BETS HERE ON BRITT 10 TO 8

Interest Never Stronger in a Fight Than in the Fight at Colma—One Bet of $1,000 Made at Shorter Odds of 10 to 9.

PURSE TO BE SPLIT AND SIDE BET IS OFF

Local Speculation Shows Majority of Bettors Believe "Native Son" Will Win, but Short End Finds Ready Takers Wherever Offered.

"I'LL BE THIRD MAN IN RING," SAYS JEFFRIES

I am here in response to a telegram informing me that I have been selected to referee the Britt-Nelson fight. Manager Coffroth sent the telegram. I never quit in my life, and I do not intend to commence showing the yellow streak now.

I'll referee that fight or know the reason why. I have been officially appointed by the contestants and club, and they will have to show me a better reason than the ravings of a manager before I'll make way for a third man. The public, I think, demands that I shall serve, and you can just tell the public from Jim Jeffries that I am going to be the third man in the ring. JIM JEFFRIES.

Not since the heavy-weight battle between Jim Jeffries and Bob Fitzsimmons was fought at Woodward's Pavilion, San Francisco, has such a vast amount of interest been manifested in an approaching battle in this vicinity as is in the forty-five-round fight between Jimmy Britt and Battling Nelson at Colma, Cal., to-morrow afternoon.

Although neither fighter has ever been in a real contest near Greater New York, the battles they have had with the best boys of their class from the East has caused their clash to be awaited with as much feeling as if Terry McGovern was in his prime and was contesting with Jimmy Britt in place of Nelson.

Not only are the regular followers of pugilism interested in the outcome of the fight, but sporting men, boys and even those who have never before taken interest in a fistic battle are anxious for the moment to arrive when the news will be flashed over the wires from the ringside stating that the men have been started on their long journey.

As soon as the articles of agreement were signed a number of small bets were made on the fight at even money. Since then the number and size of wagers have steadily increased, until to-day every sort of proposition was the subject of a bet, from the probable winner down to the number of rounds the fight will go.

Everybody Talks Fight.

Never has a bout to be held elsewhere than in this vicinity been the subject of so much public backing for either man. At the race track this afternoon wagers on the fight punctuated the monotony of the regular betting of plungers and pikers. Not a few bets were listed by the bookies, who were only too willing to take a chance on odds of 10 to 8, with Britt favorite, though some who held Nelson in higher estimation insisted on 10 to 9 being the basis of money changing.

Umpire—O'Day.

BY ALLEN SANGREE.

(Special to The Evening World.)

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—To-day wound up the series and the last game this season between the team from the Hub and the Giants.

McGraw had his men out early in preliminary practice and joined with them in keeping the ball in motion, as if the game was to be the deciding one to proclaim the championship.

One of the spectators, who, by the way, was a long distance from his home—Monterey, Cal.—was profuse in his praise of the hustling qualities of the Giants and their manager.

Both teams seemed imbued with a surplus of animal spirits and hustled around the diamond like young colts.

Frank Bowerman returned this morning and was out in uniform, though he did not expect to play. The big backstop was all broken up over the illness of his one-year-old child, who is still in a critical condition.

Billy Gilbert also limbered up and said that his ankle felt almost good enough to play. McGraw figures that in a couple of days the regular team will be back and play all the stronger for the recent slump.

Dan McGann sat in the grand stand, his huge diamond casting its brilliant rays even so far as Tarrytown. He had told Umpire Johnstone that he had a shape like an old apple tree and was consequently retired for seventy-two hours from active practice.

First Inning.

"Batty," shortstop, opened with an easy fly to Browne. Tenney, the "infld wonder," lapped a bounce to Devlin. "Cozy" Dolan never got a good look at Wiltse's cross-fire and retired his side with a horrible smile. NO RUNS.

George Browne stretched his legs, but not far enough to beat a grounder to Raymer. Raymer also retired Mike Donlin, professor in batting. Wolverton got in front of Bresnahan's hard rap. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.

Delehanty slammed a swift clout that Devlin fielded. Wolverton was helpless before the Giants' south-paw Canadian. William Dahlen had no scruples about killing Cannell's hard rap over second. NO RUNS.

Sandow hoisted one that Moran pinched in the pitcher's box. Dahlen's effort was a merry drive to Dolan. Devlin fanned. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Devlin made a swift pick up of Raymer's husky jolt. Bill Dahlen backed up Devlin, who never touched Moran's grounder, got it in left field and put it on the runner. Browne ran around the ring three times and laid up against the ropes for a long skyscraper from Fraser. NO RUNS.

Sammy Strang punctured the atmosphere thrice. Bill Clarke never had a chance with a bounce to Fraser. Raymer juggled Wiltse's hot one, then threw it in time to catch the runner, but Tenny muffed the shoot. Wiltse was out, stealing second, Moran to Batty. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

Wiltse could not locate the plate for Batty. The Italian sprinter easily stole second on Bresnahan's weird throw to Dahlen. Batty reached third on Tenny's out to Clarke unassisted. Batty easily scored on Dolan's single to Mertes. Dolan taking second on the throw. Delehanty stood like a statue as he was called out on strikes. Bill Clarke had another lone hand play off Wolverton's grounder. ONE RUN.

Raymer sang the swan song for Browne. Donlin started to break up the game with a two bag clout against the right field fence. Bresnahan followed with a beautiful smash just inside third base for two more bases, scoring Mike. Roger reached third on Mertes's grounder to Batty. Dahlen was called out on strikes, the third being very wide and low. ONE RUN.

Fifth Inning.

Cannell [illegible] between [illegible] Raymer's sacrifice and touched the runner. Moran stung a fine single to right that scored Cannell all the way from second. On Browne's hit to the infield Moran went to second. Fraser grounded to Dahlen. Batty connected with another two-bagger, this time in center, scoring Moran. Clarke muffed Dahlen's grounder from Fraser's [illegible] ran [illegible] the plate in time to nail [illegible]

NATIONAL LEAGUE GROUNDS, PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—With three successive defeats added to their long list, due principally to stupidity and headless ball playing, aided materially by the lack of stick and team work, the Tailenders in the chase for the National League pennant faced the Phillies for their last game on the local grounds this season.

The Brooklyns' manager claims lack of condition is due in the main for their poor showing.

The Phillies, too, have been playing a listless sort of a game, but of sufficient calibre to down Brooklyn. That stick work which characterized the game a month ago seems to have vanished, but Manager Duffy is confident that his team will succeed in beating out Cincinnati for fourth place in the pennant race.

First Inning.

Dobbs flied to Magee. Sheckard walked. Lumley flied to Magee. Gessler fanned. NO RUNS.

Kruger singled and was out trying to steal second, Bergen to Hall, after Gessler got Gleason's foul. Courtney walked and stole second. Scanlon threw Magee out. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.

Gleason threw Lewis out. Ritter singled and was thrown out, Doolin to Doolin, when Hall fanned. NO RUNS.

Titus fanned. Bransfield singled and was forced at second, Lewis [illegible] Doolin. Doolin flied to Dobbs. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Sparks threw Bergen out. Scanlon fanned. Sparks threw Dobbs out. NO RUNS.

Scanlon threw Sparks out. Kruger walked and took third on a wild pitch. Gleason fanned. Lewis took Courtney's fly. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

Sheckard gave Titus a fly. Lumley fouled to Doolin. Gessler singled, stole second was out, Doolin to Courtney, trying to steal third as Lewis got his fourth ball. NO RUNS.

Hall fumbled Magee's grounder. Titus singled. Bransfield sacrificed. Scanlon to Gessler, moved each man up a base. Doolin and Doolin fanned. NO RUNS.

$600 A YEAR MESSENGERS IN BIG DEAL

That messengers of the New York Life Insurance Company are used to sign notes on behalf of the corporation for millions of dollars in order to conceal its identity was the sensational disclosure this afternoon before the Legislative Insurance Committee.

Treasurer Edward Randolph told about it.

Mr. Randolph testified that two messengers, Matthewson and Marshall, each of whom gets $600 a year, are now on the books of the New York Security and Trust Company as borrowers of $3,257,000. The collateral on which the loan is made is stock in certain railroads which the New York Life sold under a "secret agreement" to the trust company in order to get the stock off the books.

In another instance Marshall and another messenger named Newburger appear as borrowers of $1,500,000, the collateral being Carnegie Steel stock.

Under the by-laws and charter of the New York Life it cannot carry speculative stock or industrial securities, so it conceals such operations by means of its messengers and other subordinate employees.
