POLICEMEN AND REPORTER UP ON BRIBERY CHARGE

Two Charged with Taking Money to Have Man Made a Roundsman, Third Accused of Compounding a Felony.

James J. Bryan, a policeman attached to the Charles street station, and Charles R. Price, Police Headquarters reporter for the New York Daily News were arrested this afternoon on a complaint of bribery and extortion. The complaint was made by Policeman James Donohue, of the West One Hundredth street station, who accuses them of extorting $200 from him on a promise to have him made a roundsman.

The exposure was made in Price's office across the street from Police Headquarters. Bryan tried to get away and was chased clear into the Subway station at Bleecker street before he was caught.

Third Deputy Commissioner Mathot grabbed him just as he was about to jump from the uptown platform and make his way, at the risk of his life, across the tracks to the opposite side. Bryan lost his helmet in his flight and threw away two marked $50 bills which his pursuers picked up.

Earlier in the day Policeman William H. Sheehan had been arrested on a charge of compounding a felony in agreeing to give false testimony for a consideration. He was a prisoner in the Mulberry Street Station, a short distance down from Headquarters, when his brother officer, Bryan, and Price were gathered in.

Money for Promotion.

It has been reported about Headquarters for some time that certain policemen were engaged in grafting upon their companions under promise of using influence to get them promoted. Policeman Donohue went through an examination not long since and was placed on the eligible list for promotion to roundsman.

A few days later he was approached by Bryan, who told him he was "right" at Headquarters, and could help him get his roundsman's stripes. Donohue bartered with Bryan, and finally agreed to give up $200.

Then he went to his Captain and told of his experience. The Captain sent him to Headquarters with a letter. Third Deputy Commissioner Mathot advised him to go on with the conspiracy. Assistant District-Attorney Murphy was called in, and assisted in framing up the trap.

According to a previous agreement Bryan and Donohue met at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the clerk's office at the northeast corner of Mulberry and Houston streets. Commissioner Mathot, Assistant District-Attorney Murphy, Inspector Smith and several patrolmen and plain clothes men were hidden in the corridor of Headquarters on the Mulberry street side.

Saw Money Passed.

Bryan and Donohue were in uniform. They were watched and Donohue was seen to hand Bryan four $50 bills that had previously been marked by Mr. Murphy.

The two policemen went across the street to Price's office, opposite the entrance to Headquarters. There was a transaction in the office in which money was passed and which could be seen from across the street. Commissioner Mathot, Mr. Murphy and seven policemen ran down the steps of Headquarters and started for Price's office.

Bryan happened to glance out the window and saw them coming. With one bound he was out the door and in another had reached the street, with Policeman Donohue after him. Commissioner Mathot and other policemen joined in the chase, shouting: "Stop thief!" while others hurried on to grab Price.

The neighborhood was alive in a moment and the spectacle of a policeman in full uniform being chased by other policemen made the oldest Headquarters loungers gasp. Bryan's helmet flew from his head. Half way up the block he rolled two $50 bills into a ball and threw them to the pavement.

The fleeing policeman went down the steps at the Bleecker street station of the Subway, four steps at a time, with Deputy Commissioner Mathot at his heels. Bryan knocked the ticket chopper down, rushed across the platform and was about to jump to the rails, when Commissioner Mathot grabbed him.

Bryan would probably have been killed in crossing the tracks as an express train whizzed by a second after he was caught. He handed over his shield and was led back to Headquarters, where Price had already been placed under arrest.

Charles R. Price is a veteran police reporter. The attitude of the newspaper he works for is distinctly hostile to the present administration and Commissioner Bingham.

DETECTIVES SAY COP TOOK $50 BRIBE MONEY

Policeman Sheehan, of the East 104th Street Station, Arrested.

William H. Sheehan, a policeman attached to the East One Hundred and Fourth street station and a member of the Police Department for seventeen years, was arrested to-day charged with compounding a felony. County Detectives Reardon and O'Neill, who made the arrest, say they saw Sheehan accept $50 in marked bills from a negress, Mrs. Mary Parron, of No. 262 West Forty-fourth street, and found the money in his pocket later.

Sheehan's office grew out of the shooting, on March 25, of Florence Saufer, a negress employed as a maid at No. 167 Madison avenue, by Howard Post, a seventeen-year-old negro.

Sheehan made the arrest in the case and Post has since been indicted for murder in the first degree. The girl died in Mount Sinai Hospital a week after the shooting, and in the interval Sheehan saw her and talked with her several times.

Had Evidence to Suppress.

Mrs. Parron is Post's aunt and took a great deal of interest in his case. It is alleged that Sheehan called upon her and told her that he was in position to suppress a great deal of testimony he had from the Saufer girl that would prove damaging to her nephew on his trial. He is said to have volunteered to suppress the specified damaging evidence for $50.

One of Mrs. Parron's boarders is a white man who gives the name of Wallace Sweeny. She told him of the alleged offer made by Sheehan, and Mr. Sweeny betook himself to the District-Attorney's office, where he was turned over to Assistant District-Attorney Cardozo.

The woman was summoned, and her story corroborated that of Sweeny. Mrs. Parron was told to continue her negotiations with Sheehan, who has been absent from duty on sick leave since May 9.

Arrests Shocks Superiors.

She made an arrangement with him to meet her at her home to-day to consummate the transaction. Reardon and O'Neill marked a bundle of bills amounting to $50, gave it to Mrs. Parron and hid in her apartments. Sheehan arrived at the appointed time and the detectives say that in their sight and hearing he accepted the marked money. They jumped upon him and placed him under arrest.

Sheehan refused to make a statement when taken to the District-Attorney's office. He was locked up in the Mulberry Street Station and will be arraigned in Centre Street Police Court to-morrow.

The arrest of Sheehan was a great shock to his superiors, who thought that he had done excellent work on the Post shooting case. He is about forty-three years of age.

NATIONAL LEAGUE PARK, PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—The crippled Champions of the World and the Phillies lined up for the third battle of the series here this afternoon, and a big Saturday crowd of fans turned out.

The Giants gave Philadelphia another shutout.

First Inning.

Browne died. Gleason to Bransfield. McGann skied to Courtney. Mertes was a cinch, Doolin to Bransfield. NO RUNS.

Thomas flied to Marshall. Gleason's pop dropped safely in right and was doubled with Courtney. Gilbert to Dahlen to McGann. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.

Dahlen was out, Doolin to Bransfield by a great stop and throw. Devlin and Gilbert singled. Marshall fanned, Devlin and Gilbert stealing on the out. Bowerman fanned. NO RUNS.

Magee took the air trip, to Marshall. Titus was easy, Gilbert to McGann. Bransfield was hit by a pitched ball, but died stealing. Bowerman to McGann. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Taylor hit safely, but was forced by Browne, Bransfield to Doolin. McGann died to Titus, Browne stealing. Mertes was retired, Doolin to Bransfield. NO RUNS.

Doolin drew a pass. Doolin fanned, the crowd unmercifully hooting Klem's decision. Sparks hit into a double play, Dahlen to Gilbert on Doolin and Gilbert to McGann on Sparks. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

Dahlen and Devlin flied to Magee. Gilbert struck out. NO RUNS.

Thomas died, Devlin to McGann, Gleason skied to Dahlen. Courtney's single to right was a beaut. Magee banged safely to Browne's field. Titus flied to Mertes. NO RUNS.

Fifth Inning.

Thomas Got Marshall's long fly after a hard run. Bowerman was retired, Doolin to Bransfield. Titus took Taylor's fly with one hand. NO RUNS.

Bransfield died, Devlin to McGann. Doolin went out, Gilbert to McGann. Gilbert threw Doolin out at first. NO RUNS.

Sixth Inning.

Browne struck out. McGann walked and reached third on Mertes's double to right field fence. Dahlen's grounder to Doolin retired McGann at the plate. Dahlen died trying the squeeze play, Doolin to Gleason. NO RUNS.

Sparks flied to Mertes. Thomas died, Gilbert to McGann, Gleason was put out, McGann to Taylor. NO RUNS.

Seventh Inning.

Devlin singled and was out, Gleason to Doolin, on Gilbert's grounder. Gilbert stole second. Bowerman was easy, Doolin to Bransfield. Taylor, ditto. NO RUNS.

Courtney was safe on Dahlen's fumble. Magee struck out. Titus forced Courtney, Gilbert to Dahlen. Bransfield flied to Dahlen. NO RUNS.

Eighth Inning.

Browne walked. McGann flied to Titus. Mertes singled, Browne reaching third. Dahlen singled and Browne scored. Devlin died to Doolin. Mertes scored on Doolin's wild throw to catch him off third. Gilbert flied to Thomas. TWO RUNS.

Doolin fouled flied to Bowerman. Doolin died, Gilbert to McGann a great stop. Sparks flied to Mertes. NO RUNS.

Ninth Inning.

Marshall fanned. Bowerman flied to Magee. Taylor died, Gleason to Bransfield. NO RUNS.

Dahlen to McGann, Thomas out. Gilbert retired Gleason at first. Courtney flied to Brown. NO RUNS.

AMERICAN LEAGUE PARK, NEW YORK, June 2.—Keeping up their victorious march, the Highlanders slaughtered the Athletics in the first game this afternoon and won by a score of 14 to 4.

Orth was in great form and held the Quakers at his mercy until the game was clinched and then let up, taking it easy the rest of the game. Plank was pounded out of the box and Dygart, who followed him, fared little better.

When the second game started there was fully 20,000 people in the grounds, and a solid bank of people was lined up against the fence all the way around. It was the greatest crowd of this season.

First Inning.

Hartsel drew a base on balls at the start and went to second on Armbruster's sacrifice. Davis slammed a two-bagger into the centre field crowd and Hartsel scored. Seybold was also there and singled to right, scoring Davis but Murphy's grounder to Elberfeld was turned into a double play retiring the side. TWO RUNS.

By a neat stop Murphy got Keeler at first. Elberfeld was called out on strikes. Chase dropped a slow one toward third and easily beat the throw to first. Laporte drove a long fly to Hartsel. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.

Williams made easy work of Brouthers's grounder. Cross was fortunate enough to get a free walk, but Schreck flied to Conroy and Bender forced Monte at second. NO RUNS.

LONG SHOT TAKES JUMPS; PALM ROOM FALLS TO DEATH

Yazd, Oran, Perverse, Herculoid and Broadcloth Among the Winners—20,000 Enthusiasts See Exciting Sport—Joyner Gives the Comanche Yell.

By FRANK W. THORP.

BELMONT PARK, N. Y.—Trainer "Jack" Joyner's yell of triumph resounded to-day when Mr. Paget's colt, Charles Edward, came abreast of the free field in the last eighth, leading the so-called cracks, Superman, Demund and Okenite. Joyner's colt won and Joyner won at least $6,000 in bets.

When the horses hove in sight Joyner's trained eye was first to spot Charles Edward leading. Joyner's Comanche yell then heralded a victory for Charles Edward.

Tubbs, the coachman of New York, and a score of Joyner's friends, who had gathered around him, executed a war dance when Charles Edward won.

"I knew it would take a good horse to beat me," said Joyner in response to congratulations.

Incidentally the public must have lost $200,000 on Demund and Keene's Superman and Philander. The Raineys, owners of Demund, alone lost $30,000 on their colt. Money poured in on the horses until the sheets of the bookmakers were filled.

Long Shot Tired Out.

Stoic, a long shot, who was nibbled at in the betting, first away in front and made the running to the far turn, where Gentian joined him. The pair raced in close order until near the stretch, where Gentian went to the front, followed by Yazd. In the run home Yazd went to the front and won cleverly by three-quarters of a length from King's Gem, who came with a rattle at the end. Gentian, stopping fast, was four lengths away.

Oran Beat Masterson.

Oran and Bat Masterson were well played in the second race, closing about equal favorites. They had the race between them. Oran took the lead soon after the start, made all the running and won handily by two lengths from Bat Masterson, who was always second, and beat Sewell a scant length for the place. Oran made a new track record by one-fifth of a second for the distance.

In the second race Long Shot, The Evening World's tipster, picked the winners as they finished, one, two, three.

Charles Edward Best.

Charles Edward was the best horse. Soon after the start he was unfortunate enough to get sandwiched in between Superman and Demund, and, not having early speed, was squeezed back. Miller took the colt to the inside, and then, once in his stride, he wore down Superman and Demund at the furlong pole. Demund quit then, but Superman hung on gamely to the end. Charles Edward won by a length, while Superman again beat Demund, this time by two lengths. This was Miller's second winner.

Perverse Won by Neck.

Perverse was a 2 to 5 favorite in the Ladies' Stakes, but she did not run like one. It took all of Lyne's skill to get her home a neck in front of Belle of Pequest, who closed very strong at the end. Edna Jackson was third, two lengths away, after making nearly all the running.

Palm Room Killed.

Grandpa and Alfar made the running in the International Steeplechase, opening a gap of half a dozen lengths on Herculoid, who was as far in front of the field. The pace told, and in the last half mile Herculoid went to the front and drawing away won easily by six lengths from Grandpa, who beat Dromedary thirty lengths. At the last jump Palm Room fell and broke his neck, dying instantly. Holder was shaken up but not seriously injured.

Miller Went to Sleep.

In the closing race Broadcloth won in a close finish from Von Tromp, upon which Miller went to sleep. Kiamesha made the running but stopped badly in the run home.

TRACK CONSENSUS.
