

Nebraska's Next Governor!!

Hon. W. H. Thompson.

The above picture is a likeness of Hall county's "Little Giant," William H. Thompson, whom the Democratic and People's Independent parties have named as candidate for governor of our state and whom we confidently expect the people of this great commonwealth to elect to that office on next Tuesday. No man more honorable, able or with more courage to take up the duties that fall to the lot of that official could have been named for Nebraska's governor.

Following are a few words of esteem from the people among whom he lives:

GRAND ISLAND, NEBR., Oct. 16, 1902.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: As some wrong statements have been made and circulated among our preachers, I am glad to say, in the interest of justice and fair play, that Hon. W. H. Thompson is regarded by the Christian people of this community as a man of sterling character and a warm friend of the churches.

While he himself is not a member of any religious body, yet he is always ready with voice, pen or pocket-book, to help on every worthy enterprise.

At the recent session of our annual conference his fine home was cheerfully thrown open and a number of our ministers were welcomed as honored guests.

W. W. CARR, Pastor First Methodist Church.

Interviewed With C. F. Bentley.

Cashier First National Bank of Grand Island, Nebraska.

"I consider Mr. Thompson's nomination an excellent one from every standpoint. He has been successful both as an attorney and as a business man, and has shown himself to be possessed of qualities of a high character that will insure a clean and successful administration, in case he is elected. He enjoys the esteem of the people of Hall County and will undoubtedly receive a large complimentary vote in this locality."

GRAND ISLAND, NEBR., Oct. 15, 1902.

DEAR SIR: For the past nine years I have known Hon. W. H. Thompson quite intimately. He is an ideal neighbor and a public spirited citizen. And also a successful business man. As Mayor of the City of Grand Island he carried his business tact and rare administrative ability into the management of public affairs and thereby won the confidence and admiration of his fellow citizens.

Mr. Thompson has been a trustee of the Grand Island College since its organization, for many years being the Chairman of its Executive Committee. As such trustee he has freely devoted his time, money and legal service to the furtherance of the interests of the institution.

I know Mr. Thompson's sympathy and influence are always on the side of religion and morality. His contribution for the support of both ministers and churches have been both generous and frequent.

Very truly yours,

GEORGE SUTHERLAND, Pres. Grand Island College.

W. H. Thompson is an old citizen of Grand Island. He is honest and honorable, his word is as good as a bond. He is a good father to his family and a man in whom the people of the state of all parties can have confidence in his integrity. Mr. Thompson is a well-balanced man, with good ideas, he is progressive and is one of the lawyers of the State who prefers to have a client settle cases out of court than to drag them into court.

If elected the interests of the state would be looked after from a business rather than from a partisan standpoint. One thing is certain, nobody can say an iota against him as to his character, his capability as an attorney or as an honorable man.

GRAND ISLAND, Oct. 16, 1902.

DEAR BROTHER: I know from a great many years acquaintance with Hon. W. H. Thompson, the fusion or people's nominee for Governor, that he possesses high ideals in regard to virtue and morality. If elected I know that his appointments will be made on merit alone. Rest assured that he will give this state an administration free from railroad influence and petty partisanship. We will all join in rejoicing when the present "accidental" governor is succeeded by one in whom all Christians may have confidence. Very cordially, RAYARD H. PAINE, Supt. First Methodist Sunday School.

The board of county commissioners finished their labors last Saturday. We want to say right here and now that the members of the present board, regardless of politics, are conscientious, painstaking, honest and earnest in their efforts in behalf of the people. Each county commissioner shows a desire to do the best possible for the county and in the least amount of time—which is a decided innovation from the tactics pursued by some of the old board. Messrs. Duncan, Lore and Cahal each have all the personal business at their respective homes that they can look after, without spending any unnecessary time for the county. This is one of the best boards the county has had for some years, and we think it is but just to state this fact for the benefit of some of our citizens who may not know.

The Volante, a paper published monthly by the students of Grand Island College, has the following to say of Hon. W. H. Thompson:

The Volante is not a political organ and therefore advocates the election of no candidate on merely political grounds. We are not acquainted with the republican candidate and can therefore bear no testimony to his high qualifications for the office to which he aspires. But we have known the Honorable W. H. Thompson for a good many years and speak with regard to him from a somewhat intimate acquaintance. Mr. Thompson is recognized by all who know him as a clean, true man. He is a man of ability. He made an excellent mayor of Grand Island and has the qualities to make a good governor of the state. Mr. Thompson is interested in all public matters. He has been a capable trustee of Grand Island College from the beginning of the school, and has done much for its advancement. His library has always been open for the use of the students and his latch string has always been out for those connected with the school. Mr. Thompson is recognized as a friend of law and order, of morality and religion. Mr. Thompson has always been a friend of the students, and while we do not say these things to advocate his election, yet we regard it as the duty of those that are acquainted with him to say what they know, at a time when all records and characters are placed under the blazing search light of public scrutiny. Mr. Thompson is a man who will stand the test.

A. M. Morrissey.

A. M. MORRISSEY, the Democratic and Populist candidate for senator in this district, was born December 27th, 1870, at Livania, New York. In the spring of 1890, having caught the western fever, he came west and located at Chadron, where three of his older brothers were then living. Soon afterwards he entered the law office of Judge Alfred Bartow and began the study of law. He remained in this office until the fall of 1892, when he was appointed Deputy County Clerk of Dawes county and held this position for two years. With the money thus earned he completed his education and was admitted to the bar in 1895. He immediately entered the practice of his profession, associating himself with Captain Allen G. Fisher, of Chadron and thus continued until the spring of 1898, when he removed to Valentine, his present home. In the fall of 1898, after a hard campaign, he was elected County Attorney of Cherry county, running seventy votes ahead of his ticket. So acceptably did he fill the office that in 1900, when the county gave McKinley, for president, a majority of 225 it re-elected Mr. Morrissey, on the fusion ticket, by a majority of 314. In the four years that he has been County Attorney of Cherry county, the largest county in the state and one of the largest cattle producing counties in the world, he has distinguished himself as a fearless and successful prosecutor; he has built up the largest practice enjoyed by any lawyer of his age in western Nebraska; and has so endeared himself to the people of his county that the leading business men including bankers, merchants and cattlemen, without regard to party, join in expressions of confidence in his ability and integrity and freely declare their intention of supporting him for the senate on Tuesday next.

CORN BREAD.

Fond Recollections of the Days of the Hoe and Flapjacks.

With good meal and a cook following the lessons and traditions of the old regime delicious bread may be baked of Indian meal. But we have grave doubts whether it can be baked as well in a stove as in an open fireplace; but, alas, of the latter only a few remain.

The ashcake, of course, must have ashes. They are indispensable. As well try to produce a mint julep without mint. On the other hand, "flapjacks" need only a well greased frying pan, but skill is required to turn them. That is done by pitching them out of the pan into the air and making them come down flap on the other side. The corn pone may be cooked in a stove or range.

The hoe cake was originally cooked on a hoe in the fields and in the negro cabin. A skillet will do well enough for it, but must be well greased at the bottom. So, too, with respect to egg or batter bread. As for corn muffins, the appliances of a range are admirably adapted to them.

We wish some millionaire would fit up a Virginia country home in antebellum style and among other things have in it a big open fireplace, a black cook in a gingham dress, with a red bandanna on her head, and also have a half acre mint bed, an icehouse and an old time garden filled with raspberries and gooseberries, thyme, sage, currants and all the ordinary table vegetables.

When one of those old time homes and gardens and kitchens is restored and the host and hostess have entered into possession, we desire to be listed as a frequent guest, with a reserved seat in the chimney corner. Then all we shall want will be the zest, the appetite, the voraciousness we possessed when we could eat eighteen rolls and six eggs for breakfast and consume a whole watermelon between meals. But, alas, it would be easier to restore old walls and open fireplaces than to bring back the digestion and storage capacity of a youth that's gone, of a time that's past and never can return.—Richmond Dispatch.

THE COOKBOOK.

Put a pinch of bicarbonate of soda in the water when boiling salmon. This makes it a beautiful red color.

When roasting fowls, put them into an intensely hot oven until carefully browned; after that cook slowly, basting frequently.

When gravy is being made from roast veal, lamb, beef or chicken, use milk instead of water added to the brown drippings left in the pan after the fat has been poured off.

Before baking a bluefish the creole cooks pour over it a sauce made from fresh or canned tomatoes in which garlic is chopped. It is then baked until the flesh of the fish flakes, admitting the sauce.

For a quick cake beat until thick four eggs; add four tablespoonfuls of sugar, half a cupful of flour, a little cinnamon and lemon rind; beat well and spread on a baking pan; bake in quick oven and cut at once.

Cooking teachers say that the ingredients for pancakes, fritters and the like should be mixed fully two hours before the batter is needed. This, they explain, gives the flour a chance to swell, and the batter is better and more wholesome.

A Clever Horse.

A great many horses are fed on the streets from "catbags" drawn up over their noses and wabbling about in a manner which must make it very uncomfortable to eat one's dinner in that way. The Boston Herald tells of a bright horse down in "Pie Alley" which had nearly reached the bottom of his bag. It wobbled awfully, but the oats were sweet and he was hungry. In front of him stood a wagon, and the wagon had a wheel. Happy thought! He walked up to the wheel, rested his canvas bag on the top of it and finished his dinner to the last oat in a comfortable, leisurely fashion and with a twinkle in his eye. If that was not a triumph of mind over matter, what was it?
