Free Course in Growing Vegetables and Fruits

The Nebraska College of Agriculture at Lincoln has a long list of bulletins and circulars on garden and fruit growing which it is sending out free of charge. The names of some of them are: Pruning Trees, Vines and Shrubs; Neglected Orchards and their Care; Potato Seed Treatment; Potato Seed Considerations; Plan for a Farm Garden; Plan for a Backyard Garden; Strawberries in Nebraska. The College also distributes a long list of United States Department of Agriculture bulletins on similar subjects. A list of such available publications will be sent upon request and those desired may be checked off.

Care of Baby Chicks

A circular called "Baby Chicks—Their Care and Feed," by the Nebraska College of Agriculture, gives the following essentials for successful chick raising. Do not feed chicks until they are at least 48 hours old. Feed buttermilk or skim milk for the first feeds, if possible. Keep drinking vessels clean. Feed only clean sweet chick feeds. Keep chicks busy. Feed green feeds in small amounts. Feed early and late. Keep brooder temperature regulated so chicks will not chill over night. Allow chicks out of doors as soon as possible. Feed all the sour milk or buttermilk they will drink. Furnish sand or grit material. Many other valuable suggestions are given in the circular, which may be obtained free.

Man Feels As Happy As a Boy

FAYH SAYS HE FEELS THIRTY YEARS YOUNGER SINCE TAKING TANLAC.

"I honestly feel thirty years younger since I began taking Tanlac, and am as happy as a boy," said M. J. Fahy, a switchman on the Missouri Pacific and living at 2008 T Street, Lincoln, Neb.

"I had suffered from rheumatism in my muscles and joints for so long," he continued, "that I was getting to feel old before my time. My joints would swell up something awful and the muscles all over my body ached dreadfully most all the time. At times I was in such agony that I could hardly raise my hand to button my collar. My liver was nearly always sluggish, my appetite was mighty poor and I had such a tired, worn out feeling all the time that I often felt discouraged, for it looked like I would never get any better."

"But Tanlac had made a well man of me and I began to feel better soon after starting on it. My appetite picked right up, I enjoyed my meals and my liver soon got to acting right. All the swelling and pains are now gone, and getting rid of this rheumatism is the greatest treat of my life. That tired, worn out feeling I had before is all gone, too, I sleep fine and simply feel like a different man, and there is nothing too good for me to say about Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Dakota City by Neiswanger Pharmacy, in South Sioux City by Shane's Pharmacy, and in Homer by Wagner's Pharmacy.—Advertisement.

Hon. George D. Mathewson Candidate For GOVERNOR

Was born and raised on a farm. Am a classical graduate of an Iowa college. Practiced law for twenty years. Have lived on a farm, raised stock, fed cattle and farmed for the last fifteen years, and know the farmer's, laborer's and people's wants and needs.

Am opposed to graft and the reckless expending of the people's money. Am for the people first, last and all the time.

If I am elected, no bill will become a law by my signature, unless it is for the benefit of a majority of the people.

I guarantee an honest and economical administration. No spending of the people's money unless the people get the benefit of it.

Am opposed to centralization of power. No granting of pardons without knowing the facts.

I am a little old-fashioned and when a man kills another man in order to steal his wife, he will never receive a pardon from me.

Farmers Checking Profits and Losses

Several thousand Nebraska farmers are keeping an accurate record of their business this year, partly in order to be able to determine their income tax and partly to know the cost of production and whether they make profits from their crops and livestock. They are using a farm record book compiled by the State College of Agriculture and distributed by banks, county farm bureaus, and the College itself. This book is the result of several years study and investigation by the College, aided by practical farmers who had worked out a system of their own. For a number of years many farmers have been seeking some practical system of farm bookkeeping whereby they would have a record of their expenditures, receipts, and profits or losses. High priced land and high cost of production have increased interest in farm bookkeeping, and the income tax has made it almost necessary that many farmers keep books.

No Gain by Delay in Shearing

Nothing is to be gained by waiting for oily fleece before shearing sheep, says the Nebraska College of Agriculture. Wool is bought on the shrink, according to the amount of grease and dirt in it, and buyers usually can make a close estimate of this waste. Wool containing chaff and burrs must be given an expensive acid treatment and it is therefore purchased at a big discount. Much Nebraska wool will shrink from 45 to 60 per cent and some even more. Shearing time varies according to the part of the state. If the spring is moderate some shear early in April. If ewes suckling lambs suffer from heat their milk supply is reduced. They should be sheared early, especially if shelter is available for them in case wet or cold weather follows sheep suffer on warm days of early spring and their wool soon begins to slip.
