warden, J. S. Bacon treasurer, and John H. Ream secretary. A seven o'clock supper was served at the Barnett hotel.

Ben Haacker, who was tried in this county on a charge of bootlegging a year or more ago, having in his possession about 2,000 bottles of booze, and who was released, as it was shown that he had the liquor for his own personal use, is again in limbo, this time being arrested by federal agents at Rock Rapids, Ia., in company with A. D. DeVore, another booze runner, with a cargo of booze en route from Minnesota to his old haunts in South Sioux City.

Frank M. Sides, one of the first to volunteer for army duty from this place arrived home last Thursday after an absence of over two years in the service. He joined the 364th Masonic Ambulance company while at the Presidio in California, and was in active service on the front for several months before the close of the war, during which time he experienced all the perils and hardships incident to modern warfare that he cares not to witness again. He was in the drives at St. Mihiel, France, from September 11th to 13th; the Meuse-Argonne forest from September 26th to October 4th; Lys Scheldt, Belgium, from October 31st to November 11th. He says he was mighty glad when the war ended, and still more so when he reached home again.

The Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church gave a farewell surprise party Monday evening for our townsman, Congressman R. E. Evans, who leaves this Thursday for Washington, to assume his duties in the special session of congress which has been called to meet Monday, May 19th. A program of speaking and singing was given, and the ladies did themselves proud, especially in the numbers rendered by the kitchen “singsungy” orchestra. Judge W. P. Warner spoke on behalf of those present, extending regrets at Mr. Evans' departure, and also tendered the best wishes of the community for his success in the great duties and responsibilities he was called upon to assist in. He was followed by Rev. S. A. Draise, who also spoke feelingly for the assemblage in losing so valued a worker in everything of interest to the community. Mr. Evans responded and made it plain that he would much rather continue his everyday life among the people of his own little home town, but as duty called him, he would do his part in fulfilling the obligations imposed upon him. A light lunch was served by the ladies before departing homeward.

New Poultry Bulletin Out

“Illustrated Poultry Primer” is the name of a new United States Department of Agriculture farmers' bulletin. It gives by means of photographs and brief statements the fundamentals underlying the production of poultry. There are many illustrations on such subjects as the selection of breeds, artificial and natural incubation, poultry houses and fixtures, trap nests, feeding for egg production, marketing, lice and mites, and common diseases and treatments. Farmers' bulletin 1040 may be obtained free from the Extension Service, University Farm, Lincoln. The Government publishes a large number of free bulletins dealing with every phase of agriculture and home economics. A list of these bulletins may be obtained from the Extension Service. By checking on the list the names of the bulletins desired and returning the list to the Extension Service the bulletins will be mailed free of charge.

Home Demonstration Notes
 Miss Florence Atwood
 Home Demonstration Agent

A series of demonstrations on the use and making of fireless cooker and iceless refrigerator, will be held as follows:

- Monday, May 12, at 2 p. m., at Mrs. Peter Ronnfeldt's Naocra.
- Tuesday, May 13, at 2 p. m., at Mrs. M. M. Hileman's.
- Wednesday, May 14, at 2 p. m., at town hall, Hubbard.
- Thursday, May 15, at 2:30 p. m., at St. Patrick's hall, Jackson.
- Friday, May 16, at 2 p. m., at the Homer high school.

Miss McMurry, a specialist from the University Extension Service, will be here to give these demonstrations. May is an ideal month for growing chicks, and also an ideal month (if allowed to be) for growing lice and mites. These are the two most troublesome poultry parasites. Lice are biting insects which live on the hen's body. To control lice, dust with a commercial louse powder or make a powder according to the following formula:

Mix thoroughly one part of a coal tar disinfectant (such as zeneleum, creosote, creolin, etc.) with four parts to this until all the solution is absorbed, then spread the mixture on a board or newspaper to dry, away from direct sunlight. Dust this powder thoroughly over the body of each bird, particularly around the fluff.

Mites are the little spider-like parasites that live in the cracks and crevices of the roosts and walls and come out to feed on the hens at night. These parasites can easily be controlled by spraying the roosts with a mixture of one part coal tar disinfectant and four parts of kerosene.

The liberal use of a two or three percent solution of coal tar disinfectant about the poultry house after cleaning will aid in keeping it sanitary and comfortable for the hens. The hen is naturally a clean animal and will repay efforts in this direction by producing more eggs. Cleanly practices about the poultry yard will also make poultry keeping more popular with neighbors.

M. E. Church Notes

Rev. S. A. Draise, Pastor
 Last Sunday was Mother's day and the services were conducted with special emphasis upon the thought of mother's place in our lives.

Mrs. Frank Lean sang a beautiful solo which was greatly appreciated. At the close of the services Mrs. Lean and Mrs. Mason sang a duet which was very appropriate and greatly enjoyed.

There are many expressions of commendation for the part the fellows with the automobiles had in the service, and the folks whom they made it possible to be there are very grateful for the kindness and comfort which was theirs. Everybody is glad for the service. There were some folks absent, though.

The morning service next Sunday will be at Homer, and in the evening the baccalaureate service will be held in the church in Dakota City. There are two men and one woman who are not planning to be there, but you better come early—8 o'clock. Sunday school at 10 o'clock next Sunday morning.

Hints on Getting Your Car Out of a Mud Hole.

A resourceful motorist whose car has been stuck in the mud does not always have to fall back on a pair of mules to get free. For such an emergency the United States Tire Company offers some suggestions that have proved valuable.

The first calls for having stored away somewhere in the car a stack of old newspapers. When the car gets stuck and the wheels refuse to take hold, feed in some of the old papers between the tires and the mud. Usually only a few will have to be worked in before the wheels will begin to grip and the car start forward. This method of handling a difficult situation is so simple and so uniformly successful, that every motorist should know of it and carry a pile of old newspapers, unless he is equipped with some other apparatus for such a contingency.

Here is the other method suggested by the United States Tire Company: Put the car in low, and if you cannot feed the gas with your foot evenly, so that the wheels will revolve slowly, put your emergency brake on. Do not put it on so that the wheels will not revolve at all, but tightly enough to keep them from revolving rapidly. With the wheels turning slowly, the maximum pull is delivered to them by having the car in low gear, and so long as they turn slowly they can get the benefit of the tremendous power.

It is not always wise to fill the hole with stones or bricks, for their rough edges are hard on tires. Small branches of trees are better, as they offer much better tractive space. Should this method fail, quite often a slight push that would not much more than move a baby buggy will furnish just the added amount of power necessary to get the car going.

Waterglass Preservative the Best

The University Extension Service favors the waterglass method of preserving eggs. Lime water will preserve eggs as perfectly as waterglass but it sometimes gives them a lime flavor. Tests made by the United States Department of Agriculture showed that eggs could also be preserved by varnishing them with vaseline. One gallon of waterglass will make solution enough to preserve 50 to 60 dozen eggs and the cost will be only two to three cents a dozen. Two-quart glass jars give satisfaction as containers, though any kind of earthenware crocks or wooden pails may be used. Infertile unwashed, but clean, eggs keep the best. They should be candled for cracks and blood spots. Allow two inches of solution over the tops of eggs. Store in a cool dry place, preferably a well-ventilated cellar. If the eggs get too warm they will not keep.
