DEATH RATHER THAN SURRENDER FOR ROOSEVELT

President at Paul Jones' Burial Calls for Valor in the Navy.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 24.—President Roosevelt, addressing a notable assemblage at the ceremonies attending the reinterment of the body of John Paul Jones here to-day, spoke for the valor that makes men choose death rather than surrender.

He opened by returning thanks to France for the aid rendered Paul Jones during the naval hero's fight for American liberty, and again for the courtesy of restoring his body to the United States. He paid a tribute to the great men of the French Navy, and then continued:

"The history of our navy, like the history of our nation, only extends over a period of a century and a quarter; yet we already have many memories of pride to thrill us as we read and hear of what has been done by our fighting men of the sea, from Perry and Macdonough to Farragut and Dewey.

Defeat Must Be Explained.

"These memories include brilliant victories, and also, now and then, defeats only less honorable than the victories themselves; but the only defeats to which this praise can be given are those where, against heavy odds, men have stood to the death in hopeless battle.

"It is well for every American officer to remember that while a surrender may or may not be defensible, the man who refuses to surrender need never make a defense.

"The one fact must always be explained; the other needs no explanation.

"Moreover, he who would win glory and honor for the nation and for himself, must not too closely count the odds; if he does he will never see such a day as that when Cushing sank the Albermarle.

"In his fight with the Serapis Jones's ship was so badly mauled that his opponent hailed him, saying, 'Has your ship struck?' to which Jones answered, 'I have not yet begun to fight.' The spirit which inspired that answer uplifted the man who gave it and the crew who served under him through the fury of the battle, which finally ended in their triumph.

"We have met to-day to do honor to the mighty dead. Remember that our words of admiration are but as sounding brass and tinkling cymbals if we do not by steady preparation and by the cultivation of soul and mind and body fit ourselves so that in time of need we shall be prepared to emulate their deeds.

Big Navy to Back Fighters.

"The navy whose captains will not surrender are sure in the long run to whip the navy whose captains will surrender, unless the inequality of skill or force is prodigious. The courage which never yields cannot take the place of the possession of good ships and good weapons and the ability skilfully to use these ships and these weapons, but its presence will often atone for many other shortcomings, and if with it are combined the other military qualities the fortunate owner becomes literally invincible.

Recounting the fact that Annapolis had been chosen as the burial ground of Paul Jones because it was regarded as the most fitting spot and also that the tomb of the hero might serve as a constant reminder of those at the Naval Academy, the President said:

"Every officer in our navy should know by heart the deeds of John Paul Jones. Every officer in our navy should feel in each fiber of his being the eager desire to emulate the energy, the professional capacity, the indomitable determination, and dauntless scorn of death which marked John Paul Jones above all his fellows."

THRONG AT BIER OF PAUL JONES.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 24.—President Roosevelt, members of the Cabinet, the French Ambassador and a large number of distinguished naval officers and civil dignitaries took part this afternoon in the ceremonial incident to the sepulture of the bones of Admiral Paul Jones, which was recently conveyed from France to this country.

The President was received with long continued applause by a vast audience in the armory, to which the body of the long dead Admiral had been removed from the vault in which it had rested since being brought from France.

The oaken casket was draped with national colors, and upon it rested two crossed palms, a wreath of green and the sword presented to the great naval commander by a King of France.

The programme in commemoration of the historic event carried out during the afternoon included addresses by President Roosevelt, Ambassador Jusserand and Gov. Warfield, of Maryland, with "The Star-Spangled Banner," "The Marseillaise," "My Maryland" and "How Sleep the Brave," sang by the Baltimore Oratorio Society.

The exercises concluded with a procession to Bancroft Hall, in which the body was deposited, until Chapel Hall, its final resting place, has been made ready.

KELLY AND WIFE ESCAPE.

Spenser Kelly, the baritone, and his wife, known on the stage as Bertha Wood, have wired news of their escape with their lives in the San Francisco disaster. Mr. Kelly had just closed with West's Minstrels and joined his wife at San Francisco, from where they were about to depart for Los Angeles. They were at the Hotel Eugene, in O'Farrell street, a favorite resort of theatrical people, on the edge of the district devastated by the earthquake, and lost all their worldly possessions.

SPRING CATARRH

The changeable weather of Spring is directly responsible for the prevalence of catarrhal troubles in New York at the present time.

As a result Hegeman & Co., 200 Broadway, and all branches, and Riker's Drug Stores in this city and Brooklyn, and the leading druggists in other cities and towns, have had a larger sale for Hyomei the past week than ever before in the years that they have handled this reliable treatment for the cure of catarrh.

Unlike the ordinary remedies that have been used in catarrhal troubles, there is no stomach dosing with Hyomei. It is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, and its balsamic, antiseptic healing penetrates to the most remote cells of the nose, throat and lungs, killing all catarrhal germs, healing the irritated mucous membrane and effecting a complete and permanent cure.

If there is a single catarrhal germ in the system Hyomei will search it out and absolutely destroy it, completely eradicating the trouble. The remedy has made so many cures among the customers of Hegeman & Co., 200 Broadway, and all branches, and Riker's Drug Stores, in this city and Brooklyn, and the leading druggists in other cities and towns, that they offer to pay for it themselves if it does not benefit even the worst case of catarrh.

The complete outfit costs only $1, consisting of an inhaler, medicine-dropper and bottle of Hyomei, while extra bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents. There will not be even this small expense if Hyomei does not cure, as Hegeman & Co. 200 Broadway, and all branches, Riker's Drug Stores, New York City and Brooklyn, will return your money.

FIREWORKS COST THE CITY ANOTHER $10,000.

Young Ritz Gets Verdict on Account of the Hearst Election Celebration.

Alfred and Charles Steckler, who carried the case of Solomon Landau against the city for the loss of his nineteen-year-old son by the Hearst election night fireworks explosion and established the liability of the city, to-day won a verdict for $10,000 in behalf of George F. Ritz, jr., who was sent to Bellevue Hospital for a year of agony by that explosion.

Ritz was twenty-four years old when, on the night of election, 1902, he visited Madison Square to see the fireworks display of William Randolph Hearst in celebration of his election to Congress. Through carelessness there was a detonation and explosion which killed eighteen and injured a hundred people.

Landau was awarded damages for the killing of his son, but Assistant Corporation Counsel Cornelius Collins had contended that Hearst was at least equally liable with the city if the city was liable at all, which he denied on the ground that that display of fireworks did not come within the resolution of the Board of Aldermen suspending the fireworks ordinance for the Journal. The Landau verdict was set aside. The Appellate Division sustained the Judge, but the Court of Appeals upset this, ruling that it was for the jury to say whether the city is liable or not.

Then the case of young Ritz was brought on before Justice Amend (without) and a verdict for Ritz was returned.

Another jury may hold Hearst responsible in the suit which Corporation Counsel Delany will institute against him to recover in each of three cases. The Ritz verdict is the fourth. The aggregate of judgments against the city is now $27,000, and there are a hundred suits yet to be tried.
