WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON CITY, April 11, 1864.

Col. J. B. Fry, Provost Marshal General:

COLONEL: Your letter of the 8th instant has been received, in which you inform me that complaints have been made in some instances "that the enrolments are excessive," and you "request my opinion as to the legal and most proper mode of proceeding under the circumstances herein set forth."

In reply, I have the honor to say that the original enrolment was made in strict pursuance of the provisions of the act of March 3, 1863, chapter 75, and though some names were omitted which should have been added, and other names were inserted which should have been omitted, yet, considering the novelty of the law, the great number of officers acting under it without experience, and the magnitude and difficulty of the labor they were called on to perform, it is remarkable that the enrolment was so speedily and correctly made.

In order to remove, as far as practicable, any errors from the lists of names, you issued an order, No. 101, under date of November 17, 1863, in which you authorized and required the execution of all facts necessary for that purpose. This order was carried into effect. Not willing, however, to leave untried any means within your power of discovering mistakes in the enrolment, you went beyond the requisitions of the statutes, and ordered printed lists of all the enrolled men to be prepared and made public, so that in every community the citizens might have an opportunity to aid you in the performance of a high public duty, while protecting themselves against all liability to bear an unequal share of the public burdens.

Having taken this precaution, and having given to all concerned the power to have all existing errors corrected, and having amended the list according to the best of your information, the fact that any mistakes still remain must be owing to the negligence or wilful fault of those who now make complaint. The law requires you to proceed with the draft, according to the enrolment as it stands at the date of the draft, and there is no other way for you to perform your duty than to take the lists then prepared.

If any over draft is made at the present time, the excess will be taken into account in arranging the quota for the next succeeding draft, if more troops should be required.

ap26 Solicitor of the War Department.

SENTENCE OF COLONEL WILLIAM S. FISH, FIRST CONNECTICUT CAVALRY.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, April 26, 1864.

Colonel William S. Fish, 1st Connecticut cavalry, has been convicted by court-martial of "conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline," in having made a fraudulent claim against the United States and received payment for a horse lost in the military service claimed as his personal property but belonging to the United States Government; appropriating to his own use and benefit goods seized by him while acting as provost marshal of the Middle Department; delivering up a large sum of money in his possession, as provost marshal, to a person claiming it as his property, yet corruptly receiving in consideration of thus delivering it up the sum of $200 or thereabouts; and in having caused the Government brand to be removed from a Government horse and then selling the same as his own property. Also, of using false accounts and vouchers, knowing the same to contain false statements, for the purpose of obtaining the approval of false claims against the United States, contrary to the statute in such case made and provided.

The court sentenced the said Colonel William S. Fish, 1st Connecticut cavalry, "To be cashiered; to forfeit to the United States all pay and allowances due and to become due to him from the United States; and to pay to the United States a fine of five thousand dollars; and to be imprisoned in the penitentiary at Albany, New York, or in such other place as the Secretary of War shall direct, until such fine shall be paid, provided that such imprisonment shall not be less than one year."

The foregoing sentence has been approved by the Secretary of War, and Albany, New York, designated as the place of confinement, which has been approved by the President.

ORGANIZATION OF NEW REGIMENTS.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, March 31, 1864.

General Orders, No. 131.

General Orders, No. 76, series of 1863, are hereby rescinded, and the following orders will govern hereafter, in lieu thereof:

1. In organizing new regiments or independent companies of volunteers, the Governors of States are hereby authorized to appoint, in addition to the staff officers heretofore authorized, one second lieutenant for each company, who shall be conditionally mustered into service at the date of his appointment. Any officer thus appointed and mustered shall only be entitled to be paid on the muster and pay-roll of his company, and should he fail to enlist an organized company within such time as the War Department may designate, the men enlisted by him shall be transferred to some other company; his appointment shall be canceled, and he shall be discharged without pay, unless the Governor give him a position in the consolidated company to which his men shall have been transferred.

2. Mustering officers will report promptly to the Adjutant General of the Army the name of every Recruiting Lieutenant mustered into the service by them, under a conditional letter of appointment, together with the company and regiment for which he is recruiting. Officers will be mustered into the service only on the authority of the Governor of the State to which their regiments belong.

3. Articles of enlistment will be made out in duplicate by such recruiting officers, and will be disposed of as provided by paragraph 18, page 80, Recruiting Regulations, Volunteer Service. Recruits will be sent to the regimental renderevous, at least as often as once a week, where they will be immediately examined by the surgeon of the regiment, or other surgeon employed for that purpose by the Superintendent Volunteer Recruiting Service, and if found unfit for duty by reason of permanent disability, will be discharged from the service forthwith by the surgeon, who will report such discharges to the Superintendent Volunteer Recruiting Service, and also to the adjutant of the regiment, noting particularly those cases where the disability was obvious at the time of enlistment. As soon as the organization is complete, it shall be carefully inspected and mustered by a United States Mustering Officer, who will see that at least the minimum number of each company is present; no absentees will be counted.

4. Until regiments or independent companies are organized and mustered in, they will be under the control of the Governor of the State, but all requisitions for Quartermaster, Medical, and Ordnance stores, all contracts for fuel, straw, and subsistence, and all requisitions for transportation, must be approved by the Superintendent of Volunteer Recruiting Service for the State or Division.

5. No accounts for expenses incurred in raising new organizations shall be paid by disbursing officers, unless approved by the Superintendent of Volunteer Recruiting Service.

By order of the Secretary of War:

ap25 Assistant Adjutant General.

PAY OF CERTAIN ARMY OFFICERS.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, April 13 1864.

General Orders, No. 108.

The following act of Congress is published for the information of all concerned:

PUBLIC, No. 44.

An act to amend section nine of the act approved July 17, 1862, entitled "An act to define the pay and emoluments of certain officers of the Army and for other purposes."

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the rank of Chaplain, without command, in the regular and volunteer service of the United States, is hereby recognized. Chaplains shall be borne on the field and staff rolls next after the Surgeons, and shall wear such uniform, as is or may be prescribed by the Army Regulations, and shall be subject to the same rules and regulations as other officers of the Army. They shall be entitled to draw forage for two horses, and when assigned to hospitals, posts, and forts, they shall be entitled to quarters and fuel within the hospitals, posts, or forts, while they are so assigned, without the privilege of commutation, subject to the same conditions and limitations as are now by law provided in the case of Surgeons. When absent from duty with leave, or on account of sickness or other disability, or when held by the enemy as prisoners, they shall be subject to no other diminution or loss of pay and allowances than other officers in the military service are under like circumstances. And Chaplains who have been absent from duty by reason of wounds or sickness, or when held as prisoners in the hands of the enemy, shall be entitled to receive full pay, without deduction, during such absence. In all other respects the pay of Chaplains shall be the same as now provided by law.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the act approved July 14, 1862, entitled "An act to grant pensions," is hereby so amended as to include Chaplains in the regular and volunteer forces of the Army: Provided, That the pension to which a Chaplain shall be entitled for a total disability shall be twenty dollars per month, and all the provisions of the act to which this section is an amendment shall apply to and embrace the widows, children, mothers, and sisters of Chaplains of the land forces who have died since the 4th day of March, 1861, or shall die of wounds or disease contracted in the service of the United States, and while such chaplains are, or shall be, in the line of their duty.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of Chaplains in the military service of the United States to make monthly reports to the Adjutant General of the Army, through the usual military channels, of the moral condition and general history of the regiments, hospitals, or posts to which they may be attached; and it shall be the duty of all commanders of regiments, hospitals, and posts, to render such facilities as will aid in the discharge of the duties assigned to them by the Government.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That all Chaplains in the military service of the United States shall hold appropriate religious services at the burial of soldiers who may die in the command to which they are assigned to duty, and it shall be their duty to hold public religious services at least once each Sabbath, when practicable.

Approved, Apr 9, 1864.

Every officer of the Army, other than of the Quartermaster's Department, and the chief medical officer of departments, armies, and army corps, who has in his possession, or under his control, any horse, ambulance, spring wagon, or vehicle of any kind, belonging to the Government of the United States, whether used in the performance of his public or private duties, will immediately turn in the same to the Quartermaster's Department.

II. Hereafter no officer of the Army will use any horse, ambulance, spring wagon, or vehicle of any kind, which is the property of the Government of the United States, whether for the transaction of his official or private business, without an order in writing from the Adjutant General authorizing such use.

EMPLOYMENT OF CAVALRY NOT MOUNTED.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, April 22, 1864.

General Orders, No. 174.

Cavalry organizations which cannot immediately be supplied with horses, will be armed and employed temporarily as infantry. They may be used to guard depots and railroads, or be assigned to infantry brigades in the field. When regiments so assigned are partially mounted, the horses will be transferred to others.

Commanders of Departments and separate armies are authorized to dismount and employ as infantry any cavalry regiment which has been neglectful or wasteful of its horses, or has proved inefficient in the field, and transfer its horses to others.

The proportion of cavalry to be temporarily converted into infantry will not exceed forty per cent. of any command, unless it be found that the remaining sixty per cent. cannot be kept efficiently mounted.

IMPORTANT TO YOUNG MEN.—AN Infallible Cure without the use of Medicines.—Have you been addicted to that habit which has ruined so many of your sex (SOLITARY VICE)? It necessarily weakens the organs, occasioning VOLUPTUOUS DREAMS and INVOLUNTARY EMISSIONS—producing invariably, if not arrested in time, a train of symptoms such as Weakness and Pain in the Back and Loins, Pain in the Head, Dyspepsia of Spirits, Loss of Memory, Nervous Debility, Trembling, Eruptions of the Face, Pallid Countenance, and a General Prostration of the Muscular System, and not unfrequently Fatuity, Epileptic Fits, and often Insanity and Consumption.

DR. Y. O. CLINGTON, after trying for years to find a medicinal cure for the above complaint without satisfactory results, has discovered a STRICTLY MECHANICAL remedy, which is a certain and infallible cure in all cases, is used without inconvenience to the patient by day or night when employed at any kind of business, either active or a sedentary, whether farmer, mechanic, student, soldier or sailor, and will be forwarded to any address in an ORDINARY envelope, with directions how to use, on the receipt of FIVE DOLLARS.
