UP-TO-DATE SPORTING NEWS AND COMMENT

ROBERT EDGREN, Editor.

SPORTING EDITOR'S COLUMN OF NEWS COMMENT

To settle a dispute would you kindly let me know who won the first game with New York and Brooklyn last year, and also who won the first series? Thanking you very much for same. I remain, yours truly, J. P.

New York won first game and series.

Will you kindly let me know if any man on the New York National League team made a home run from the beginning of the season to April 18 inclusive? Hoping that you will answer as soon as possible, I remain, yours respectfully, SOL. COHN.

No.

Kindly let me know through your column how to figure the percentage of the baseball teams. Yours respectfully, W. R.

Divide the number of games won by the number played.

A bets B that Ames had more strikeouts to his credit than any other pitcher on the Giants' team last season. Which wins? Respectfully, A READER.

A wins. Ames had most.

Kindly advise me through your valuable column as to who gets the credit of winning the last two games the Yankees took from Olston in which Newton was relieved by Le Roy in the first one and Orth relievng Hogg in the last game. Also if the other pitcher is credited as though he did not pitch at all or a count against him. By answering this you will greatly oblige, L. A. P.

Newton gets credit for first and Hogg for second. If a pitcher's team is in the lead when he retires and the game is won he gets credit for it. If the team is behind when he retires and another pitcher goes in and wins out the second pitcher is credited with the game.

Kindly let me know through your column, if McGann ever played on Brooklyn Baseball team, and if so what date? By doing so greatly oblige, BROOKLYN FAN.

No.

I notice that there appears in your columns references to the friendly feeling existing at present between the American League and National League here in our city. Can you tell me if the American scores will be placed on score board at National Park this season? And if not, do you know the reason. I'm a rooter for both New York teams and attend all games, and like to see the score when one of the teams is away. A FAN.

There is no doubt a friendly feeling, but why the American score board isn't placed in view of the Polo Grounds spectators is up to John T. Brush.

Kindly answer the following questions and settle a very much discussed problem: A and C are playing a partner game of auction pinochle against B and D, score standing before hand in dispute, A and C, 710; B and D, 920, game and meld 130. B and D meld 60, which makes their (B and D) score 380. They claim that after A and C make their bid of 50 good they (B and D) by taking in a trick of 20 or over will claim out. A and C claim that the bidders count first; that as they got the bid they are entitled to first count, and that if B and D get a trick that brings their score to 1,000 they cannot claim the game, that bid of 50 good they be played out, and if A and C count receives 1,000 first, win, the advantage being with the bidders. Also state whether you can bid without having a king and queen of the trump you make in your hand? Very truly yours, T. F. HENNESSY.

616 Fifty-fourth street, Brooklyn.

If the bidder makes good the game must be continued. A player can bid regardless of suit.

VINCENT TREANOR.

PUGILIST M'GARRY MAKES A RECORD

Amby McGarry, the light-weight, has made a record. Three nights in succession he won every fight he was in. McGarry beat Jig Stone, of Boston, on Tuesday night. On Wednesday he defeated Charley Sieger in what was a great four-round battle, and then last night he gave "Kid" Locke, of Philadelphia, a severe pounding in a four-round bout at the stag of the Long Acre A. C. in West Twenty-ninth street, near Seventh avenue. This bout was another of those slam-bang scraps which always work the followers of pugilism up to a high pitch of excitement from the moment the first blow lands until the final tap of the bell brings the contest to an end.

McGarry, with his usual aggressiveness, waded into Locke and had landed a stiff left jab in his face and a right swing in the wind before the echo from the sound of the bell had died away. McGarry kept up his vicious slugging and drove in blows to Locke's body and face that soon took the strength out of him. Locke tried hard to get his right across to McGarry's jaw, but failed every time with the exception of the fourth round, when he shook Amby up with a smash on the chin. That was the nearest Locke came to winning from McGarry. It was McGarry's fight from start to finish.

Frank Sherry, a newcomer, fought two sizzling rounds with George Hoey in the semi-final event. Although Sherry was game and willing, Hoey was too strong for him, and after the second round the referee stopped the fight.

In the other bouts Jimmy Murtha knocked out Harry Greenhouse in three rounds, Jack Gainey won from Tim O'Brien, Jack Lowrey drew with Young Joe Grim and Willie Mangold boxed a good draw with Joe Wagner.

Granite Cliffs Melt Like Snow.

Ozite, a wonderful new chemical, melts stone like snow. It is used with thrilling effect in "A Rock in the Baltic," a splendid new novel by Robert Barr, which will appear serially in the Sunday World, beginning May 6. Do not fail to order in advance.

RACERS SHOW SPEED AT GRAVESEND AND "THE BAY"

Fine Weather Brings Out Full Quota of Horses in Training.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY, April 27.—The sun shone on both sides of the street at the Sheepshead Bay Village this morning and the racecourse was sunlight in every direction.

The track was dry and smooth and the racers had the best surface of the season to gallop over.

The attractive conditions caused the trainers and racers to gather at the course in numbers and the best moves so far this season were recorded.

Trainer Will Karrick took the track at an early hour with his first set, and in the presence of Mr. H. K. Knapp, owner of the Oneck stable, sent several of his chargers to good gallops before the morning wore away.

The best workouts during the training hours follow:

ROB ROY—Five furlongs in 1.02 1-2 handily. Is improving with every work. Watch for him in cheap company.

CARMAGMOLE—Five furlongs in 1.02 4-5, all out. Was doing his best, is very ordinary.

OPTICIAN—Five furlongs in 1.02, handily. Works fast, but acts like a morning glory.

CARNGORM — Three furlongs in 0.42 1-2, breezing. Has just been taken up; looks well.

DON DIEGO—A half-mile in 0.50 1-2, easily. Is getting good and shows all his two-year-old vim.

CHARLES EDWARD—Four furlongs in 0.50, breezing. All that was asked of him.

L'AMOUR—A half-mile in 0.51, handily. He ran out at the head of the stretch. Acts like a good colt.

CHEYSOLITE—Four furlongs in 0.50, galloping. Very bad.

LARKABIE—Four furlongs in 0.51, breezing. A sweet three-year-old maiden.

LIGHTMESS—Six furlongs in 1.24, breezing. Just nothing.

FAR WEST—Three-quarters in 1.22 breezing. A cheap one.

BLANDY—A half mile in 0.48, handily; showed he had all his foot, this is the best he has been asked so far this spring.

OAKLAWN—Four furlongs in 0.48 1-5 all out; good work, but not near as impressive as Blandy's his stable mate.

TANAGER—A half mile in 0.49 4-5 handily; a speedy filly and one that acts as if she would run over a distance of ground. Tab her.

OLIVER CROMWELL—Five furlongs in 1.07 breezing; looks as if he will make good this season.

WATER PEARL—Three furlongs in 0.37 1-5, easily; was under a strong pull all the way.

AFTERMATH—Three-eighths in 0.38, handily. Just a pipe-opening gallop for him.

LURETTA—Three furlongs, in 0.42, breezing. Speedy but quits.

ESCUTCHEON—Seven furlongs, in 1.37, galloping. Is ready whenever his trainer calls on him.

HAMBURG BELLE—A half mile in 0.49 2-5, very easily. This was only play for this mare.

SMILING TOM—Three furlongs in 0.36 3-5, handily. Is a runner; tab him for Belmont Park.

LEONARD JOE HAYMAN—Four furlongs in 0.50 1-2, easily. Don't miss this one on his first appearance; could not be better.

GEORGE E. HANN—A half mile in 0.50, breezing. Far from being ready.

NORFOLK—Three furlongs in 0.38, handily. Boy had hold of him all the way.

WATERGRASS—A half mile in 0.53. Has gone high, and is very sour.

GOLDEN WEST—Three furlongs in 0.38, driving. A sluggish filly and one that wants a good whip rider. Tab her.

GRAVESEND GALLOPS.

GRAVESEND, April 27.—The weather and track were perfect for training operations this morning and a number of very clever performances was the result.

FLIP FLAP—1 mile in 1.48, breezing, 110 pounds up; thoroughly fit and can start any day.

ADELBERT BELLE—5 furlongs in 0.57 3-5, handily, 110 pounds up, hardly fit to run her race.

Made at Athens.

BY WALTER A. SINCLAIR.

(With acute apologies to Lord Byron.)

Made at Athens at the start—
Records new. We Yanks take heart.
Who so strong and who so fleet
As the lads with red-winged feet?
Yes, they vowed before they sailed:
"Champs we'll be who never failed."

Great Olympic champs are these!
See how Daniels won with ease!
Sheridan, the copper-discus boy,
Made Chief Bingham cuss with joy.
By Olympic crowds they're hailed:
"Champs they are who never failed."

Sweets of world-wide fame they taste;
Winner's belt around the waist.
When Yanks left the rest behind
Cheers swelled the Aegean wind.
Robertson declared himself "In on,"
And that other Yankee, Hahn.

Maid of Athens, are you wise?
On our boys don't cast your eyes
Till the tournament is done—
Till the last event is run.
Though, no doubt, he's won your heart,
Like the prizes, at the start.

HOSEY'S SECONDS THREW UP SPONGE

ALBANY, April 27.—Martin Canole, of Fall River, beat Willie Hosey, the Albany lightweight, to a pulp near this city early this morning. Hosey was in a helpless condition and staggering around the ring when his seconds threw up the sponge, in the eighteenth round.

Canole had Hosey in a bad way from the thirteenth round until the end. The men were to have fought twenty rounds. Canole put up a grand exhibition, and his cleverness was too much for the Albany lad. The bout was an even thing for twelve rounds. Canole caught Hosey with a right hook to the jaw in the thirteenth round and sent him down for the count. He floored Hosey again just before the bell rang.

In all the succeeding rounds Hosey was put down at least once, and sometimes two or three times for the count, but gamely came back for more until his seconds went to his rescue. Considerable money changed hands on the result.

LOCAL BOXING TO TAKE BIG BOOM

With the dropping out of the many mushroom clubs in this city and the inception of such organizations as the Twentieth Century and Gilford athletic clubs, local boxing will take a boom and be raised to a higher plane. These clubs will cater to boxers of national reputation.

The first of these big bouts will be held to-night, when the Gilford A. C. opens its doors at Grand Central Palace, Forty-fourth street and Lexington avenue.

In the wind-up Willie Lewis, Gotham's best welter-weight, and Billy Burke, the crack Quaker City boxer, will meet in a four-round bout. Burke is the toughest proposition that Lewis has had to face. In the other bouts George Hoey meets Griff Jones, of Philadelphia; Frankie Paul clashes with Young Rose, the youngster who beat Phil McGovern; Harry Ferns meets Kid Stinger, of Philadelphia; Hughey Murphy is down to battle with Willie Cornwall, of Boston. Mickey McDonough meets Mike Noylan, a new Irish heavy-weight, from Stamford; Harry Goldman meets Joe Parrier; Murray tackles John Wille and Charles Cunningham encounters Young Evans.

BIG JACK JOHNSON DEFEATS LANGFORD

(Special to The Evening World.)

BOSTON, Apri 27.—Jack Johnson, the colored heavy-weight, of Galveston, won the decision over Sam Langford in their fifteen-round bout at the Lincoln Club, Chelsea, last night. Outweighed by at least forty pounds and a head shorter than Johnson, the Boston man was good and strong when the bout ended.

The sports generally, as well as Johnson, believed Langford would be down and out before ten rounds, and it looked in the sixth round as if they had guessed right, for Langford was sent to the floor for the count. He came back quickly, and when the round ended Johnson was in as bad a way as Langford.

YACHTSMEN PREPARING FOR A BIG SEASON

Various Clubs of This Vicinity Have Openings Already Scheduled.

Perched on the observation tower of the Bensonhurst Yacht Club's pier, which extends out into Gravesend Bay, the yachting enthusiast may well look forward to the opening of the racing season with fond expectations of thoroughly enjoying the sport. The new clubhouse and its tower offer the most advantageous spot for watching the races in the bay, and the Bensonhurst members are right proud of their quarters.

Besides the four Saturday racing dates given the Bensonhurst Club by the Gravesend Bay Yacht Racing Association, there will be two special features of sufficient interest to attract attention from members of other clubs. These are the Bellows challenge cup and Childs trophy races, in which the fastest boats on Gravesend Bay will be the competitors.

Last year both events were won by the crack Ogeemah, now sold, and to be raced on the Sound, which fact of her absence gives a more open appearance to the contests. In fact, the Ogeemah, built in anticipation of a change in measurement rules, had an advantage over other yachts, which did not make a fair sailing test, and the results were not always satisfactory, particularly to owners of beaten boats.

A new and interesting feature in the challenge races this year is the anticipated entry of an unknown quantity in a boat built at Lawley's yard at South Boston, Mass., on designs of C. D. Mower. Little is known about this boat except that it has been started upon good authority that she will be raced under the colors of the Bensonhurst Yacht Club, her owner being also unknown. Should this boat prove to be as fast as expected she may be named as the challenger for the trophies now held by the New York Canoe Club.

The Bellows Challenge Cup is for Class Q sloops. Unusual conditions govern the Childs trophy, as the challenging club may name two representatives in any class under M rule, which gives a handicap, the idea of the donor of the trophy being to ascertain the best qualities of boats by inches. The Bensonhurst Club has challenged for both trophies won by the Ogeemah last season, the race for the Childs trophy being scheduled for May 26.

Bensonhursts Open May 1.

The Bensonhurst Club will have an informal opening of the club-house May 1, to be followed by the formal opening on May 26, when the Childs trophy race is to be sailed. There are many new applications for membership and active preparation is being made among owners for the opening of the season. Quite a number of yachts in the club have recently changed hands, this being a good season for sales, and good prices have been realized.

Commodore Child's flagship Mayflie is about ready to go over, after having been repainted and put into shipshape condition for an active season. The old name for this yacht is a happy combination of May and Dick, two children of the owner for whom the boat was named.

The yawl Caribou has been sold by J. E. Nicholson, and will be raced up the Sound. C. L. Dingens of the Bensonhurst Club, has purchased the 55-foot yawl Esperito, formerly owned by a Larchmont Club member. T. A. Hamilton, also of the Bensonhurst Club, has purchased the Larchmont one-design knockabout Chow-Chow.

A great improvement in Gravesend Bay racing this season is the change to be made to a triangular course by the Gravesend Bay Yachting Association, by which starting lines will be arranged at points opposite the several club-houses. There will be a buoy near Fort Hamilton and another just inside the channel off Norton's Point, Seagate and the third off Captain's Pier, Bath Beach. This course gets away from the path of merchant vessels, which last season threatened either disaster or trouble by some boat that barely managed to weather a cruiser, while another with equally good chances on a clear course was obliged to tack under her stern.

Larchmont's Big Schedule.

Always foremost in yachting events of special interest to local owners the Larchmont Yacht Club, which has the ably regatta committee for this season, announces a schedule of racing dates likely to prove unusually attractive. The season opens June 16 with the spring regatta, and from that date to Sept. 3 there will be something on each race day to draw attention. The annual regatta is set for July 4 for the week, the interval of July 14-21, special races on Sept. 1 and 8 and the fall regatta Sept. 3.

In addition to this schedule, in which the main features are the Colt Cup race for Class B schooners, July 4, the race for auxiliaries on Sept. 1 and the Larchmont schooner cup race and big sloops on Sept. 8, there will be events on each Saturday, 30 of the racebouts for a valuable series prize and special series races during race week for Class B schooners; 18, 22, 27, 40, 57, and 52-foot sloops and schooners, New York 30 footers, Larchmont, Indian Harbor and Riverside one-design classes and general class of racebouts.

An improvement is promised for Sept. 1 when the entire fleet, including racing boats and cruisers, will compete for prizes. Open regattas for all classes, regular and irregulars are scheduled for June 16, July 4, 18 and 21 and Sept. 3.

Indian Harbor Cruise.

Saturday, June 23, is the date fixed for the cruising race of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club, the event being an invitation affair, with two divisions of both sloops and schooners of the large or moderate types. The start will be off Great Captain's Island Light at 8 A. M. and the finish at the entrance to New London harbor. It is expected that J. Rogers Maxwell's Queen, Roy A. Rainey's Invader, A. F. Luke's Corona, George Lander, Jr.'s, Endymion and F. F. Brewster's Elmina will be competitors in the schooner class. Competitors in this race will be at New London for the college rowing races on June 28 and to enter or see the start of the Eastern Yacht Club's race from New London to Marblehead.

YACHTSMEN, AHOY!

The Evening World will endeavor this season to make a feature of yachting news, and invites secretaries of yacht clubs and members of local clubs who are interested in the sport to send to this paper from time to time such items of news concerning the sport as they may think will interest others and thereby aid in making the season on the water the best in years. Address all communications to Yachting Editor, Evening World, Park Row, New York.
