PLANS FOR NEW UNDERGROUND R.R. TERMINAL

D., L. & W. and the Erie Seek Connection with Heart of Manhattan.

Another great underground terminal station in the heart of Manhattan is planned by the Union Terminal Company, which will shortly make application to the Board of Estimate for permission to build a tunnel under Fourteenth street from the North River to the East River. This tunnel is planned to connect with six track tunnels under the North and East Rivers. The railroads back of the project are the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and the Erie.

The Pennsylvania will soon be running trains into the new underground station on the west side, and the Central Railroad of New Jersey and Baltimore and Ohio will enter Manhattan from Commonpaw through the Mt. Adon tunnels. It is up to the Erie and D., L. & W. to secure a tunnel entrance to Manhattan Island or else to transferring their passengers from land terminals in Jersey City and Hoboken in ferry-boats.

The proposed scheme provides for a very deep tunnel under Fourteenth street and an extensive passenger station under Union Square. The city contemplates fitting the underground station without disturbing the surface of Union Square. Branch lines as local subways go up Broadway to Madison Square, Madison avenue and to the Grand Central Station, with another branch to the new Pennsylvania station.

The Union Terminal Company is an independent corporation, organized under the general railroad laws of this state. The officials of the Erie and D., L. & W. are chiefly interested in it. The charter of the concern permits it to construct and operate a passenger terminal for various railroads, with which it may make contracts. Henry Fowler, chief engineer, contractor, of No. 1 East Thirty-second street, and R. Nelson Anderson, an architect, of No. 52 Fifth avenue, are the active movers in the scheme. Mr. Wood estimates the cost of the tunnels and the passenger terminal at $30,000,000, and says that $15,000,000 has already been pledged.

The North River tunnels and the tunnel under Fourteenth street to Union Square are obviously necessary to the plan of improvement. It is should go the sight, but what the new company wants will be a six-track tunnel under the East River is not fully explained. The Long Island Railroad, which is owned by the Pennsylvania, was formerly asked to let all the property in Brooklyn, Williamsburg or Long Island City that would be of any use for a railroad terminal. The Bergen Hill property might serve as a route for trolley cars from various parts of Brooklyn to the terminal under Union Square.

The plan of the Union Terminal Company was discussed at Union Square yesterday by the Erie and D., L. & W. officials during the administration of Mayor Low immediately after the Pennsylvania had announced an agreement to enter Manhattan by way of Jersey City. The Union Terminal Company was organized about three years ago.

OLD MAN MURDERED, HIS BODY IN A WELL

NEW CANAAN, Conn., June 14.—The body of Selleck Dann, an aged farmer, was found in the bottom of an old well on his place here to-day. Dann had been missing for about a week, and some of the neighbors to-day noticed a stench, which resulted in the finding of the body.

The house was in disorder, and in his sleeping room there were marks of a bloody struggle. There were three wounds on the top of the head and another on the side of the head, which showed that the man had been struck by a very heavy weapon.

The local police state that there were unmistakable signs of robbery about the place, and believe the old man was murdered and Dann lived alone with no relatives. He was reported to be wealthy.

Medical Examiner Keeler, of this town, made an examination of the body. He found two wounds in the fore part of the head, and believe the old man was murdered and his body thrown in the well. Coroner Dell is investigating and the town authorities are doing everything possible to hunt down a tramp that was seen about Dann's place on Monday. This was the last day Dann was seen alive.

NINE KILLED IN EXPLOSION ON OCEAN LINER

Forty Others Injured When Crash Scattered Men on Haverford.

LIVERPOOL, June 14.—Nine men were killed and about forty others injured following a terrific explosion on board the British steamer Haverford today.

The accident is said to have been due to a blow up of naphtha, but a suspicious box, partly shattered, containing steel springs, gave rise to the report that an attempt was made to destroy the ship with an internal machine.

A rigid inquiry is under way to determine the cause of the crash.

The Haverford, which is owned by the International Navigation Company, and is commanded by Capt. Nielsen, arrived here yesterday from Philadelphia, landed her passengers and proceeded to Huskisson Dock early today in order to unload.

Stevedores were in the act of loosening the hatches, when suddenly a violent explosion occurred. It blew off the hatches, rent the decks and sent men flying in all directions.

The bodies of some of the victims were dismembered and the deck resembled the floor of a slaughter house.

An outbreak of fire followed the explosion, which was large, considering the extent of cargo in hold No. 2 and hold No. 3, was soon blazing fiercely. But after a two-hour fight the flames were subdued. The vessel was badly damaged.

The report that the explosion took place in oil and machine rooms was false, as no oil or machine oil was stored in one of the holds. The boiler, which was only partly shattered, still contained pieces of steel machinery, which was probably marked "For Manchester, England."

The officials of the International Navigation Company have taken charge of the box, but say they do not attach importance to the theory of a bomb plot and add that the box was a mere accident.

The officials declare the failure of an explosion was due to ignition of gas given off by naphtha soap which formed part of the cargo.

RUSSELL SAGE'S COUSIN DIES IN POVERTY.

TOLEDO, O., June 14.—James Sage, cousin of Russell Sage, the New York financier, died here to-day in abject poverty. He was an lawyer of the county in early days, but of late, but a few years ago he married a well known to his New York cousin, who thereupon sent him a check for $50 in gold. This dead man will be buried by the county.

THIEF PLUNGES INTO COAL HOLE TO ESCAPE MOB

Men, Women and Children Chase Mount Through Harlem.

A yelling mob of men, women and children this afternoon chased a thief for half a mile in Harlem until the young man dived frantically into a coal hole and was found unconscious by a policeman. He said his name was Otto Mount, and gave his age as seventeen years, but refused to give his address, because, he said, he was afraid the news would kill his aged mother.

Mount snatched the purse of Mrs. Sophia Barnett of No. 22 Mount Morris Park West, as she was crossing One Hundred and Twenty-second street at the park. She screamed and Mount ran down One Hundred and Twenty-second street to Lenox avenue. Then he crossed the park with a crowd close behind. Reaching Fifth avenue, he ran down to No. 8 West One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street. The cover of a coal hole in front of the building was open and Mount dived headfirst into the coal bin. Policeman Charles, of the East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street station, found him in a few minutes later.

Mount confessed to the purse snatching. He said his name is Joseph Cox, lives in the Hudson Dairy and was held in $1,000 bail.

ADMITS HE PUT BODY IN TRUNK

William Meyer was sent back to Germany today on the Hamburg-American line steamer Meyer arrived in this country a few weeks ago in company with a Sophie Christiani. Both were arrested on landing, at the request of the German Government. The body of Anna Christiani has been discovered in a trunk belonging to Meyer, which is now in storage at Fraser's on Madison avenue.

The charge against the woman was that she had poisoned her husband with Bluecher tablets, which she had secured in Germany. She will be sent to Germany on the same steamer with Meyer.

S. Deputy Marshal Frederick Dorbhardt, before sailing on board the Meyer, Meyer gave him a trunk to put in the hold. Dorbhardt, of course, did not know what he put aboard. Meyer said he got out the trunk, and would give Dorbhardt a receipt for it.

The prisoner told Marshal Dorbhardt that if he did not get more than five years he intended, when he got out, to marry the Christiani woman.

MOXIE
WHEN TRAVELING

"Hurry up! Have you got your ticket yet? The train is almost ready to start."

"It is more important to be sure we have a good supply of Moxie."

"I never start on a long journey without that. There is nothing that is so thirst-quenching, refreshing, and because it is a real nerve food, it invigorates one so that the tedium of a long journey is lessened, and it prevents car sickness."

"Furthermore, one never knows what kind of water may be had on the trains or in the places we are to visit."

"Frequently it is dangerous to drink it. Most always a change of water has a bad effect."

"With plenty of good Moxie one may travel comfortably and with impunity."

"That is why I consider Moxie most essential for a long journey. After you have bought your Moxie then it's time to see about your tickets."
