GEN. R. S. EWELL.

Interesting Particulars of the Last Illness and Death of this Unfortunate Leader—Almost Simultaneous Death of His Wife—His Dying Wishes Respecting the Inscription Upon His Tombstone.

(From the Nashville (Tenn.) Scene, Jan. 26.)

The citizens of this community were deeply pained, though not surprised, to hear that Lieutenant General R. S. Ewell had breathed his last early yesterday morning, at his residence, near Spring Hill, Maury county. The intelligence which had been received during the previous two or three days as to his condition had prepared us all to expect the worst. Following close upon the decease of his wife, the sad event created a feeling of depression which was visible on every countenance.

General Ewell was sick only fifteen days. On the sixth day of his illness he had grown so much better, and was in such good spirits, that he desired the windows of his room to be raised for the admission of the cool, invigorating air. But the effect was too severe for his weakened system, and he sank into a relapse and never rallied. For the eight or nine days which followed he was alternately better and worse—hanging all the time between life and death. His noble, warm-hearted wife, who had anxiously and virilantly watched beside his sick bed, through weariness and want of rest, succumbed to the same fatal disease. Though no one had announced to him her death, he said that he guessed the terrible truth, because he saw that "a pall had fallen upon the house." His senses had become so keenly perceptible to everything transpiring around him that even the thoughts of his attendants seemed laid bare to his perception.

After he had made his will and other arrangements for the disposition of his property, and after he had been informed that his race was almost run, he remarked, with the calm simplicity characteristic of him, "I don't want any monument raised over me; only a plain head-stone and foot-stone, like those over the graves of my father and mother in Virginia. My rank while in the Confederate service might be inscribed upon one of the stones, but I wish nothing in the inscription which will cast any reflection upon the Government of the United States."

Gen. Ewell had been in the habit of wearing a pair of blue infantry pantaloons, which he had purchased subsequent to the war. Upon one occasion, not long before his death, and when he could speak only with the greatest difficulty, he said of them, "After all my fighting against the United States so long, it is strange that an old pair of infantry pantaloons should kill me at last." He attributed his death to having put them on during the cold weather after having worn a much thicker pair.

As to his funeral, he said that he wanted no display, no pomp, no parade over his remains, but simply wished that his comrades and friends, if they desired, might show their respect in a plain and unostentatious way.

When the corpse of his wife, shrouded and in the coffin, was taken into his room, just previous to their being sent to Nashville, Wednesday morning, he was raised up from his pillow that he might look upon her face for the last time. He was too weak to show any emotion, but whispered a wish that her funeral might be delayed, so that both might take place at the same time, and both be laid side by side in the same grave. "They were beautiful in their lives, and in death they were not divided."

Last Wednesday night respiration became so difficult that Gen. Ewell could not speak. That evening, as well as during three or four days previous, very few of his friends were admitted to his chamber, as it was absolutely necessary that he should not be disturbed. Though denied the power of speech, he retained his mental faculties until the last, and indicated his wants by signs. He died at two-and-half o'clock yesterday morning, calmly, peacefully, without a single struggle. His countenance wore a look of placid resignation, and was more life-like in expression after than a short time before his death. Gen. Ewell's remains will be interred in the city cemetery, by the side of the wife whom he loved so well.

It was at Richmond, during the latter part of the war, that the union between General Ewell and Mrs. Lucinda Brown, daughter of the late Judge Campbell, one of Tennessee's most distinguished men, was consummated. The marriage proved an eminently happy one. Immediately after his release from prison they came to Tennessee. He found ample and congenial occupation in superintending the farm near Spring Hill, upon which they resided. His neighbors often remarked that he was not less successful as a stock-raiser than as a general. No man in Tennessee ever exhibited more interest in improving the breeds of cattle and sheep.

A MAN has been fined £5 in England for using a crest to which he was not entitled. Being out of envelopes he had borrowed two of a neighbor, a solicitor, who rejoiced in armorial bearings, and the envelopes being stamped with his crest, this was the illegal use for which the fine was imposed. No one can display a coat of arms in England without a license, and the luxury of heraldic devices is expensive. If everybody who uses a crest in America without being entitled to it were fined $25 it would make a respectable addition to the revenue.

THE Muscatine (Iowa) Journal says: "A curiously well worth seeing is a relic of the Chicago fire at G. B. Dow & Co.'s. A brandy flask melted out of all shape, with the cork undisturbed, and containing a considerable portion of its original contents. In appearance it is not unlike a frozen dish-rag. We understand the owners have been offered $10 for it—whether as a relic, or for the superior brandy it is supposed to contain, deponent saith not."

BALTIMORE MARKETS.

BALTIMORE, January 30.—Breadstuffs.—Flour—We report the market still very quiet, with the demand confined to the supplying local wants, but some of the large holders there is no disposition whatever to press sales, and prices generally are nominally unchanged. Sales to-day, all in the local trade, 700 barrels, viz: Howard Street Super at $4.75, the Extra at $5.25, the Family at $5@5.50, and Western Family at $5.25 per barrel.

Wheat.—The market continues steady and firm, but quiet under very light supplies. Sales on Change to-day only 1,000 bushels of Pennsylvania red, at $1.35 @1.36, the bulk at the latter price.

Corn.—Receipts of Southern to-day very light, and Corn continues wonderfully sustained by her, but Western is in fair supply. Ours is, however, wanted, and the market may be written firm. Sales of Western mixed at 69@70 cents, and Southern at 68@69 cents for both white and yellow.

Oats.—We have no transactions to note in Oats to-day, and the market is nominally unchanged. The demand may be written quiet, with the feeling in it somewhat as buoyant as it has been. Holders, however, are firm, but the current high prices check consumption to some extent, and the distributive demand is light comparatively. Prices are maintained, and we quote as before, viz: Ohio in boat, at 37@38 cents for fair to good samples, and 39@40 cents for prime do., and duty paid lots as ranging from 36 to 38 cents, all gold. Stock here to-day bushels about 1,000 bags, but the stock in second hands is large.

Provisions.—The market may still be written very strong, with an advancing tendency, but there is comparatively little doing. There is, however, little stock offering, and holders exhibit no disposition to press sales. Bulk Meat.—We hear of no further sales, but no quote shoulders sold firmly at 8 3/4@9 cents, and Sides at 9@9 3/4 cents for rib and 9@9 cents for clear rib, the outside figures being for fully cured lots. Bacon is in quiet request, and the quotations are being fixed at 11@12 cts. for Shoulders, 12@13 cts. for rib sides, and 13@14 cents for clear rib sides. Lard is firm but quiet to-day, no further sales being reported; Western steam we quote as before at 8 1/2@8 3/4 cents, but for kettle rendered at 9 cents is now bid. Hams—We quote as before at from $14.50 per barrel for round lots.

Sugar.—The market is very dull, no sales whatever being made for a day or two past. Prices are, however, steady, though nominal in the absence of transactions, and we quote as before, viz: For refining grades Cuba and Porto Rico, 8@8 1/4 cts.; grocery Cuba, 8 1/2@9 cents; grocery grades Porto Rico, 8 1/2@9 cents. Demerara vacuum pan 10@10 1/2 cents, and new crop New Orleans, grocery grades, 9@10 cents.

Syrups.—Prices are still as follows for the leading brands, viz: Cuba, 32@35 cents; Demerara, 40@42 cents; Baltimore 40@50 cents; Orleans, 45 cents, and Sugar House 50@60 cents per gallon, but the demand is very quiet.

Whisky.—We hear of no transactions to-day in High Wines, but we quote as before at 91@92 cents per gallon for City and Western.

New 7-30 Gold Loan

OF THE

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD CO.

Secured by First Mortgage on Railroad and Land Grant.

SAFE! PROFITABLE! PERMANENT

JAY COOKE & CO.

Offer for sale at par accrued interest the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They are free from United States tax, and are issued of the following denominations: Coupons, $100, $500 and $1,000; registered, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

With the same entire confidence with which we recommended Government bonds to Capitalists and people, we now, after the fullest investigation, recommend these Northern Pacific Railroad bonds to our friends and the general public.

GOLD PAYMENT.

Both principal and interest are payable in American gold coin, at the office of Jay Cooke & Co., New York City—the principal at the end of 30 years, and the interest (at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent per annum) half-yearly, first of January and July.

PERFECT SAFETY.—The bonds we are now selling are secured by a first and only mortgage on all the property and rights of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, which will embrace on the completion of the work:

1. Over Two Thousand Miles of Road, with rolling stock, buildings, and all other equipments.

2. Over Twenty-two Thousand Acres of Land to every mile of finished road. This land, agricultural, timbered and mineral, amounting in all to more than Fifty Million Acres, consists of alternate sections, reaching twenty to forty miles on each side of the track, and extending in a broad fertile belt from Wisconsin through the richest portions of Minnesota, Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon, and Washington, to Puget Sound.

While the Government does not directly guarantee the bonds of the road, it thus amply provides for their full and prompt payment by an unencumbered grant of land, the most valuable ever conferred upon a great national improvement.

THE MORTGAGE.—The Trustees under the Mortgage, are Messrs. Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia, and J. Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company. They will directly and permanently represent the interest of the First Mortgage bond holders, and are required to see that the proceeds of land sales are used in purchasing and cancelling the bonds of the Company if they can be bought before maturity at not more than 10 per cent. premium; otherwise the Trustees are to invest the proceeds of land sales in United States Bonds or Real Estate Mortgages for the further security of Northern Pacific bondholders. Also, that they have at all times in their control, as security, at least 200 acres of average land to every $1,000 of outstanding first mortgage bonds, besides the railroad itself and all its equipments and franchises.

PROFITABLENESS.—Of course nothing can be safer than the bonds of the United States, for the Government is no longer a borrower; and as the Nation's present work is not that of preserving its self-labour, but that of DEVELOPING A COUNTRY, we conclude those who desire to increase their income and obtain a more permanent investment, while still having a perfectly reliable security, that:

United States 5-20's at the average premium yield the present purchaser less than 5% per cent. gold interest. Should they be redeemed in five years, and equal payments be assumed, they would really pay only 4½ per cent., or if in three years, only 3½ per cent., as the present premium would meanwhile be sunk.

Northern Pacific 7-30's selling at par in currency yield the investor 7 3-10 per cent. gold interest absolutely for thirty years, free from United States tax; $1,100 currency invested now in United States 5-20's will yield per year in gold—say $60; $1,100 currency invested now in Northern Pacific 7-30's will yield per year in gold $80.10. Here is a difference in annual income of nearly one third, besides a difference of 1 to 10 per cent. in principal, when both classes of bonds are redeemed.

THE ROAD NOW BUILDING.—Work was begun in July last on the eastern portion of the line and the money provided by the sale to stockholders of some six millions of the Company's bonds, to build and equip the road from Lake Superior across Minnesota to the Red River of the North—225 miles. The grading on this division is now well advanced, the iron is being rapidly laid; several thousand men are at work on it, and about the first of August next this important section of the road will be in full operation. In the meantime orders have been sent to the Pacific coast for the commencement of the work on the western end, in early spring, and therefore the work will be pushed both eastward and westward, with as much speed as may be consistent with solidity and a wise economy.

RECEIVABLE FOR LANDS.—These bonds will be at all times, before maturity, receivable, at 110, in payment for the Company's lands, at their lowest cash rates.

BONDS EXCHANGEABLE.—The registered bonds can be exchanged at any time for coupons, the coupons for registered, and both these can be exchanged for others, payable, principal and interest, at any of the principal financial centers of Europe, in the coin of the various European countries.

HOW TO GET THEM.—Your nearest Bank or Banker will supply these bonds in any desired amount, and at any needed denomination. Persons wishing to exchange stocks or other bonds for these can do so with any of our agents, who will allow the highest current price for all marketable securities.

Those living in localities remote from banks, may send money, or other bonds, directly to us by express, and we will send back Northern Pacific bonds at our own risk, and without cost to the investor. For further information, pamphlets, maps, &c., call on or address the undersigned, or any of the Banks or Bankers employed to sell this loan.
