EDITED BY ROBERT EDGREN.

EDGREN'S COLUMN

MARVIN HART is a notch nearer the championship of the world.

In Reno yesterday he proved again the truth of the old saying that courage is greater than skill.

In the early rounds Root outboxed Hart, holding what might have seemed to the casual observer a safe lead.

But the Kentuckian fought the same kind of a fight he has fought on many another occasion.

He took whatever punishment came to him without wincing, and kept on forcing his way in.

Root knocked him down, but Hart got up and came back to the fray in the next round with the grim tenacity of a bulldog.

His courage won the fight from a better boxer who equalled him in strength and endurance.

THE great finish fight between Bob Fitzsimmons and Jim Corbett in Carson City, Nevada, eight years ago was won in the same way.

It was Fitzsimmons's dogged, unyielding courage that whipped Jim Corbett, ten times as clever a boxer, bigger and just as strong.

Jeffries's stout heart carried him through a fierce beating until he knocked Jim Corbett out in the twenty-third round, and until he finished Fitz in the eighth nearly three years ago in San Francisco. In both of these fights he was a battered loser until he landed the final blow.

Shaikey's heart enabled him to whip men who outclassed him in every trick and subterfuge of the fighting game.

Marvin Hart beat big Jack Johnson simply by refusing to be whipped himself.

It's a pity that the game Kentuckian isn't twenty pounds or so heavier. He would give Jeffries a fight, at any rate.

DID any one see Bob Fitzsimmons yesterday?

I didn't, but I imagine that the lanky one was on top of New York's tallest building, looking toward the western horizon.

There's a chance for a great fight—Fitzsimmons vs. Marvin Hart for the heavy-weight championship of America.

THIS is the day of the Vespers' first race at Henley. The Fourth of July—that ought to be a good omen. Could any American athlete or crew or team of athletes be beaten in England on that day?

Three years ago yesterday Arthur Duffy, shortly after breaking the world's record for the 100-yard dash, went to England. He ran in the national championships at Stamford Bridge.

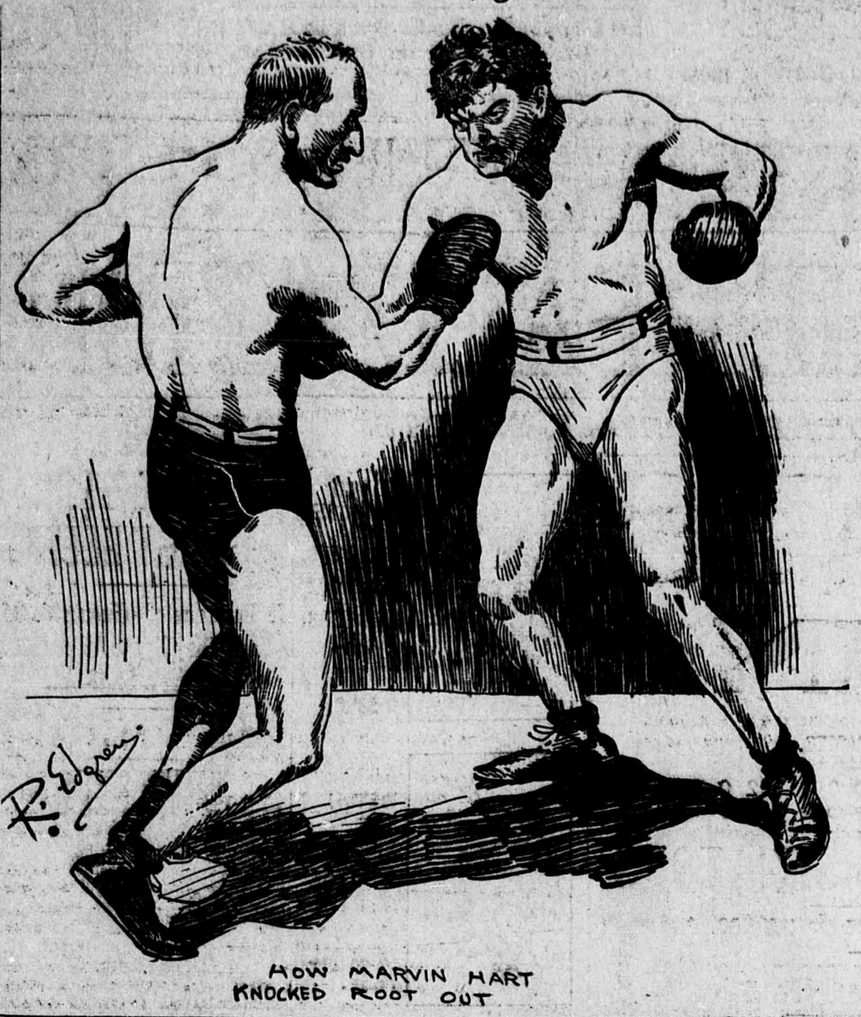
Duffy had a badly strained tendon in his right leg. He started well. At about fifty yards he suddenly faltered, stumbled and lost his stride. The English sprinters shot past him and gradually widened the gap. Duffy seemed to be standing still.

Then, whether it was in compliment to the American runner, in the same old spirit that prompted the playing of the tune when British troops were captured in Philadelphia, the band struck up "Yankee Doodle."

Duffy's ragged stride changed with a jerk. Two or three steps and he was running smoothly again. He caught the Englishmen and gained a margin as wide as your hand. So they struggled down to the tape and Duffy won.

"I thought I had broken the bad section," he said in the dressing-rooms. "I lost my stride. Then I heard old Yankee Doodle, and I would have finished that race if I had to run it with a broken leg."

COURAGE WON FOR HART, JEFFRIES COUNTING ROOT OUT IN TWELFTH ROUND



HOW MARVIN HART KNOCKED ROOT OUT

MR. JEFFRIES HAD NO TROUBLE AFTER EXPLAINING THE RULES.

ROOT FINISHED BY HART IN TWELFTH

(Special to The Evening World.)

RENO, Nev., July 4.—With only the blue canopy of Heaven for a covering and under the blistering rays of a July sun, Marvin Hart, of Kentucky, knocked out Jack Root, of Chicago, in the twelfth round of the first finish fight fought on American soil in eight years. Nearly four thousand people saw Root go down to defeat after he had in the earlier stage of the fight put the Kentuckian to the bad.

In the seventh round all that saved the son of Old Kentucky from the terrific left of Root was the sound of the gong. Root in this round landed hard on Hart's jaw almost simultaneously with the sound of the bell. Hart fell helpless and was carried to his corner by his seconds. Instead of following up his advantage in the next round, Root fought cautiously. The Kentuckian freshened up and in the fatal twelfth landed a right swing on Root's ribs, sending the Chicago man to the floor for the full count. Jeffries, who refereed the fight, then declared Hart the winner, and the spectators cheered to the echo.

HEAT AT HENLEY WON BY AMERICAN CREW

HENLEY ON THE THAMES, July 4.—The Vesper crew, of Philadelphia, won its heat in the Henley regatta here today, and is now eligible to meet the crack Leanders for the Grand Challenge Cup to-morrow. The Leanders beat Jesus College just before the Vespers won from Christ's eight.

Leander beat Jesus College, Cambridge, by a length and three-quarters. Time—7m. 26s.

The Belgian crew beat the Thames Rowing Club easily. Time—7m. 16s.

The Vespers beat Christ College, Cambridge, by a length. Time—7m. 12s.

The Americans won rather easily in the fastest time of the day.

The big event of the day was the heat for the Grand Challenge Cup, in which the Americans led all the way and defeated a strong Cambridge collegiate crew. All anticipations regarding to-day's heats for the Grand Challenge Cup were thus fulfilled, except that Christ College gave the Vespers a harder row than expected. A slight wind toward the Bucks shore gave the Americans, who had the Berks side, a slight advantage.

The Vespers got well away, led almost immediately, and at the quarter distance were more than a length in front, while at the halfway post the Americans were leading by two lengths. At that point the Cambridge men made a splendid spurt and steadily overhauled the Philadelphians until there was only a length between the bows. The Vespers' stroke quickened, the crew gamely responded and the Americans completed a punishing finish with the advantage of a full boat's length in the best time of the three heats. Both crews showed the effects of the sharp struggle.

It has been said that the crew that beats Leander will win the historic trophy, and the Quaker oarsmen are now in line for it.

The Club Nautique de Gand, of Belgium, will meet the London Rowing Club in the other semi-final to-morrow.

In the Diamond Sculls trial heats H. T. Blackstaffe, of Vesta, beat J. Beresford, of Thames Club, one and a half lengths. Time, 8m. 32s. A. A. Stuart, London, beat A. H. Cloutte, of the same club. Time, 9m. 40s.

Guy Rixon, Thames, beat G. G. Russell by a length. Time, 8m. 45s.

BENNETT CUP ENTRANTS GET READY

CHAMP., Department of Puy-de-Dome, France, July 4.—Great animation prevails here and along the Auvergne course on which the international automobile race for the James Gordon Bennett cup will occur to-morrow. All the leading contestants have arrived here, including Thery, the winner of the Homburg race of last year, and Jenatzy, the winner over the Irish course in 1903.

The three American contestants, Bert H. Dingley, of San Francisco; Herbert Lyttle, of Toledo, and Joseph Tracy, attract much attention, this being the first appearance of Americans since the race over the Irish course.

Many American touring parties are also represented, including that of Clarence Gray Dinsmore, the representative of the American Automobile Association.

The preliminaries—weighing and numbering the machines—began to-day on the Public Square here. Six countries are represented, France, Germany, Austria, Great Britain, Italy and the United States, each having three representatives.

Many ponderous racers were found to be overweight and were compelled to lighten their equipment. Messrs. Dingley and Lyttle's machines were among those exceeding the regulation weight, thus compelling the American contestants to lighten them by taking off all the superfluous equipment.

The race starts at 6 o'clock to-morrow morning. Thery starts first, the others leaving at intervals of five minutes. The course, which is about 369 miles long, is divided into laps of about eighty-seven miles each. The course abounds in many breakneck turns, making it unusually dangerous. These are being treated to-day with an anti-dust mixture, and the sharp turns are being rounded with cement beds.

The Government is supervising the international mishap. About 7,000 soldiers have been assigned to police the course from daylight to-morrow.

A tremendous hurricane broke over the Auvergne automobile course this afternoon, causing very severe damage to the light construction erected in connection with the race. Every tent was thrown down, the roofs of the grandstands buildings were carried away and the garage for foreign automobiles was blown down, however, damaging the cars not so far as ascertained. The barbed wire weighing inclosure, the telegraph wire and the stands were also wrecked. The course presents a lamentable spectacle. Only the solid woodwork of the stands remains intact.

PHILADELPHIA NATIONAL LEAGUE PARK, July 4.—Sudhoff's masterful pitching was too much for the Giants this morning and one by one they fell before the fusillade until all hope was gone. The Phillies managed to bunch a few hits on Mathewson and assisted by an error clinched victory in the seventh inning.

WASHINGTON PARK, BROOKLYN, July 4.—Really it was like old times to see the Brooklyns play in the morning game. They not only fielded well, but hit the ball when hits counted, and the consequence was that while they shut out the Bostons they piled up eight runs themselves.

AMERICAN LEAGUE PARK, July 4.—Every seat was filled here to-day, making an attendance of about 10,000, when the Highlanders met Washington in the first game of a double header. The game was full of incident and excitement, ending in a verdict for New York by the score of 8 to 5. Powell started off, was relieved by Hogg after allowing two runs, scored by two triples, a double and an error of Elberfeld. Hogg had hardly settled down when he was struck on the shin by a line drive that may disable him for weeks. The bone was said to be splintered.

Old Fox Griffith then took the helm. The Nationals got but one hi off him. Griffith also smashed a triple in the sixth, scoring Foltz and was the hero of the game. Washington helped greatly by rank errors of Cassidy, Mullen and Hughes. The latter was relieved by Patton, but New York had on her batting clothes and touched the Southpaw four times making in all ten hits.

AUTOISTS AWAITING THE "CLIMB TO THE CLOUDS."

All automobilists are looking toward the "climb to the clouds," which will take place July 17 and 18, at which time the Glidden Tour will arrive in the White Mountains. This annual climbing test is looked upon as a classic event, and considered of more worth to automobiling than any other form of automobile contests, as it demonstrates stability and worth of an automobile. No shoddy constructed automobile can make the eight-mile climb to the top of Mt. Washington.

Speed will be a feature of the climb this year. The record of Harry Harkness of 24 minutes, 37 3-5 seconds is expected to be beaten by more than one car in the free for all.

The Napier Company, of Boston, will enter their Irish Gordon-Bennett candidate, which was driven by J. W. Stocks, and it will be tuned up for a tremendous effort. E. E. Stanley, who made a meritorious climb last year, will have a very powerful machine for the contest. Paul Sartori, the driver for Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, will drive Mr. Vanderbilt's F. I. A. T. car. Major C. J. S. Miller, of Franklin, Pa., is expected to enter his record track racer, and there are other cars of speed and power that will enter the free for all. The classes are so arranged that a driver of any car from $500 up will have an opportunity of winning mountain-climbing laurels. Even the motor-cycle is provided for, with two classes, there being thirteen events in all.

FINES PAID BACK TO BALLPLAYERS

President Pulliam, of the National League, announces that all fines imposed on the following players would be remitted as a result of a vote of the Board of Directors.

This action on the part of Pulliam is due to the recent injunction proceedings of McGraw vs. the President of the National League, based on the assertion that the Fleischmann resolution for the maintenance of good order on the ball field was inoperative. The players that will have money refunded are: Dan McGann, New York, $30; John Warner, St. Louis, $90; Cliff Blankenship, Cincinnati, $80; Otis Clymer, Pittsburg, $120; Fred Abbott, Philadelphia, $40; James Sheckard, Brooklyn, $20; John Wagner, $20, and Joseph Kelley, Cincinnati, $20.

Schreck and Kelly Next.

T. J. McCarey, matchmaker of the new fighting club at Los Angeles, Cal., has wired to Billy Hogan, manager of Mike Schreck, the Cincinnati middle-weight, offering him a $3,500 purse or sixty per cent. of the gross receipts for a twenty-round bout between Schreck and Hugo Kelly, the Chicago middle-weight, at a show to be brought off at the club on July 25. Hogan has accepted for Schreck and the chances are that the match will be speedily arranged.

Goodman Picks Harry Lewis.

After considerable trouble, an opponent has been finally secured for Kid Goodman, the New England fighter who likes to pick out the man he thinks he can beat. The fighter corralled by Goodman and his manager is Harry Lewis, the Philadelphia light-weight, who has been waltzing out his men in the Quaker City during the last few months. Goodman and Lewis have been matched to meet in a fifteen-round bout before the Douglas A. C. of Chelsea, Mass., on next Friday night.

Tipman Coming Home.

Joe Tipman, the "Tipton Slasher," of Baltimore, who recently knocked out "Cockney" Cohen, the English fighter, in three rounds in London, has quit England and is on his way to this country. Tipman made such a great showing in his fight with Cohen that Matchmaker Bettinson, of the National Sporting Club, of London, has offered him a fight with Jabez White, the English light-weight champion, to be decided in the fall. Tipman has accepted the match, and says he will return to England if White will fight him.

Murphy Gets Fight for Caponi.

Teddy Murphy, who was formerly manager of Battling Nelson, the fighting Dane, has finally succeeded in getting on a match for his new protege, Tony Caponi, the Italian light-weight of Chicago.
