OBITUARY

(Contributed)

Mary L. Harty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harty, succumbed after an illness of several months at her home in Hubbard, Neb., on January 8, 1922.

She received her earliest education in the public schools at Hubbard, later attending St. Catherine Academy from where she graduated with the class of 1915. She was just twenty-three years old at the time of her death. She leaves to mourn her loss her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Harty, one sister, Mrs. D. L. Hartnett, three brothers, Daniel, Clement and John.

The following poem was dedicated to her memory:

On the eighth day of the New Year, Before the dawn of day, A noble soul of Hubbard From this life, had passed away.

A maiden young and beautiful Her age scarcely twenty-four, May the gates of Heaven be opened To Mary Harty, forevermore.

I can't find words to praise her, She was the fairest of all flowers, And long will she be remembered In this little town of ours.

To know her was to love her, In her face you saw a friend, She had a pleasant smile to greet you A smile that lasted to the end.

She met the end bravely Without a tear or sigh, Like her brother, Jim, a soldier Was not afraid to die.

With a kind heart we turned away The tears we could not hide, In a new made grave at Hubbard They both lay side by side.

The body of her brother, Private James J. Harty arrived home the day after her death, so double funeral services were held on Jan. 10, 1922, from St. Mary's church at Hubbard.

Private James J. Harty, a member of Co. G, 4th Infantry was killed in the battle of Chateau Thierry on July 29, 1918.

He was born in Hubbard, March 22, 1893, and grew to manhood in the little village respected and loved by all. He responded to the call to colors on Oct. 5, 1917 and gladly went and gave his life to defend the flag and the land that gave him birth.

Former ex-service men acted as pall-bearers for James J. Harty, while members of the graduating class of 1915 acted as pall-bearers for Mary L. Harty. Both were laid to rest side by side.

The following poem is dedicated to the memory of Pvt. James J. Harty:

A gloom came over Hubbard, baseball talk is stilled, At home there is a vacant chair that never can be filled.

When word came to our village, there was sadness every-where, That James Harty was killed in action somewhere over here.

A brave and daring hero drawn in this war of chance, And gave his life for humanity on the far off fields of France.

He was a kind and loving brother, a brave and faithful son, To be shot down in all his prime by some low, degraded Hun.

He fought a noble battle, but his life he had to give To make this world a better place for you and I to live.

And Jim like many others had to answer his Master's call, May his soul rest in Heaven where there is no war at all.

DEADLY STUFF FROM CANADA

Bootleggers Have Secret Routes All Along Border.

FAKE LABELS ARE ATTACHED

Alcohol Shipped to Canada is Doctored and Slipped Back Across Border by the Bootleggers—Sham Robberies Part of the Game—Dominion "Drug Concerns" Are Doing Thriving Business.

"From every province in Canada to every state bordering on the boundary line, bootleggers are working certain routes with all the secrecy of the Ku Klux Klan. Fake companies, called 'drug concerns,' are formed in Canada. As such they receive permits for the importation of alcoholic mixtures, but more frequently pure alcohol. Once that alcohol is on the Canadian side of the border the booze doctor adds extracts and ingredients to make finished articles. Then the doctored mixture is smuggled across the line by bootleggers."

The foregoing statement was made at Regina, Sask., by Dr. R. C. Matthews, prohibition commissioner for the United States government, at an international conference this week attended by representatives of four Western provinces, Ontario and the United States.

More Draastic Laws.

As a result of the conference the governments in Canada and the United States will be asked to supplement each other's liquor laws; American authorities will be asked not to grant permits for the shipment of liquor into Canada, except by consent of the provincial governments, and the Dominion government will be asked not to release liquor from bond to be shipped across the line.

Members of the Saskatchewan Liquor commission told the conference that 90,000 gallons of hard liquor are in the province in warehouses; 125,000 gallons in bonded warehouses, and 40,000 gallons of alcohol held in bond by five companies.

One instance was cited in which a car was shipped from Kentucky to Winnipeg. The shipper, Canadian, made arrangements to have the car robbed in Minneapolis. During the "framed" robbery a man was shot and killed; the consignee arrested, and after being liberated on bail, sent the car to a Regina liquor firm. After it was doctored here, it was handed out to smugglers. To give the doctored liquor the appearance of the genuine article, fake labels are attached and fake excise stamps affixed.

By the Trainload.

It was stated at the conference that not only are carloads of liquor coming into Canada from the United States, but that whole trainloads are being shipped northward into the Dominion. These huge shipments are apparently quite legal, for they are being shipped across under United States federal permits and ostensibly for medicinal purposes. This liquor returns later to the United States in the form of bootleggers' stock.

One feature of the illicit operations is that Canada does not get the benefit of exchange on American currency paid by bootleggers for this American whiskey, or doctored whiskey made from American alcohol. Vast sums in American funds paid by rum runners from the South are transmitted to Chicago and other points by express to pay for alcoholic importations. It is even stated that the recent hold-up of a railway express messenger near Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, and the robbery of an express car were perpetrated by one international crook looking for a shipment of such currency.

Police officials from Minot, N. D., on a recent visit to Regina, declared they had seen forged American revenue labels being printed in a Regina establishment.

Farm Bureau Field Notes

C. R. Young, County Agent

During the past week two splendid precinct Farm Bureau meetings were held. On Tuesday evening the people of Pigeon Creek met at the Elk Valley church. The evening was cold and stormy, but this did not hinder the assembling of a good crowd. A splendid local program was rendered. Everyone enjoyed the instrumental music by Mrs. Alfred Mogensen, S. G. Rasmussen and Mr. Benton. Local slides were run which gave nearly every one present a jolt and everyone else a good laugh. A splendid talk on why farmers should stick to their organizations, and enumerating some of the many things which they are doing, was given by Rev. E. A. Wells. Directors for the new year to the county Farm Bureau were elected. Mr. John Feller was named for the men and Mrs. D. A. Woods for the women. For precinct officers, M. J. Beacom was made president, D. A. Woods, vice president, and Mrs. Alfred Mogensen secretary-treasurer. A meeting to make a program of work will meet at the church at 2 p. m. February 1.

The high school room at Hubbard was packed last Thursday evening where a well rendered program by the High School and grades was given. Speakers of the evening were Judge W. P. Warner of Dakota City, President C. C. Beermann of the Farm Bureau, Mrs. Don Forbes, assistant secretary of the Farm Bureau, and Dan F. Sheehan of Emerson precinct. The many accomplishments of the Farm Bureau were reviewed by the speakers who expressed their kindred organizations. Precinct officers and directors were elected. For the precinct organization, Dan Hartnett was chosen president, Guy Andersen vice president and Miss Mary Heeney secretary. Mr. James Green and Mrs. Neelsen were elected directors to the County Farm Bureau.

HOME BUTCHERING

The State Agricultural College, in its butchering bulletin, No. 52, recommends the following recipes:

HEAD CHEESE

20 lbs. pork (head, feet, tails, neck bones, tongues, etc.)
5 lbs. beef (cheeks are preferable, shanks, tails, etc.)
1/4 lb. pepper, 1/2 lb. salt, 1/4 oz. allspice, 1/4 oz. cloves, 1/2 oz. caraway, 4 lbs. soup.

Boil the meat for two or three hours, or until the meat can be easily picked from the bones. It is then cut up by hand into quarter or half inch cubes. Add the seasoning and four pounds of the soup in which the meat was cooked. Onions may be added, but they detract from the keeping quality of the meat. Stuff in beef "straights" or spread out in a pan. Press the mass together with a weighted board while it cools. Serve cold with vinegar, or fried.

SCRAPPLE

Scrapple is made just as head cheese until the bones are removed and the meat chopped, when the liquor (soup) is added and the dish returned to the stove to boil. Corn meal is then stirred in until the contents are as thick as corn meal mush. Stir constantly for 15 minutes. Then set it back on the stove to boil slowly for an hour. Pour into a shallow dish to mold. When cold it is sliced thin and fried.

CORNED BEEF

Ingredients: — Beef (preferably plates); Regular ham and bacon pickle.

Beef plates may be cut into squares about six inches across for corning or whole piece boned, rolled and tied. Rub the meat with salt, put it in a clean hardwood barrel or crock and add the sweet pickle. The meat may be left in the brine for a month. It is at its best after ten days curing.
