FINAL RESULTS AND NEWS OF ALL SPORTS EDITED BY ROBERT EDGREN

GIANTS START WITH FOUR RUNS AT ST. LOUIS

EDGREN'S COLUMN

SECOND only to Beldame's winning of the great Suburban Handicap was the triumph of Jockey O'Neill. The little black-haired, hawk-eyed rider brought in four winners—not a bad day's work, when the additional rewards are considered. After the big race O'Neill trotted out to the dressing rooms. A lot of little fellows in all the colors of the spectrum were lined up awaiting their turn at the scales. They grinned at O'Neill.

"Say," called one, "you'd better quit for the day and give us fellows a chance. We don't seem to be in the money!"

"Huh!" said O'Neill. "Don't bother me! I'm just going to win another."

He did.

CHARLIE MITCHELL, the man who fought John L. Sullivan once in Madison Square Garden and again after that in Chantilly, France, making a draw of it with the big champion, hovered about John Madden in the paddock. Mitchell looked surprisingly thin.

"I'm in tip-top shape, you know," he said. "I've been doing a lot of work lately. I took off about twenty pounds. I feel quite fit. Of course, I don't think I could whip Jeffries yet in less than two or three rounds; but I can go a bit. Of course I'm going to box John L. Sullivan. Let me tell you, the old fellow is in for a surprise party."

WHERE one automobile came into the inclosure at Sheepshead last year ten entered yesterday. The cars lined up on the lawn looked like the supply train of an army. When the races were over the gasoline explosions drowned out the din of Cronje's last battle, at the Boer War show across the way.

THE METS must have awakened this morning with the dark brown taste of defeat in their mouths. They never had a real chance in the world to war successfully against the Jockey Club, and their absurd attempt to "cut off their noses to spite their faces" by refusing to make book on the first race yesterday only made their finish more ridiculous.

THE Britt-Nelson snarl is still unravelled.

Both Britt and Nelson have $2,500 forfeits up for their match. A 'Frisco club has offered $15,000 as a purse for a twenty-round fight between Britt and Sullivan.

Battling Nelson's manager, just before leaving New York, explained the Dane's position:

"I wish Britt would make the match with Kid Sullivan and forfeit his $2,500 to us. We'd haul it down—easy money—and then stir things up so that the public would force foxy James into a match with Nelson anyhow."

Nelson says that he wouldn't consider for an instant the idea of fighting Gans before Britt. He also intimates that the intelligent Al Herford knew that fact before offering to let Gans weigh in at 133 pounds ringside.

I always thought there was "a nigger in the woodpile." Gans won't make 133 ringside, because he can't fight well at that weight.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY, RACE TRACK, June 16.—Suburban Day is always followed by a shrinkage in attendance which goes below the average of the ordinary day, but this afternoon was an exception to the rule. There was a splendid attendance.

The attractive quality of the card, which had as features the Coney Island Handicap at six furlongs, and the Daisy Stakes, for two-year-olds, which was run on the turf, was no doubt a strong magnet. The weather, too, was ideal and the track in a splendid condition. The balance of the card promised interesting contests.

There was no change in the existing conditions in the ring this afternoon. Mr. Cavanagh, who is in charge, said that he had received instructions that the present order of things was not to be changed, and there was no complaint from the Mets.

Brookdale Nymph Breezed In.

FIRST RACE—$800 added; maiden fillies; two-year-olds; five furlongs; Futurity course. Start good. Won easily. Time—1.01.

Brookdale Nymph went to the front soon after the start and made all the running, winning easily by two lengths from Fatinitzi, who closed with a rush in the last furlong and just got up in time to beat Society Bud a head. Single Life and Spendthrift Helen ran prominently and then died away.

Pronta's Change of Form.

SECOND RACE—$1,000 added; selling; three-year-olds and upward; mile and an eighth. Start good. Won driving. Time—1.55 2-5.

The Southerner, Capt. Bob, Incubator, Glisten, Daisy Green, Billy Roche and Schoolmate also ran. Schoolmate pulled up.

Pronta went to the front at the start, made all the running and won easily by two lengths. She had speed at every stage, something she did not have in her last race, when she was favorite and badly beaten. Ismailian was second all the way, but could never make Pronta extend herself. Billy Roche and Daisy Green were third and fourth to the far turn, where Champlain came on and finished third six lengths back of Ismailian.

Voorhees by Two Lengths.

THIRD RACE—The Daisy, for two-year-olds; $1,500 added; five furlongs on turf. Start good. Won cleverly. Time—1.00.

Voorhees went to the front and made pace followed by Nostromo and Belle of Pequest. They ran this way to the stretch, where Belle of Pequest took second place and set sail for the leader. She could not reach Voorhees, who won handily by two lengths from Belle of Pequest, who was six lengths in front of Nostromo.

Hamburg Belle Finished Strong.

FOURTH RACE—The Coney Island Handicap; three-year-olds and upward; $2,000; six furlongs, main course. Start good. Won driving. Time—1.12 3-5.

Race Kine, Sparkling Star, Broadcloth, Bedouin, Oliver Cromwell, Leonidas, Pasadena, Gamara, Lady Uncas and Little Em also ran.

Hamburg Belle and Roseben jumped away in front, and set a cracking pace, followed by Bedouin, Lady Uncas and Broadcloth. They held this order to the turn, where Lady Uncas and Bedouin died away. Wild Mint then showed on the leaders, and Race Kine moved out of the pack. Hamburg Belle came away in the last furlong, winning by two lengths from Roseben, who hung on long enough to beat Wild Mint a neck for the place. Race Kine

(Special to The Evening World.)

AMERICAN LEAGUE PARK, NEW YORK, June 16.—Delightful baseball weather and a good crowd greeted the Chicago White Sox in their second appearance here in deadly combat with the Highlanders. "Doctor" White pulled the teeth of Chesbro effectually and to-day Comiskey sprung another dentist unsuspecting foe. This was a lad named Jim Hart, who has just graduated from Georgetown a full-fledged tamperer of teeth. If Comiskey continues to invade this particular field of activity for recruits, coalminers, boilermakers and farmer lads will have little chance in professional baseball.

White, who gives instructions in dentistry winter times at Georgetown, says he has two more embrios and a husky horse doctor on the string for next year.

The grand stand was a sea of straw hats to-day and the old black Derby looked much out of place as a diognes in the Equitable Life. Everybody had spring fever, too, and the players needed all their superfluous ginger to make things interesting.

The Highlanders wanted badly to win and the crowd sympathize with them in their up-hill struggle, especially as "Nick" Altrock, Chicago's crack pitcher, warmed up for duty. The white man's burden for Griffith fell upon Al Orth, with the little black man lurking in the back ground.

First Inning.

Yeager, who took Elberfeld's place on account of the Kid's charley-horse, swiped a grounder from Jones. Holmes picked up a drop almost at his feet and rapped it for a single over second. Yeager, after nearly falling down, made a startling stop and throw from Callahan. George Davis got a hand as usual, but he died ignobly to Chase unassisted. NO RUNS.

Foltz, after shooting a half dozen good ones, went down and out between Tannehill and Donahue. Keeler perished on a grounder that bounced over Altrock's head and was handled by Dundon. Dougherty popped an easy one to Davis. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.

Chase had another putout unassisted off Donahue. Jimmy Williams made one of his brilliant pickups from McFarland's scorcher. Dunden hit a clean wallop into right centre. He got second on Tannehill's hard rap to Dougherty. Orth settled Altrock's hash by stopping his hard bounce. NO RUNS.

If Williams had stretched his legs a a little bit he could have beaten a rap that Tannehill fumbled. Altrock took a pitiful bounce from Conroy. Chase was the first Highlander to get on first from an infield hit that Altrock loud not reach. Chase was landed stealing second, McFarland to Davis. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Kleinow now took a foul hoist from Jones. Holmes flied nearly to the fence, where Foltz was lying in wait. Foltz also took a hoist from Callahan. NO RUNS.

Tannehill by a great one-handed catch robbed Yeager of a two-base hit. Kleinow got New York's first clean hit, a hard jolt into centre. He was forced at second by Orth, Tannehill to Dundon. Foltz flied high to Holmes. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

Williams retired Davis without any effort. Dougherty ran under a high one from Donahue. McFarland lined above Yeagers's head. Orth took care of a bounce from Dundon. NO RUNS.

Altrock made a great stop from Keeler's bounce. Dougherty's high fly was gobbled by Callahan. Williams was a dead one in Dundon's grasp. NO RUNS.

Fifth Inning.

Tannehill was out, Williams to Chabe. Yeager performed the obsequies for Altrock. Jones got an infield hit from a difficult grounder which Chase stopped but could not handle to Orth. Jones was forced by Holmes, Yeager to Williams. NO RUNS.

Conroy brought down the grandstand with a two-base wallop in centre-field. Chase was called out on strikes. Conroy romped home on Yeager's beautiful three-bagger to right-field fence. Yeager was out running home on Kleinow's bounce to Altrock. Orth flied to Holmes. ONE RUN.

Sixth Inning.

Callahan was out on Orth's quick elding and got throw to first. Davis was passed. He got second on Chase's muff of Orth's throw to catch him napping. Donahue also walked. McFarland fouled to Kleinow. Dundon flied high, the ball coming down nearly at the catcher's plate. For some reason or other the field captain called for Chase to take it. eH ran the entire distance from first and caught the ball with his gloved hand about six inches from the ground. The fans gave one of the most remarkable demonstrations ever seen in a ball park. NO RUNS.

Fultz flied to Holmes. Holmes, after making a pretty run for Keeler's drive, dropped it. Keeler was forced by Dougherty, Donahue to Davis. Williams flied to Dundon. NO RUNS.

Seventh Inning.

Tannehill got an infield hit that bounced away from Orth. Conroy handled Altrock's sacrifice. Tannehill was out at third, running off Jones's clout to Yeager. Jones stole second. Holmes popped to Conroy. NO RUNS.

Conroy again started proceedings by a terrific liner that Holmes tried to get with one hand. The hit was good for two bags. Chase walked to first. Altrock handed Yeager's sacrifice to first. Conroy and Chase both scored on Kleinw's duble t centre. Kleinw was out stretching to third on a relay throw from the field. Orth singled over second. Orth was forced by Fultz, Donahue to Davis. TWO RUNS.

Eighth Inning.

Callahan flied to Fultz. Davis fouled to Conroy. Donahue was out, Williams to Chase. NO RUNS.

Keeler went out to Donahue unassisted. Dougherty lined out to Jones. Davis retired Williams. NO RUNS.

Ninth Inning.

McFarland out, Conroy to Chase. Dundon singled. Double play, Yeager to Williams, to Chase, retiring Dundon and Tannehill. NO RUNS.

Champions Have Slumped Badly Since They Began the Western Tour, but McGraw Isn't Worried and Says Team Will Lead All Season.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 16.—On June 7, when the Giants began their eastern trip in Pittsburg, they had a percentage mark of 773 and were leading the field by 186 points. To-day their percentage mark is 698 and their advantage is but 106 points. That is tottering sure, and the "Champs" have got to warm up if they are going to lead the field again from end to end. The team's record for the trip is three victories and six defeats.

It will be hard matter for them to break even, as after the remaining three games here the Cincinnati Reds will be met.

McGraw is not whimpering. "We will win out, and no team will ever catch us. We will be in front throughout the route," stated the little manager to-day. "While we have been losing of late we will soon be back on our stride, and when we get going again we will bound away to the fore again.

First Inning.

Browns hit past Clarke for three bases. Donlin singled through Arndt. Browne scoring. McGann singled to left. Bresnahan advanced the runners with a sacrifice. Devlin flied to Shannon, Donlin scoring, McGann taking third. Dahlen walked and stole second. Mertes hit to left for two bases, McGann and Dahlen scoring. Clarke got Gilbert's long drive while on the full run. FOUR RUNS.

Dahlen and McGann retired Shay. Shannon walked. Ardnt fanned. Shannon out stealing, Bresnahan to Gilbert. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.

Beckley fanned. Ames could not quite reach Smoot's high bounder, the hit going for a single. Brain fanned. Clarke was safe n Devlin's wild throw. Smoot went to third, and Clarke to second on a wild pitch. Warner popped to Dahlen. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Devlin singled to left. He took second on a balk. Dahlen sacrificed, Brain to Beckley. Mertes hit past Clarke for two bases, Devlin scoring. Gilbert flied to Arndt. Ames out, Arndt to Beckley. ONE RUN.

YOUNG WOMAN LEAPS TO DEATH FROM FERRY

Plunges Into East River from the North Beach and Is Drowned.

A woman of slight build, about twenty-two years old, jumped from the ferry-boat North Beach off One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street into the East River last night and was drowned. The body has not been recovered. She wore a white shirt waist and a dark skirt.

Capt. Helgison, of the North Beach, did not report the case to the police of the East One Hundred and Fourth Street Station until to-day. He said that none of the members of the crew paid any particular attention to the woman when she boarded the boat at the foot of Ninety-ninth street bound for North Beach. She had sunk before the boat could be stopped.

Aldene Goff and his wife, of No. 1871 Third avenue, were pasengers on the ferry-boat. Mr. Goff told this story of the tragedy to-day:

"Shortly after leaving College Point my wife and I as well as the other passengers on the upper deck noticed a woman apparently about forty years of age and all alone walking up and down the deck wringing her hands and evidently much agitated. As the boat approached Lawrence Ledge, or what rivermen call the Third Buoy, her agitation seemed to increase. This spot is in the immediate vicinity of the scene of the Slocum tragedy.

"At at once we were startled by the entrance into the cabin of a woman who shrieged 'Woman overboard!' I rushed out, and sure enough the woman that we had noticed wrinking her hands was in the water. I started to jump after her, but my wife held on to me, and then I rushed up to the pilot-house and notified the captain, Louis Heigerson.

He came down on the upper deck and looked over the side of the boat, but gave no orders to stop.

The captain then ave the signal to stop and ordered a boat lowered. By the time this had been done fully ten minutes had elapsed, and the woman had disappeared beneath the waves by the time the boat got to where she was last seen. The ferry-boat hovered around for about twenty minutes more, but the body did not come up, and then we came on to New York."

Mrs. Goff corroborated her husband's story, adding that it wasthe belief of the passengers that the suicide's melancholy was caused by some remembrance of the Slocum tragedy, as her agitation and apparent grief reached their climax when the ferryboat reached the place where the Slocum burned a year ago yesterday.

THERY WINS AUTO RACE; TWO HURT

Present Holder of Bennett Trophy Leads Contestants to the End.

PARIS, June 16.—Twenty-four contestants in the French trials for the Bennett International Auto Cup started at 6 o'clock this morning over the Auvergne course.

Thery, the winner of the cup last year, was the first to start, and he was followed by others at intervals of four minutes.

Despatches from along the course showed that Thery was making eighty kilometres an hour, with Wagner making the next best time.

The racers speeded over a breakneck course, a number of sharp turns and rough spots menacing them.

Thery led to the end of the second circuit of the Auvergne Course, but was passed on the third circuit by Wagner. Four circuits constitute the race. No accidents have been reported.

Thery finished first, covering the 550 kilometres in 7 hours 42 minutes.

Sisz was second and Caillois third, but the official decision is not yet announced owing to the difference of the time at the starting.

Girardot's machine was overturned at a sharp turn, but he was not seriously injured.

Henry Furman also had an accident, but the reports from the course say no fatalities occurred.

MR. RAFFLES HAS AT LAST BEEN CAUGHT

Recognized by Lewis Dittman as He Walked Through Macy's Store.

The Mysterious Mr. Raffles of The Evening World has been captured at last. He was caught in Macy's big store, at Thirty-fourth street and Broadway, shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon, while he was walking through an aisle on the main floor.

The lucky captor of the heretofore elusive individual was Lewis Dittman, Macy's store detective, who, although Raffles had spent considerable time in the place before, did not recognize him until to-day.

Dittman stood at the entrance door and scrutinized the face of every person who entered. When he saw Raffles he stepped up to him and remarked: "You are the mysterious Mr. Raffles of The Evening World."

Mr. Raffles admitted his identity. Accompanied by his captor, he came to The Evening World office to receive the $100 reward offered for his capture.

Mr. Raffles will himself tell the story of his capture in The Evening World to-morrow.
