ST. LOUIS WATER WAGON JOLTS GIANTS' "TUMMIES"

BY BOZEMAN BULGER.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ST. LOUIS, May 28.—St. Louis water has caused an epidemic of stomach trouble among the Giants, but, though a little disfigured, the Champions are still in the ring. This morning they again lead the National League by one point. It's close pickings to keep ahead of those troublesome Cubs, but McGraw says he will do it if every man on his club goes to the hospital.

The little manager himself is laid up in bed with an ulcerated tooth, and his familiar face was missed on the New York bunch while the Giants were walloping the Cardinals on Sunday.

It took three doctors to locate the seat of the pain, but an operation was performed last night and McGraw says he feels so good he will be out to-day.

Water is the main trouble with the Giants now, however, and the entire outfit looks lean and wan. If they stayed here another week there would be no use to take them back to New York. They could all be buried here without so much trouble. Dan McGann crawled out of his bed and played yesterday, but if it had been a warm day he would have flickered before the third inning.

Ferguson is still laid up, and Harry Tuthill is under the care of a physician.

"On to New York!" is the cry now and the club is going to tear up stakes and light out to-night at 5.30 o'clock so as to reach New York Tuesday night. The game will be called at 3 o'clock to-day to enable the club to catch the early train. The players will go direct from the park and dress on their private sleeper.

The absence of Donlin is proving a serious setback to the club, as Strang is also on the sick list. He suffered a severe wrench on his left side, and has to bat right-handed. This naturally reduces his hitting percentage. With Dan McGann also as weak as a kitten, you can readily appreciate under what difficulties New York is winning games. Still by winning this afternoon's game they return to Manhattan in first place despite the most unfortunate trip, physically, the team ever made.

"We have had our troubles," said McGraw last night, "but it's a long lane that has no turning, and I look for a change of luck when we reach home once more. Considering the circumstances, I believe the Giants are playing with wonderful success."

FOUR GOOD FIGHTS AT HAND

In Twenty-four Hours There Will Be Many Good Fistic Battles Decided.

BY JOHN POLLOCK.

In the short period of twenty-four hours there will be four important fistic battles decided. Three of them will be fought in this city, while the other will come off at Tom O'Rourke's Tuxedo A. C., at Essington, Pa. Two of these contests will come off to-night. Jimmy Britt and Terry McGovern being scheduled to box a ten-round bout at Madison Square Garden, while Gus Ruhlin and "Sandy" Ferguson will clash for six rounds at the Marlborough A. C. The other two contests, those between Fitzsimmons and Tommy Burns, at Essington, Pa., and "Young Corbett" and Eddie Johnson, at the Mobile A. C., will be decided to-morrow night.

"Young Erne" and McGarry Matched

Amby McGarry, the sturdy lightweight of the Bronx, and "Young Erne," the clever and hard-hitting pugilist of the Quaker City, were matched last night to try conclusions in a six-round bout at the next stag of the Gilford A. C., which will take place at the Grand Central Palace on Friday night. Paddy Welsh, manager of McGarry, has probably made a bad match for his man, as Erne is one of those clever lads who can go at a rapid gait for six rounds and besides has a good stiff punch.

Jack O'Brien to Box at the Garden.

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, who claims the heavy-weight championship title since he defeated Bob Fitzsimmons in San Francisco, has been secured by Manager Harry Pollok to meet some good big fellow for ten rounds at the stag of the Twentieth Century A. C. in the Garden in about two weeks. Sam Berger, the California ex-amateur heavyweight champion, will in all probability be secured as O'Brien's opponent. They will battle at catch weights.

Big Crowd at Fitz-Burns Fight.

A big crowd is expected to witness the twenty-round battle between Bob Fitzsimmons and Tommy Burns, the Western heavyweight, before the Tuxedo A. C., at Essington, Pa., to-morrow night, as the advance sale of tickets for the fight, for one-third Saturday, amounted to $2,700. Fitz and Burns will finish up their training to-morrow morning and will rest until they are ordered to go into the ring. It is expected that over three hundred sporting men from this vicinity will go on to see the fight.

Keyes Will Be In Shape for Murphy.

Bert Keyes, the sturdy little Quaker City fighter, has gone to Silver Lake, N. J., where he will get into the best of shape for his six-round bout with Tommy Murphy, of Harlem, which is to be fought at the star of the Howard A. C. at Ulmer Park, next Friday night. Keyes feels confident he will beat Murphy this time, as he claims he knows his style and will be fit when he faces him. These boys count to furnish a great fight, as they both are hard-hitting fighters. Coarley White will referee the bout.

FIGHTS TO-NIGHT.

At Twentieth Century A. C., Madison Square Garden.—Star bout will be a ten-round battle between Jimmy Britt, of California, and Terry McGovern, of South Brooklyn. They will box at catch weights. Besides this encounter there will be five four-round bouts between evenly matched boxers. Tim Hurst will referee the contests.

At Marlborough A. C., West Forty-fourth street.—Star bout will be a six-round encounter between Gus Ruhlin, the Akron Giant, and Sandy Ferguson, of Boston, heavy-weights. The other bouts are Jack Goodney vs. George Hoey, Young Gardner vs. Tommy Kiernan, Terry Edwards vs. George Kitson and Fred Lucas vs. Dick Miller. These bouts will be of four rounds' duration.

Jimmy Gardner May Box Fitzgerald.

Jimmy Gardner, the New England welter-weight, who knocked out Jack O'Keefe, of Chicago, in five rounds before the Indianapolis A. C. last week, has returned to his home at Lowell, Mass., where his wife is seriously ill. This matchmaker of the Indianapolis A. C. has made Gardner a flattering offer to meet Willie Fitzgerald in a ten-round bout at the club's next show, which will come off in about ten days.

Haughton to Hold Fights on Boats.

Charley Haughton, the fight promoter of St. Louis, who has not been allowed to pull off any limited-round bouts in that city, announces that he will pull off fights on boats on the Mississippi River beginning in two weeks. Although Haughton has not signed any boxers as yet for his opening show, he claims he can secure the pugilists he wants within a few hours. There will be three fights, two ten-round and one twenty-round encounter.

Tom O'Rourke Is Undecided.

Tom O'Rourke must evidently have a place in his mind's eye for the bout he is to bring off twenty-round bouts, for he informed the writer last night that he was not certain whether to bring off the contest between Al Kaufmann, the California heavy-weight, and Fred Codey, of Chicago, in this city or bring it off at his Tuxedo club. If he should decide on the latter place there will surely be a howl raised if O'Rourke attempts to hold this bout in New York, let us hope that Tom will bring it off at Essington.

HIGHLANDERS HIT LIKE CHAMPIONS

Clark Griffith's Highlanders made a remarkable batting record last week in the six games they played with the Chicago and Detroit clubs. Of these games the hilltop boys won five and lost one, scoring 51 runs to their opponents' 23. It is doubtful whether any club ever established a higher record in a week's work. In all the Highlanders came to bat 200 times and made 77 base hits, giving them a team average for the week of .385 per cent.

Following is the complete batting record of the Highlanders for last week:

CHAMPIONS ENTERED IN SKATING RACES

All the speed merchants are entered in the big roller-skating meet that is being arranged by Charlie Earl for next Thursday night at Madison Square Garden. The probabilities are that the list will be the largest that has ever been held, as the champion roller-skaters of this section will all compete for the gold medals hung up by the club. The New York A. C., Pastime A. C., Hoboken A. C. and the Avonia A. C. have entered their full quota of speed merchants. Capt. Kirk, of the Pastimes, is out with a challenge to the Mercury Footers for a three-mile relay race, each contestant to skate half a mile. If this is arranged the fastest skaters in the country will be seen on the big Garden rink course in a couple of weeks. The races on Thursday will be held under the sanction of the National skating Association. Some of the stars who have sent in their applications are A. Y. Satody, H. P. McDonald, W. W. Swan, Morris Wood, national champion; Phil Kearney, Hugh Palliser and Herbert Era.

FOOTBALL FOR COLUMBIA IN '07

It is not unlikely that football will be favorably reported upon when the three committees appointed by President Butler to investigate the athletic situation at the university meet to-night.

In fact, the students, who for the past six months have considered the game a dead issue, have taken new life and figure that the chances for the resumption of the game are excellent.

Should the joint commission report in favor of resuming football the report will go to President Butler. The president has final say, and rumor has it that he will permit it to be brought back.

PRINCIPALS IN THIS WEEK'S PUGILISTIC TREATS.

OARSMEN TRAINING HARD FOR HARLEM REGATTA

The heavy showers, while interfering to some extent with the work of the crews in training for Wednesday's big regatta on the Harlem River, did not keep them off the water yesterday.

One of the chief topics of discussion among the oarsmen was the defeat of Fred Shepheard, the Seawanhaka sculler, by C. B. Wood, of the Philadelphia Barge Club, on Saturday at the regatta of the American Rowing Association. They are to meet again on Wednesday, when Shepheard's friends are confident that he will be able to reverse the result of Saturday's race.

"Eddie" Anderson, the coach of the Dauntless Rowing Club, spent a couple of hours on the water in the morning with his junior four-oared gig crew and with George Woolle, the club's junior single sculler.

John Hughes, who is entered in the junior single shell event, and Dudley and Randolph, the junior double scull crew of the Atalantas, took a row between one of the heavy showers.

The junior eight-oared shell crew of the Bohemian Boat Club, which is thought by most of the critics to have more than an even chance against their rivals, Columbia University, the New York Athletic Club and the Nonpareil Rowing Club, rowed both in the morning and afternoon, as did also the "Bohs" senior double, Vesely and Rudrie, and L. Major, the junior single sculler. Major, who has been training hard and conscientiously for the last two months, is generally conceded to be the winner of his event.

Capt. "Joe" Callahan, of the Metropolitan Rowing Club, who is to compete in the association senior single event, was out in a single shell twice during the day, as were also Kiely and Rivas, the club's intermediate double crew, and "Bill" Dunn, Sulver, Clements and Rivas, who are to row in the intermediate centipede race. The "Mets" intermediate four-oared gig crew, composed of Rink, Wetzler, Nelson and Heuer, indulged in a long row early in the afternoon.

The Nassau Boat Club was well represented afloat by the Stettig brothers, the intermediate double crew; George Haywood, who is to compete in the intermediate single shell race, and "Joe" Thompson, the junior sculler. Clemens F. Muller, the oldtime single sculler, who is to have it out with "Billy" Mulcare, the ex-champion sculler of the police force, rowed in beautiful form, and looks to have this event at his mercy. The intermediate eight-oared shell crew of the Nassaus was also on the river twice during the day, being coached by Capt. Stivers and stroked by "Jim" O'Connor.

The house of the Nonpareil Rowing Club has been made the headquarters of a number of out-of-town oarsmen. The two crews of the Ravenswood Boat Club, a senior four-oared shell crew, and Jere. Dunn, who is entered in the association single event, are quartered there, as is also the contingent of the Shepsheard Rowing Club, under the command in two shoes of Capt. C. B. Wood, the Philadelphia crack. Thompson, of the Cliftons, and "Dave" McEntee, of the Waverly Boat Club, Titus and O'Neill, the "Nos." senior double shell crew, got afloat very early in the morning and the rain began to fall closely followed by the husky combination which is to participate in the junior eight-oared shell event. The eight was coached by Capt. Pender, who also had them out in the afternoon.

The delegation from the New York Athletic Club, which is quartered at the Nassau Boat Club, got out on the river in the afternoon. Their entry list consists of C. B. Gibbons, a junior single sculler; Durando Miller, who is to row in the intermediate single-race; a junior double shell crew and an intermediate double; a junior eight-oared crew and an eight-oared shell crew, which is to compete in both the junior and intermediate races.

The last class of the crews in the senior double event brings this race to the fore as the star attraction of the regatta this year, where formerly the eights and the senior singles had the call. Such oarsmen as Vesely and Rudrie, ex-champions of America; Dickson and Seymser, the Middle States champions, and Titus, the former champion single sculler of America, and O'Neill, his partner, are among the entries in this race. The battle promises to be very strong, and betting along the river is very lively.

LIGHT-WEIGHTS BOX SIX TAME ROUNDS

(Special to The Evening World.)

PHILADELPHIA, May 27. — Young Donohue, of Boston, and Maurice Sayers, of Milwaukee, sparred six leisurely rounds in the wind-up at the National A. C. Saturday night. Sayers showed some disposition to go through the actions of a fighter but the man from Boston absolutely declined. The crowd hooted Donohue for his exhibition. It is the custom to give decisions on such romps. Sayers would get it. "Jig" Stone, another Boston "demon," let Billy Wills do all the work in the semi-winding. The preliminaries were much better. Willie Moody knocked out Jack Edwards in the first, and Tommy Langdon drew with "Kid" Murphy.

LATONIA RACE TRACK OPENS WEDNESDAY

(Special to The Evening World.)

CINCINNATI, May 28.—The spring meeting of the Latonia Jockey Club begins on Decoration Day and continues for thirty-one days. The meeting will be conducted independently of the two turf organizations that now exist in the West.

Eleven stakes will be decided during the meeting. The attraction for the opening day is the Decoration Handicap, at a mile and a sixteenth, which will net about $2,200 to the winner. The Latonia Derby comes on Saturday, and almost the same field that went to the post in the Kentucky Derby at Louisville will meet again in Latonia. The big event of the meeting, the $12,000 handicap called the Queen City, will be run on June 16. Ninety-four horses have been nominated and the weights will be announced three days before the race.

FAMOUS RACER SOLD FOR $150,000

LONDON, May 28.—Jardy, a four-year-old bay horse out of Airs and Graces by Flying Fox, has been sold by Edmond Blanc for $150,000 to Senor Luro, an Argentine breeder. Jardy is one of two sons of Flying Fox, for which M. Blanc paid nearly $200,000.

Jardy was a contestant in last year's Derby at Epsom Downs, and finished second, being beaten by Lord Rosebery's Cicero. Senor Luro announced his intention of trying to breed the fastest horse in the world from Jardy.

FAST GAMES ON HANDBALL COURTS

O'Neil and Raleigh were easily defeated by Melopaid on the Brooklyn handball court, the latter winning two games out of three.

Oliver Drew played two men at Tarrant's Court in Jersey City and defeated them after a close struggle, the final score being 8 to 2. Sweeney and Howes opposed Drew, and they played together with great teamwork, but Drew was too fast for them.

AMATEUR ATHLETES IN FOR GREAT HOLIDAY

Interest in amateur athletic sport has increased in America for the past quarter of a century. This interest has been subjected to infrequent yet desultory periods of unusual enthusiasm.

The recent victory of America at the Olympic games in Athens has marked the beginning of a permanent, healthy and inspiring attitude of the public to a sphere of amateur sport that is pregnant with possibilities for development, and teems with promise of incalculable hope for the elevation of the physique of young America.

America, always initiative, yet responsive, has ever been ready to assimilate the ideas and characteristics of other nations, provided they tend to an elevation of mind and muscle, has long been devoted to the pastimes and games of the oldest and greatest athletic peoples in the world, the Greeks and the Irish.

Decoration Day has been identified for years past as the date of the opening of our outdoor athletic season, and next Wednesday's games will set the pace for a season of unusual high-class competition in every department of field and track athletics.

The most important of all the large meetings in this vicinity will be held at Celtic Park on Memorial Day. The Irish-American Club members, who so distinguished themselves at Athens, will all compete at Celtic Park, also the best men in the collegiate world and several of the senior and junior record-holders and champions. Discus throwing, the typical Greek sport, will be a feature of the Irish-American games, and Martin Sheridan, the world's champion and record holder, will compete. This sport has undoubtedly received a stimulus from Sheridan's work in Athens that will elevate and popularize it to a solid position in our amateur sports.

Apart from the significance of the eclat which the Olympic champions will give to the Celtic Park games, the outdoor debut of Melville Sheppard, the fleet-footed Philadelphian, a member of the Irish-American A. C., will be of almost equal importance.

Joyce runs in the three miles, scratch. Frank, who finished third in the Marathon race at Athens; Spring, another Marathon man; Soutar, of the Pastimes; Kratzenstein, of the Mohawks, and all the local distance cracks will make this race a classic struggle.

Other Big Meets.

The Brooklyn A. C. has held its annual games since time immemorial at Montevideo's Grand Street Park, Maspeth, on Decoration Day, and the entries received for next Wednesday's games are a guarantee that high-class competition will prevail. The events are 75-yard dash, novice; 100 yards, 300 yards, 880 yards and one-mile runs, handicaps and a 600-yard novice.

The Clan McLeod will hold its annual games at Schutzen Park, Union Hill, N. J., and the old games of the Highlands will be picturesquely decided with music of pipes and by athletes in the tartan and plaid of their native land.

The Irish Societies of Long Island will hold a set of games at Ridgewood Park, Brooklyn. The games of the Cowperthwait Furniture Employees is the most significant of all the meetings, for it is evidence that the sport is entering into our leading mercantile establishments. This firm will celebrate its centennial next Wednesday at Donnelly's grove, College Point, Long Island.

The Albany Young Men's Christian Association will hold a set of games. Joe Devere, the Pastime sprinter, is perhaps the only New Yorker who will journey up-State.

KIELY HERE STARTS WORK AT CELTIC PARK

Tom Kiely of Carrick-on-Suir, Tipperary, former American and Irish champion all-around athlete, was enjoying a walk on Broadway last night accompanied by Frank Stephenson, another Irish athlete, who made the trip here with Kiely.

Kiely starts training for the amateur all-around championship at Celtic Park this afternoon.

Kiely was delighted with the success of the Yankee team at Athens, and is anxious that a representative team should go to Ireland next summer and compete at the revival of the Tailten games, at which the fifty-six pound hammer and other events popular in American sports will be featured in a programme of wide and varied scope.

Stevenson's form is high jumping. He can also hurdle and broad jump in fairly good style. He stands 6 feet 4½ inches and weighs about 190 pounds in his athletic togs.

Both athletes will compete next Sunday at Celtic Park at the games of the Monument Athletic Club.

NEIL COMING TO GET MATCH HERE

CHICAGO, Ill., May 28.—Frankie Neil, bantam weight champion, passed through Chicago to-day en route to New York from Minneapolis, where he expects to get a match with Tommy Murphy or Spike Robson.

Jack Dougherty, the welter-weight, to-day issued a challenge to Joe Gans or Willie Lewis, for the welter-weight title, before any club offering a suitable purse.

Dougherty will make a side bet of one thousand dollars that he can defeat either fighter.

YANKEE TENNIS TEAM REACHES ENGLAND

LONDON, May 28.—The American lawn tennis players, Beals C. Wright, Holcombe Ward, Kreigh Collins and Raymond D. Little, who will play for the Davis challenge cup, arrived here and were welcomed by Mr. Collins, President of the Lawn Tennis Association, the captain of the English team and other prominent players.

NEW YORKER LEADS YALE'S TRACK TEAM

(Special to The Evening World.)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 28.—Announcement was made here that James W. Marshall, 1907, of New York City, at a meeting of the Yale track athletes in Boston, at the close of the intercollegiate meet, was elected captain of the Yale track team for next year.

WORLD B. B. TEAMS PLAY.

Owing to the fine condition of the Howard A. C.'s grounds, Saratoga avenue and Halsey streets, Brooklyn, a fast and pretty game of ball was played yesterday between teams representing the business office and engraving departments of the New York World. Rain stopped the game at the end of the seventh inning.

BAYSIDE HORSE SHOW.

Some of the finest horses on Long Island are entered in the Bayside Horse Show to be held next Saturday at Egan's farm, Bayside avenue, Flushing. The fifteen classes have an entry list of over 100. Among the exhibitors are many women, owners of blue ribbon winners at the various shows in and around New York.
