BLAZE IN "L" CAR CREATES PANIC

Two Passengers Are Severely Burned by Flash from Electric Current Caused by Loosening of Lighting Apparatus.

ONE MAN'S UMBRELLA ENTIRELY CONSUMED.

Clothing of Another Passenger Partially Burned—The Guard Seizes Wire and Detaches It from Electrical Current.

There was a small-sized panic on a crowded elevated train on the Fifth avenue line at the Brooklyn City Hall station to-day when two persons were burned and others badly scared. There was the usual crowd on the train at the time, and both platforms were crowded with passengers, who were unable to get inside the cars.

The accident which caused the excitement occurred just as the train was rounding the curve at the City Hall station. On account of the darkness the electric lamps in the cars had been lighted, and as the train was rounding the curve the apparatus which carries the current for lighting from one car to another became loosened and fell out of the socket. This apliance is similar to a piece of rubber hose, and one end is fastened to a plug in the car ahead. As this hose fell out of the plug it struck against the iron railing of the car behind, and instantly there was a blinding flash, which lasted for several seconds. The guard caught hold of it and knocked it away from the railing and instantly the flash ceased. The car had by this time reached the station and there was scramble of women and men to get off.

Passengers Severely Burned.

Harold Smithers, who lives at No. 269 Berkeley place, was one of the passengers injured by the flash. He was standing close to the spot where the horse fell, and he had his clothing badly scorched and his wrists were also burned, as he was unable to get away from the fire, because of the crowd on the paltform of the car.

Another passenger on the car was William Gass, who lives at No. 657 Degraw street. He was standing alongside of Mr. Smithers when the accident occurred. He was carrying an umbrella and received the full force of the flash in the face and he was severely burned. The umbrella was destroyed and there was nothing left but the frame.

FELT WAS GOING TO DIE, AND DID

Aged John McKenna Drops Dead on Sidewalk After Telling His Granddaughter He Would Not Live Long.

John McKenna, seventy-three years old, of No. 535 West Thirty-ninth street, droped dead on the sidewalk in front of No. 520 West Thirty-eighth street today within a few minutes after telling his granddaughter that he expected to be dead before long.

McKenna, who was a night watchman in the Pennsylvania Railroad yards at Long Island City, had ben in his usual health, but complained of feeling a bit ill when he returne dhome from work this morning. His granddaughter suggested that he take a short walk to get the fresh air. He started out, remarking as he left:

"It won't do any good. I'll be dead before long."

He was seen to fall by a pedestrian who ran to him, but the old man was dead. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause of death. McKenna was a well-known character in the neighborhood, being a politician in a small way. Among his peculiarities was the hallucination that, in his duties as watchman, he frequently shot trespassers on the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's property. He would frequently relate details of the supposed shootings which nearly always turned out to be purely imaginary.

GIRL SAVES MANY LIVES

Fights Flames Started by Exploding Lamp Until Badly Burned and Then Bravely Arouses Apartment Inmates.

The explosion of an oil lamp in the apartment of Mrs. Mary Sheppard on the top floor of the five-story tenement, No. 517 West Forty-seventh street, caused a fire early to-day that drove sixteen families to the street, men, women and children all in their night clothes. But for the prompt action of Julia Sheppard, sixteen years old, who sounded the alarm from floor to floor, by knocking at the doors of all the tenants, loss of life would undoubtedly have resulted, as the fire gained a rapid headway and soon enveloped the building.

Mrs. Sheppard is a widow and lives with her daughter, Julia and her son Charles. She had started an oil stove burning early in the day and then went out to get some food for her son's breakfast. Soon after leaving the apartment the stove exploded and spattered the burning oil over the walls and floor. Julia, who was semi-dressed, rushed from her room and began to pour water on the burning flames, with the result that the fire was scattered over a broader area.

Soon a Sheet of Flame.

The kitchen was soon a sheet of flame and the girl, realizing that the fire was likely to be a serious affair, called for help. Her brother heard the alarm but could do nothing because his room was cut off by the flames. Next to the window of this room is an air shaft and he swung out over this into the window of a neighboring apartment, arousing the tenants and giving the alarm on that side of the house. Julia had by this time left the kitchen and gone on her mission of warning from apartment to apartment arousing all.

Mothers packing their infants, children laden with household effects and men staggering under the burden of furniture scurried down the stairs into the street. The sidewalks were soon littered and the shouting and the crying of women and children aroused the entire neighborhood. When the police and firemen arrived they had their hands full keeping the tenants from entering the burning building after more of their personal property.

Directly under Mrs. Sheppard's apartment was the apartment of Mrs. Dapper. The rain of sparks down the airshaft started a blaze in this apartment, and in escaping Mrs. Dapper was badly burned. Julia Sheppard's arm was badly burned and her brother Charles also received burns while swinging across the air shaft.

The fire was quickly extinguished by the firemen, the damage being a little over $1,000.

GIRLS IN A COLLEGE RUSH.

Young Man Perhaps Fatally Hurt in a Hard Fight.

BEAVER, Pa., Oct. 6.—Joseph West, a son of J. A. West, of Pittsburg, real estate dealer, was rendered unconscious and perhaps fatally hurt, and Arthur Gardner, of Moscow, was bruised in students' rush at Beaver College, this morning.

It was the worst fight in the history of the college, even the girls turning out to take part.

MUNYON'S POWER

Over Disease Is Being Clearly Demonstrated Everywhere.

AILMENTS
Of the Most Stubborn Character Promptly Cured by His Remedies.

Of course, in all communities there are some who decline to accept the truths of science, no matter how conclusively they are presented. They continue a miserable existence—racked by pain and distressed in body and mind, rather than surrender their preconceived notions as to what ought to be and what is.

These cases are hopeless, and I am quite willing to leave them to their own devices. People, however, who are sick and in pain but who want to be made well and will accept cure when it is offered, these are the ones in whom I am interested and to whom I say with all the sincerity and earnestness of which I am capable, I CAN CURE YOU.

Munyon's Paw-Paw Tonic is the greatest stomach and nerve tonic known. It builds up the run-down, gives strength to the debilitated, restores ambition and energy, makes old folks feel young and the weak feel strong.

My Rheumatism Cure has rid more people of this distressing disease than all other remedies combined. I will return the money to any rheumatic whom it will not help.

Kidney disease in nine cases out of ten yields promptly to my Kidney Cure and Bright's Disease is frequently prevented by its use.

If you are constipated or bilious or are troubled with headaches arising from a disordered stomach take a few doses of my Paw-Paw Laxative Pills and see how quickly you will feel better.

Colds, which come with the rainy season and which frequently end with bronchitis, grip and the more deadly pneumonia, can be cured quickly and surely with my Cold Cure.

And these are but a few of my remedies. Why not ask your druggist for my "Guide to Health," which is free and which tells you how to keep well. It may save you from a serious illness.

Remember that all of my remedies are absolutely harmless. In taking them you run no such chances as you do in taking drastic and debilitating drugs. They are safe. They are sure.—MUNYON.

Munyon's Witch Hazel Toilet Preparations—Soap, Face Cream and Talcum Powder—all dainty and delicate, should be used by every woman of refinement and taste. Make the skin soft as velvet.
