SPORTING NEWS AND COMMENT

EDITED BY ROBERT EDGREN.

THERE'S trouble in store for Mr. Jeffries.

The biggest, strongest, quickest and altogether most formidable athlete in the world is camping on his trail.

George Hackenschmidt is the man.

Here's what Harry Monahan, just back from England, has to say about the famous "Russian Lion" and his latest ambition:

"I spent a lot of time with Hack over there in London. He is the greatest big fellow I ever met, possibly excepting Jim Jeffries.

"Hack has spent all of his spare time for nearly two years, on the quiet, boxing with Gunner Moir and one or two other big fellows. He is turning out to be a wonder with the gloves. The Gunner is heavy-weight champion of England now, but he's a child in Hackenschmidt's hands.

"Hack told me that his one ambition is to be the best man, physically, in the world. He isn't satisfied with being the best wrestler, although he is immensely popular in England and all over Europe, and has made a great fortune through his wrestling and strong-man feats.

"A while ago he wrestled Madrali, the gigantic Turk, and beat him decisively after a short struggle. There are no wrestlers left in Hack's class now. He has to go after other game.

"His greatest desire is to fight Jeffries. I think Jim has always been in a class by himself. But this man Hackenschmidt will be able to give him a run for his money. He is the only man living who equals Jeff in strength and speed, and, with a little experience in the ring, he will be able to give the champion a grand fight for the title."

HACKENSCHMIDT is well known in New York. The great Russian wrestler appeared here nearly two years ago, and no one who saw him play with big Tom Jenkins will ever forget the impression made by his immense strength and his catlike quickness.

That was a great match between Hackenschmidt and Jenkins. The Russian knew nothing about our catch-as-catch-can style. He had always wrestled Graeco-Roman.

Hack toyed with Tom as he pleased for a while, then finally picked him up, held him at arms' length overhead, inverted him and threw him down with a crash that shook the platform. Jenkins, half stunned, was easy game after that. When the fall had been decided Hack walked over to the ropes, vaulted over them and logged out to his dressing-room.

The Russian Lion is as fast as he is strong. He can turn summersaults like any acrobat. He is as swift in his footwork as any light-weight boxer.

Over in London he has been doing a lot of daily training stunts that would make any fighter wilt. When he began training with the idea of entering the fighting game he began working up his agility and endurance by jumping back and forth over a table. The first day he contented himself with ten jumps in succession. Now he leaps over the table, frontward and backward, fifty times without a rest. I dare say there isn't a man in the ring to-day who could duplicate that feat. Hack's strength and all-around athletic ability are marvelous.

I DON'T know how much boxing skill Gunner Moir has drilled into the giant. I suppose that Hackenschmidt knows no more about handling the gloves than Sailor Sharkey did when he came over. He is twice as strong as Sharkey ever was. He is faster. He weighs just less than 200 stripped when in fine condition. He has a fine body, a clear head and a pair that is certainly equal to Sharkey's in the matter of ability to stand hitting. He is dazzingly fast on his feet and quick in the ring. He is a quick thinker. He is intelligent, the fact that he speaks seven languages and is a graduate of a great engineering school is proof enough of that, and he has had worlds of experience in desperate encounters with the world's greatest wrestlers.

Summing it all up, I am inclined to think that Hackenschmidt ought to be twice as dangerous as Sharkey was at his best. And a double-action Sharkey could give Jeffries a hot fight any time.

One thing that promises well for Hackenschmidt is that he isn't muscle-bound like most wrestlers. He is as loose and free as a fighting man. His acrobatic work has preserved his natural limberness and speed.

Hackenschmidt told me when he was here in New York that he had been boxing with Gunner Moir in Australia and that he intended so take up the game seriously, with the intention of fighting Jeffries as soon as he had filled certain wrestling engagements in England. He has "made good" his intention so far.

The next thing will be to draw Jeffries out of his retirement.

And what a world's championship battle that will be if it ever comes off!

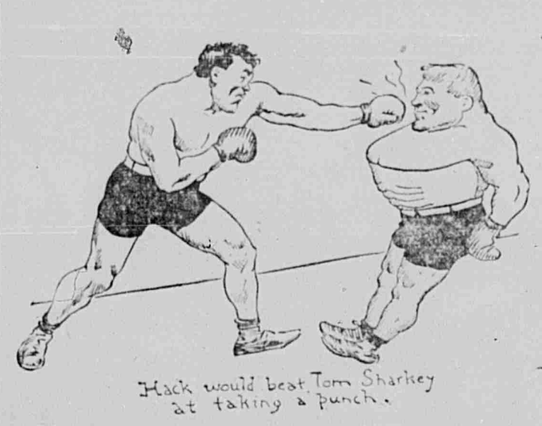
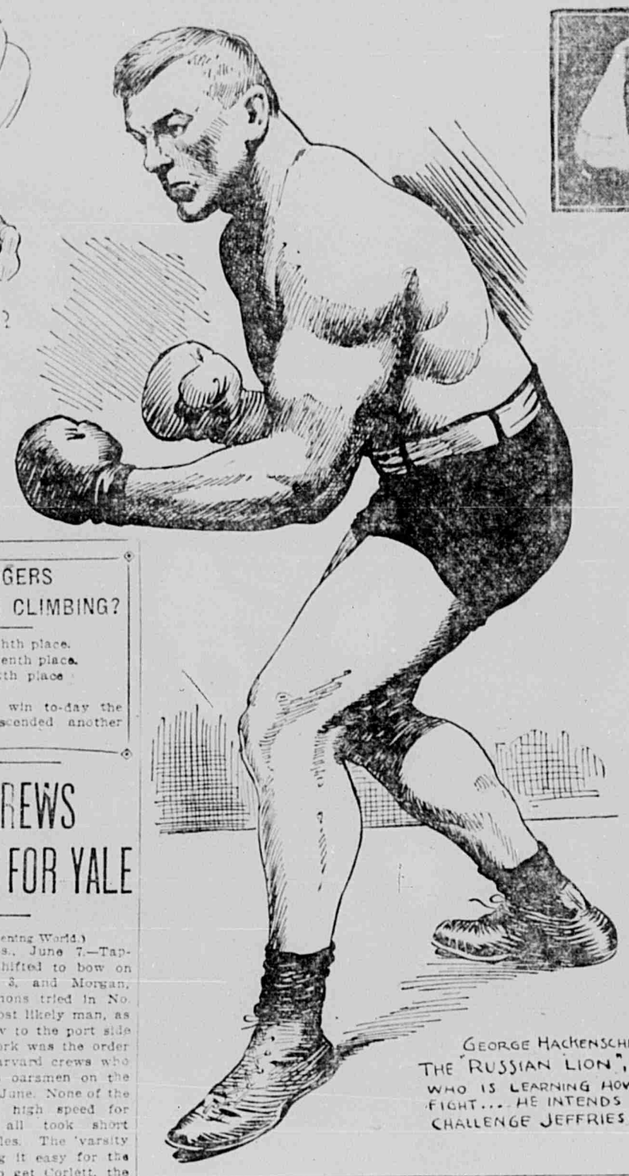
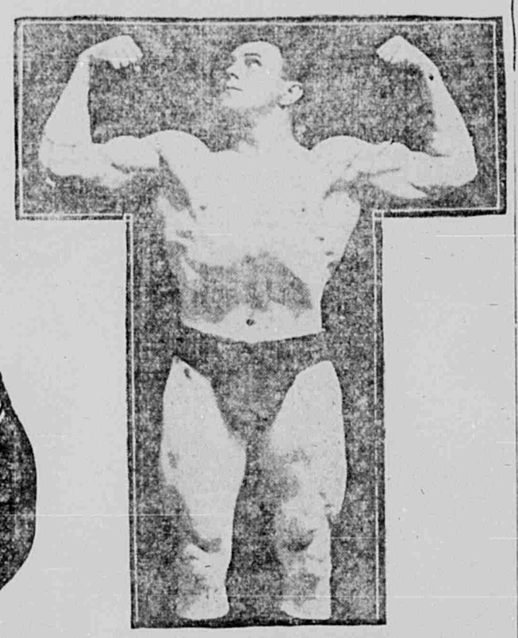
HACKENSCHMIDT, THE "RUSSIAN LION," WANTS TO FIGHT JEFFRIES.







MOHAWK AND PASTIME CRACKS IN DUAL MEET

There is talk of a dual meet between the stars of the Mohawk Athletic Club and the Pastime Athletic Club. The contest would be a great struggle.

Zink and Sweeney, of the Pastime A. C., are looked upon to finish first and second in the junior half-mile championship.

Frank Pierce, the Seneca Indian, has obtained a permanent position in Manhattan, and he will add to the Pastime success this year.

The new West Side Athletic Club will hold its monthly games next Sunday morning at the club grounds, West Fifty-fourth street. This club has suffered by many of its prominent members leaving for other organizations. Peabody, Foley and McLaughlin are a trio that will struggle for this old club during the coming season.

The national all-round championships will be held at Boston on Saturday, June 23. Garrells of Michigan is a man who will be heard of in the coming competition.

The Pastime A. C. has a splendid track on its new grounds. The schoolboy athletes of the Thirteenth District train there. The teacher's signal to quit is a double shot from his revolver.

The Temple Forum A. C., of Richmond Hill, L. I., will open its new clubrooms and gymnasium on Johnson avenue to-night. Assemblyman De Groot is the father of this club, Dr. Everett Field is physical director, and some of the most promising athletes are Ernest Warburton, Charles Bennett and Walter Edgerton.

Louis Mang, of the Mohawks, is the logical successor to Ray Ewry as a jumper. Mang is expected to change the figures in the three leaps and the standing high and broad jumps.

IDEAL CONDITIONS FOR GALLOPS AT SHEEPSHEAD

WORKOUTS AT GRAVESEND

(Special to The Evening World.)

GRAVESEND RACE TRACK, June 7.—The Gravesend track was in excellent condition for fast work to-day, and some very swift moves were the result of the morning workouts. The best noted follow:

JESSAMINE—Five furlongs in 1.02 3-5, handily. Good work; she is fit.

FIRST MASON—Three furlongs in 0.37 2-5, handily. Getting good.

BERACHA—Four furlongs in 0.49, driving. Has speed and looks well.

MATIN—Four furlongs in 0.49, handily. About ready to race.

ANDRIA—Four furlongs in 0.48 3-5, driving. Has speed, but is unreliable.

ESCORT—One mile in 1.48, galloping. Running to his best form.

KEATOR—Five furlongs in 1.02 3-5, handily. Has his foot and in very fine form.

ARKLIRTA—Five furlongs in 1.02 3-5, handily. Doing well and at his very best.

CLOVERCREST—Six furlongs in 1.15 3-5, driving. Very good work; is about ready.

CADET—Five furlongs in 1.02 3-5, handily. Quite clever work.

WINNING HAND—Four furlongs in 0.51 2-5, handily. Not up to much.

BULL'S EYE—One mile and a furlong in 2.02, breezing. Just a gallop.

FLIMNAP—Six furlongs in 1.19 3-5, breezing. Seems to be doing better.

INQUISITOR—Six furlongs in 1.19 3-5, galloping. In very good form.

SAMSON—Five furlongs in 1.02 2-5, handily. A fine colt in good form.

WATER TANK—Seven furlongs in 1.29 2-5, handily. Will run well at a short distance.

ROSEBEN—Six furlongs in 1.20, breezing. Going along nicely.

HOGAN—Four furlongs in 0.50 2-5, breezing. In good trim.

TRUE VERDICT—Three furlongs in 0.36 3-5, handily. A nice filly.

SANDY CREEKER—Five furlongs in 1.04, all out. Not up to much.

EDNA JACKSON—Four furlongs in 0.52. Looking well.

WATERBURY—Four furlongs in 0.49 2-5, handily. A very nice colt and is ready to race.

LAWSONIAN—One mile in 1.49, breezing. Acts very well.

BAT MASTERSON—Four furlongs in 0.50 3-5, breezing. A very nice colt.

OISEAU—One mile in 1.50, galloping. Going along very well.

HARVARD CREWS SPRUCING FOR YALE

(Special to The Evening World.)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 7.—Tappan was yesterday shifted to bow on the eight from No. 3, and Morgan, Richardson and Emmons tried in No. 3. Emmons is the most likely man, as the other two are new to the port side of the boat. Light work was the order of the day for the Harvard crews who are to meet the Yale oarsmen on the Thames at the end of June. None of the crew were rowed at high speed for any distance, but all took short stretches on the Charles. The 'varsity eight has been taking it easy for the last week in order to get Corlett, the new bow oar, into trim for the grueling work that will be given when the crews reach their quarters at Red Top-on-the-Thames next Tuesday.

Corlett, who rowed stroke on the starboard side of the four-oar at New London last spring, has not been rowing steadily this year. He was placed at bow on the 'varsity eight-oar ten days ago, when Phil Flint, the veteran from last year's boat, was declared ineligible to row against Yale on account of a technicality. The crimson eight has not been going so smoothly as when Flint was in the boat. At the present time it is very much of an unknown quantity in a four-mile race. Confidence of a victory over Yale has been considerably lessened by the loss of Flint.

The 'varsity four and the freshman eight were also given an easy row consisting of short spins. Both of these crews are very speedy aggregations. The freshman eight is almost as bulky a crew as the 'varsity eight. The men in the boat have been rowing together for more than a month. Stroke is the only uncertain place in the boat. Cutler, who has been stroking the eight, has been laid up with sickness, and his place has been taken by a very light man, Reece.

Reece keeps the crew moving in good shape, however. The 'varsity four has been rowing together, but a short time, but is made up of four very strong oarsmen.

The order of the boats yesterday afternoon follows:

'Varsity eight—Stroke, Capt. Filley; 7, Newhall; 6, Bacon; 5, Richardson; 4, Glass; 3 Tappan; 2, Fish; bow, Corlett; coxswain, Blakiden.

'Varsity four—Stroke, Morgan; 3, Emons; 2, Swain; bow, Gill; coxswain, Arnold.

Freshman eight—Stroke, Reece; 7, Buckerman; 6, Lant; 5, Faulkner; 4, Mulligan; 3, Severance; 2, Grandall; bow, Ellis; coxswain, Wise.

AMERICAN WINS TENNIS SINGLES

NEWPORT, England, June 7.—The international tennis tournament for the possession of the Dwight F. Davis International Challenge Cup commenced this afternoon, the United States being pitted against Australasia for the honor of challenging the British holders. The inability of Beals C. Wright to represent the United States in consequence of the blood-poisoning of his hand was somewhat counterbalanced by the absence of Norman Brooks, the Australian expert, who was unable to come to England this year.

To-day's singles were between Holcombe Ward, United States, and Los Poidevin, Australia, and Raymond D. Little and A. F. Wilding, New Zealand. Wilding beat Little by 3-6, the scores being 6-2, 3-6, 6-4.

In the all-England mixed doubles tennis championship, preliminary round, D. R. Rhodes and Miss May Sutton, of California, beat Mr. Fry and Miss Longhurst, 6-2, 6-2.

In the second round of the ladies' singles May Sutton lost the first set since her arrival, but ultimately won by 2-6; the scores were 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

In the singles Holcombe Ward, United States, beat Los Poidevin, Australia, 6-2, 6-4, 7-5.

All Americans vs. Baltimore Giants.

At Pastime Oval on Sunday the All Americans will meet the Baltimore Giants. The latter team will have Bell and Washington, formerly of the Philadelphia Giants, in the points, while the All Americans will present a big league battery.

Baseball, Polo Grounds, To-day, 4 P. M. Giants, Champs., vs. Chicago. Adm. 50c.

GIANTS DO NOT LOSE HOPE, ANOTHER DAY IS COMING

BY BOZEMAN BULGER.

Ye gods and early cantelopes!

Form busted, dope miscarried, grounds desecrated, team showed up, pennant flags flying, crowd roasting, and then a big juicy lemon. But wait a minute; can you think of anything else done to us by the Cubs? The echo answers, "Stung!"

Outhit, outplayed, outkidded, outpitched—— (Editor's note: Rest of sentence was blurred by falling tears and words cannot be deciphered.)

It is with profound regret, dear reader, that we are now compelled to announce that we have crawled into a hole and pulled the said hole after us. Just as we lost sight of the diamond, Dan McGann, in a towering rage, was heard to say, "Well, if they did beat us to-day I'll be durned if we don't challenge 'em for another one to-morrow, and then we'll see whose time it is to crow!" He was mad, too.

It is presumed that the reader has heard about that game up at the Polo Grounds yesterday, so we won't go into details—the bare fact being sufficiently sad.

But we'll put you wise to one thing—the Cubs may lick our esteemed champs, but the crowd can't hand us a lemon. One fellow in the bleachers chunked a piece of the fruit often used in gin rickeys at Taylor, and he was hustled out so fast by faithful fans that he left his change with the peanut boy.

Another fellow tried to spit upon Roger Bresnahan from a grand-stand box and was compelled to put up his bank roll at the One Hundred and Fifty-second Street Police Station for bail. He will appear in court to answer the charge to-day. It was the first time in three years that local fans had offered to insult the Giants, and, unfortunately, shows that there are still a few New York rooters who possess a streak of yellow large enough to make a Spanish battle flag.

The fellow who would have spit on Bresnahan was a man of means, too. At least, he came to the grounds in an automobile. He can walk, however, as was evidenced in the pace he set through the dust clouds on the way to the police station, with a cop and Roger at his heels.

But be those incidents as exciting as they may, it doesn't help the champs to dislodge Chicago from her perch on top of the ladder. Frank Chance simply got those fellows together yesterday, put them on to the kinks in Taylor's curves and touched it off with a lighted match. The doings thereafter would make the Fourth of July look like a seance of spiritualists. Base hits fell around poor Taylor like a bushel of grape-shot and strapnel fired at short range. There was nothing to it. They had us surrounded, and under those circumstances the best thing to do is to pay for the drinks and "hike to the bay." That expression can be found in Ted Sullivan's baseball dictionary, meaning, "to go to bed," "pound your ear" or "take a plunge in the spring."

In giving Chicago credit for showing us up it must also be remembered that they have been eating from the products turned out by their home packing houses as a regular training diet. If they can hit that way off of boiled ham made from leather, what could they do if fed on Ranciers and sandwiches? The possibilities are appalling.

It was rumored last night that the packers would summon Chance and his gang to Washington to show what a packing-house diet can really do if put to a test. But, as Dan McGann has previously said, we have challenged them for another one, and the only way to get back your ginger is to go out there and see a reversal of form. The champs are still "there" and you needn't get worried. Just wait.

So cheer up, comrades; there are many fights to come. As Spain once said, "Our navy may be small, but we have lots of water."

Trials of New Yachts.

Capt. Nat Herreshoff has tried the two sonderclass boats—the Skiddoo, built for Herbert M. Sears, Eastern Yacht Club, and White Cap, owned by F. G. Macomber, jr., Corinthian Yacht Club, Marblehead—and their trials have been satisfactory. The two boats are of the 1st of fifteen being built in this country to compete against the German representatives in the race off Marblehead in September.

The Sears boat is 20 feet 3 inches in length, 6 foot beam and 5 feet 6 inches draught. She is a keel boat with after overhang close to the water and with low freeboard. By a peculiarity of the frames on the forward overhangs a reverse curve is obtained which does not, however, detract from her speed lines. In her trial she showed speed and worked well to windward.

The two boats will be shipped to Marblehead soon, in order that the owners will have plenty of time to key them up for the preliminary races for the cup.

These Clubs Able to Run Stags.

If the announcement made by Maurice Blumenthal, counsel for Sheriff Hayes, last night, to the effect that Gov. Higgins is not opposed to clubs that have been in existence for a number of years holding stags, is authentic, then the clubs in this city which will be permitted to carry on bouts will be the New York A. C., Polo A. C., Avonia A. C., New West Side A. C., Pastime A. C., Hamilton A. C. and Long Acre A. C. All of these clubs have been organized for years.

Room for Morningstar.

Announcement is made that Ora Morningstar, a contestant in the recent 18.2 balkline billiard championship tournament in Madison Square Garden, has become a partner in Gafinkle's room at One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street and Lenox avenue. Morningstar is regarded as one of the best "shoot-stop" players in America.

HYLAND-GOODMAN BOUT CALLED OFF

Former's Manager Feared His Man Was to Be Jobbed in Fight and Quit.

(Special to The Evening World.)

BOSTON, June 7.—There will be no glove contest at Chelsea to-night owing to the fact that Dick Hyland and his manager, Sammy McClintic, suddenly left their training quarters at Highland Lake yesterday for New Yoork without advising any one of their intentions.

Hyland and his manager, McClintic, called at The Evening World office at 1 o'clock this morning and declared that their reason for leaving Boston was the mean treatment accorded them by Matchmaker Pierce, of the Lincoln Club.

McClintic said that Pierce refused to furnish him with articles of agreement or even let him know what sum Hyland was to get for fighting. He further states that a job was on hand to get Hyland defeated because he was the favorite in the betting at 10 to 6. That is the reason why he quit the town.

TWIN SULLIVAN TO FIGHT SHRECK

BY JOHN POLLOCK.

Jack "Twin" Sullivan, the hard-hitting middle-weight, of New England, is one fortunate pugilist. He has just signed articles of agreement for a ten-round bout with Mike Schreck, the Cincinnati heavy-weight, at a show to be brought off at Terre Haute, Ind., on June 29, for which he will receive $1,000 for his portion whether he wins or loses. Besides this good incentive, Sullivan is also to have a percentage privilege, and the club officials have agreed to furnish him with two round-trip tickets and expenses at the best hotel in Terre Haute for himself and his trainer for a week prior to the contest.

Murray Manager of Lincoln A. C.

Mike Murray, the well-known sporting man and fight promoter of Boston, has been the manager of the Lincoln A. C. of Cambridge, Mass., where all the important bouts in New England have been brought off for some time. Murray was the manager of the Criterion A. C. of Boston, a few years ago. Under his management this club was one of the most influential in the East. Murray thought he could make the Lincoln A. C. a paying one, as he knows the boxing game from A to Z.

Nelson and Nolan Quit Los Angeles.

Battling Nelson, the fighting Dane, and his manager, Billy Nolan, have left Los Angeles, Cal., and are on their way to Chicago. Nelson has a number of theatrical engagements to fill, and Manager Nolan declares that the Battler will not engage in another fight before the fall. Nelson had received a flattering offer to box Jimmy Britt for ten rounds before the Twentieth Century A. C., but as Britt is practically matched to meet McGovern again the contest has fallen through.

Mellody to Fight Dick Fitzpatrick.

Billy "Honey" Mellody, the New England welterweight, with the stage out of punch, is training for his twenty-round battle with Dick Fitzpatrick, the Chicago fighter, which is to be brought off at Spokane, Wash., to-morrow night. Mellody is certainly fighting in great form since the beginning of the year, and as he has scored a number of knockouts in that time it would not be a surprise if he handed Fitzpatrick a wallop on the jaw.

McGarry to Fight Harry Edels.

Andy McGarry, the Bronx lightweight, has received an offer from Matchmaker Murray, of the Lincoln A. C., of Chelsea, and fighter, in a fifteen-round bout at one Mass., at Harry Edels, of New England. If the shows to be brought off by the club the latter part of this month. As McGarry is one of those fighters who are going all the time, the chances are that he will give Edels a hard battle that has encountered for a long time. Paddy Welsh, manager of McGarry, has accepted the match.

Corona Ready to Race.

Yachtsmen who went to Sea Gate yesterday to witness the first race for the Havens cup, sailed for by small yachts of the Atlantic Yacht club, were given an opportunity to see Arthur F. Luke's schooner yacht Corona, which has been refitted and will race this season under a greatly improved rig.

Besides the improvement in a larger sail area the Corona now carries hollow spars, and the removal of considerable top hamper gives the boat a racy look which she did not have last season.

Owner Luke expected to give the yacht a trial to-day if the wind was suitable, she having been towed to the moorings off the Atlantic Yacht club yesterday afternoon. She will be entered against the Elmira in the annual regatta of the Atlantic Club next Tuesday.

Genuine Cuban Giants vs. Cedars.

The Genuine Cuban Giants, with "Pop" Watkins and "King" Kelly, the funniest coaches in the business, will visit Bronx Oval, One Hundred and Sixty-third street and Southern Boulevard, on Sunday, June 10, to play the Cedars. These teams were scheduled to play two weeks ago, but rain interfered. The Cedars are travelling at a fast pace, having lost only two games this season, and are confident they will defeat the Cubans.
