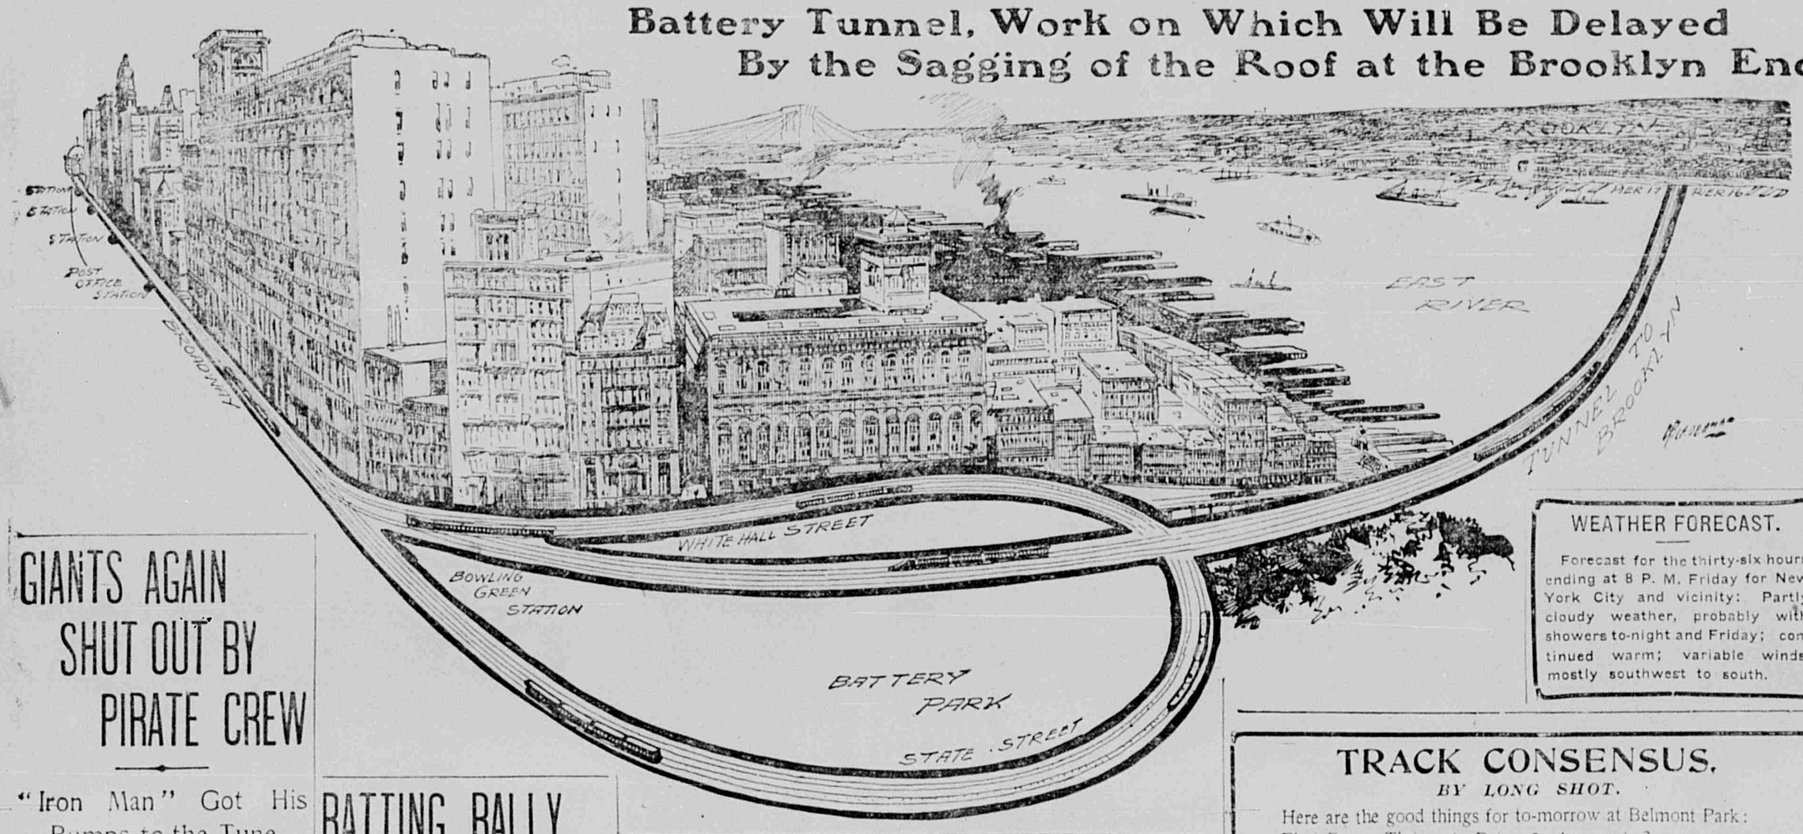
ROOF CAVES IN ON 1,200 FEET OF THE BROOKLYN TUNNEL

Battery Tunnel, Work on Which Will Be Delayed By the Sagging of the Roof at the Brooklyn End



Mayor McClellan Brings to Light Startling Information, Long Concealed from Public, that Much of Rapid Transit Tube Must Be Rebuilt.

MAY DELAY COMPLETION FOR TWO OR THREE YEARS.

Mr. McClellan Announces that After January 1, 1907, the City Will Be Able to Expend $94,000,000 on the Extension of Rapid Transit.

That the rapid transit tunnel under the East River from the Battery to Brooklyn may not be completed for two and a half or three years was the startling information unfolded by Mayor McClellan at the meeting of the Rapid Transit Board this afternoon.

Closely questioned by the Mayor, Chief Engineer George F. Rice, of the Commission, admitted that the roof of the tunnel on the Brooklyn side has sagged from three to eighteen inches and that 1,200 feet will have to be rebuilt.

The company that is constructing the tunnel is a branch of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company. The contract calls for completion by the first of next September. Mayor McClellan charged that the Rapid Transit Board and the public have been deceived concerning the progress of the work and a resolution was adopted calling for a report from Mr. Rice giving the true condition in detail.

Mayor Asks for Facts.

Since Mayor McClellan has become convinced that the Rapid Transit Board has worked more for the benefit of the Belmont interests than for the benefit of the public he has been stirring things up at the meetings. He was primed to-day, and soon after the proceedings were under way he asked Chief Engineer Rice how soon the Brooklyn tunnel will be completed.

"Possibly in December," replied Mr. Rice, airily. "It might be safer to say January, 1907, but we have assurances that it will be completed in December."

"I have received some information on that point," said the Mayor, "that I want to ask you about. Is it not a fact that there has been a deformation or sinking of the top of the tunnel on the Brooklyn side of from three inches to a foot and a half, and that 1,200 feet of the tunnel will have to be torn out and entirely rebuilt?"

"Er—ah—er—well—I'm—well I have believed that the tunnel would be completed on time," stammered the Chief Engineer of the Rapid Transit Board.

"Don't you know," persisted the Mayor, "that the two engineers in charge of the work—Schmidt and former Bridge Commissioner Lindenthal—were so startled by the deformation that they called in Charles M. Jacobs, the greatest tunnel expert in the world, who advised them that they would have to rebuild 1,200 feet."

"I agree with Mr. Jacobs that some of the tunnel will have to be rebuilt."

Insists on Getting Facts.

"Isn't it a fact," the Mayor went on, "that Mr. Pegram, the Interborough engineer, who is by far the most cheer-

EXPOSITION GROUNDS, PITTSBURG, Pa., May 17.—Leever was invincible to-day and had the Giants at his mercy throughout a one-sided game, shutting the champions out by a score of 2 to 0. McGinnity was also in magnificent form, but his teammates failed to bat behind him, and the "iron man" faced a hopeless situation. In the second inning a wrangle occurred between Gilbert and the umpire over a decision at second, and the Giants' second baseman was ordered off the field and later sent from the park.

During the game telegraphic word was received from President Pulliam saying that McGann could play on Saturday.

First Inning.

Bresnahan without any preliminaries slammed the first ball pitched into left field for a long single. Brown shot a fast one to second, but by a great run Wagner grabbed the ball with one hand and made a remarkable double play. Strang died on a stiff grounder to Nealon. NO RUNS.

Meier's long fly fell to Mertes and Strang, by a great running catch, nailed Ganley's liner. Leach drove a scorcher past Devlin for a single. Tommy then stole second. A wild throw sent him to third, where Devlin blocked him and he was allowed to score unmolested. Gilbert booted Wagner's crack to second and the big Dutchman was safe. Wagner stole second, but Gilbert and Dahlen raised an awful kick over the decision, which did look raw. As a result Johnston ordered Gilbert out of the game. This caused a shake-up on the team. Strang played second, Bresnahan went to the field and Marshall caught. Later Gilbert, who was still remonstrating, was ordered out of the park. Nealon popped out to Bowerman. ONE RUN.

Second Inning.

Sheehan quickly disposed of Mertes and Dahlen flipped an easy fly to Wagner. Devlin then popped a foul to Gibson. NO RUNS.

Ritchey drove a hot grounder to Devlin, but a bad throw pulled Bowerman off the base and Ritchey was safe. Sheehan was called out on strikes. Gibson lashed a clean single to centre, sending Ritchey to second. Leever rolled an easy one to Strang and was out. However, the other two advanced. Meier flied out to Mertes. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Marshall struck out and Bowerman knocked the ball straight into Nealon's mit. Leach took McGinnity's fly without moving. NO RUNS.

Ganley's grounder was easy for Dahlen, and McGinnity put Leach out by trapping the pretty bunt. Wagner singled to right. Nealon popped out to Bowerman. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

Bresnahan's best was a sharp grounder to Wagner. Browne died on a sharp rap to Nealon. Strang tried to bunt, but Leever railed him by a pretty throw. NO RUNS.

Browne ran in far enough to pull down

AMERICAN LEAGUE PARK, May 17.—The Highlanders won their third straight game to-day by a score of 4 to 2 by brilliant fielding and able and timely hitting. They had St. Louis where they wanted them at every stage of the game and while Chesbro was not in his best hot weather form he held the visitors down to all the hits which were rightfully coming to them. He was magnificently supported.

Although rain fell in the last three innings and threatened to stop the game, few of the 4,000 present left the grounds until the last play was made.

Griffith occupied a box this afternoon. Now that the Highlanders have struck their true pace the money is rolling in at the gate. The stands were filled before the game started this afternoon, and among the fans were many richly dressed women, all of them taking an interest in the game. A feature of the Highlander games which appeals to women and many others is that no liquors are sold on the grounds.

McAleer tried a new idea in warming up his pitchers this afternoon. He had a batsman stand directly in front of the catcher and go through the movements of hitting the ball. In that way the pitchers were supposed to get a better idea of the batter's relation to the plate.

First Inning.

Hartsell struck out. Williams threw out Hemphill at first. Stone hit one to Moriarity, who made a high throw to Chase and the runner was safe. Wallace hit a high fly to Chase, retiring the side. NO RUNS.

Keeler was out to Jones, unassisted. Elberfeld drove a clean single over

GIRL READY TO TELL STORY TO THE JURY; STATE'S CASE IS IN

Josephine Terranova to Go on Stand as First Witness in Her Own Behalf To-Morrow — Relatives Testify Against Her at Trial To-day.

The prosecution closed its case in the trial of Josephine Terranova for the murder of her aunt late this afternoon. To-morrow morning the defense will lead off with the introduction of the prisoner as a witness in her own behalf. When the girl takes the stand the most dramatic period in this dramatic trial will have arrived.

Thus far the State has apparently failed to make out a case which will satisfy the twelve gray-headed men sitting in the jury box that this seventeen-year-old Sicilian girl was guilty of willful murder. Assistant District-Attorney Ely has, in fact, done little except to show that Concetta Riggio was stabbed to death by her niece. He has offered but little or no evidence as to the motive which led the girl to kill her aunt, whereas, the defense expects to show much justification of the deed in the causes which led to it.

It is probable that the trial will stretch over into next week, because both sides are to offer expert testimony by alienists and students in mental disorders.

A significant feature of to-day's proceedings was the hostility shown by two witnesses against the girl, one her uncle, the other his wife. The defense scored some very excellent points in the cross-examination of both, and forced both to admit personal animosity toward the prisoner.

Bad news had dampened the girl's spirits and paled her cheek before she

EX-JOCKEY THROWN.

JAMAICA, L. I., May 17.—Harry Callahan, nineteen years old, an ex-jockey, was severely injured while exercising horses at the Belmont track to-day, and is now lying in St. Mary's Hospital suffering from concussion of the brain. Callahan was riding a spirited horse near the track, when he was thrown. He struck on his head and was rendered unconscious. He may not recover.

MRS. DAVIS BETTER, HOPE FOR RECOVERY

Improvement in Her Condition After a Refreshing Sleep To-Day.

A decided change for the better this afternoon cheered the watchers at the bedside of Mrs. Jefferson Davis, the venerable widow of the President of the Confederacy, who is fighting for her life in her apartments in the Hotel Gerard. She is suffering from pneumonia, but the full strength of the affliction has been expended, and there is hope that she will regain her strength and ultimately recover.

Dr. Robert H. Wylie had almost given up belief that his skill would avail when he visited his patient early to-day, but she rallied, fell into a refreshing sleep, and this afternoon was able to take nourishment.

YOUNG WHITNEY HITS BOOKIES AT BELMONT

His Jersey Lady and Old Faithful Are First Under the Wire.

BY T. O. PIPER.

BELMONT RACE-TRACK, May 17.—Two wins for Harry Payne Whitney to-day netted thousands in return in bets for the popular young millionaire owner. His filly, Jerry Lady, and gelding, Old Faithful, got the verdicts after a sackful of money recorded in bets had been wagered on the chances of the pair.

Not only the Whitney money, but club-house greenbacks in plenty were bet on the couple, many in the Club-House parleying on the two.

Since the death of his esteemed father young Mr. Whitney has doubtless from pluseng. In the halcyon days of Saratoga the young man was a formidable figure in the ring.

Lightning fast describes the condition of the track, which had received Supt. Gorman's attention as early as 7 o'clock this morning and continued up to the hour of the first race. As to the weath-
